HORMONE IMBALANCE MAY CAUSE AIDS

WASHINGTON, DC — At long last, a breakthrough may have been discovered revealing what causes AIDS. The discovery of a biological hormone imbalance associated with the disease was revealed last Monday by researchers at the Biochemistry Department at George Washington University School of Medicine in the nation's capitol.

Research has shown that AIDS victims have an elevated level of a particular thymus gland hormone called thymosin alpha-1, Allan Goldstein, chair of the department, told Associated Press.

The discovery could lead to a simple test that would reveal its presence quickly and prevent its spread through blood transfusions.

Measuring the level of thymosin alpha-1 in blood is a simple, straightforward procedure that could be done routinely at hospitals.

"If there is an early warning sign for AIDS, it would enable patients to seek early treatment," Goldstein explained.

The discovery also provides a hint that the disease is biological. If AIDS turns out to be caused by a hormonal imbalance, then it correlates to 1981 Kinsey research which concluded that "homosexuality may arise from a biological precursor," TWT NEWS recalled.

MONTROSE SUPPORT GROUP FOR AIDS

HOUSTON — A support group for persons diagnosed with AIDS is scheduled to meet at the Montrose Counseling Center. "The purpose of the group is to provide a mutually supportive network for persons with this syndrome," Gary G. Treese, director of the center, explained to TWT NEWS. Topics discussed will range from the latest information on the treatment and prevention of AIDS, to personal relationship issues.

Anyone who has been diagnosed as having AIDS may attend the group. The support group will meet at the Mon-

BIG FORT WORTH CIRCUS BENEFIT

FORT WORTH — A large canvas tent erected on the Lumber Company parking lot this weekend will turn this three-ring circus into a post Mardi Gras madness fundraiser. Food, drinks, games, booths, prizes, t-shirts and fun will be the bill of fare.

Jimmie Spaulding, of the soon-to-open Snake Pit in Dallas, will be the guest disc jockey this Saturday night, March 12. The carnival resumes Sunday at noon.

Local organizations participating include the Agape MCC, Tarrant County Gay Alliance (TCGA), Lambda, the Center for the Community, the Court of the Golden Unicorn and the Emperor Council, TWT NEWS was told.

All of Fort Worth has come together under the big top because there is strength through unity.

HOUSTON SELECTS GAY PRIDE THEME

HOUSTON — "Unity Through Diversity" will be this city's 1983 Gay Pride theme, as selected at the March 6 meeting at Kindred Spirits. A record turnout of over 200 people received membership cards to become certified voters, TWT NEWS reported.

Prior to the final vote, Gary Grant's theme, "Free To Be," was leading in votes. But after considerable debate, "Unity Through Diversity" was voted the overwhelming favorite. This year's theme was authored by Rita Wanstrom, last year's parade grand marshal.

About twenty themes were placed in nomination.

After two years of chairing Gay Pride Week, Larry Bagneris, Jr. chose to step down as Marion Coleman was voted in. Bagneris and John Kirk, however, agreed to remain co-chairs.

With the theme selection now history, the Gay Pride members will gather next Sunday afternoon to select the appropriate art logo. The 2:30pm meeting will be held at Kindred Spirits.

The annual question of adding the word "lesbian" to the official name of Gay Pride Week was quickly resolved when Coleman explained that, regardless of sex, "We're all gay." The name will not be changed, the vote determined.

HOUSTON'S GAY PRIDE PLANS

HOUSTON — This city's daily agenda for Gay Pride Week has been resolved by popular vote and announced to TWT NEWS. Gay Pride Week 1983 will begin on June 16 and conclude on June 26.

Thursday, June 16: Mayor's proclamation and anniversary of HPD raid on Mary's on the eve of Gay Pride Week.

Friday, June 17: Salute to gay businesses.

Saturday, June 18: MSA softball games (but not with police or fire departments) followed by an evening victory party and reception at Family and Friends of Gays.

Sunday, June 19: Juneteenth celebration sponsored by Black and White Men/Women Together.

Monday, June 20: Second annual Montrose Art Alliance show.

Tuesday, June 21: Montrose Sports Association variety show at Numbers.

Wednesday, June 22: Education Forum sponsored by Montrose Clinic, Montrose Counseling Center and Gay Switchboard.

Thursday, June 23: Gay Youth Day in afternoon; National Day of Remembrance in evening sponsored by Interfaith Alliance.

Friday, June 24: Gay Latino(a) Day sponsored by Gay Hispanic Caucus.

Saturday, June 25: Afternoon party and carnival for AIDS sponsored by Mardi Gras Madness collective; cultural evening at U of H Cullen Auditorium with Montrose Symphonic Band and Chorale, MCCR Choir and Kindred Spirits Ensemble.

Sunday, June 26: Annual Gay Pride Parade down Westheimer beginning at 5:30pm; GPC evening rally and concert at the Summit with a guest star, possibly Lily Tomlin or Bette Midler.

GPC had asked to move the rally out of Spotts Park because of past vandalism to autos, women being accosted and beer sales being ruled illegal in a city park, TWT NEWS learned.

AUSTIN SPLIT OVER MAYORAL VOTE

The Austin Gay/Lesbian Political Caucus (ALGPC) has been unable to reach a final endorsement in this city's mayoral race because of a "too close to call" vote between Ron Mullen and Lowell Lebermann. The ALGPC membership was split, TWT NEWS learned.

However, most of Austin's gay clubs jointly reached a quick decision to endorse Lebermann, citing his past support of the Austin gay community as a former councilmember and as owner of the local Miller Beer distributorship, which has been generous in matters pertaining to the annual gay Fourth of July picnic.

ALGPC did, however, make endorsements in the April 2 city council races:

Place One—ALGPC endorsed the incumbent, Larry Deuser.

Place Two—ALGPC endorsed the incumbent, Roger Duncan.

Place Three—ALGPC endorsed Sally Shipman for the spot vacated by Ron Mullen, who is running for mayor.

Place Four—ALGPC endorsed Leda Roselle. TWT NEWS learned, however, that some independent gay voters were supporting Mark Spaeth.

Place Five—ALGPC endorsed John Trevino, who has been the acting mayor for McClellan, who chose not to run again.

The deadline for voter registration was March 3. In the event that any of the close races aren't decided in the April 2 election, a runoff would be held in May.

SAN ANTONIO FUNDRAISER

SAN ANTONIO — This city's newly-formed political organization, the Alamo Human Rights Committee (AHRC) has organized its first fundraiser, a wine and cheese party with a contribution of $10 per person, to be held this Sunday, March 13 from 2:00-5:00pm at the Charlton Gallery, 308 North Persa, TWT NEWS was told.

The Charlton Gallery is located on San Antonio's famous riverwalk, and the AHRC reception will take place shortly after the annual St. Patrick's Day festivities on the river. Events include the ceremony of dying the river green and naming it the "River Shannon" for a day, a river parade at 1:00pm and Irish musical entertainment at the Arneson River Theater.

The AHRC reception is designed primarily to introduce the organization to the community, and a steering committee hopes to be able to announce the results of its screening of candidates in next month's city elections.

AHRC endorsements for the April 2 city elections will be extremely helpful for gay voters. AHRC will be able to recommend to the voters—for the first time—whom to vote for. Heretofore, the gay voters of San Antonio were going into the voting booths virtually blindfolded.

TWT NEWS strongly urges support of this non-partisan political organization.

Dr. Mansell informed the forum of 40 about the research and lack of information concerning AIDS and Kaposi's Sarcoma. Stressing good eating habits, rest and exercise, plus avoiding indiscriminate sex as the best way to avoid contracting the 40% fatal disease, Dr. Mansell's lecture was followed by a question and answer session.

Dr. Mansell is trying to have AIDS and KS put on the list of diseases that must be reported, so the government can get a better idea of the severity of the problem, David Gary of TWT NEWS reported.

Next month, Bart Jennings, of the Brazos Valley Health Department, will address Alternative and offer a free venereal disease screening.

A&M's GSS RAISES $1,000

COLLEGE STATION — Gay Student Services (GSS) of Texas A&M University has reported that $1,000 was raised on February 25 in a benefit show at Fantasy. The money is to be used to help GSS continue its legal battle with A&M.

Entertainers Mr. Tiffany Jones, Naomi Sims, Hot Chocolate and Donna Day were cited for donating their talents and energy to the cause. TWT's Mr. Texas, Colt Thomas, an Aggie graduate, was also in attendance. "We were very fortunate to be entertained by such a combination of talent and generosity," GSS told TWT NEWS.

The students of A&M and the community of Bryan/College Station supported the worthwhile venture. "Without your help, none of this would have been possible," GSS said. "We hope the future of our gay community will be as bright as this night was."

the March 2 meeting of the GPC in the West Room of the Holiday Inn, next door to the newly-renovated offices of GPC at 4600 Main.

Naylor, who resides in Austin just steps from the State Capitol, was invited to speak about her lobbying efforts and legislation in the works concerning gay rights in Texas. Her presence was in anticipation of Lobby Weekend, March 5-6, when GPC members were at various Montrose businesses and clubs to accept donations to help raise $1,500 for the GPC's share of the lobbying preliminaries for the 68th Texas legislative session.

TWT NEWS learned Monday that last weekend's fundraiser netted $1,200, about $300 short of LGRA's goal.

This donation will help Ms. Naylor to continue monitoring the legislative session that began January 11, and so the GPC could receive the benefit of her services. Ms. Naylor told TWT NEWS she had been working in Austin since 1971, and moved there a year ago. For more active lobbying efforts on the behalf of the GPC, a tentative proposal of $7,000 had been discussed.

Her presentation was warmly received by those in attendance, and she came across as energetic, straightforward and personable—qualities certainly of value in dealing with legislators of all political persuasions, TWT NEWS reporter David Fields observed.

Fields spoke with Ms. Naylor in an interview during a small reception held for her in the offices of GPC. When asked if the drinking age in Texas would be raised this year to 21, Ms. Naylor indicated that she didn't feel the Texas legislature would change the law during this session.

When asked what the GPC could do to become more effective, she responded by saying, "They should expand their base and reach out more to the areas outside the Loop."

When asked what gay people can do in general, she said, "Houston is doing all the right things and could further increase their progress simply by getting more involved."

New Music

Dear TWT:

The New Music concept at the bars [TWT COMMENT, Vol. 8, No. 49] is an excellent idea, but it is up to the DJ as to what (s)he plays; if the bars hire an experienced DJ, they shouldn't have to encounter any problems. No, Disco (Dance Music) is not fading or exiting; this is Gay Music and it will be around for a long time. But you are correct—Cruise Bar DJs need to explore new music and program it accordingly. There is so much new and old music around; hopefully you will hear it.

AIDS Takes Twin Brother

Dear TWT:

I have just returned to Texas to live. I must admit that I cried a great deal upon reading the letter from "D.S." in Austin, Texas [TWT COMMENT, Vol. 8, No. 49].

About a year ago, my identical twin brother and I agreed to spend a year apart, simply because we had never been apart since birth. I moved to San Francisco and Robert (my twin) to New York City. I became the one to turn on to every possible trick I met in San Francisco; often I had sex with three or four different guys in one day. I almost lived in the baths, I took "poppers" and smoked all the dope I could get my hands on. I gave little thought to my health; hell, I thought that I was really living it up! Robert, on the other hand, fell in love with a great guy in New York, and all the time that he was in New York he slept with only his lover. He did not smoke dope, take poppers or go to the baths. His lover was and still is a very healthy guy.

On November 1, 1982 Robert was rushed to a hospital in New York—he was diagnosed as having AIDS. I flew to New York the morning of November 2, 1982 to be with my brother. Our stepfather spent over $100,000 on the finest doctors in the country. Even so, 47 days later, my beloved twin was dead. We both had always been healthy, well-built males; still his system could not withstand the attack of AIDS. I lived and slept in his hospital room for 40 days and nights, only to watch him die before my very eyes. Why? I've never been given a decent answer. I often felt Robert's physical pain, which he knew; frankly, I thought that I might very well die with him (as identical twins often do); in secret, I hoped that I would die with him.

Tell your readers to be careful. This AIDS thing is very, very real—it is not game-playing, and I don't believe that one damn doctor really knows anything about AIDS. How could Robert's beautiful, healthy body be attacked, whereas my equally healthy body was not? I was holding Robert in my arms when he died, and at death it seemed that his body returned to its original beauty and handsomeness before his illness. I kissed his lips upon death and closed his eyes forever.

The autopsy showed that his entire body had been destroyed in that short period of time. Teddy, Robert's lover, is so desolate that he has moved to Texas with me. I suppose that we hope that we can help one another to live through this hell.

Written in loving memory of my precious brother, Robert.

Hawaii, Dallas and TWT

Dear TWT:

... Even though I'm now living in Honolulu, Hawaii, Dallas and all of its people are still a deep part of my life.

While working one night (Dirty Mary's), a fellow Dallasite was kind enough to give me a recent issue of TWT. Oh, the memories! As I turned each page, the yearning to come back and visit old friends grew. Each page made me realize how quickly things change and how the city where I grew up and spent all my life was becoming foreign to me.

The population is approximately 20% gay here. It made me realize how lucky, and I mean really lucky, Texans are. Female impersonation is excellent in Dallas. I know! I entered enough contests and did enough shows in Dallas and Oklahoma City to know what type of competition there was. Female impersonation is nonexistent over here.

The choice of bars is limited (a total of seven, and I work as a bouncer at one of them!). The Kuhio district (Hawaii's answer to Oak Lawn) is one-quarter the size of Dallas' "gay metroplex."

Don't get me wrong. I love it here. I plan on making this my permanent home. It's beautiful, the people wonderful and the climate unbelievable. The men are gorgeous (and we get lots of tourists), and the gay lifestyle fairly "open." But, Dallas and TWT, you both hold a very special spot in my heart.

Again, thank you, sincerely.

"HOUSTON STYLE" IS DUMB!

by George F. Barnhart

Darn, if dear Ms. Smathers (see TWT PERSPECTIVE, February 25, 1983) didn't go and get herself out of her head in love at the Houston Livestock Rodeo, lookin' at them cowgirls and wishin'. And darn, if she didn't come back with some of the most typical Pasadena red-neck mentality and shit-kickin' rhetoric of the funniest bunch of provincialism I've ever heard of in mah born days!

Now, I'se just a country boy mahself, and even I can tell the difference between shallow thinking, bad attitude and beer-belly belchin' on the one hand and good sense on the other. And boy howdy, poor Dee in such a swoon—good sense has gone and left her!

"Houston Style" my ass! That's nothin' but warmed-over Dixie, "stars-and-bars" kind of thinking at its worst. That's Klan talking without the sheets.

Houston is a lotta "ACTION," as she says. That's true enough, pardner! But it's not the kind of "ACTION" that comes from the narrow-minded viewpoint that you get at the tail end of a mule!

You see, the spirit of our Houston community is a homogeneous set of values that has been poured into here all together from many and varied geographical backgrounds, ethnic heritages and cultural lifestyles. ALL OF THEM uniquely coloring the magic that is Houston.

It's also THAT diversity (and some of that's "damn Yankee") that has so seasoned the melting pot that is Houston—and THAT is what has made Houston the rainbow city of the future!

The "Style" that has kept Houston moving forward OUT of the overgrown Cowtown mentality (that Dee would probably like us to return to) was borrowed from a lot of folks who brought their ACTION with them. From the West Coast. From the East Coast. From the Midwest. From O'leans. And from the Chicago Bay Area. And (Lord help us), even from the Okies like me. And we brought our energy and our ambition, and our overriding desire for change that brought us here. And we light the fire of a new SPIRIT that has catapulted Houston into a New Age Consciousness. It's the HOUSTON SPIRIT (not style) that is as varied as snowflakes in Vermont and cactus in Arizona. THAT'S "HOUSTON STYLE," Sister! It's a new consciousness born and bred, and borrowed off everybody else—and, with a couple of cases of longnecks thrown in for good measure.

Ms. Smathers actually does Houston a grave disservice when she admits to one of Houston's few faults when she tells us about the sad neglect of the needs of our leadership. What IS this woman braying about? Is she well?

That she glories in the shameful neglect of our social responsibility and our lack of support for our civic, political, cultural, church and community service leadership makes me think she's been trying to ride too many mechanical bulls. For all too long we have been expecting too few to do too much with too little. It's true enough we have sadly neglected the necessary support of our workers whose high-tech, highly specialized functioning at great personal sacrifice has made our Houston community happen. Somebody shake poor Ms. Smathers and wake her up out of her dream world. The Houston Spirit wouldn't be anywhere at all without the insistent, constant and aggressive professionalism of a few people like Ray Hill and others I could laudably name—who are always there. Always plugging away. And always underpaid.

It's a fact! We haven't been paying our dedicated professionals for the work they have been doing. BUT WE NEED TO. Just like any other profession. It's there because we need it there. And we need to pay for it.

It almost offends me to think that Dee would suggest that it is "Houston Sytle" to gleefully neglect the educational, consciousness-raising group interaction aspects of things like seminars and turn away from the serious business of organizing and planning.

True enough, such meetings and things can sometimes be tedious. Even boring. But that's the sound, serious business of making things happen that must be borne by us all in order to keep Houston moving forward in the progressive spirit that it has started.

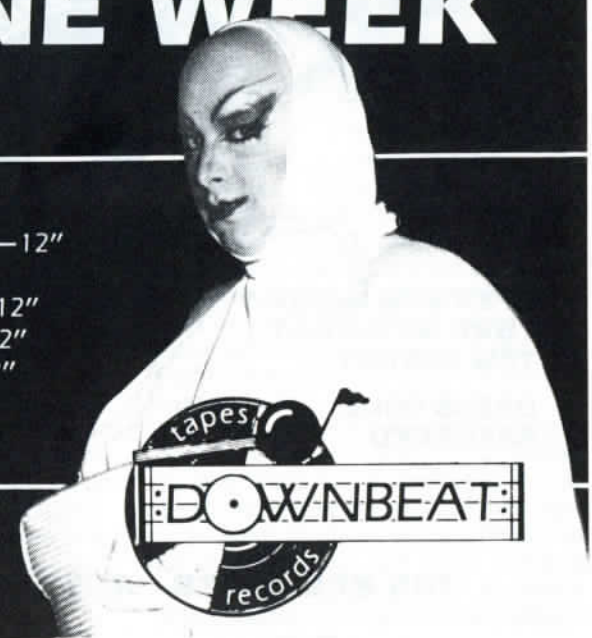

Dee's "Houston Sytle" isn't something new she thought up. It's old BAD ATTITUDE dressed up for show. Which, if you ask me, is something Houston doesn't really need or deserve.

"Houston Style"—a la Smathers—is dumb-think to the max.

By the way—the Houston Lawn Bowlers Association meets at the Fred Paez Community Service Center. And they need cheerleaders. wr

"In May, 1978, the voters of Eugene, Oregon, repealed a gay rights amendment to the city's charter. This amendment had prohibited discrimination on the basis of sexual preference in housing, employment, and access to public accommodations." So begins this analysis of the struggle of gay civil rights in Eugene, Oregon, documented by The Gay Rights Writer's Group, composed of four women and one man, who were active in the campaign.

This short booklet mentions the other losses in Dade County, Florida, in St. Paul, Minnesota, and in Wichita, Kansas; and many, in the campaign to retain the ordinance, felt the tide would turn there. The cause of that failure may have been that they did not learn from those other experiences with the New Right. This reason and others are discussed here.

At this point, there may be those who wish to point out that Houston, Dallas, Ft. Worth and San Antonio have no ordinances for gay civil rights, much less a campaign to create them. Others may go so far as to say that these cities do not need them. This book is worthwhile, useful reading for other reasons than pressing a campaign. It is interesting that the description of their organizing clearly reflects the sexism, refusal to compromise (among politically diverse groups) and "personalities" that will sabotage any organization if awareness and compromise are not practiced.

It Could Happen To You . . . gives a comprehensive picture of all the time, energy and planning involved in a gay political effort. The reader will come away with a much better appreciation for the work gay political organizations do and the need they have for concerned people to join if these groups are to be effective.

The book charts the dynamics of political support and non-support in terms of the effectiveness of the campaign to retain the ordinance. The writers specifically point out which groups failed to cooperate due to political and class differences, and how the mainstream gay organizations failed to attempt to build alliances with other oppressed groups in order to broaden their power base.

The book gives a detailed background history of gay politics in Eugene, the spectrum of present ideologies and their degree of organization. It then goes into describing the structure, funding and procedures for the campaign, including public opinion polls, strategy and content of media advertisements, canvassing and voter registration. Of course, there are some aspects of the campaign that are unique to Eugene, Oregon, but enough similarities of politics and organizations exist that qualify this book to be used in other locales.

Besides the internal weaknesses of the campaign, external New Right forces with new "liberal," "reasonable" tactics were carefully orchestrated to defeat the ordinance by 1) appealing to the homophobic voters with liberal rhetoric, and 2) co-opting the liberal organizations and supporters. With close analysis of their campaign, one clearly sees the combination of moral-religious appeals with "freedom of conscience"—to deny gay persons "special privileges."

The gay community in Eugene became closer, stronger, more sensitive to the wide diversity there, and most importantly, far wiser in their attempts to educate their community. Any analysis of failure, or victory, is crucial to the on-going, long-term process to educate and enlighten a homophobic society. For those who can't or won't come out of the closet, but who can see the progress made on their behalf, they surely must be encouraged in their heart of hearts to struggle with their own freedom.

LIANNA

Reviewed by Art Tomaszewski

I always put off writing my reviews till the last moment. Partly because the satisfaction of journalistic writing is working against a deadline, mostly because the written word is final. Once I've committed myself on paper to an opinion of a movie that I have seen only one time, there is no turning back.

It is said that first impressions are the strongest, and perhaps the truest. John Sayles' latest film, Lianna, is like meeting someone and knowing on the spot that (s)he is a soulmate, a person who will leave a mark on your life. Lianna is a film that has affected me deeply, and the ripples created by the impact have yet to subside.

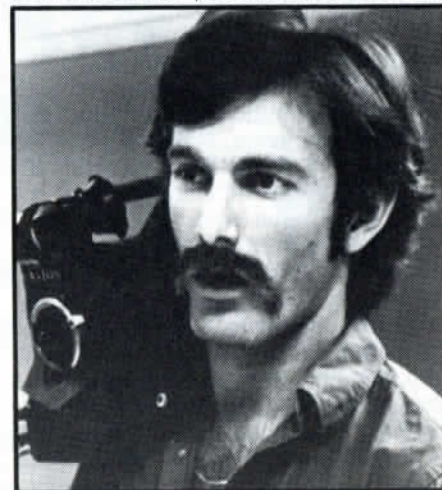

Lianna is about the 33-year-old wife of a college professor in a small university town who discovers she is gay when she falls in love with her night class instructor, Ruth. The film traces Lianna's "coming out" and how it affects her, her family and her friends. This is not a female version of Making Love. In fact, a comparison is rather pointless, since Making Love was a Hollywood treatment of a subject almost ignored or considered taboo since the era of silent films. Hollywood examining the inner conflicts of the quest for gay identity is like a child trying to do cancer research with a magnifying glass.

John Sayles (who has never seen Making Love) established himself when his independent film, Return of the Secaucus Seven, became a critical and popular success. He had actually written the script for Lianna before making Secaucus Seven, long before Making Love was filmed.

Lianna is a film astounding in its insight, wit, sensitivity and scope. This is one of those films for which I need to drag out the thesaurus, because I don't have enough positive adjectives in my vocabulary.

John Sayles' screenplay is spectacular. Sayles' ability to show the depth of his characters' personalities through dialogue is reminiscent of Ibsen.

Director, writer and film editor of Lianna, John Sayles.

Sandy (JO HENDERSON) is unable to deal with her best friend's (Lianna) coming out.

Lianna, stunningly portrayed by Canadian actress Linda Griffiths, is a "flesh and blood" character. Griffiths, who has the face of a Botticelli angel, gives a performance equal to Sayles' script. At times, she is incandescent.

Although Lianna is basically a story of a young woman awakening to her gay identity, it is a film as much about the people in Lianna's life. Again, Sayles creates characters of depth and veracity seldom seen on the screen. Jane Hallaren portrays Ruth, the woman who Lianna falls in love with. In the throes of joy at discovering her true nature, Lianna is ready to commit herself completely to Ruth; but Ruth, more experienced and wise to the ways of the world, is much more reserved.

We see how Lianna's coming out affects her family. Her husband, Dick, who is something of a classic creep, uses the knowledge as another tool of control over Lianna. When Dick tells their children, Theda and Spencer, that Mommy is a lesbian, Lianna's hand is forced. She must face her children. Theda (Jessica Wight MacDonald) is only seven years old, and she is hurt and confused by something she does not really understand. Thirteen-year-old Spencer (Jesse Solomon), on the other hand, is much more philosophical. He tells Lianna, "So, my old lady's a dyke. Big deal." To which Lianna replies, "I'm not your 'old lady.'"

York stage actress, Jo Henderson) fall apart because Sandy does not know how to handle her dearest friend after discovering she is gay.

Lianna is a film about more than a woman "coming out." It is also about a woman who suddenly finds herself alone and on her own. Her husband throws her out of the house. She can see her children only a few days a week. She had dropped out of college to marry her husband, and has never had to work for a living before. Now she must face up to the consequences of her coming out. The joy of discovery soon gives way to self-doubt, lonely nights in a small, cheap apartment, and confusion over the way people have been affected by her self-discovery.

The script is not the only praiseworthy aspect of the film. John Sayles is a filmmaker of rare sensitivity and insight. Lianna is filled with moments of cinematic brilliance. There is a scene showing Lianna walking down the street. It is right after she has accepted that she is gay and is happy with the knowledge. The scene shows Lianna noticing all the pretty women as she walks down a street she has walked innumerable times before. Sayles' captures that burst of wild joy that Lianna is feeling without a single line of dialogue.

Lianna is an opportunity for everyone, gay and non-gay alike, to see a truly artistic exploration of a difficult subject: the awakening of a human being to his/her true nature. w

JUMPING THE GUN

ACADEMY ENNUI — Back in those distant, apple-cheeked days of my star-struck childhood there were three major holidays which I could count on to recur at least once every year: Christmas, my birthday and, most reverent of all, television's annual broadcast of the Academy Award ceremonies from Hollywood. In early spring my parents, friends and classmates would see me wandering around in a daze, muttering to myself about Geraldine Page, or any of a number of other people they had never heard of, and when the big night finally arrived I was as excited as anyone in the first couple of rows at the actual event.

These days I don't know of any apple-cheeked brats, to say nothing of well-adjusted adults, who feel the way I once did about the Oscar show. Let's face it, that trussed-up, annual publicity stunt is probably the most boring spectacle on television (and think of the competition for that distinction: Family Feud, Morgan Fairchild and most mini-series). However, if you're anything like me, or at least human, you may find yourself reluctantly tuning in at the last minute, hoping to catch just a glimmer of the old magic—a quick glimpse of a favorite star, perhaps—and if you're really lucky you might get to see a really momentous faux pas committed live right there in front of millions of disbelieving viewers. Actually, this year's Oscar show (on April 11) will probably be as unmemorable as always, but, as always, there are a few interesting notes to keep in mind as you root for your favorites.

For instance, a lot of people are predicting that this will be the year that Paul Newman (nominated for The Ver-

Dustin Hoffman
in Tootsie

Jack Lemmon in

dict) finally gets his due—he's had six previous nominations, but has never taken home an Oscar. Newman's stiffest competition for Best Actor seems to be Ben Kingsley (Gandhi), who has already won everything but the Irish Sweepstakes for his portrayal of the Indian leader. But Peter O'Toole, with seven nominations behind him, could surprise everyone.

Then there is Dustin Hoffman, enormously popular in Tootsie. Incidentally, Hoffman isn't the first actor to be nominated for Best Actor in a drag role—Jack Lemmon has that distinction for 1959's Some Like It Hot. He didn't win that year, but he did win a Supporting Actor Oscar back in 1955 for Mr. Roberts, and later, in 1973, he was named Best Actor for Save the Tiger. This year he's in the running with a nomination for Missing.

I don't think Julie Andrews, Sissy Spacek and Debra Winger have a prayer in the Best Actress category. Meryl Streep is probably the front runner. Her work in Sophie's Choice was meticulous and difficult—and she still just impresses the hell out of everyone. Her main competition is probably Jessica Lange, nominated for both "Best Actress" (Frances) and "Best Supporting Actress" (Tootsie). That kind of double threat hasn't occurred since 1942 when Teresa Wright received a Best Actress nomination for Pride of the Yankees and won in the "Supporting" category for Mrs. Miniver.

Among Lange's Supporting Actress competition, Glenn Close was superb in The World According to Garp, but she's up against that living legend, Kim Stanley (Frances), who makes a film appearance about once every 20 years.

Speaking of drag, if John Lithgow doesn't win Best Supporting Actor for his portrayal of Roberta in Garp, I will publicly sit through a screening of the abominable Chariots of Fire. But watch Robert Preston win that one—after all, he did wait nearly 40 years for his first nomination.

Then you get to all those awards that nobody cares about. Ordinarily we might be interested in Best Song category, but have you heard this year's nominees? They barely qualify as music, and it's rather interesting that three of the songs have lyrics by the team of Alan and Marilyn Bergman.

Instead of speculating on the various contenders, think of the talented people who weren't nominated this year. Why were Albert Finney, Diane Keaton and Dana Hill overlooked? They gave incredible performances in the depressing and little-seen Shoot the Moon. (I think I just answered my own question.) And what about Robin Williams and Mary Beth Hurt in The World According to Garp, and the various performers, extra-terrestrial and otherwise, in E.T., which is now the top-grossing film of all time?

If you want to get really pessimistic, think what might happen if Gandhi sweeps the field with 11 wins—it could start a major trend in men's fashion. Imagine millions of grown men running around dressed in diapers! W

TEXAS by Rob Clark

Houston's Alley Theatre will be the first resident professional theatre in the nation to host a showcase of Texas' community theatres when the Festival of American Community Theatres/Texas holds its annual conference in Houston, April 1-3. On April 1 and 2, the best of Texas' community theatres will compete in a biennial showcase of one-act plays on the Alley's Large Stage. The winning theatre, selected by Larry King, author of The Best Little Whorehouse in Texas, critic Norman Nadel and teacher/director Ronald Willis, will receive a cash prize to help defray production expenses. For information, call (713) 228-8421.

Theatre Suburbia of Houston has selected the warm comedy, Horowitz and Mrs. Washington, to be performed on Fridays and Saturdays through March 26. What happens to a retired Jewish man who has been mugged by a black man, hospitalized and is suddenly confronted by a black therapist? To see if they overcome their prejudices, call (713) 682-3525 for ticket reservations.

The cast of Horowitz and Mrs. Washington are: (l-r) Yolande Sigers, George Jonte, Patrick Mitchell, Lorraine Roddy and Lerone Williams.

The Meridian Theatre Playwrights and Directors Group has announced the winners of the third annual International Gay Playwriting contest. The winners, in alphabetical order by title are: Damaged Goods, by Ted Sod (New York, N.Y.); Dear John, by Marcia Cebulka (Bloomington, IN); Hair of the Dog, by John D. Dolan (San Francisco, CA); and Still Life with Phoenix Ad, by John Crabtree (Boston, MA). Each of the winning plays will receive a staged reading in the Playwrights and Directors Series III, to take place at the Shandol Theatre in New York City from March 21 through May 3. For information, call (212) 869-3981. Another contest is scheduled for later this year. Information concerning the contest may be obtained from P.O. Box 294, Village Station, New York, N.Y. 10014. Enclose a self-addressed envelope.

The American Dream, Edward Albee's acclaimed one-act comedy, has been selected as the Alley's Spring Lunchtime Theatre production to play Tuesdays through Fridays, March 17 through April 17 on the Arena Stage. Albee's knife-edged, sardonic humor focuses on the American family and its inherent flaws. There is Mommy, who believes she has been duped into buying a wheat-colored hat when she really wanted a beige one; Daddy, who complains that all the fixtures need fixing, but there is no one to fix them; Grandma, a raging tigress; Mr. Baker, president of the Women's Club; and the Young Man, who has nothing to offer but t-shirt, blue jeans, muscles and enviable good looks. (What's the problem?) Tickets for the Lunchtime presentation are $3 per person and are available from 11:45am to 12:15pm. The play is over within an hour.

The recent performances by Les Ballets Trockadero de Monte Carlo was nothing less than hilarious. The Trocks, as they're affectionately named, turned the most well-known repertory pieces into side-splitting parodies. They performed such numbers as "I Wanted To Dance With You At the Cafe of Experience" and "Pharoah's Daughter." Although the pieces were done tongue-in-cheek, the boys are actually very talented dancers and athletes. It's not easy for a man to do points. The "Dying Swan" scene was a great hit with Ludmilla Beaulmova (Lance Marccone) stealing the show with at least six curtain calls, which he dramatically milked from the audience. He then symbolically ripped his heart out and offered it to the audience as a sort of sacrifice. If you missed them this time around, be sure and catch them next time. It's well worth your while.

Tom Bair croons to his leading lady, Hope Shriver, in The Robber Bridegroom.

MUSIC — It's time to hit the beach, and for those of you doing it in Galveston, the Galveston Strand Theatre goes Nashville every weekend now through April 3, as they stage the blue grass musical, The Robber Bridegroom. The production is about a suave, singing bandit who conives to steal the heart of a Southern belle. Their romance is occasionally thwarted by the belle's outrageously lust-ridden stepmother. Showtimes are Fridays and Saturdays at 8:00pm with Sunday matinees at 2:30pm. Call (713) 763-4591 for directions and reservations.

The popular electronic group, Summer's Ready, will be appearing at the Houston Festival Saturday, March 19 at 10:30am on the Knoll Stage in Tranquility Park across from the Music Hall. Another performance will be a full-length, multi-media concert on March 24, 8:00pm at the Lawndale Arts Annex, 5600 Hillman. Joining the band will be guest dancers (get ready!), the Superetts.

Cynthia Manley

Cynthia Manley performs at San Antonio's Sunset Boulevard April 14. Numbers in Houston presents Marlena Shaw on March 13, Loleatta Holloway on March 20 and Lene Lovich for an April 7 concert. The Copa in Houston brings Grace Jones to their stage March 17, and The Saint of Dallas

STUFF — The producers of Before Stonewall, the public television funded documentary on the history of America's gay community prior to the 1970s, are looking for material: photographs, home movies, tape recordings, artwork, diaries and letters for possible inclusion in the film. Before Stonewall needs to hear from individuals who saved photographs of their friends and lovers, or who can talk about the one gay bar that existed in their hometown before the birth of "gay liberation." If you have or know of visual or audio materials that would be of interest to the filmmakers, please write and tell them what you have, but do not send original material. All responses are strictly confidential. Write to: Before Stonewall, 630 Ninth Ave., Suite 908, New York, N.Y. 10036, or Mass Productions, 110 First St., San Francisco, CA 94105.

Houston will explode with culture, color and fun March 17-27 when the Houston Festival comes to town. Since its beginning in 1966, the Festival has grown in scope and proportion to the present 11-day event which includes three separate celebrations: Major Art Performances and Exhibits, Outdoor Festivities, and the Houston Fringe. The outdoor events are free; weekends, March 19-20 and 26-27, 10:30am-6:00pm; weekdays, March 21-25, 10:30am-2:30pm. Parking is available in the Civic Center Garage. For more information, call (713) 521-0993.

The Dallas Museum of Fine Arts presents Atget: The Art of Old Paris through April 3. A free lecture on photographer Atget entitled, "Living in Paris, An Appendix to Atget," by Rosmond Bernier, will be presented in the museum auditorium on Thursday, March 24 at 7:30pm. Also at the museum are works by sculpture artist Joel Shapiro through May 8. FYI: The recent El Greco exhibit brought Dallas a whopping $9.7 million!

Thank you for being a part of this exciting adventure. With your support we will continue to provide you with the best of the gay arts.

Sincerely

Don Baker
Don Baker

PRODUCTIONS by Rob Clark

Over the past few years, Texas has had the pleasure of seeing gay theatre performed locally in the various cities, thus proving we have very talented actors in our community. With the help of Don Baker and Community Productions, we will now have the privilege of viewing gay theatre as performed across the nation.

Realizing our need for a secure gay theatre company in Texas, Mr. Baker has traveled extensively to major cities in the United States, meeting with gay playwrights, performers and authors. This desire for professional theatre brought Don and the New York Repertory Company together. He explains, "Gay theatre is extremely important for our identity. These plays, hopefully, will help gay people realize that they're not alone in their quest for happiness. The plays are very down to earth and believable. I don't feel any of them have been 'white-washed' for our convenience. A non-gay person viewing the play will be able to better understand a gay person's dilemma. Every culture, whether black, chicano or whatever, has its own theatre as an outlet. The gay culture needs this also."

Weststreet Rep was founded by Amato Petale, who operates out of the 18th Street Playhouse in Greenwich Village. Mr. Petale has been in the theatre for 35 years, and has 75 productions to his credit in Europe.

Three productions performed by Weststreet Rep will tour Texas this month. They are A Perfect Relationship by Doric Wilson, If This Isn't Love by Sidney Morris and My Blue Heaven by Jane Chambers.

A Perfect Relationship is a comedy of two gay male roommates who pride themselves on their uninvolvedness. In doing so, however, they miss the beauty of their unique friendship. This production is directed by Petale.

If This Isn't Love is a semi-autobiographical two-character comedy-drama about a gay male relationship and its changes over a 30-year period. This production ran for eight months and nearly 200 performances at New York's Shandol Theatre.

My Blue Heaven is a hilarious story of two lesbians who quit 9 to 5 jobs and move to a farm. We regret to inform you that playwright Jane Chambers passed away last month at age 45 of a brain tumor. But she did have the pleasure of knowing her play was being performed in Texas.

Community Productions will be touring Austin, Houston, Dallas and San Antonio. See pages 8 and 9 of this issue of TWT to find times and dates in your city. Ticket locations will also be listed.

STORY OF THE WEEK — Dateline Houston: Last weekend when the Midnite Sun slipped past the front line of defense at Dirty Sally's and stole ye ol' famous Coca Cola sign, Sally's fired back a volley by stealing the Sun's front door and marching it into the middle of last weekend's remodeling. But, by the time Sally's new look opened, all was rehinged. Sally's looks real spiffy for spring, thanks to the work crew who posed in front of the CRUISE CAMERA, (l-r) manager Robert Martin, Paul "Dirty Sally" himself Stewart atop ladder, Tom Anderson, Packy, Louis "Cha Cha" Garcia and Danny Pena. Photo by Greg Havican of TWT's Houston Bureau.

MR. DRUMMER — The Southwest preliminaries to the Mr. Drummer contest, scheduled at Numbers on Sunday, March 27, will be studded by Kenny "Claude" Sacha—the Bette Midler of Vegas. Tickets are available at Union Jack, Manhole, Eagle Leathers, American Leatherman, TWT office, and the sponsoring club, The Drum. It will be hot!

DALLAS DIRT — At the second anniversary of High Country, the CRUISE CAMERA caught (l-r) owner, Ray Martin; Unicorn day bartender, Leslie Abbott; and High Country manager, Michael Hopper celebrating . . . Martin's other club, the Unicorn, grand opened this past week in the ol' Jock's spot . . . It looks like the Snake Pit will open in early April with the awesome Leather and Lace blast . . . A male revue, Muscle Motion, plays Wednesday at Uptown . . .

HOT TEA by Chuck

TATTLE TALE — In Houston, the Officers Club's new upper deck opened last Saturday night to a "dock type crowd" getting down to music finely tuned by Reed Parish's Sounds-Pro Company which is represented in Texas by David Gary and Mike Sullivan . . . Sounds hot! Numbers has axed 25¢ drink night on Wednesdays in order to expand Nu-Wave to two nights a week with dj Bruce Godwin . . . The Branding Iron Club of Dallas (see CRUISE CAMERA photo) guest bartended in Houston last Saturday at Miss Charlotte's, and through the generosity of the customers raised $1,500 to take back to the Oak Lawn Counseling Center.

MUSICAL TEA — The Montrose Chorale needs male and female singers for Houston's gay pride festival chorus. Meetings are held Wednesday nights at Bering Memorial Church. Call director, Andy Mills (713) 527-9454. HOT TEA thanks Andy and his Symphonic Band for playing the overture to last Sunday's gay pride theme selection meeting at Kindred Spirits. It certainly put everyone in the right mood to select a short, meaningful and workable theme, "Unity Through Diversity!" ▶

BIRTHDAY TEA — March must be one of the best months to open a bar from the looks of all the anniversaries going on in Houston. Last weekend, the CRUISE CAMERA (see left) captured the excitement and dancing to the popular Mustang Band at the newly revamped BRB during the club's fifth anniversary . . .

RUMOUR OF WEEK — High Country of Dallas is not going male as gossip has it. It will remain a women's country and western club, HOT TEA was assured. Incidentally, at A Women's Motorcycle Club benefit this Sunday you could win a free trip to Puerto Valarta where the peso buys more in U.S. dollars.

ALAMO ACTION — The new 1983 Mr. San Antonio will be crowned this Thursday evening at Sunset Boulevard . . . Lollie Johnson reports to HOT TEA that her huge new patio will be open at Faces by April Fool's Day . . . And she's not foolin' when she says her new cabaret downtown on Broadway will be open by Fiesta . . . Scotty Roberts, in cahoots with his friends Tom Beatty and Jeff Nifong, will open Cahoots on March 23 . . . Over at the Bonham Ballroom, Lisa King, the new Miss Gay San Antonio, has signed on as a regular cast member . . . Alice Phallus and Jahonau Reis are off to Las Vegas to play the Garage Disco and the Silver Slipper Casino beginning April 4 . . . And, Armita Tortilla won the February amateur of the month contest at Sunset Boulevard.

AGGIE TEA — Lest you forget that Fantasy Disco was not just a fantasy of your imagination, the CRUISE CAMERA presents a dance photo for the TWT history books. It seems that after the recent GSS benefit, the short-lived club ceased to be . . . But, alas, Astraptes is back even if manager Virginia did break an arm to get it re-opened! Although considerable controversy surrounds this situation, TWT magazine continues its A&M outreach.

This Sunday, the good ship Galleon sets sail on their seventeenth year as one of Texas' traditional cruise spots . . . And the Barn takes nine days to celebrate its seventh birthday, beginning this weekend under the guidance of the able pair (l-r) Terry and Walter. A pair of photos by Greg Havican of TWT's Houston bureau.

CRAZY TEA — Houston's accredited crazy house, The Asylum, remains closed to all inmates until this Monday when the newly remodeled ward re-opens. New carpet for your knees, new paint for your elbows, and new movies for your eyes. ▶

And, at the Unicorn on March 16, the Dallas Gay Alliance presents "Not Just Another Pretty Show" featuring live talent and impersonators in a very different show.

FORT WORTH — Dana Manchester concludes her current Texas tour in a performance next Thursday night at the Other Place . . . Over $700 was raised for the Tarrant County Gay Alliance at the Lumber Company's bartender's (15) drag show . . . Although Buddy wasn't in drag, he was a barback . . . And, although 14 of the bartenders got out of drag immediately after the show, one stayed in drag for two days . . . Guess who? Answer is scrawled on the wall of the 651 T-room!

TEXAS TELETYPE — The Boathouse and Dirty Sally's of Austin will team up for Splash Day at Hippy Hollow on the first Sunday in May . . . Don't be surprised if an Austin landmark that closed last fall reopens soon under a new hallmark . . . Mama Jo at Houston's Ranch cooks up a spring barbecue this Sunday afternoon . . . In Denton at North Texas State University—in addition to GLAD—there's now a new campus approved organization called the Gay Students Support Group . . . HOUSTON — MSA Women's Softball is presently getting ready for a pre-season game on Saturday and Sunday, March 26-27. The scheduled location will be Brookline Field (TWT SPORTS inadvertently printed Brooklawn Field as the location in Vol. 8, No. 50), located off I-45 South and Griggs Road on the corner of Real and Irby.

Also in softball news, TWT SPORTS has been informed by Martha Ritchie, president of WSL, that Fonde Field (I-45 and Telephone Road) will be available to women's softball teams for scrimmage play or Sunday practice games.

Teams wishing to use the field in March, before the '83 season begins, may contact Ritchie at (713) 728-9371 for further information and scheduling.

DALLAS SPONSORS

DALLAS — TWT SPORTS was informed that the organizational meeting held Saturday, February 26 at The Park on Lemmon, concerning sponsorship for volleyball and softball teams, was a great success. At least 100 players signed on for teams to begin the season.

To date, additional players are needed. Interested individuals and teams should contact Nancy, (214) 521-6553 for more information.

SPRING TENNIS OPEN

HOUSTON — March 26-27 has been set for the 1983 Spring Open to be played at MacGregor Park (Homer Ford Tennis Center), Lester Vela, tournament director, explained to TWT SPORTS.

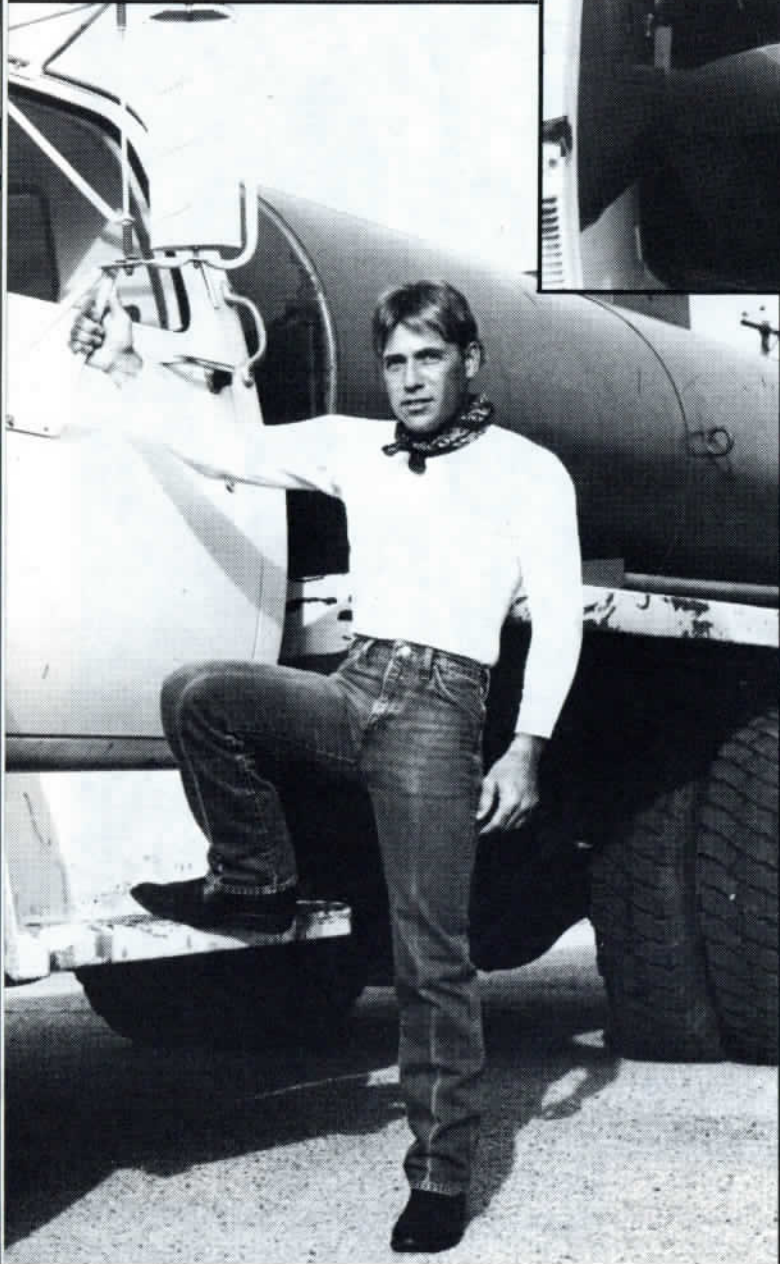

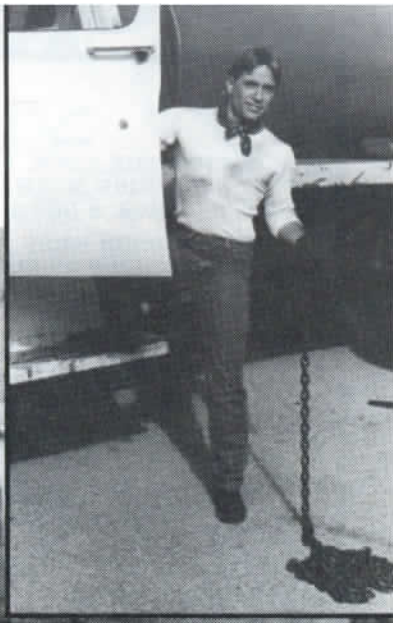

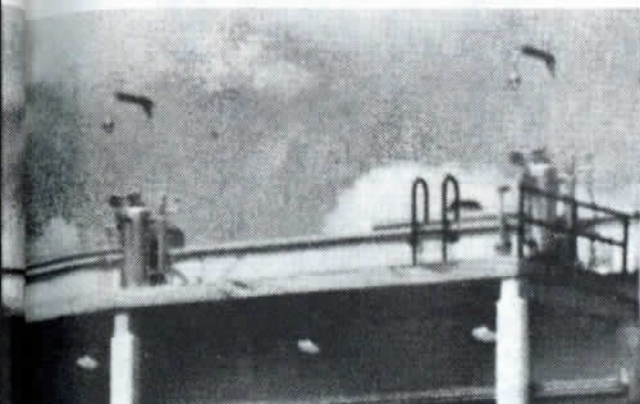

Competition will be played in singles and doubles, with some matches playable Friday afternoon and evening at entrants' agreement and preference.

Contact Vela at (713) 522-6500 for entry forms and details. Deadline will be March 20. Fields may be limited as to class A, B and C, so early entry assures your participation. Trophies will be given in all classes.

There's something fishy going on here! Is George Brent, born March 15, really unaware that Jerry Lewis, born March 16, seems to be mocking him in this week's Piscean STARSCOPE illustration?

The Week of March 11 - 17

STARGAZER: With spring less than two weeks away, days and nights are becoming almost of equal length as earthlings approach the vernal equinox. After sunset in the low western sky, Venus has become much brighter, becoming a magnificent sight. To the upper left of Venus, you can see the constellations of Pleiades, Taurus and Orion. And, high in the southwest sky over Texas are Castor and Pollux, the twin sisters of Gemini—the sign of twins. Pollux is the slightly brighter of the two stars.

NEW MOON: The Moon will enter Pisces on March 12. Two days later, the Moon catches up with the Sun to form a conjunction. This means that the Sun and Moon will be in the same place in the sky—a monthly occurrence known as a New Moon. This month's New Moon will be in Pisces and occur next Monday, March 14 at 11:43am.

PISCES: (Feb 18 - Mar 20) This Monday's New Moon is indicative of new beginnings for all Pisceans since the lunation occurs in your own zodiac sign. This New Moon is your most important New Moon of the year for all personal matters. Without a doubt, you are stepping into situations—whether in your business or personal life—that will call for new attitudes, personality adjustments and adaptability. The Pisces New Moon offers all Pisceans a new beginning. Think of March 14 as the beginning of your new year and make appropriate New Year's resolutions for yourself. Such resolutions stand a good chance of being realized.

ARIES: (Mar 21 - Apr 19) This Monday's New Moon hints at intrigue. Double check everything you are told because you are either being deceived or are not being told the whole story.

Use your intuition to guide you in making any decisions. Rely solely on yourself. Discount stories and rumors. Now is a fine time to be independent. Such guidance can make for smoother times. You can use this intrigue to your benefit as you outmaneuver others with behind-the-scene schemes.

TAURUS: (Apr 20 - May 20) Since the New Moon of March 14 comes to rest in your eleventh house of friendships, you can use alliances to further your personal projects. Social gatherings offer a fine opportunity to gain. Friendships can be fertilized so as to sprout new beginnings on your social horizon. Alliances are favored. You can gain through other people.

GEMINI: (May 21 - Jun 21) If you have ever wanted to make a career change or interview for a satisfying job, now is the time to make your strategic move. Such splendid career opportunities occur for a two-week cycle beginning next Monday because the New Moon will illuminate from your tenth house of career. Since New Moons are traditionally the best time for launching goals, set sail on these tenth house career matters between March 14 and 27. For those wishing to keep their personal employment, the period offers a bountiful time for escalated success.

GANGER: (Jun 22 - Jul 22) Maybe you should get away from it all and take a trip. This New Moon thinks so. In fact, next Monday's New Moon, which illuminates from your ninth house of travel, makes the coming two-week cycle your best time of the month for travel. Educational pursuits are also highlighted. Studying should be easier. Good grades can be achieved. Some of the mental cobwebs lingering in your mind can now be philosophically cleared away.

LEO: (Jul 23 - Aug 22) You are urged to finalize your tax return during the coming two-week cycle, since Monday's New Moon occurs in your eighth house which rules taxes and estate matters. Computations calculated now will be accurate and go unchallenged by the IRS. Any partnership deals struck during the New Moon should be mutually beneficial and bring financial success. Dealing with other people's money is now favored.

VIRGO: (Aug 23 - Sep 22) The New Moon wishes to give off a message about marriage since it will speak from your seventh house of marriage next Monday. If single and tired of living alone, use the coming two-week cycle, while the New Moon is increasing in size, to increase your opportunities for meeting the mate of your dreams. If married, use the coming New Moon cycle to iron out any problems with your mate. This is your best time of the year for new romantic beginnings of a serious nature.

ment and health continue to be the high water marks of your priorities since the New Moon is vibrating from your sixth house, which has dominion over such matters. Any problems with coworkers can now be easily resolved. Any illnesses can now be quickly and accurately diagnosed. It's full steam ahead for advancement in your career. With your job and health perked to their peak, you'll have time to enjoy the blossoms of romance.

SCORPIO: (Oct 24 - Nov 21) Since yours is the time of sexual satisfaction, next Monday's New Moon should be most welcome and thoroughly utilized to its romantic fullest. The sector around you is very fertile for dating, romancing and prancing. Next Monday's New Moon occurs in your fifth house of love affairs—opening the door to the dating game wide open for the coming two-week cycle. Your ability to gamble in love and money will be rewarded since lady luck is on your side.

SAGITTARIUS: (Nov 22 - Dec 21) The restless and independent nature of all Sagittarians will be further stretched by next Monday's New Moon, which vibrates from your fourth house which rules your home. Your homefront is definitely due for a beneficial shakeup. You are restless to move, to redecorate, to move furniture, to buy or sell real estate, or to take on a new domestic partner—or rid yourself of one. No matter how you slice it, something on the domestic front is due for a change. And, the change is promised to be for the better.

GAPRIGORN: (Dec 22 - Jan 19) A short trip taken in the next two weeks could yield an excellent result. Sales on the road, romance from afar, telephone calls from important people, letters from admirers and hassle-free travel are just some of the sectors to be favorably affected by next Monday's New Moon, which will occur in your third house of communication. Now is a fine time to sign important papers and contracts. Now is your best time of the year to resolve any problems as there will be no breakdown or failure to communicate exactly what you intend.

AQUARIUS: (Jan 20 - Feb 18) It's time to talk about money, said the New Moon to all unconventional Aquarians. In as much as you do not like to deal with such mundane matters as money and handle such conventional things as basic budgeting, you should welcome this lunar opportunity to straighten out such necessary concerns. It's time for all Aquarians to be financially practical—at least for the next two weeks, while the New Moon offers you the annual chance to game plan your money strategy.

Coming next week: Mercury enters Aries, causing impulsive communication. ♃
