Purlie has seen a lot of hunger.

Purlie is a shy little girl with big, dark eyes. You can tell by her wistful expression that she has seen much hunger in her working life at Tooter's. She hardly remembers her first order. Her boss was in bad financial straits when Purlie was first hired. He went out of business when Purlie was only six months employed.

Her manager earned very little and lived in one room in a tenement in Pasadena. He was unable to pay the frail little waitress a decent salary. He asked a management team, affiliated with the Tooter's Waitress Relief Fund, to take care of his employee, and subsequently quit the business to go into advertising.

There is still a sad, haunting look that lingers in Purlie's dark eyes. But she's improving. Gradually she's losing her inhibitions, and she camps and carries on with the other waitresses who share the same dining room on the night shift.

Purlie now has the care she needs. Her TWRF sponsors here in Montrose are helping give her a better chance to make a buck.

But there are many other needy waitresses still waiting for customers. You can support a waitress for as little as $2.35 (Chicken Fried Steak, mashed potatoes, hot rolls, crisp salad, choice of dressings, tax not included). Just fill out the coupon and submit it with your preferences listed.

You will be sent the waitress, a glass of water, coffee if you wish, a menu, and a guest check. You may call your sponsored waitress, and your request will be granted. You will get the waitress' original ticket and a numerical tabulation. (Waitresses unable to write are assisted by cooks or managers.)

Your patronage can make a big difference in the life of a needy little waitress. If there were no business, we'd probably have to run her off. Please fill out the coupon now.

Miss Gay America Opening

The New Miss Gay America Pageant presents Miss Gay America 1976 this Friday, Saturday, and Sunday nights at the Old Plantation Club in Houston.

The Miss Gay America Pageant was conceived as just another contest for female impersonators, an event to perhaps give business a shot in the arm. However, before the first contest was held, it became evident that this would become much more. Entries were received from across the country. The best that female impersonation had to offer came to Nashville, Tennessee, to be a part of the Miss Gay America Pageant 1972.

An appreciative audience on the final night made the judge's decision unanimous. From Hot Springs, Arkansas, came Norma Kristine. Norma traveled more than 100,000 miles that year to spread the word about the contest. Much of the success of the pageant is directly attributed to Norma Kristine. And for his contributions the Miss Gay America Board of Directors gave Norma the title of Miss Gay America Emeritus.

In 1973, once again they came in greater numbers to try for the title. From Puerto Rico by way of Chicago came the Lady Baronessa. Again the judgement was correct. Lady Baronessa with much charm and beauty captivated the audience. Baronessa returned to Nashville, and then flew to Atlanta, Georgia, to pass on her title of Miss Gay America.

After four days and nights of strenuous competition both on and off stage, Shawn Luis, a native Hawaiian, living in Chicago, captured the coveted title. Shawn spent a whirlwind year publicizing the pageant and representing this “different” side of gay life.

After numerous setbacks, the Miss Gay America Pageant 1975 finally made it to the stage in December of 1975 at the Depository Club in Houston, Texas. Due to a last minute change of site, the pageant was not to be denied the life to which it was clinging. After two first nights of a poor showing in attendance, word finally materialized that the “show” was in town. Crowds filled the building to an over­flowing capacity to see the crowning of the new Miss Gay America.

The heavy burden of the title was accepted by Dani Diletto of Michigan. Dani traveled on the short span of time he has held the title, to help spread the word of the pageant. Dani will return to Houston this year to pass on the coveted title to a yet undecided winner.

The contest will begin nightly at 8:00 p.m. at the Old Plantation, 2020 Kipling, Houston. Tickets are still available for reserved seating.

If you've never seen a Roman Polanski film, you must see The Tenant.

Roman Polanski, of Chinatown fame, has now hit the scene as screenwriter, director, and major star of the psychological drama The Tenant. The film also features Shelly Winters, Melvyn Douglas, and Isabelle Adjani.

In The Tenant the story involves a resident tenant in a run-down apartment complex in Paris. This one tenant in particular, a woman with a sheltered past commits suicide by leaping out of her window. Through the mercy of fate the woman loves only to the dissatisfaction of Roman Polanski who wants to rent her apartment. You see, apartments in Paris (or Europe) are few and far between.

As director Polanski would have it, the woman dies in the hospital. Polanski the actor-star rents the dead woman's apartment and soon begins to realize that all the inhabitants of this apartment house are trying to make him believe that he is the dead woman. They psychologically drive him to believe that he is her. They even go to the extreme of leaving the dead woman's belongings in his apartment.

Polanski takes an extreme right turn here and lets you see the dead woman come back from the grave. Polanski at this stage of the film dresses as the woman and runs about the apartment pretending he is her. Polanski the actor has been driven to believe that he is the woman. Roman Polanski has a warped imagination at times. And his films near brilliancy appear at times. Polanski's film is a visual drama of how one individual can be driven mad. At times the film has you on the edge of your seat, then lapses into a state of lack luster.

On the overall aspect of the film, it is a feast of a movie. You might say I'm a sucker for any Polanski film. I love his character's attitudes and total movement on the screen.

The Tenant is a must see film, but I have to warn you, the film is devastating to your mental outlook on the outside world.

Dear Aunt Sova:

I understand that the wearing of a handkerchief in the back pocket symbolizes different tastes in sexual orientation. Is this true? Just what are some of the meanings?

ADVISE:

Below are a few of the meanings. I had to ask around, as I myself was not "update" on the answer. I understand that there are some more, but this is all I have been able to come up with at the time. If there are any corrections that need to be made or additions, let me hear from you.

Red hanky - left pocket, fist fucker, right, fist fucker.

Mustard - left, wants big one, right has 8" or more.

Dear Aunt Sova:

I have been reading the classifieds in some of the "sex" papers and have come across many terms and abbreviations I don't understand. Could you possibly give a run down of most of the terminology used in these ads?

ADVISE:

I must admit there are quite a few lingos when it comes to the "classified" of all the papers. Here is a run down of some of them:

b/d - Bondage and discipline s/m - Sadism and masochism ac/dc - Can perform sexually with both sexes bi - same as ac/dc
Versatile - in straight ads can mean the same as ac/dc. In gay ads it usually means a person can go "fem" or "butch".

French active - performs oral sex on partner

French passive - receives oral sex from partner

Greek active - performs anal sex on partner

Greek passive - you guessed it!

Roman - Orgies and group sex activities

Straight - Male/female sex only

Water Sports - Enemas

Golden Showers - urinating on a person

TV - Television or a person who enjoys wearing the clothes of the opposite sex.

Toys - sex aids
