Dear Friends:

Congratulations on another excellent issue of the Houston Gay & Lesbian Yellow Pages. Your publication, now in its second year, proudly promotes gay & lesbian-owned businesses and their supporters, and serves as a reference guide to the diverse Houston community.

The first Houston Gay & Lesbian Yellow Pages, published in 1991, proved that our community is committed to one common goal: to share the pride and contribute to our own success and economic growth as well as that of our supporters. Your publication has met the challenge and is providing Houston with an outstanding resource.

I am honored to endorse the 1992 Houston Gay & Lesbian Yellow Pages and wish you the greatest success in the future!

Respectfully,

Glen Maxey

TO OUR READERS

The overwhelming success of the first gay/lesbian telephone directory in Texas is proof that our community is more committed than ever to a common goal: sharing the pride and empowerment.

To all our advertisers, thank you for your endless support and valor in making this publication possible. We pledge to continue promoting your business for years to come!

One year later, the second edition (now the Gay and Lesbian Yellow Pages) is evidence that our 'own' phone directory fulfills a vital and unifying function of our community. More importantly, that the HGLYP has had tremendous influence in the economic growth of many local businesses and has inspired other Texas cities to produce their own directories gives us great pride.

Our goal has always been to strengthen and unite our community by helping to promote and expand gay/lesbian-owned businesses as well as those of our supporters. VillaGraphics has chosen to take the powerful first step by producing an advertising vehicle through which this is possible—our own guide to power. Your patronage of these businesses has insured growth and prosperity.

We encourage you to share the pride...choose and use your gay & lesbian telephone directory. Please continue supporting and recommending our community advertisers...and proudly say you found them in the Houston Gay & Lesbian Yellow Pages.

Thank you, Houston, and we pledge to bring to you better and more informative directories every year for many to come!

ANNISE PARKER:

'We must learn to spend our money in places where it is not the only thing about us that is welcome...together we can create change in the world.'

I am honored to be featured by the Houston Gay & Lesbian Yellow Pages as a role model for the gay and lesbian community. Being a role model is a daunting responsibility, a tremendous challenge and a supreme compliment all at the same time.

I have spent more than 15 years working, learning and growing in the gay/lesbian civil rights movement, following my own mentors and role models. It has been difficult. It has been rewarding. Not everyone can be publicly gay, or even openly gay. But each of us can contribute.

The world is having to face the fact that we are not going away, and that many of us are out of the closet to stay. Some don't like our "lifestyle." But polls reflect a growing acceptance of our rights—to serve in the military, to work in the profession of our choice, to have legal protections for our families.

In more and more cities the new role models are gay and lesbian elected officials. African-Americans, Hispanics, Asians know that they can best be represented by someone who has lived their unique life experiences. A black lesbian in Seattle, an HIV+ gay man in New York, and a gay former schoolteacher in Austin are among more than 100 openly gay elected officials from around this country. We may still offer our votes to good non-gay candidates, but we will elect our own as well. We must learn the power of the voting booth.

You probably picked up this particular publication because you'd rather support gay, lesbian and gay-friendly businesses whenever you have a choice. I feel my money goes further when I patronize one of these businesses. Many of them donate money back to the community, as well as hire gay and lesbian employees and use gay and lesbian vendors. It has a synergistic effect that helps us all. A special thanks also to the non-gay businesses represented here. We underutilize our economic clout. We must learn to spend our money in places where it is not the only thing about us that is welcome.

It is important to remember that we are truly everywhere. No tie links us across as many societal boundaries as our sexual orientation. We are the entire spectrum of the human family. We can use our differences as a strength. We must learn to respect ourselves. We must learn to respect each other. We must learn to respect our organizations. Together we can create change in the world.

AIDS Foundation Houston, Inc. 524-AIDS

AIDS Foundation Houston, Inc., a not for-profit 501 (c) (3) corporation founded in 1982, was the first community-based organization established in the Houston area solely dedicated to HIV related issues.

The mission of AFH is to reduce transmission of HIV through prevention education, to empower people living with HIV, their families and significant other through the provision of social services, and to promote community involvement in HIV issues through volunteerism.

The AIDS Hotline provides free, confidential HIV/AIDS information & referrals and is operated by volunteers - 524-AIDS. Office hours: 9:00 am - 6 pm, Mon-Fri. Telephone: 623-6796.

The Dizinger Foundation 3701 Montrose Blvd. 522-8660

The Dizinger Foundation is a 501 (c) (3) tax-exempt organization established in 1992 to assist and educate people affected by or afflicted with AIDS. The foundation's goal is community-wide recognition and involvement; to help those in need with love and compassion, so that people who have AIDS know that they are neither alone nor forgotten. The Foundation was formed to analyze the needs of the community in order to plan for immediate eradication of voids in services. Dizinger Foundation is making a conscious effort to make AIDS awareness and awareness of our programs available to many diverse groups. Additionally, the face of AIDS is ever-changing, and adjustments must be made in both existing and new programs to accommodate involvement from different groups. AIDS knows no social, racial nor economic boundaries, and HIV service providers must be equipped to deal with people from a variety of backgrounds. We are obligated to have bilingual and bicultural-competent staff members to meet any language problems that may arise. Additionally, different ethnic backgrounds must be considered at all phases of future planning, whether it involves location of programs or services offered.

Two programs have been formulated in our short existence. The Dizinger/FIRM co-op helps family members infected and affected by HIV disease and we provide non-perishables and non-consumables to those not receiving enough from Food Stamps alone. We make deliveries and hold nutritional seminars. The other program is educational outreach, facilitated by the Houston NAMES Project (The AIDS Memorial Quilt). Through educational outreach, we hope to give seminars at the corporate level, to community groups and to schools, (we are an official educational program of H.I.S.D.) A dual goal is anticipated from outreach: 1. an understanding of the disease and how it is transmitted 2. compassion for those who are afflicted.

We're busy, indeed, and moving forward rapidly. Our theory is that provision of services for this group in need, needs to be prompt, as one thing a person with AIDS does not have is time.
