Playing the guessing game

Keanu refuses to dismiss gay rumors; Bravo greenlights gay dating show

chat

The Matrix Reloaded star, Keanu Reeves, refuses to deny gossip that he's gay because it would make a judgment about homosexuality.

The handsome star was at one time rumored to have married music industry supremo David Geffen, and he says he just didn't care. He says, "I mean there is nothing wrong with being gay, so to deny it is to make a judgment. Why make a big deal of it? If someone doesn't want to hire me because they think I'm gay, well, I have to deal with it, I guess."

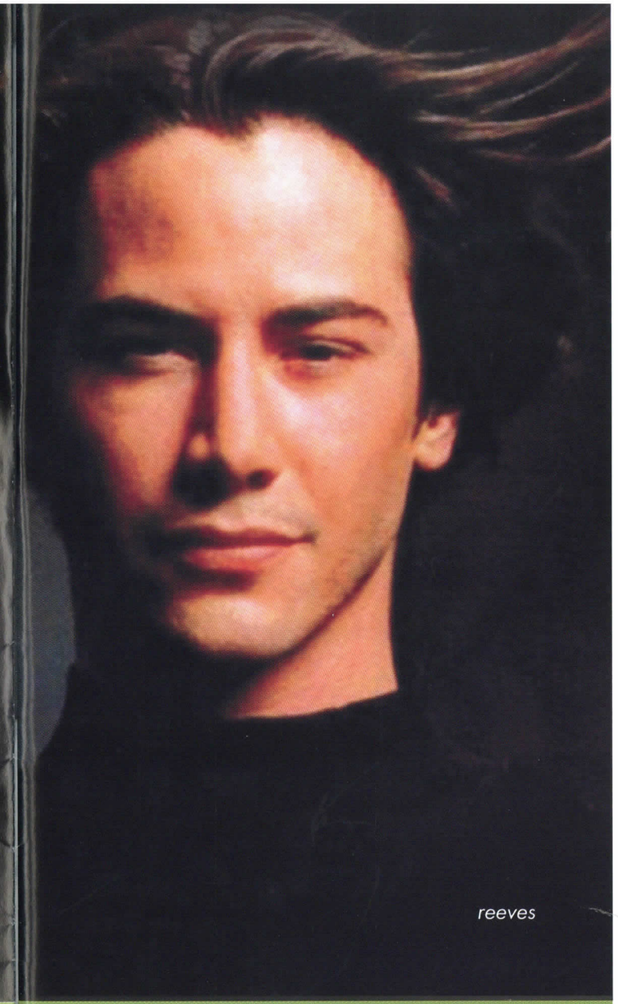

The gay-friendly Bravo cable network — which has aired Gay Weddings and a documentary series about Fire Island, among other queer content such as the "Out of the Closet" film festival every June — is adding to its repertoire with Boy Meets Boy, a reality dating show set for a six-episode run starting next month. A man will go on Bachelor-type dates with other men, but to make things even more interesting, some straight contestants will be among the pool he has to choose from, so he will not know until the end if the two are truly compatible. That means, in effect, that the straight guy will be the one "in the closet." (Taking a lead from Mr. Personality, they might have chosen to call it Mr. Orientation.)

It remains to be seen whether the show will be exploitative or just funny, but there's already a good sign: The right wing Traditional Values Coalition has come out against the show, and plans to alert its member churches to protest the series. Andrea Lafferty, the Washington-based group's executive director, declares, "Clearly, they've hit a new low. What's next after Boy Meets Boy? Boy Meets Sheep?"

Rap superstar Eminem looks set to be the next music star to play at the London club night G-A-Y. The "Lose Yourself" hip-hopper (an recent Oscar winner) was previously thought to hold anti-gay views, interpreted from his song lyrics, but later appeared on stage with Elton John in an apparent bid to prove he wasn't bigoted. Now the Detroit native is reported to be making a stage appearance at the gay night at the Astoria, which has hosted some of pop's biggest names, including Christina Aguilera, Kylie Minogue and Mariah Carey. The British magazine Now reports, "More for a wheeze than anything else, the club owners asked Eminem to play there and were stunned when he agreed."

Camp rockers Electric Six have revealed that despite recording the single "GayBar" they are in fact straight.

The high-octane guitar anthem includes lines such as "I've got something to put in you/At the gay bar!/Gay bar!/Gay bar!" But the six musicians are keen to point out their ignorance of gay culture. Singer →

Dick Valentine says, "Actually, I just have to make it clear that the song really is about absolutely nothing at all. It doesn't have anything to do with going to a gay bar; it doesn't have anything to do with starting a nuclear war. It's just two minutes and 20 seconds of pure chaos."

Not all broken kneecaps that occur in Italy are the result of the Mafia. Case in point: aging diva Liza Minnelli broke her right patella over the Memorial Day Weekend when she tripped over a step at a hotel in Bologna. Minnelli, 58, was taken to a nearby hospital and will have to wear a full-leg cast for about four weeks, says her publicist Warren Cowan. She was still able to sing for a benefit concert with superstar tenor Luciano Pavarotti in his hometown of Modena —

although she did if from her hospital room via satellite.

Minnelli tripped in the hall-

way of Hotel Grand Baglioni as she walked from her suite to the elevator. Her husband, David Gest, ran to her when she let out a scream. He called paramedics and Minnelli was admitted to Instituto Rizzoli hospital. Gest called in four specialists who worked on Minnelli's injury for three hours. The couple were on their way to meet friends for dinner when she fell, says Cowan.

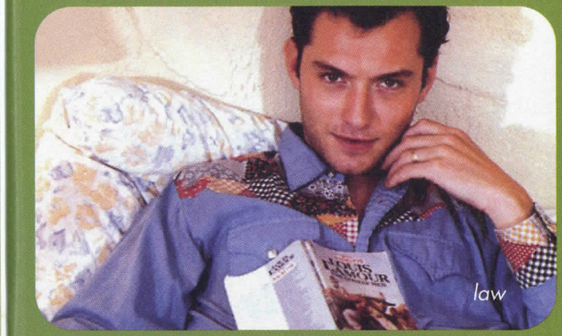

Robbie Williams thinks more straight rockers should act gay in order to hit back at gays who play it straight in the music business.

The controversial British star admits he loves pretending he's gay, even though he has never had sex with a man. And he thinks more stars should play up their gay side.

"There's a few pop and rock stars out there who pretend to be straight and I champion the cause for straight rock stars to act gay or at least say gay things. I'm heterosexual and I've never got down and dirty with a man. If the fancy takes me I probably would, but it doesn't," he says.

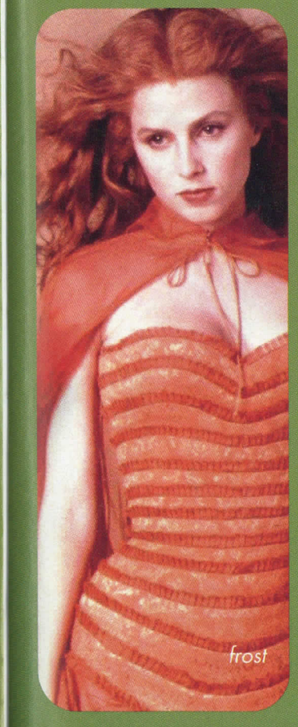

Williams says he knows he isn't gay because he's madly in love with two celebrity women — his one-time pop video love interest, Nicole Kidman, and Vince Vaughn's new girlfriend, Cameron Diaz.

Williams adds, "Nicole's lovely. Her [legs] and her face. She's an amazing lady. And I've got a huge crush on Cameron Diaz. It's quite bad actually."

law

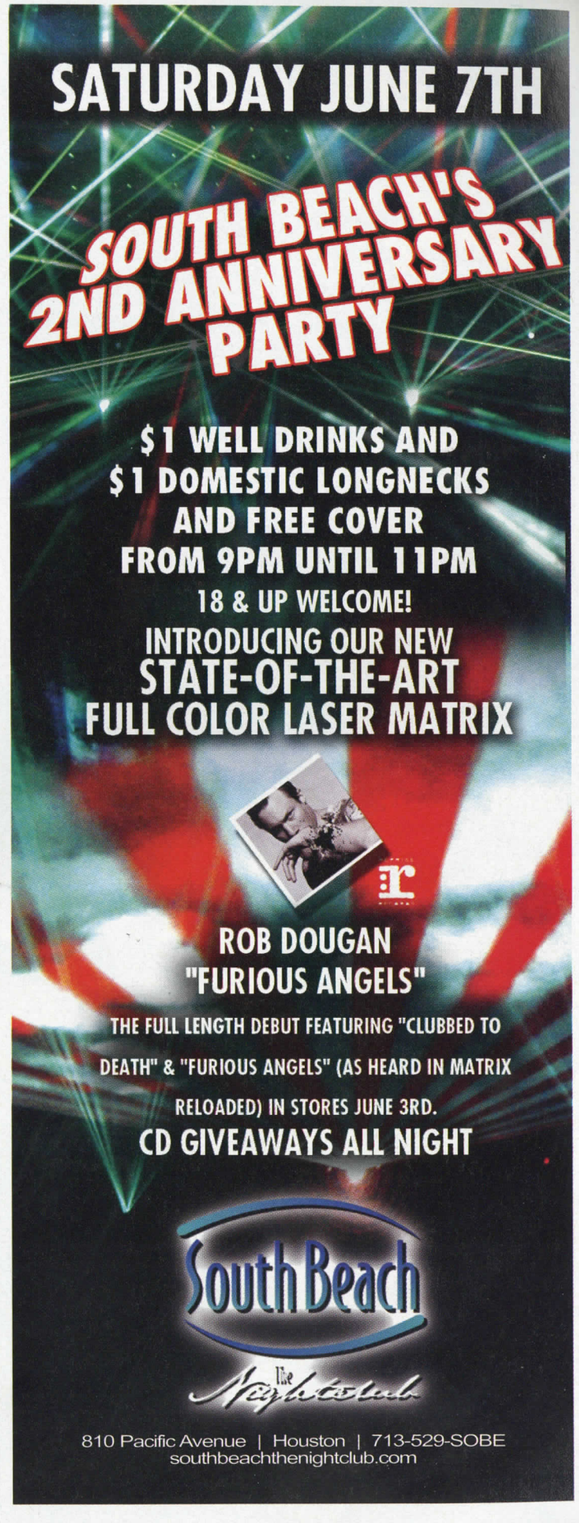

Actress Sadie Frost, the wife of cute film actor Jude Law, is at last starting to pick up the pieces of her tattered life. And Elton John is a big help.

The mother of four has been on the brink of depression and collapse since the cracks in her six-year marriage to the handsome star became highly publicized at the beginning of the year, with allegations Law had become close to his Cold Mountain co-star, Nicole Kidman. But Frost is now reportedly back in control of her life after some special attention from the singer.

A friend of John adds, "Elton can't resist a damsel in distress, and Sadie was no exception. He hates to see someone suffering and wants to help cheer her up. He and David [Furnish] love having kids around to spoil, so it will be a pleasure all round."

Sadie is not the only beneficiary of Sir Elton's benevolence. John has delighted AIDS charities by raising over $4.5 million for them at a single event. The hitmaker performed an emotional rendition of the track "For the Boy in the Red Shoes," dedicated to a pal who died of the disease, at the Austrian Life Ball recently. The event, which started 10 years ago and is always held at the Vienna City Hall, is thought to have raised around $4.95 million before it even started. Elton was awarded $375,000 for his own AIDS foundation, which will go towards projects fighting the disease in Africa.

Give 'em the ol' Razzle Dazzle

Dallas' premiere street party celebrates its 26th year

feature

It has been more than 25 years that Razzle Dazzle Dallas has been raising money for the community — more than $1 million overall to combat HIV/AIDS — and the centerpiece of it has always been the fabulous street party during Gay Pride Month. Dallas puts off its parade until the fall to combat the daytime heat, but summer nights in Big D are meant to be hot. Razzle Dazzle makes sure of that.

The 2003 event is called the Techno-Colour Street Festival, and everything takes place at the fabulous street party on June 7. This year, organizers promise double the number of vendors, and the entertainment lineup is spectacular.

The night kicks off with local favorite band Girl performing live on the Cedar Springs Stage starting at 8 p.m. At 9:15, disco super group The Village People take to the Main Stage with a video and lighting production, and of course classic hits like "Y.M.C.A." and "In the Navy." Tribe 8, which recently appeared at the National Women's Music Festival, takes over the Cedar Springs Stage at 10:30, followed at 11:30 by Pansy Division, the all-gay pop-rock band from San Francisco, on the Main Stage.

There'll be other entertainment throughout the event, including street performances by the Thom Brownlee Jazz Band and DJs playing dance music on the KDL 106.7 Stage all night. Plus, have some fun with carnival-style games, stilt walkers, a casino, and – because it's Texas – a mechanical bull. And there's even more, such as dozens of booths and plenty of food and drink.

Cedar Springs closes to automobile traffic at 9 a.m. Saturday, but all the local businesses will be open regular hours, and the DJs will start spinning at noon. The big event technically takes place from 8 p.m. until 1 a.m., but with all the clubs open, it's likely to continue even later.

Beneficiaries this year are AIDS Arms, AIDS Services of Dallas, AIDS Services of North Texas, the Health Education Learning Project (H.E.L.P.), Legacy Counseling Center and Founders Cottage, the Resource Center of Dallas, Welcome House and the White Rock Community Church Friends Ministry.

Getting Into The Swing Of Things — The 8th Annual Texas Swing takes place Friday, June 6, at the Saengerrunde Hall and Scholz Garten. The event benefits Project Transitions, a non-profit agency that provides hospice, housing and supportive care to individuals and families living with HIV/AIDS in Central Texas.

Before The Parade Passes By — Saturday, June 7, marks Austin's 2nd Annual Gay Pride Parade. The theme is "Remembering Not to Forget the Three Nights of Civil Unrest Known as the Stonewall Riots." It starts at 8 p.m. The next day, the Texas Gay Pride Festival takes place at Fiesta Gardens from noon to 8 p.m.

Bubbles And Balloons — The Midtowne Spa wants you to burst out with pride this weekend, with DJs and tea dances all the time. Candyman spins from 10 p.m.-4 a.m. Friday, June 6, and Dig'M takes over late Saturday/Sunday morning from 1-5 a.m. DJ Danny is the man from 4 p.m.-midnight Sunday, and you can enjoy the cookout for much of that time as well. Later, it's movie madness! Something for everyone this weekend.

Summer Sundays — Not interested in a day of rest? There's plenty to do at Charlie's every Sunday. Enjoy $1 draft beer from open to close, or look at the Manwatch Dancers from 6-9 p.m., then again from 10:30 to close. The Super Sunday Show starts promptly at 11:30 p.m., hosted by Jame Perry. Or you sharks can try your hand during the pool tournament at 6 p.m., with cash prizes awarded.

Muy Hot! — Caliente Sunday starts June 15 at the Village Station, with no cover between 11 and 11:30 p.m., and great deals on well drinks and night long. The dance music has a Latin flavor, so throw on your Cuban heels and get moving.

Karaoke Kontest — Paul Snave continues to host an amateur singing context extraordinaire. Be there every Friday and Saturday through June 14, and get ready for the grand prize, to be awarded on June 20 — round-trip tickets for two to Vegas, New Orleans or Montreal.

Get Trumped! — Cruise on in to BJ's every Monday night where you'll find the queen of madness, Ivana Trump, leading the festivities at the weekly Wet'n'Wild Underwear Contest, with $100 to the winner and $25 to the first runner-up.

Pride Pageant —Imperial Princess XIX Stella Link SeVille presents the Mr./Mrs./Miss Gay Pride Pageant at Chances on Saturday, June 7, starting at 7 p.m. Contestants will be judged in presentation (with special consideration given to wearing you favorite pride color, and explaining why), talent (five minute maximum), formalwear, and the Q&A. The event will benefit The Assistance Fund, through coronation XX. Call Stella at 713-463-6705 with any questions.

Anniversary Weekend — This weekend, South Beach celebrates its second anniversary on June 7 with $1 well drinks and domestic longnecks, and free cover between 9-11 p.m. Then the Fitness Exchange clocks in at 25 years on June 8. Stop by and show your support to both.

Kick-Off Your Pride — Join the Pride Committee of Houston on Friday, June 6 from 7-10 p.m. at Heritage Hall in the JPMorgan Chase Building to honor the last 25 years of Pride Grand Marshals. City officials, community leaders and The Lady Chablis of Savannah, Ga. — immortalized in Midnight in the Garden of Good and Evil — will be in attendance. The event is free, although donations benefiting the Pride Committee will be accepted. Afterwards, be at Rich's for continued festivities with special guest performer The Lady Chablis.

Meteoric Events for Pride Month — Things will be hot this week at Meteor. VJ Tad Dvorzak hosts happy hour from 4-8 p.m. on Friday, but there will be shot specials all night. On Saturday, June 7, VJ Mark Goebel picks of the beat starting at 6 p.m. Sunday is "Jock Day," Monday brings $3 margaritas, and Tuesday is Drag B-I-N-G-O night, hosted by Southern Comfort and Lillian Deveroux. Wednesday, June 11 you can enjoy happy hour from 4-8 p.m., then hang around till 9 p.m. when Total Request Night begins.

Always A Bridesmaid No More — June Bride, the Miss Camp America Foundation's spoof on weddings, is on Sunday, June 8 at Brazos River Bottom from 3-6 p.m. Clubs and organizations can help out by putting together a "wedding party" (a group of people performing in a five minute skit). A themed cake topper and garter will be auctioned, but you can also help by donating a silent auction item. Immediately after, the Colt 45's present their 27th Anniversary Celebration Show, with food starting at 7 p.m. and the show at 8 p.m. Proceeds will benefit the Colt 45's general charities fund. The group will be presenting Club awards, including Colt of the Year, Pledge of the Year and Giovanni Lamond Memorial Colt Entertainer of the Year.

World Premier Party – Be there for the adult video premiere of Project Meat Rack, shot on location at the Meat Rack in Houston. The party is there on Saturday, June 7 at 8 p.m., and the video's stars will be in attendance, conducting drawings for free copies of the film. For more info visit www.meatrack.org or call 713-528-2028.

Bye Bye Baron — Baron 1 Larry Vitek of Space City Empire will be moving permanently to Omaha, Nebraska. You can help make his departure less sad by attending his farewell party at EJ's on Friday, June 6. The event will also serve as a fundraiser, with proceeds benefiting AFH Camp Hope and AssistHers. It all begins at 8:30 p.m.

Pride Parade And A Pina Colada — Heat will not only have its new patio open for business by the time of the Alamo City's pride parade, you can see the parade clearly. It's the only way to watch the event with an alcoholic drink in hand — what could be better than that?

Serving Up Some Divas at The Saint — At the Super Sunday Show of course! This weekend features Layla, Tersa, Alyssa Edwards and Dominique Sanchez. Coming June 19, Miss San Antonio Continental 2003. A direct preliminary to Miss Continental Dinner, Drinks And A Movie — Tuesday night is movie night at The Hideout, with dinner and a movie starting at 8 p.m., and $2 domestic beer and well drinks.

Best Booze — The Annex is justly proud of its "kiss ass" daily drink prices. Get $1.75 well drinks Tuesdays, Thurdays and Fridays, and on Saturdays, longnecks and wells are $1 from 2-9 p.m., and $1.75 thereafter.

Gemini (May 21-June 21) Last week's eclipse energy is still ringing in your ears and working those nerves, which will be especially evident on the 9th. Don't feel pressured into granting favors. Take some time on Saturday to simply chill (screen all calls carefully). Finances improve next month, but for the time being, be careful to make sure you watch your spending.

Cancer (June 22-July 22) An enticing job offer sadly comes with many hidden strings attached. It's best to stay put for now. You'll be running all over the place on the 10th, but will obtain the desired results. You'd be wise to talk less and listen more at that work conference this week. And have someone massage those shoulders.

Leo (July 23-August 22) Though the week starts out at a somewhat sluggish pace, it will end at a dazzling warp drive (your favorite speed). Wait until Monday to speak your mind — the powers that be will be more receptive then. Aspects dictate that you'll need to hold your tongue on the 11th or risk a backlash of sorts.

Virgo (August 23-September 22) All in all, this appears to be a banner week for you — not too many high or low points, just smooth and relatively steady. Be on the lookout for an adorable Capricorn. The chemistry should be instantaneous. Treat yourself to a fine dinner on Sunday instead of indulging in the usual fast food.

Libra (September 23-October 22) That sinus condition will likely sap some of your energy over the weekend. A new co-worker could become a really great friend, if only you'd give him half a chance. Your place is way overdue for a major cleaning and a fresh coat of paint — choose a nice shade of blue to help soothe your nerves.

Scorpio (October 23-November 21) Your extraordinary powers of persuasion will come in handy while attempting to win over a major (and wealthy) potential client. Of course, making sure that all the paperwork is in order couldn't hurt, either. Finalize travels plans for the July 4th weekend by Monday. Keep a low profile on Sunday.

Sagittarius (November 22-December 21) It's too bad you don't have two heads and four arms, Sag. The marathon you've chosen to undergo won't officially end until late on July 3rd. It's important to pace yourself to avoid burnout. Continue to tap every source of income at your disposal – you'll need every cent for an upcoming relocation.

Capricorn (December 22-January 19) Like Sag, you'll be on a marathon as well, but of quite a different sort. A major career ambition is close to being realized. Contacts made at a social event on Saturday turn out to be quite lucrative. Advertising plays a major role in finances. Self promotion is your ticket to the top of the magic mountain.

Aquarius (Janaury 20-February 18) It is said that we're in the Age of Aquarius, but it sure won't feel like it over the next two weeks. You'll feel as though you're maneuvering through an obstacle course at times. It's good that you like challenges and possess a good sense of humor. Don't take a friend's constructive criticism too personally.

Pisces (February 19-March 19) The sense of victory is really sweet after having gone through such a rocky time. Your hard work is about to be rewarded in a major fashion. Speaking of fashion, your wardrobe is in need of an update. Ask a Leo to go clothes shopping with you. Then wear those new threads out to Sunday brunch.

Aries (March 20-April 19) Although you'd probably just like to be left alone this weekend, it's not likely to happen. That's the price you pay for being so popular. A few hours of solitude can be set aside for Sunday. Other than that, expect your dance card to be completely filled up. Don't go skipping any meals on Tuesday.

Taurus (April 20-May 20) Preparing for that road trip next week is like trying to juggle and walk a tightrope at the same time, but it will all work out well in the end. All you need this week is 28 hours in each day and a helping hand. Stress levels should be down a bit, though you really need to blow off some steam. Do that on the trip.
