RALEIGH GAYS MEET WITH STATE OFFICIALS

RALEIGH, NC (IGNA) — In its effort to open a continuing dialogue between the Gay community and state and local officials, four representatives from the Triangle Gay Communications and Planning Committee, (TGCPC) met with Citizens Advocate Floyd Craig of the Office of Citizens Affairs in the Governor's office.

The representatives presented to Mr. Craig an educational packet of material "put together for the purpose of giving the reader an overall view of gay people's involvement in the local community and the national community, and to help bring their attention to some of the battles gay people face on a day to day basis."

The purpose of the meeting with Mr. Craig was "to request national, state and local governments assistance in solving problems of discrimination against gay people of all sex, race, social standing, employment or marital status."

The meeting, which lasted over one hour covered many aspects of gay lifestyle and discrimination faced by gays. The direct result of the meeting was to gain assistance from the Citizens Advocate's Office in scheduling appointments with various department heads within the state government, and ultimately to present this information directly to Governor Jim Hunt.

Mr. Craig said he could only deal with SPECIFIC cases of discrimination or problems. He requested TGCPC and the gay community as a whole, to inform him of any SPECIFIC cases of job discrimination based on sexual preference. Anyone who feels they have been discriminated against is urgently requested to contact TGCPC at 2727 Mayview Road, Raleigh NC 27607, (919) 834-3302.

UTAH WOMEN ASKS BAN ON GAY TEACHERS

The Utah Association of Women will hold its annual meeting April 25 in Salt Lake City and one of the resolutions to be voted on will recommend that homosexuals be restricted from professions like teaching "where youth would be unduly influenced."

Another would be to ban sex education in the schools and restrict such teaching to the home and the church.

SOUTH AFRICA GAY STUDENTS EXPELLED

JOHANNESBURG, SA (IGNA) — Four students at Teachers' Training College here have been expelled for being homosexual - even though they have not been accused of any offense.

It has been announced that the Potchefstroom College authorities have been investigating students' private lives and that their action is in no way connected to academic achievements. The students who were expelled had above-average standings.

The College has alleged that the students frequented gay clubs and bars in Johannesburg. Two of the students were asked to sign sworn affidavits implicating other students. News of the College's action has only recently come to light as the expulsions were not officially publicized on the campus.

A Durban newspaper report claims the authorities may have used intimidation and there is growing unrest among fellow students.

P'S ANNEX GIVES ATLANTA'S MEN A PLACE TO DANCE

Thursday, April 24th marks the opening of a new concept in Atlanta bars. P's Annex will be offering Atlanta's men a hot place to dance and carry on like never before. The atmosphere will be similar to Washington's Eagle in Exile with two floors of action and a total masculine crowd. Opening night party on the 24th features free drinks from 10 til 12. Get out your favorite pair of torn Levi's, and your no-sleeves t-shirt and check the new place for men in town.

Warren, DJ at P's Annex, will be spinning to a hot crowd of men starting this week.

MR. CAPITOL CITY KICKS OFF MEN'S CONTEST SEASON

The Sweet Gum Head will be the sight for this years first big contest for the men. Emceed by Tina DeVore and Randy Knight, this years contest should be better than ever. Contestants will compete in Evening Wear, "Do Your Own Thing," Swimwear, and Talent. The winner will take home $200 and a well deserved vacation. Join everyone at the Sweet Gum, Monday, April 28th for what should be a hot event.

The crew of Woody's checks out the dance floor from the balcony at P's Annex.

Last years Oscar winners.

12TH ANNUAL OSCAR AWARDS COMING UP AT SWEET GUM HEAD

The Annual Phyllis Killer Oscar Awards are scheduled for Monday, May 5th at The Sweet Gum Head. In its twelfth year, the Oscar's are Atlanta's oldest awards for recognition of those individuals who have contributed to the gay entertainment scene in Atlanta during the preceding year.

This years' program will feature Charlie Brown and Mark Jones as Program Chairpersons and John Austin as Executive Director. This year the theme of the Oscar Awards will be "Community Celebration."

As was instituted last year, voting for the various nominees may be accomplished by members of the Academy of Performing Arts by picking up ballots at the bar where they registered with the Academy or by contacting the manager of that bar, Billy Jones or John Austin. And like the previous ceremonies, there will be fabulous entertainment provided which will include all the clubs in town. Nominations will be announced here next week.

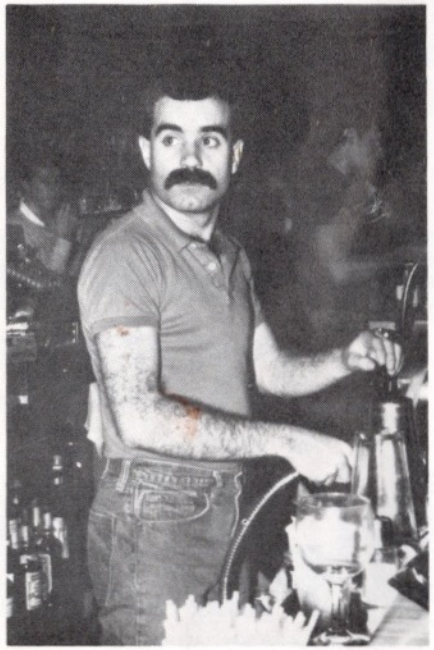

"The Girls All Get Beautiful at Closing Time". You're liable to see anything at Limelight's Sunday T-Dance.

Tiffany Arieagus will give up her crown as Miss Universe this next Tuesday night. This years pageant will be a sellout as always, so get your reservations quick.

You can find Bo slinging drinks at Why Not? on the "Ponce Strip".

Joe is just one of the busy bartenders at The Pharr Library.

Bertha Butts belts out a number at The Sweet Gum Head.
