JEWEL BOX '76

Story by Rod Horny

Pictures by Tom Oosterhoudt

The La Ronde Room at The Fontainebleau Hotel in Miami Beach has been the Florida home of the country's biggest stars for years. The first time I ever went there was in 1960 to see Patti Page, then "The Singing Rage". I was back in 1967 to see Eddie Fisher and more recently in 1972 to see Ann Margaret. These and many other greats in the world of entertainment have appeared here at The Superstar Theatre in Miami's best known hotel. Now it is also the home of some of the nation's top stars in the field of female impersonation and their show, Jewel Box "76".

Producers Keith Landon, Rene Rodriguez and Irving Warshowsky have brought drag out of the closet and onto the front porch. Those of us who are regulars at the gay clubs have known for a long time that some of the finest talent in the entertainment world can be seen there regularly. Now the general public can see it too in one of the country's best known showrooms.

Jewel Box "76" is different from the acts you will see in your local club in only a few respects. The first and probably the biggest difference is the setting. The big stage at the La Ronde Room, the excellent acoustics, lighting, and sound enable the cast to do things that they could never do in a smaller, less equipped showplace. The second major difference is the fact that they do the same show night after night. This enables the performers to perfect their parts and to make improvements in the acts as they go along. The third difference is that the performers here are all among the best in the business and true professionals. And they give a professional, top notch performance every night.

The show stars Emore', Michael St. Laurent and Logan Carter (better known to gay audiences as Roxanne Russell). The beautiful Bobbie Lake and Rachael Santoni, and four attractive and talented dancers, Ernie Michaels, Matthew Monroe, Tony McIntosh, and Dan Storey, complete the cast. They appear in a series of scenes recreating popular performances of several outstanding female entertainment figures.

Almost every scene is a production number in that it involves a set, props and backup performers and/or dancers. The opening number is called "Follies and Chorus Line" and includes a lot of dancing by the cast while the stars parade about the stage in elaborate costumes reminiscent of Las Vegas Revues.

Then follow the star's impressions of eight top female entertainers. Michael St. Laurent appears as Liza Minnelli, Ann Miller and Bette Midler. Emore' gives her versions of Josephine Baker, Diana Ross and Shirley Bassey, and Logan Carter appears as Carmen Miranda and Marilyn Monroe.

Editorial

In the hectic rush to compile all the information that goes into each issue of CRUISE and the CRUISE WEEKLY CALENDAR we sometimes don't take as much care as we should to check our information, simply assuming because we have been told something, that it is true. We did this recently when we ran a picture of Ray Scarborough pouring champagne at the send-off party for the group who went to D. C. for Labor Day. We mistakenly called it the Frank Powell train trip because we knew Frank was planning to go and had been seeking others to go. Actually we found out later that Ray Mills was the person responsible for organizing the trip and Ray Scarborough was there representing The Prince George Inn (where he works) who, along with Walt Adams, gave the party. We apologize for the error.

Similarly, last month in our haste to get the book out on time, we left out the photo credits, and our readers had no way of knowing that our excellent staff photographer, Tom Oosterhoudt, had taken the picture of Vicki Lawrence on page 11, of Miss Lakesha on page 15 and the beautiful two page spread of Ron Ellis, our Discovery, on pages 36 and 37. We apologize also to Tom.

CONTEST REPORT

Tommy Toussaint from Knoxville's Europa Club was crowned Mr. Back Street at the Back Street Lounge in Atlanta on September 13th. Doug Wood was 1st Runner Up and Danny Phelps was 2nd Runner Up.

Latise Chevron was the winner of the 1976 Miss East Coast Pageant held at Damien's Yum Yum Tree in Daytona Beach on August 29th. Brandy McDaniel was 1st Runner-Up and Dee Dee Yant was 2nd Runner-Up.

The Contest Season continues in full swing with winners being chosen in at least eight more contests since our last issue. In addition to the winners shown here and on the next page, Natalie North was the winner in the Miss Zodiac Pageant held in Daytona Beach on August 31st and Adrian Sanchez was the winner at Europa in the Miss Knoxville Contest there on August 27th. In the Miss Zodiac competition Latise Chevron was 1st Runner-Up and Chantilly Green was 2nd Runner-Up.

There are many more contests coming up soon with a whole flurry of them at Halloween. Miss Macon will be crowned at the We Three Lounge in Macon on Friday, September 24th and Miss Charleston will be selected the next evening at the Lion's Head Inn in that city.

On the following Monday, September 27th, Rene's in Tampa will host the Mr. Sun Coast Contest and the following Monday El Goya there will have the Miss Sun Coast Pageant.

Richard Conway Crowned Mr. Gay America at Daytona Beach

The Mr. Gay America Pageant for 1976 was held at The Grand Casino in Daytona Beach, on Labor Day, September 6th. Twenty beautiful men competed in Sportswear, Talent and Swimwear. Although the majority were from Florida, there were also representatives there from Georgia, Alabama and Tennessee.

In the sportswear competition my eye was caught by number 5, Michael Anthony wearing a white jump suit under a white jacket and by number 10, Casey Meridith who wore a black jump suit and a Godfather Hat.

In the talent competition we say a great variety of acts. Among those who sang live were Michael Scott who did Summertime and Lloyd Dean from Atlanta who did some of his own compositions while accompanying himself on guitar. Tom O'Brien went over big with a piano solo. The dancers seemed to be the most popular with the audience. Jim Gray brought the house down with his disco dancing to Disco Party, as did Lindsey Pierce when he and Tina Marie did a production number to I Write The Songs. Poetry was also popular. Doug Wood gave a moving rendition of IF by Rudyard Kipling and What Makes A Man while Love Is

Tom Oosterhoudt

A Many Splendored Thing played in the background. Jose' Rebo recited a poem he wrote himself and Steve Marx gave a monologue on Freedom. Jerry Michel and Eli Toliver Jr. did some splendid baton twirling. But the most original talent was presented by Richard Conway. A photographer, Richard displayed some slides that were his work, and the choice of subjects, their arrangement and their presentation all combined to make a moving performance.

After the talent, the swimwear was almost anticlimatic but I did note that no. 1 was nicely proportioned, no. 6 was beautiful all over, and no. 8 was very casual with a nice smile and a very nice body.

When all the votes were in, Richard Conway, No. 12, sponsored by Rene's in Tampa was declared the winner. The Runners-Up in order were Doug Wood, Lindsay Pierce, Jose' Rebo and Tarzan (Jerry Michel). Larry Argo, Kevin Ott, Jim Gray, Tom O'Brien and Eli Toliver Jr. were also in the top ten. It was probably the best show I have seen this season (and I've seen a lot of them) and Bill Parker and Michael Del Percio are to be congratulated on putting it all together.

FOR 50 Cents

{ The New Ms. Garbo's }

In Atlanta, a city of constant change and improvement, we now have another of our clubs which has made big changes in an attempt to attract new customers and get the old ones coming more often. Ms. Garbo's, previously a private club for women, has undergone a complete facelift under the direction of Betty Hutcherson, the new manager, and Betty and all her staff are striving to promote gay unity among men and women by opening their doors to both.

The remodeling was done at the end of August and the club reopened with a free cocktail party on Friday, August 27th. Those who attended found that the sheetrock had been removed to expose the original brick, the bar had been given a new look with crystal beads and inverted tulip light fixtures of stained glass, and the bathrooms had been thoroughly modernized. The dance floor was moved to the far end of the room and the game room brought up front.

Betty Hutcherson of Ms. Garbo's

All of these changes combine to give the room an air of understated elegance.

Other changes involved the menu that is served. In an attempt to attract more people there for dinner, they have broadened their menu to include a superb selection of steak and lobster. And to add just a 'tish of Class', they are offering live entertainment on certain nights. Another new feature is a Cocktail Hour on weekday evenings.

Garbo's was established as a private club for professional women who wanted a comfortable, discreet place to go. Betty and her staff have broadened this to make it a club where both men and women can find and enjoy this type of atmosphere for dining and drinking. Drop by and see for yourself.

These three lovely ladies, Shiel, Pam and Brenda, are waiting to serve you at Ms. Garbo's Johnny Hicks, a native of Durham, North Carolina is our Man of the Month for October. Johnny, an ex-marine, has a regular job in the records department at the VA Hospital in Durham but works part-time as a bartender at Herb's Lounge, a popular gay bar there. He tells us he loves working at the bar (he also worked part-time at a gay bar in Hawaii called The Tomato while he was in the marines) and also enjoys bike riding (as you can see from the cover and centerfold pictures), fishing and dancing. He likes his men with short hair and a nice build.

Employee of the Month

BILL SULLIVAN OF THE ONYX LOUNGE

October's Employee of the month is well known to anyone who frequents The Onyx Lounge. Bill has worked there ever since he came to Atlanta a little more than four years ago from South Carolina (he won't tell us where in South Carolina) and now works the shift from 9 PM till closing. Bill likes all types of sports, particularly Swimming and Water Skiing and also enjoys cooking (he is an excellent cook). He has entered a few pageants and was a Runner Up in last year's Mr. Atlanta and Mr. Sun Coast Contests. When we asked him what kind of man he liked he just smiled and said he just likes men, all kinds.

Grand Opening At

September 13th and 14th saw the grand opening celebration at El Goya, a spectacular new bar at 1430 East 7th Avenue in Tampa.

Roski Fernandez and her entire International Revue traveled to Tampa from Atlanta to present shows both nights. They were warmly received by the large crowds that were in attendance.

El Goya, which is located in Ybor City, the old Cuban section of Tampa, is housed in an enormous and beautiful building which is on the site of Tampa's first restaurant and across the street from its first cigar factory. The bar gets its name from the Spanish artist, Francisco Jose de Goya, five of whose paintings are reproduced in tile on the walls of two of the bars many rooms. In the past few years Ybor City has been the site of urban renewal and reclamation and the streets are very picturesque with old style street lamps and the stately buildings.

The building which houses the bar was used as a restaurant for many years. The largest room, which is two stories in height, is presently being used as the disco. Off of this room, and opening into it are the main bar and another room with tables and chairs. Down the hall are a game room and another smaller, quieter bar. Another game room is located across the disco and a third bar is being built in what use to be the kitchen. This still leaves another large room (the one with four of the five Goya's in it) which will eventually be used as a show room. The Spanish styled architecture is enhanced by the elaborate use of decorative tile, gold trim and dark wood.

Chic Hodges, his co-owners and his staff of friendly guys make you feel right at home at El Goya. They are open every day from 9 PM till 3 AM. Tom Billingham is in charge of the Power-Pack Disco and is assisted by Jerry Michel who is also known as Tarzan (a runner-up in the Mr. Gay America Contest). They feature special drink prices on Tequila on Tuesday nights and on all bar drinks on Thursday nights. El Goya will be the site of the Miss Sun Coast Pageant on Monday, October 4th.

These sequences are the heart of the show and all are done extremely well. The sets, props and supporting performers add to the talented performances of the stars to make each a memorable experience. Everyone has their favorites and I'm no exception. To me the high point of the entire show was Emore's portrayal of Diana Ross. Her renditions of "Mahogany", "Corner of the Sky", and "Ain't No Mountain High Enough" were as moving as any done by the original. This was largely a solo number with only Rachael Santi and Bobbie Lake providing backup on the Supremes Medley as the other two member of that memorable group.

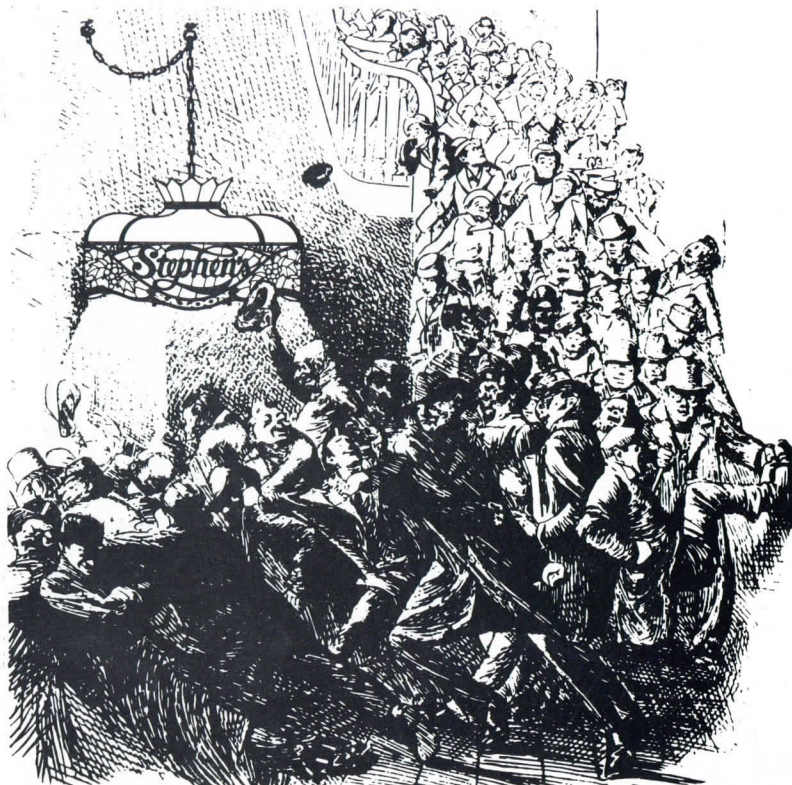

Another high point of the show, especially for those who had not seen it previously, was Logan Carter's appearance as Marilyn Monroe. Roxanne (as most of us know him) gave an impeccable performance as the Goddess of Love doing two of her most popular numbers, "Diamonds Are A Girl's Best Friend" and "Heatwave".

Michael was at his best doing Bette Midler, The Divine Miss M. He arrived on stage by parachute and swung into "Boogie Woogie Bugle Boy", then took the live microphone and held the audience spellbound with a Bette Midler monologue and impersonations of other famous stars including Carole Burnett, Joan Rivers, Barbra Streisand, Eartha Kitt and of course, Betty Davis, Marlene Dietrich and Mae West.

One of the most beautifully staged numbers was Emore's version of Shirley Bassey's "Goldfinger". One of the dancers appeared nearly nude with his body painted gold and did modern dance in place while the star was moving dramatically about the stage.

The finale was a salute to David Merrick's "Hello Dolly" with the entire cast. Rachael, Bobbie and the dancers did two numbers from the show before the stars appeared as the three "Dollies". Logan Carter did the Carol Channing version of Dolly, Michael St. Laurent was the Barbra Streisand Dolly and Emore gave his version of Pearl Bailey as Dolly.

The show runs an hour and thirty-five minutes and there isn't a dull moment anywhere in it. It is ably directed by Jerry Daye and the choreography and staging are by Jose' Falcion. The sets which add so much to the production were designed by David Scott. While the stars provided several of their own outfits (Emore' designs and makes most of her own costumes), the wardrobe was done by Andre and Delphine. All of the music is taped and was recorded by Otis James and Ted Larson. Lighting is by Eddie Cue and Claude Marks is stage manager.

The show which opened in July has been very popular. Miami's Channel 4 gave it their 4-Star Rating and said it was the best show on Miami Beach this season. WIOD had the three stars on the air for a one hour talk show with very favorable reaction. The management of the hotel has been pleased with the crowds it has brought in and has contracted for it to stay on there through the winter season with only four ten day breaks when the name stars bring in their extravaganzas.

While you can and will see these same stars doing some of these same acts in your local club we think it is well worth your time and the $5.50 admission to see the show at The Fontainebleu. The stage, the props, and the backup performers are not likely to be duplicated at any gay club and these set the show apart as one of the most unique female impersonation shows to be seen anywhere. If you like shows, you won't want to miss Jewel Box "76".

A VISIT TO NEW ORLEANS

"Welcome to New Orleans, The City of Sin, Where the Ladies are Ladies and so are the Men. Last month we promised you an article on New Orleans for this issue. However most of our pictures of that beautiful city did not come out due to a camera malfunction, so we are holding this story until next month when we will have some good shots of the city and its swinging bars for you.
