OLD PLANTATION OPENS

The Old Plantation Club, Houston opened its doors this past week with a special MCC presentation of "Godspell". The building was filled to capacity for both performances and was the premier of the newly remodeled structure for Houston bar goers.

This past Wednesday an invitation preview was given and once again Houston bar goers turned out in force for this "sneak preview". The official Grand Opening is Thursday, December 18th.

URSULA'S ADDING

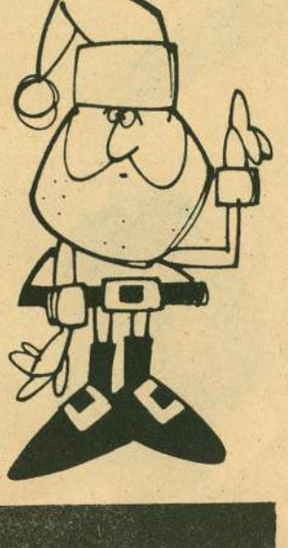

Ursula's, one of the most popular bars in Houston, is making some changes and additions. In the main room, a fire place has been opened and is now ready for full use. Don't worry if a heat wave should hit, as Ursula has promised to turn the thermostat down on the air conditioning and keep the fireplace active during the holidays.

While awaiting their mixed drink permit, an upstairs bar is now in preparation to be opened. The new room will be called the "School Room" with some memorable furnishings from those golden school years.

CHRISTMAS EVE BUFFET

The Depo$itory Club hopes to alleviate for many Gays what is sometime the lonliest time of the year. To help bring cheer and merriment, a Christmas Eve buffet will be served Wednesday night at 7 pm.

But the goodwill of the Holiday Season does not end on Christmas Eve. Christmas night another buffet will again be given at 7 pm., but it also includes a beer bust and after hours.

FROM THE EDITOR

Merry Christmas! That time of year has come upon us and activities seem to be in abundance in the Southwest. I would personally like to thank Norma Kristie once again for bringing the Miss Gay America Pageant to Houston this year. It was really something else and people will be talking about it for quite some time. Ican't really say how much I enjoyed working with Norma, Lady Baronessa, and Shawn Luis. They are really three of the m st beautiful people in the world.

We see that Big David and Alan Allison have returned to the Dallas Bayou Landing. I understand that David is really bringing the house down as in the past. Between David and the very beautiful Alan Allison, the shows at the Landing are a Must! The Old Plantation in Houston is now open and all of Houston is saying "Wow" What a bar it is. Construction on the new location in Dallas is about to get underway and it too should really be something.

New Year's Eve activities are slowly taking shape. Be sure to check the Nuntius New Years Eve column in this issue and next week to keep abreast of all the happenings.

I would like to take this space now to thank you the reader and our advertisers for your continued support in 1975. Without you, it couldn't have happened. We have grown at such a fast pace and gone through three very important transitions during our first six months of existence. But this growth would not be possible without you. I would like to extend my personal thanks to the French Quarter theater.

couldn't have happened. We have grown at such a fast pace and gone through three very important transitions during our first six months of existence. But this growth would not be possible without you. I would like to extend my personal thanks to the French Quarter theater, Dirty Sally's, the Depo$itory, Carter's Adult Library, Ah Men Clothes, Algren and Action Book Store for their very special help this past year. This list of names is only a fraction of what it should read. There are countless others who cannot be named, but to each and everyone of you, thank you and a very Happy Holidays.

TOO SMALL TO BELIEVE!

A 27 year old defendant in a rape case in Galveston, was ordered by a judge to lower his pants and show his sexual organs to a jury after the victim in the case stated that the only unusual physical characteristic about her attacker was that his organs were undersized. The Defendant, Jesse Owen, complied with the judge's order last Thursday after the court ruled that the testimony of the deputies, who previously had examined Owen was not adequate evidence.

CUSTOMER APPRECIATION

The Depo$itory Club, Houston has had such an overwhelming response in the past with its customer appreciation weekend, that it has been brought back again for Thursday, Friday, and Saturday, the 18th, 19th and 20th. Nickel beer will be in effect for these three evenings as on previous weekends.

Dear Aunt Sofa:

I have always noticed that with most people if you do not get to trick with them before you become friends, there usually isn't any type of sexual relationship ever involved. Why is this? I don't understand why most people want to trick with people they hardly know, and when they do become friends, they don't want to have sex.

ADVISE:

The Gay life is a strange way of life. We have been brought up with our heterosexual upbringing, that people meet, become friends, fall in love, marry, and then have sex. But it seems that in Gay life, people are more interested in a "quickie" sexual relationship than in getting to know someone first. I realize that this seems cold in many ways, but it does avoid any personal involvement on either partys part.

I have met people that I would like to trick with; but for some reason, after having become friends, sex seems to disappear. I don't necessarily mean disappear on my part. But how many times when people say, "Oh we're good friends and you can't trick with friends". I have said it before and will say it again- If you can't trick with your friends, who can you trick with? If persons are stable and fairly understanding with their friendship I see no reason why sex should ruin a relationship. Then again, this is my opinion and appears not to be that of the majority. How about it readers? What are your views on the matter?

stable and fairly understanding with their friendship I see no reason why sex should ruin a relationship. Then again, this is my opinion and appears not to be that of the majority. How about it readers? What are your views on the matter?

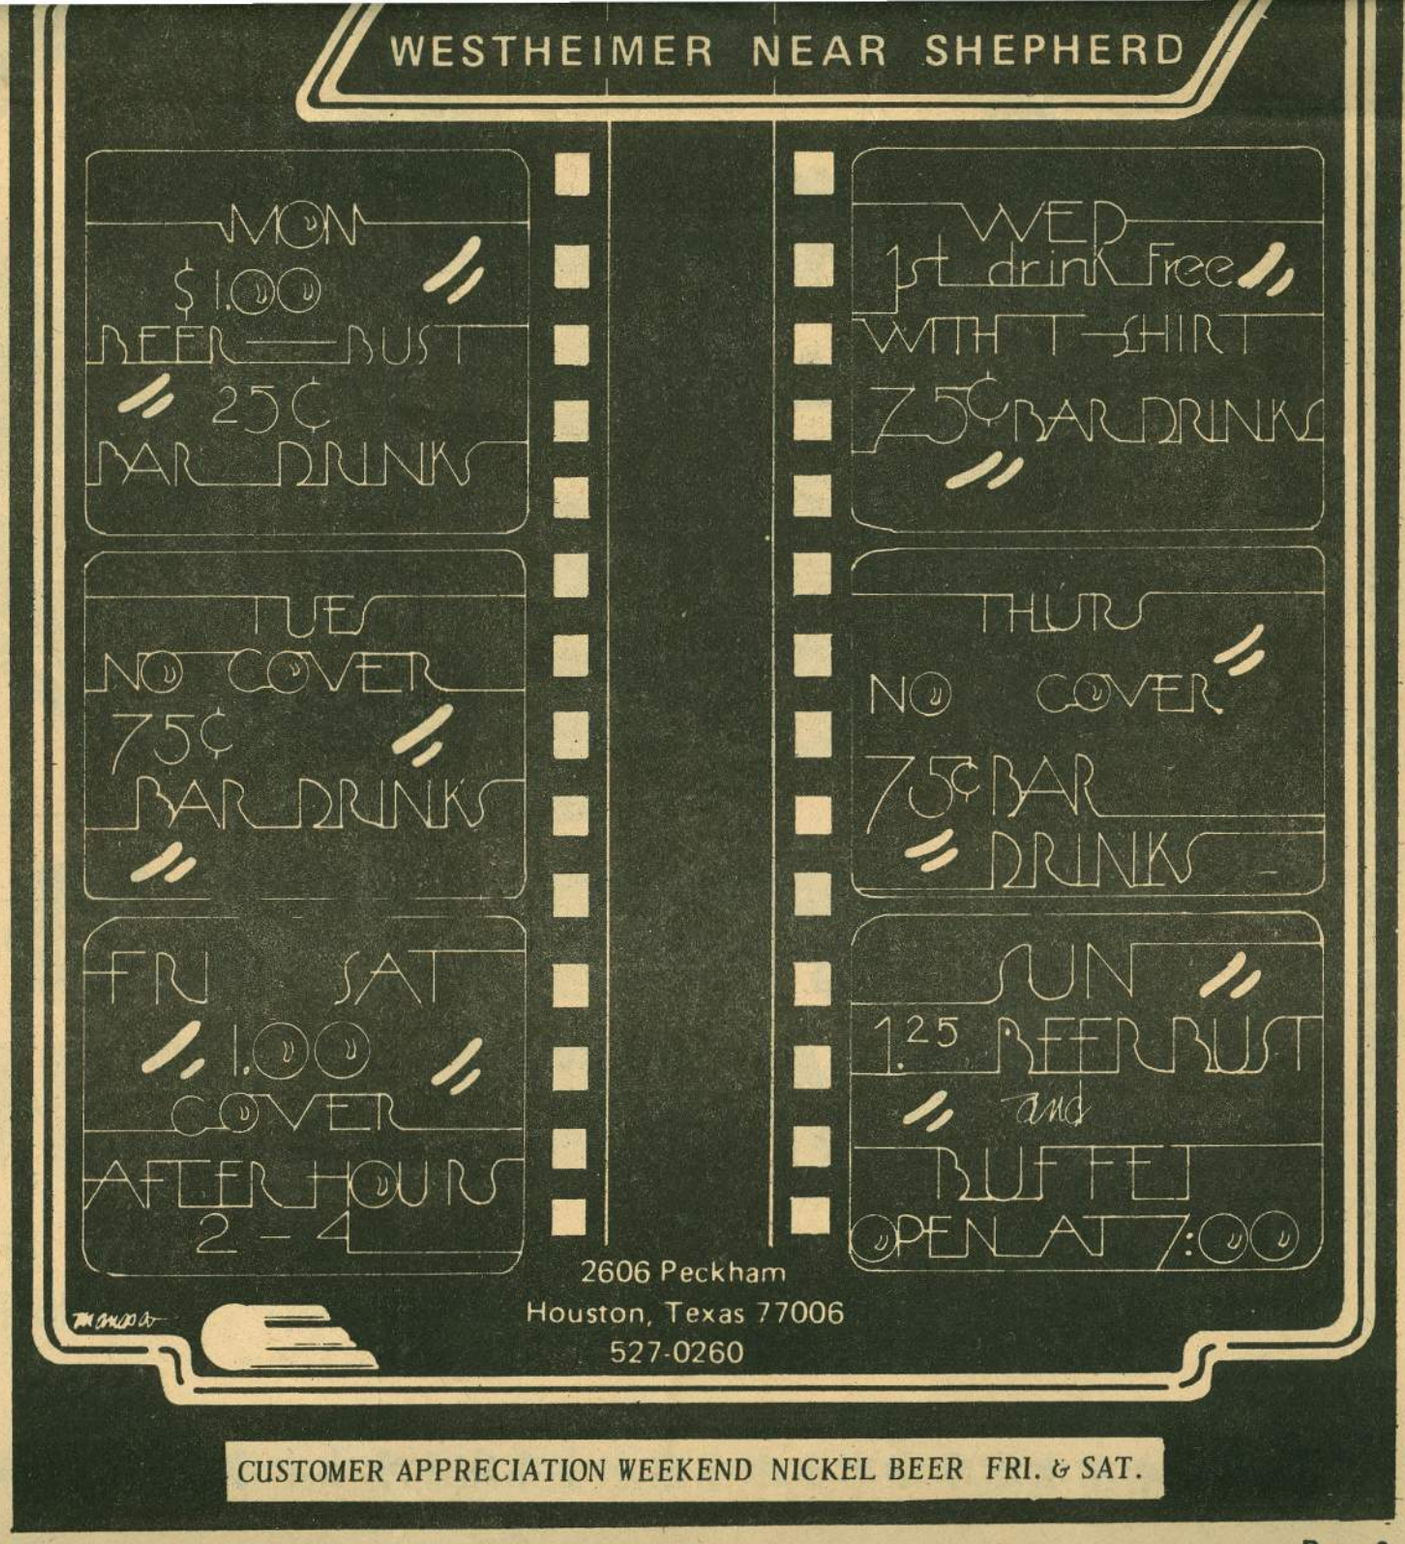

Dear Aunt Sofa:

I have been broken up with my lover now for about a month and a halp. We went together for only four months. When we first started living together there was no real love involved. I can't tell you how much I fell in love those four months. Things seemed to be fairly cordial after we broke up and he said he wanted to still see me occasionally. Since that day, I have not heard from or seen him. I have checked with some friends of his and keep a fairly close tab on him. I want him back so much and I miss him more than I can express. Should I call him and talk to him? It's been difficult these past weeks not to see him, but I really need him. Help!

ADVISE:

I must say that after a break-up one partner in a relationship usually is more involved with a reunion than the other. I realize that he seems to be one of the most important things in your life now, but would his coming to see you help matters any? It seems that if he should start staying around you again, it would only worsen matters. All I can say is No, Don't call him. If he really wanted to extend your relationship he would have been back by now. If you go to him, you will only be asking for more heartache. I suggest that you find someone else to occupy your mind and hopefully this will end the emptiness you have been experiencing.

Aunt Sofa will answer your questions as space permits in The Nuntius. If you have a problem or comment for Aunt Sofa, please feel free to write. Aunt Sofa, c/o the Nuntius, 4615 Mt. Vernon Houston, Texas 77006

Thanks to our many friends across Texas for making the Old Plantation the success story of 1975. Your generousity and support made it possible for our third club in Houston. We are now in the process of building our new location in Dallas. We pledge to you, our Customer, to continue to operate honestly, to protect our patrons, and provide you with a safe, clean, well run atmosphere. Without you, we would not be here. Thank you from the bottom of our hearts. Wishing you each a very Merry Christmas and Happy New Year.

It's a Weird Bank Heist That Really Happened.

Excellent writing, direction, and acting overcomes a slightly excessive running time and a dog of a title in this engrossing and at first, amusing film which details the truth-is-stranger-than-fiction events of a Brooklyn bank robbery that occurred on a hot August in 1972. Based on a magazine accoung Frank Pierson's award calibre screenplay does not condone the criminal action while combining comedy and tragedy with suspense.

As the screens most unusual bank robber, Al Pachino's performance as a bisexual bigamist shmarkable in a touching telephone conversation with Pacino and an even better monologue, during which he is very seriously reminiscent of Judy Holliday's best moments in "Adam's Rib".

"Dog Day Afternoon" was filmed where it all happened - in the heart of Brooklyn. The climax of the getaway was restaged at Kennedy Airport. The director is Sidney Lumet, it is the twenty third film he has directed.

The first was a court drama in 1957 "12 Angry Men". The variety of movies that followed included "Long Day's Journey Into zine accoung Frank Pierson's award calibre screenplay does not condone the criminal action while combining comedy and tragedy with suspense.

As the screens most unusual bank robber, Al Pachino's performance as a bisexual bigamist should earn him a fourth successive Academy Award nomination. He is fascinating to watch as his psychopathic moods change to fit the demands of the role, which includes a splendid scene in which he dictates his will, explaining really why he is a social outcast.

Supporting performances are uniformly fine with a standout being Chris Sarandon as the intended recepient of a sex change. He is reof the getaway was restaged at Kennedy Airport. The director is Sidney Lumet, it is the twenty third film he has directed.

The first was a court drama in 1957 "12 Angry Men". The variety of movies that followed included "Long Day's Journey Into Night", "Fail Safe", "The Pawnbroker", "The Group", and "The Anderson Tapes".

The screenplay for "Dog Day Afternoon", which sensitively explores an incredible attempt to get rich in a rush, was written by Frank Pierson. John Cazale, who played Al Pacino's brother in "The Godfather", co stars as his inept holdup helper in the film. Martin Bregnan and Martin Elfand produced this stranger than fiction film.

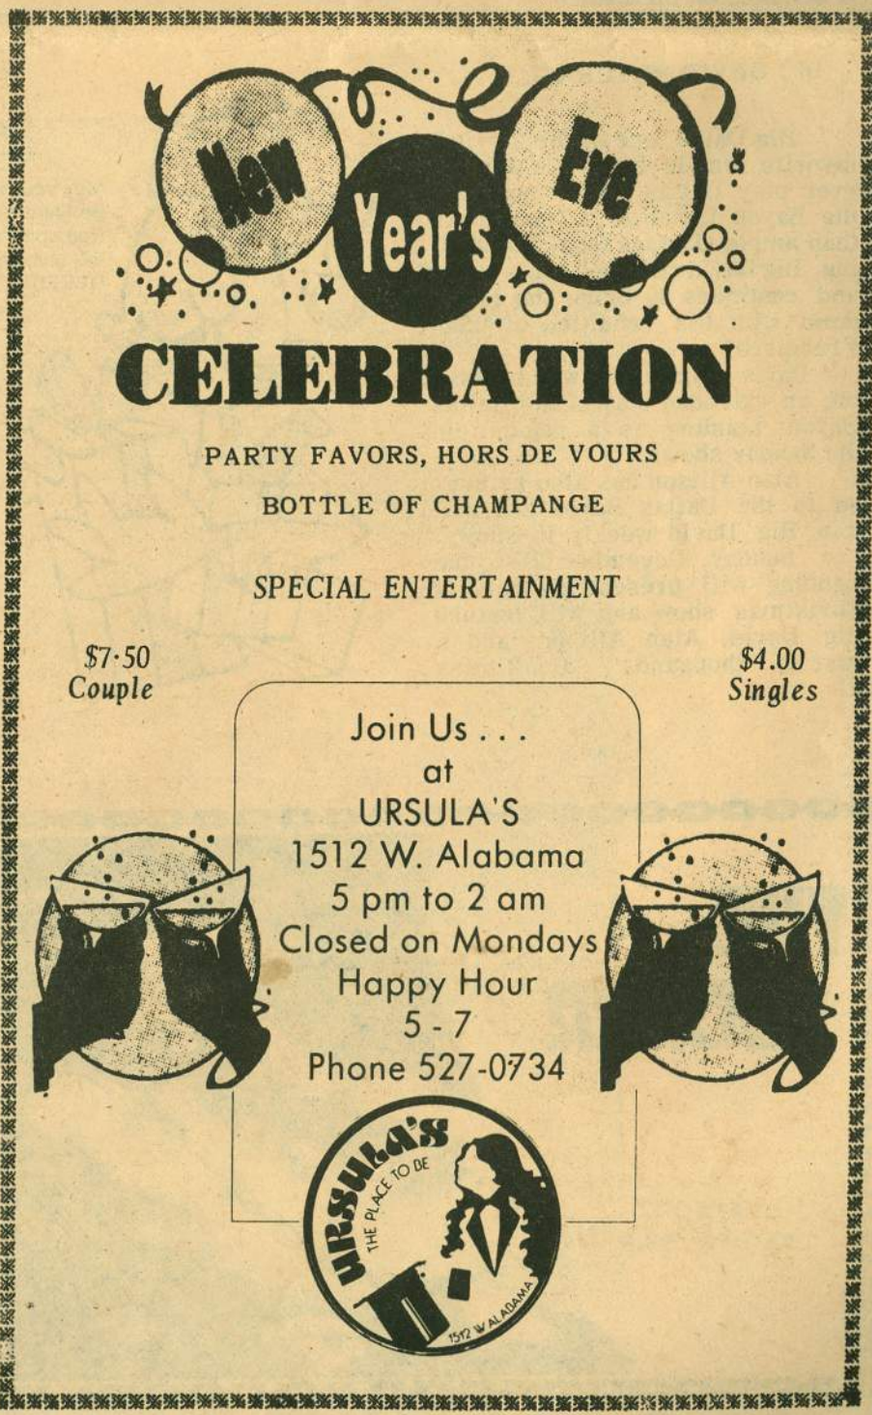

"Nashville", is playing around the state this week. The film is billed as the damndest thing you ever saw; I'm inclined to agree with it whole heartedly. In the film you watch the goings on in that city for 48 hours, during which time you have your basic characters to keep an eye on. There are 23 central figures to watch.

Robert Altman who gave us the highly successful "M*A*S*H" directed. He deals with peoples lives and loves to make you watch his characters and enjoy their very presence.

In "Nashville", every person has their own separate role to live out. You may wonder how a film dealing with the lives of 23 individuals can be worth going to see. Believe me "Nashville" ranks among the top contenders for best film of the year. Robert Altman knew that the film must intermix with todays society. Every character is different from the next but related somehow to today. Henry Gibson plays the western singing idol. His character is molded around Hank Snow. Altman shows every aspect of his characters likes, dislikes and dreams. Then as in all his films, he somehow manages to bring each character together to finally finish the puzzle.

Imust admit in all fairness that "Nashville" was quite boring for the first hour. Then I thought back to some of Altmans lesser movies and realized that that is what he wants. The first hour is the key to the films brilliance. He is shaping each characters own individual style for you. From that first hour comes one hell of a brilliant film. The movie is one that will make you laugh, cry and at times, you see yourself on the screen. To me that is frightening when a director can do that to an audience. But also the work of a genius.

Until next week,
T. G. Pretender

HOROSCOPE

Aries (March 21-April 19)
Take the time to draft your major career project for the new year after the 22nd. Working up a time schedule for completing each individual segment will help you keep track of your progress.

Taurus (April 20-May 20)
Although joint finances and your earnings are better, it will be wise to adhere to your budget when purchasing gifts and planning entertainment during the holidays.

Gemini (May 21-June 20)
Your best date for holiday entertaining comes on the 21st. After the 20th, financial matters are accented by the new moon on the cusp of your solar eight house of joint funds; scale down plans for further celebrations.

Cancer (June 21-July22)
Social life may provide favorable opportunities for meeting new people and renewing old acquaintances on the 21st, and 24th, when partners and kin join the festivities. Entertaining in your home will be more apt to attract congenial people if you plan your parties on the 24th.

Leo (July 23-August 22)
Make a special effort to keep your partners happy between the 22nd and 26th. Sidestep any conflict that may arise over business matters on the 23rd. Take advantage of opportunities presented when you gain a certain prominence in social activities beginning on the 245h, but don't over do in any way.

Virgo (August 23-September 22)
If you entertain friends in your home during the holidays, you are more apt to attract those who are congenial on the 21st. You may hear some good news from those at a distance on the 24th.

Libra (September 23-October 22)
Give more attention to the state of your health when your vitality reached a low ebb on the 23rd. It would be a good idea to pass up all social activities outside the home to avoid infection.

Scorpio (October 23-November 21)
Rely on your own efforts after the 19th because your partners may be too involved in their own affairs to give you much help. In fact, they might become antagonistic if you ask for assistance on the 23rd. After the 26th, you may enjoy a carefree period when romance and artistic endeavors are favored.

Sagitarrius (Nov 22 - Dec 21)
Financial matters are accented by the new moon on the cusp of your solar second house of money on the 20th. Keep a tight rein on your purse strings after that date because developments on the 23rd may require a reserve of ready cash.

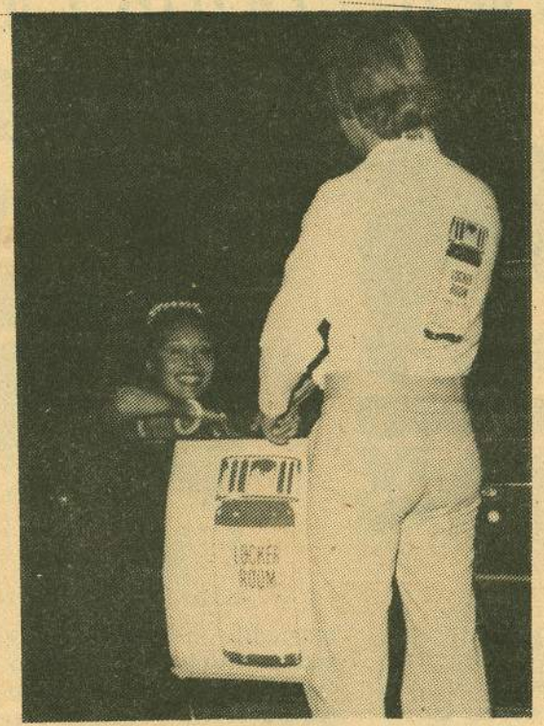

Capricorn (Dec. 22 - Jan. 20)
When the sun enters your sign on the 21st you should feel a new surge of energy. Wind up any important tasks before the 24th so that you have time to work with your partner and draft ambitious plans for the new year.

Aquarius (Jan. 21 - Feb 19)
There may be an increase in social activity after the 19th. Romantic interests become more glamorous on the 21st and 24th. An opportunity may arise to win recognition with an artistic or creative work on the 25th.

Pisces (February 20 - March 20)
If you plan to entertain friends in your home during the holidays, you should find the 21st and 24th the best days. Keep your motif simple at all times, and hold your expenses to reasonable limits. Romantic interests should close out the year at an all time high.

BIG DAVID RETURNS!

Big David, one of the all time favorite female impersonators to ever play Dallas, has returned to the Bayou Landing. After a more than ample absence from the Landing, Big David returned to his swing and continues to bring the house down with his rendition of "San Francisco".

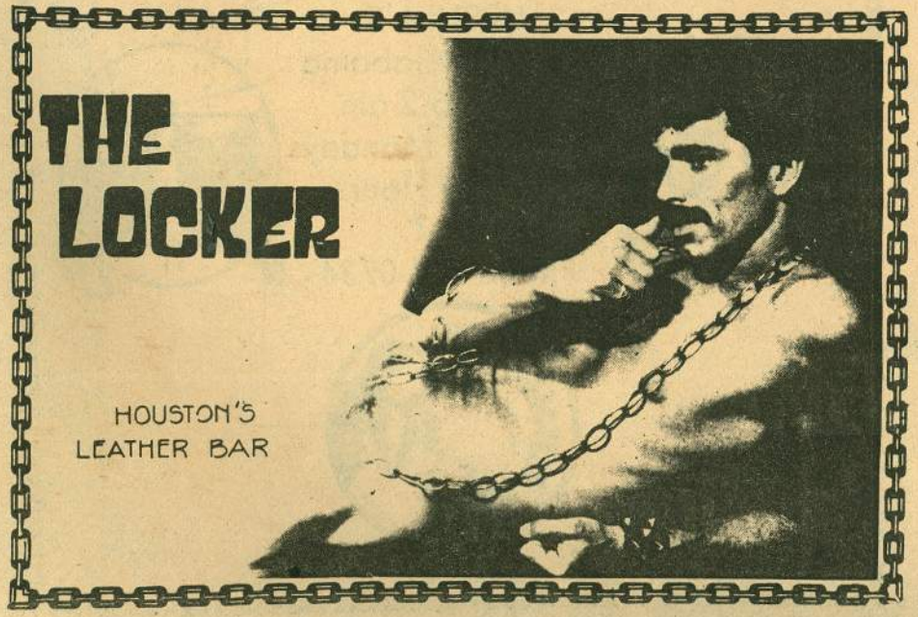

Davis is back and will be having an extended stay at the Dallas Bayou Landing as a regular in the Sunday shows.

Alan Allison has also returned to the Dallas Bayou and will join Big David weekly in shows.

Sunday, December 21st, the Landing will present its Special Christmas show and will feature Big David, Alan Allison, and a cast of "thousands". Don't miss it!

HOUSTON BOA

A group of Houston bar owners met this past Monday night to discuss the possibility of organizing a Bar Owners Association. The idea of BOA was backed by the Gay Political Caucus in Houston which has recently come to prominence in past elections.

Only six bars out of thirty two were represented at the meeting. A commitment from the other twenty six had been obtained as to attendance, but they still did not show.

The consensus of bar owners in attendance was that the Houston bars have never been met with less resistance or harrassment from the city. None of the owners objected to a BOA if it was felt that it was necessary. Never before in Houston has the cooperation between bars been at such a high peak.

The conclusion of the meeting was that the forming of Boa should be put off until a future date when more owners could be in attendance and a true need should arise for the protection of the Houston Gay Community.

nd MISS GAY AMERICA
ack in Houston!

New Year's Eve is just around the corner and hopefully we will be able to keep you abreast of all the happenings these next two weeks.

It appears that Houston will be a bee hive of activities this New Year's Celebration. Special entertainment, party favors, a bottle of changagne at midnight will make Ursula's one of the places not to miss. The Depo$itory will be ringing in the New Year with the crowning of Mr. & Miss 1976. As usual it should be filled beyond capacity. Don't forget, the Old Plantation is now open in the Bayou City and has big plans for the New Year. At their New Year's Eve Ball they will be picking the Most Original Costume, Most Comical Costume, Best Couple, and also the selection of Mr & Miss Old Plantation. The selection will follow the Southern theme of the bar.

Perhaps one of the biggest bashes of the year will be a "straight" party given by KILT and the Houston Jacees. For only $37.50 for two, this amazing low price includes all bar drinks, a casino gambling party with "casino" money hosted by KILT's Hudson and Harrigan, two live bands, plus the one and only Neil Sedaka and B. J. Thomas in concert. This does sound like an interesting evening!

So far that's all that has been sent in to us concerning New Years Eve, but I am sure next week we'll have more than enough activities to keep you busy.
