The 73rd Diana Awards

THE TWENTY-FIRST OF MARCH TWO THOUSAND TWENTY-SIX

Diana, Goddess of the Hunt, is an appropriate symbol from which our annual awards draw their name. Now in our seventy-third year, the Diana Awards were started by a small group of people, and they have grown each year. There are numerous categories for which awards are presented.

Our awards go to the individual, group, organization, or the like, which in the opinion of the Writing Committee of the Academy, is most deserving. Once again, it is time for Houston to look at itself and laugh at itself, but most of all, to have a gay time. It's time for the dish, it's time for the dirt, and it is time for DIANA.

Prelude to a Gay Legend

Excerpt from The Diana Foundation: 65 Years of History

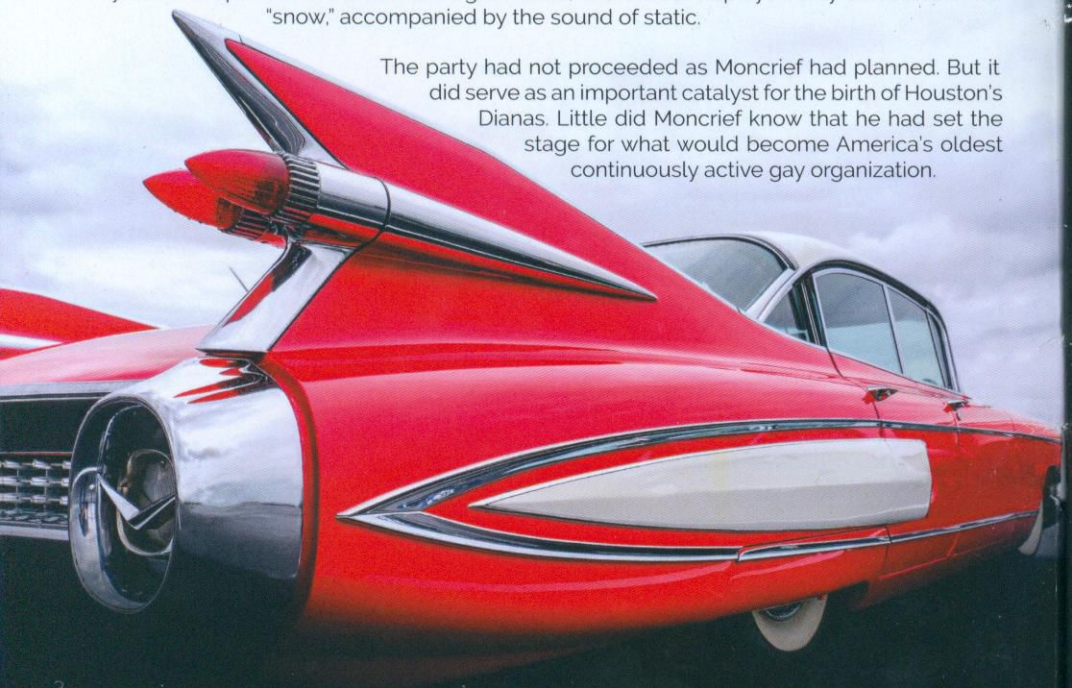

On Thursday, March 19, 1953, the country was buzzing. The annual Academy Awards — otherwise known as the Oscars — were to be broadcast on television for the first time that evening. David Moncrief, a gay man living in Houston, Texas, purchased a new television set as he was excited about the upcoming broadcast. Moncrief, and his roommate Curtis Wright, loved to entertain, and the impending Oscars broadcast gave them a perfect event to build a party around. Television was the exciting new technology of the times, and Moncrief knew his guests would be dazzled.

Moncrief invited a select group of approximately ten friends to join him at his apartment for a pre-awards cocktail party, which would be followed by the first televised Oscar broadcast. Houston in 1953 was not an accepting place for gay men and lesbians, so private house parties were the only way for them to socialize freely. Johnna Lee Mueller, in her early twenties and a model at Sakowitz department store, was delighted to be included on Moncrief's guest list. She arrived for the party dressed in after-five cocktail elegance, as would the other guests.

In the living room of Moncrief and Wright's apartment was an eye-catching plaster model of Diana, the Roman goddess of the hunt. Nearly life-size, the statue stood in a corner. It had previously resided at Sakowitz, where Wright worked as a window dresser, and when the store no longer needed it, he decided it would add an eclectic touch to the apartment.

The statue reminded Mueller of the Diana statue on the grounds of Ima Hogg's Bayou Bend mansion in River Oaks. Diana's toga stopped just above the knees, and her right hand was bent up and backwards towards a quiver on her back. Mueller remembers eating hors d'oeuvres and enjoying cocktail chatter up until the time of the awaited Oscar broadcast. The moment finally arrived. Moncrief turned on the television set. But, as often happened in those days, the reception of the broadcast signal failed, and the set displayed only black and white "snow," accompanied by the sound of static.

The party had not proceeded as Moncrief had planned. But it did serve as an important catalyst for the birth of Houston's Dianas. Little did Moncrief know that he had set the stage for what would become America's oldest continuously active gay organization.

President's Message

Welcome to the 73rd Diana Awards, and thank you for joining us for an evening of celebration, generosity, and community. This year's theme, Shift Into Fabulous, reminds us that while our history is rich, our future is always in motion. Like the engines that inspire tonight's theme, our community continues to move forward—powered by resilience, creativity, and the shared belief that when we come together, we can create meaningful change.

The Diana Awards have always been about more than an evening of entertainment. At its heart, this event is about giving back. The generosity of our members, sponsors, and supporters allows The Diana Foundation to provide charitable support to organizations and initiatives that strengthen the LGBTQ+ community.

This year, proceeds from the 73rd Diana Awards will support two important beneficiaries. We are proud to contribute to The Diana Foundation Endowed Scholarship Fund, created in partnership with Out for Education, which helps provide educational opportunities to LGBTQ+ students and allies pursuing their dreams. Education opens doors, transforms lives, and helps ensure that the next generation of leaders has the support they deserve. We are also honored to support Tony's Place, an organization that provides life-saving services and support for LGBTQ+ youth experiencing homelessness in Houston. Their work offers stability, compassion, and hope to young people who need it most.

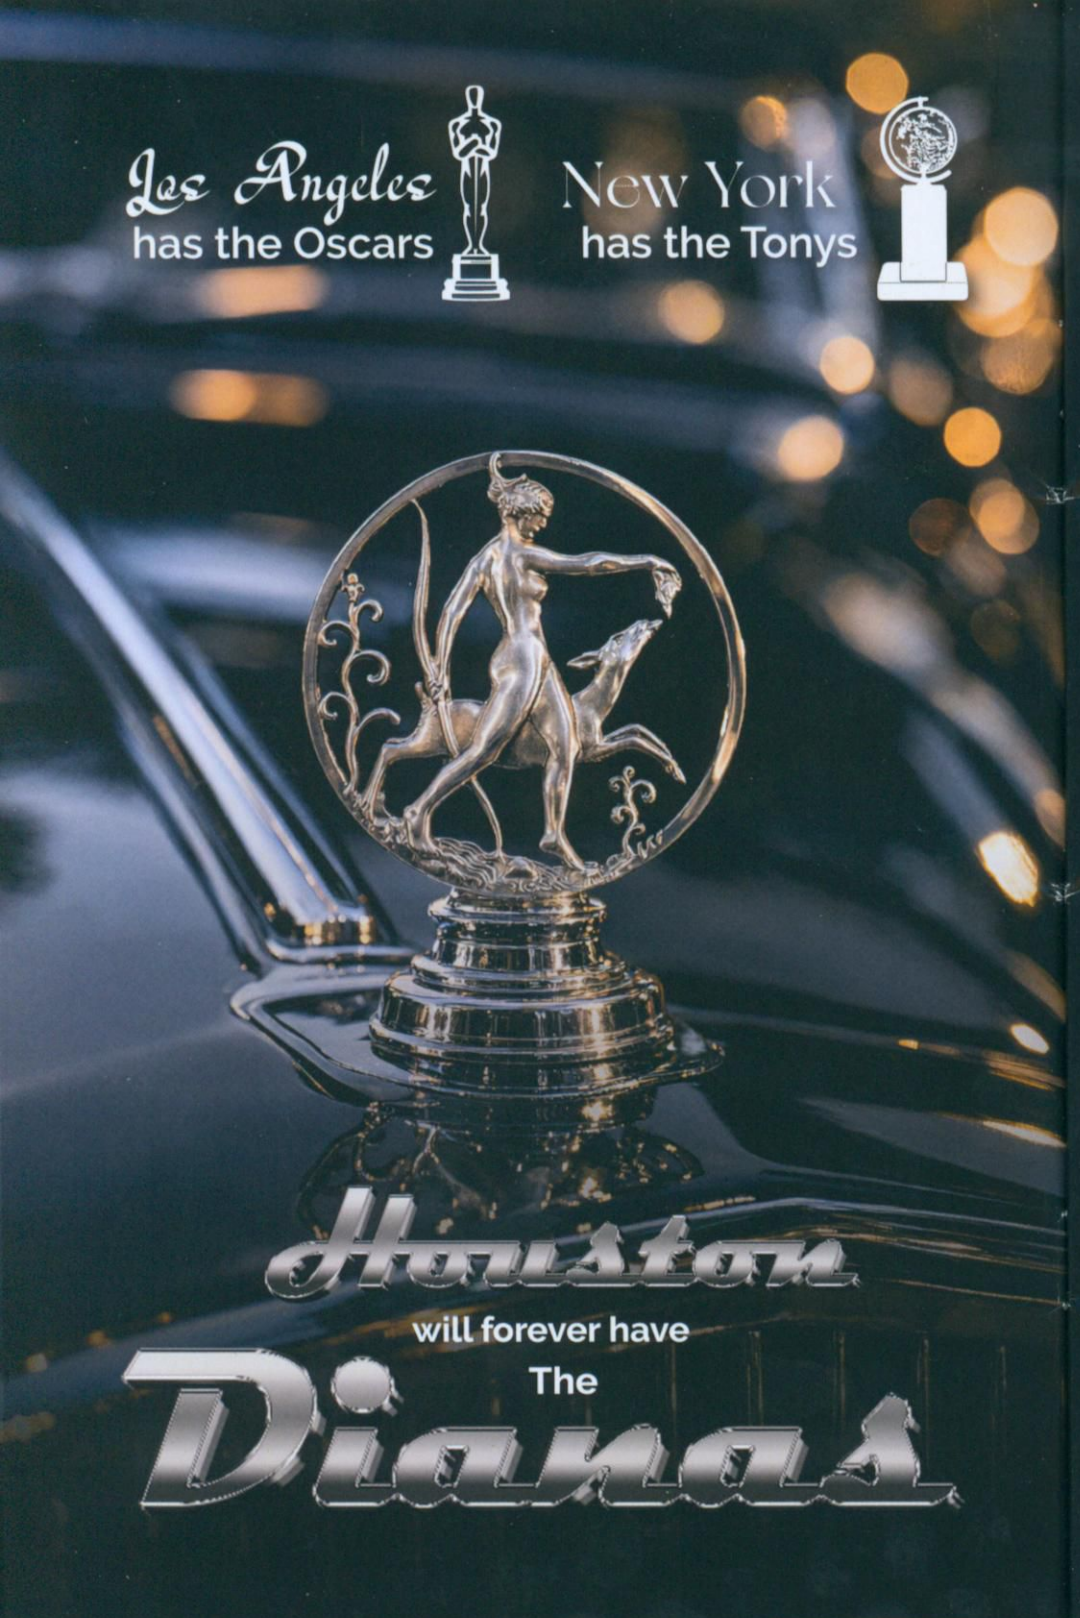

Tonight also marks an exciting moment in the continued evolution of The Diana Foundation. This year, we are proud to introduce the inaugural Diana Community Awards. These new honors recognize individuals and organizations whose dedication, leadership, and service have made a lasting impact on the LGBTQ+ community. By recognizing these contributions, we celebrate the many ways people continue to strengthen and uplift our community every day.

Of course, none of tonight's celebration would be possible without the many people who give their time, talent, and generosity to make it happen. I want to extend my sincere thanks to our volunteers, producers, sponsors, and donors. Your commitment and support make this special evening possible and help ensure that The Diana Foundation's legacy of philanthropy continues for generations to come.

Finally, thank you to our members and friends who gather each year to celebrate, laugh, and give back. Your presence reflects the spirit that has sustained The Diana Foundation for more than seventy years—a spirit rooted in community, generosity, and joy.

Enjoy the evening, celebrate our honorees, and thank you for helping us shift into fabulous together.

Sister Helen Holy

HOST

Sister Helen Holy is the outrageously funny, quick-witted alter ego of comedian and performer Paul J. Williams, a veteran entertainer whose career spans more than four decades in comedy, music, and live performance.

Williams created the character of Sister Helen Holy in the early 1990s, drawing inspiration from his Southern Baptist upbringing and his talent for musical and theatrical comedy. Through this larger-than-life character—self-proclaimed minister of the "First Southern Fried Self-Satisfied Babatist Church"—Sister Helen delivers hilarious satire that playfully pokes fun at religious hypocrisy while celebrating the spirit of inclusion, joy, and a little bit of good old-fashioned mischief.

A gifted comedian, actor, and singer, Paul J. Williams has performed on stages across the United States in comedy clubs, theaters, and cruise ships, and has appeared on television including the MTV/LOGO Network comedy special One Night Stand Up. As a classically trained tenor, he has also sung with respected ensembles including the New York Choral Artists, Orpheus Chamber Singers, and the Turtle Creek Chorale, showcasing a remarkable range of talent that blends music, storytelling, and comedy.

Beloved by audiences for her sharp humor, joyful irreverence, and impeccable timing, Sister Helen Holy has become a favorite host and entertainer at LGBTQ+ events and celebrations across the country. Tonight, she brings her heavenly humor and unapologetic fabulousness to the stage as host of the 73rd Diana Awards.

Tony & The Kiki

MUSICAL GUEST

Tony & The Kiki is a New York City–born glam-rock powerhouse that explodes onto the stage with a dazzling blend of glitter, groove, and unapologetic fabulousness. Founded in 2021 by vocalist Anthony Alfaro ("Tony") and keyboardist Rodney Bush ("The Kiki"), the band grew out of more than a decade of musical friendship and collaboration. Their sound merges the drama of classic glam rock with disco decadence, funk rhythms, and high-energy pop anthems that invite audiences to sing, dance, and celebrate individuality.

Born and raised in Queens, New York, Alfaro brings a powerful theatrical presence to the stage, combining rock-and-roll swagger with a bold artistic vision that challenges conventions and celebrates diversity. Backed by a dynamic ensemble of musicians and performers, Tony & The Kiki create electrifying live shows that feel part concert, part glitter-soaked party, and entirely unforgettable.

Inspired by iconic acts such as Blondie, Queen, and the Scissor Sisters, the band channels the spirit of glam and androgyny while infusing it with modern energy and queer creativity. Their music—featured on releases like the debut EP Light It Up and singles such as "Keep Shinin' On"—has earned acclaim for its bold sound, infectious hooks, and celebration of self-expression.

Known for their rhinestone-studded style, fearless performances, and high-octane stage presence, Tony & The Kiki have quickly built a reputation as one of the most exciting glam-rock acts on today's scene. Tonight, they bring their signature sparkle, powerhouse vocals, and dance-floor energy to the stage for the 73rd Diana Awards—ready to light up the room and remind us all to keep shining.

Janan

FEATURED COMEDIAN

Janan Araujo-Siam is one of Houston's most vibrant and engaging comedic voices, known for her fearless storytelling, sharp wit, and magnetic stage presence. A stand-up comedian, producer, and yoga instructor, Janan has built a loyal following across Texas with comedy that is as insightful as it is hilarious.

Born and raised in Houston, Janan brings a uniquely personal perspective to the stage, blending humor with reflections on identity, culture, and everyday life. As a queer Palestinian-Texan raised in a Muslim household, she uses comedy to connect audiences across experiences—making people laugh while also inviting them to see the world from a fresh point of view.

Janan is the creator and host of the popular bi-monthly showcase "The Password is Comedy Show," where she champions diverse voices in stand-up and helps cultivate Houston's thriving comedy scene. She has also opened for acclaimed comedian Mo Amer and regularly performs on stages throughout the region.

Her quick humor, fearless authenticity, and undeniable charm have earned her recognition from audiences across the city—including being named Favorite Local Female Comedian in the 2025 OutSmart Magazine Gayest & Greatest Readers' Choice Awards.

Whether she's delivering razor-sharp punchlines, sharing stories that resonate deeply with the LGBTQ+ community, or bringing a room together through laughter, Janan's performances are equal parts comedy, connection, and celebration. Tonight, she brings her unmistakable voice and comedic brilliance to the stage at the 73rd Diana Awards.
