Leadership Lambda graduates —

Participants in the six-month Leadership Lambda Seminar Series (pictured) will graudate on Saturday in a ceremony at Dallas City Hall. Thirty-two people participated in this year's series. Leadership Lambda was organized in 1993 to develop and strengthen leadership skills in the lesbian and gay community. It offers an annual conference and a six-month seminar series. The six-month intensive series began in July. Leadership Lambda will offer its programs again next year, and is considering expanding into another city. For details about the 1996 conference and seminar series, call 712-6430.
