DEAR READERS

Dear TWT,

The San Antonio AIDS Foundation (SAAF) has received another major funding cut from the San Antonio Area HIV Health Services Planning Council to our hot meal program effective immediately. SAAF is the only AIDS Service Organization in San Antonio and South Texas that provides a hot meal program to individuals with HIV/AIDS, 3 meals a day, 7 days a week free of charge. Due to the current funding shortfall effective July 31, 2006, SAAF will only be able to provide the dinner meal to community-based clients.

Within the next month or two the Ryan White Planning Council will be approving the Ryan White II and State Social Services funding allocations for next year, which begins April 1, 2007. Currently, they are considering severely cutting the hot meal program from over $100K to 15K and totally eliminating funding for client advocacy. If the Planning Council decides not to allocate funding to these programs, SAAF will close its hot meal and client advocacy program on April 1, 2007, leaving clients (many who are homeless) without any source of hot meals and the loss of their trusted client advocate. This has many community-based clients in our community in an uproar about their health and future.

On Tuesday, July 18th, approximately 50 community-based clients showed up at the Planning Council meeting expressing their concerns about the committee's funding decisions and how it would personally affect their lives. The Planning Council expressed no remorse about their decisions. The Planning Council Co-chair asked community based clients to express their opinions in writing to Planning Council Support. Anyone can express her/his concerns by writing to the San Antonio Area Health Services Planning Council, c/o AACOG, 8700 Tesoro Drive, Suite 700, San Antonio, TX 78217.

David Ewell
Executive Director
San Antonio AIDS Foundation

Dear David:

This Week in Texas Magazine shares your concern for the hundreds of clients that are being affected by these funding cuts. It is truly a tragedy that so many people with urgent and critical health and life needs are being denied the basic necessities and advocacy services with which to maintain some semblance of independence and dignity, and we urge our readers to respond vigorously to the entities that you have listed. The San Antonio AIDS Foundation has long been a beacon of hope to those in need, and we here at TWT offer our pledge of support to you, your staff and clients during this difficult time and in the years to come.

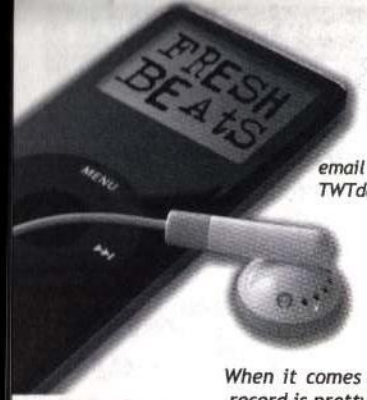

Dear Readers:

The staff of This Week in Texas Magazine hopes you will take the time and review this section thoroughly. We need to take action as a Community and assist our brothers and sisters in need. Write letters, send emails, or just take someone in need a bag of groceries.

The funding cut affect more than the San Antonio Aids Foundation, it is but an example and hopefully will inspire you to take action in your communities.

The Scumfrog

ARtiSt INtERVIEW

BY JIMMY R. SMItH

When it comes to great Dance Records THE SCUMFROG's (aka Jesse Houk) track record is pretty hefty. He has scored eight number one club hits in the US and UK. He has remixed hits for artists such as David Bowie, Britney Spears, Missy Elliott, and Annie Lennox on virtually every major record label and constantly travels the world playing to packed rooms filled with screaming fans. Houk has proven to be not only a talented producer, but also a skilled songwriter, musician, and vocalist. Recently Chevrolet picked the single "Music Revolution" from his last album to be the music for their ongoing HHR campaign ads in the US, Canada and Latin America. There seems to be no end in sight for this guy.

We had a chance to hang with the Frog recently:

JS: So what's your latest single? Tell us about it.

SF: The latest single is "Beat As One". It started as a record with a sample from Billy Ocean's 'Carribean Queen' but we found a great singer (Roy) who really nailed Billy's voice so we didn't have to use the actual sample. After the initial hype of the track started, Beatport approached us to do a contest with the. It became Beatport's first ever songwriting contest, asking people all over the country to write additional vocals for the track. We just picked the winner and will make a big announcement on Beatport in a few weeks, simultaneously with the release of the new version, co-written by the contest winner.

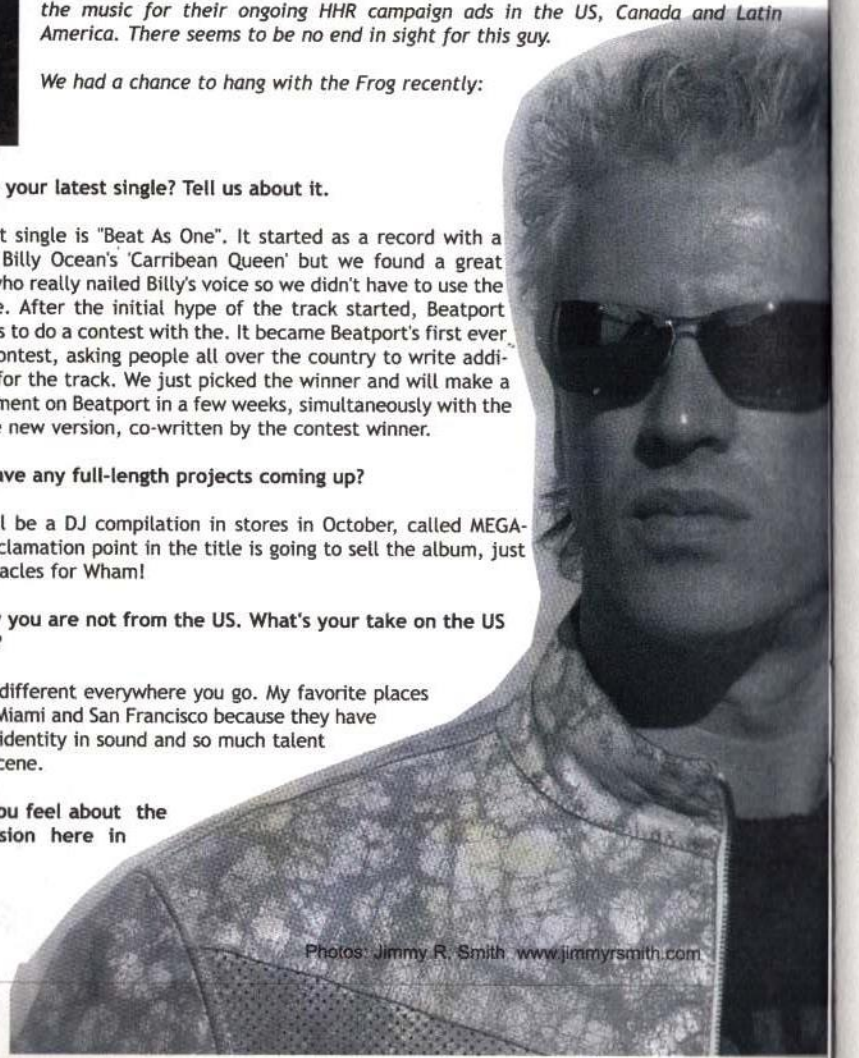

JS: Do you have any full-length projects coming up?

SF: There will be a DJ compilation in stores in October, called MEGA-Scum! The exclamation point in the title is going to sell the album, just like it did miracles for Wham!

JS: We know you are not from the US. What's your take on the US Dance Scene?

SF: It's really different everywhere you go. My favorite places in the US are Miami and San Francisco because they have such a strong identity in sound and so much talent in their own scene.

JS: How do you feel about the hip-hop invasion here in the US?

SF: I read about that in history books. That was 1985 wasn't it? Hip Hop and New York is pretty much a package deal. Anyone who truly despises Hip Hop shouldn't be here. I love Hip Hop but I have no illusions to BE Hip Hop. It's not my background and not my scene so when it comes to DJing and producing I'll stick to what's in my blood.

JS: Do you like to play gay venues? Tell us about one of your best DJ experiences.

SF: I always do Gay Pride in Paris, which is awesome. I don't play many gay venues in the US because most of them are to segregated, both in attendance and musical taste, for my music to fully appeal to its patrons. I don't play a lot of vocals and if I ever play something resembling top-40, it's always a stripped down dub version.

JS: Are you coming to Texas again any time soon?

SF: I hope so! Every time I've played there it was a great party!

JS: What about politics in the US? How do you feel about the state of affairs here?

SF: Anyone with a small penis should really not be allowed the presidency. How many countries have to be invaded before we learn this??

JS: What are you listening to in your iPod?

SF: I have a category called 'learn' in my iPod, which contains all the songs I just purchased, produced, edited etc. This way I can get a good feel for them before I play them out. I switch between that and 70s soul.

JS: Anything else?

SF: Be my friend! I'm getting sick of Tom already. www.myspace.com/thescumfrogscoop

One thing we have to tell you is to make sure to get the new Scumfrog CD on Oct. 31st. when it arrives in stores. It's worth it for the cover art alone! The Frog has completely spoofed the ULTRA series and gagged the retailers with this little stunt! TAKE A LOOK⇨

Dear Diva

The Diva is in the house...

Dear Diva:
What is the best way to tell my family that I'm gay? I'm 21 years old, and used to date girls – so, they really don't have a clue.
Closetless in Clute

Dear Out:
Congratulations on taking such a huge step and finally admitting what, I'm sure, you've known all along. Welcome to the family! As for telling your family, the Diva believes in the direct approach. Invite them to dinner – it's always best to handle this task on neutral ground, and it's less likely that your family will cause a scene in a public place if they don't take the news well. Then, just say, "Mom, Dad, Sis....there's a very important part of myself that I haven't shared with you yet. I'm gay. It doesn't change who I am, and it doesn't change my love for you...it just means that there's not going to be a big church wedding anytime soon. Now, what is everyone having for desert?" In my experience, most parents aren't completely shocked to hear the news....there always seems to be something in every child's life that provides hints and signs along the way. If anyone has a problem with your announcement, point out that Lance Bass just came out of the closet – they'll suddenly realize that at least you're not him!

Dear Diva:
Do you believe in horoscopes? I mean, is there any truth to what they say?
Puzzled in Pasadena

Dear Stargazer:
To be honest, the Diva doesn't have much time to read horoscopes....I'm so busy being fabulous, that I use what little free time that I have to nap. But, on the few occasions that I have actually looked into the whole astrology thing, I've actually been pretty impressed by how accurate the descriptions of the characteristics of each sign are, and sometimes even how true the forecasts are. I'm talking about real astrology forecasts, not the silly ones you read in the tabloids or in fortune cookies that are so generic that they could apply to my cat. Personally, I wouldn't plan my life around any horoscope reading, but I do think that it's a fun way to get a feel for what's going on in the world, as far as planetary and moon influences, and often explains why we're having a certain string of bad or good luck.

Dear Diva:
Why is it inappropriate to wear white shoes after Labor Day and before Memorial Day?
Fashionista

Dear Clothes Horse:
That rule is so old that people can't even remember who made it, though it is thought that in the early part of the last century, so many people who didn't have a clue what being proper was all about were moving from the lower to the middle and upper classes, and rules about dress and deportment became almost codified. Some have even joked that one shouldn't wear white shoes in the winter because one could lose sight of one's feet in a snowdrift. This rule, however, has become so passé that most people find it quaint, if not downright arcane and, in all the years that the Diva has been monitoring fashion trends, she has never seen the collapse of western civilization or global chaos as the result of donning white shoes on September 10th. And, certainly, in warm climates the rule makes no sense at all. So, forget what Mom and Grandma told you and break-out those white shoes whenever your ensemble calls for them. Bear one thing in mind, however: White makes whatever it encases look bigger (think of those lovely Calvin Klein underwear ads....) which means that you could end up looking as though you're wearing a show box, and not a shoe.

Fifteen Years Ago This Week in Texas

Hot....That's what the weather was fifteen years ago This Week in Texas, and that's definitely what our cover was, featuring Mr. Houston Hotlanta, Anthony Garcia. For the one or two of you that don't remember, the Hotlanta River Expo, dubbed the "granddaddy of circuit events," was an annual Chattahoochee River raft race that became one of the premier gay events, attended by thousands of hunky gay men from around the world – including a large number of Texasexuals, such as Mr. Garcia.

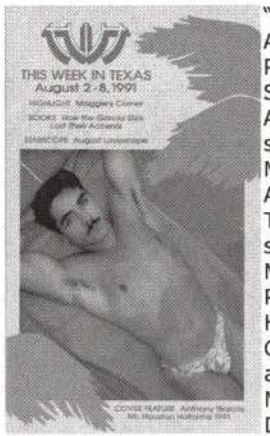

Talk about hot.....

While Anthony was splashing, those of us that remained home in the Lone Star State were revealing our tighty-whities at Siros' White Knight Out party at Oilcan Harry's in Austin; ogling Mr. Austin Drummer Butch Edwards at Hell Party IV at Chain Drive, also in Austin; taking beginning clogging lessons at the Round-up Saloon in Dallas; being dazzled by the live performance of the Torrid Sex Kitten, Jahna Steele, at Paper Moon in San Antonio; greasing-up our bodies for hot oil wrestling at The Wave, back in Dallas; undressing at the male strip contest, hosted by Maude, at Mother's in Houston; laughing our badoobies off with Sorority Girl from Hell, Lois Bromfield at Sue Ellen's, once again in Dallas; witnessing the crowning of the new Miss Houston FFI at Heaven in Houston; working out the Fitness Exchange, still in Houston; and admiring the artwork of former Mr. Gay All-American Ered Matthews at JR's, once again in Dallas.

SAY, WASN'T THAT..... Ms. TGRA candidate Karen DeAngelo, warbling a few tunes at

"Hot Texas Night – A Hill Country Party" at Buckles Saloon in Austin; Amazing Grace sporting her new Miss South Texas America crown at The Lizard Lounge, still in Austin; Carl McBride, Patti le Plae Safe and Heda Quote at the Construction Party at Throckmorton Mining Company in Dallas; Rick Pittman, Jon Funk and oh-so-gorgeous Joe Bergamasco, personally fitting tight leather shorts on customers at Shades of Grey, also in Dallas; stud-muffin Levvy Carriker, pumping iron and pleasing the eyes at CBC, still in Dallas; drool-inducing dancer Javier of Muscles in Action at the Montrose Mining Company in Houston; Gio Sedita and Brett Giswold signing the ownership papers for Union Jack still in Houston; Patrick Flinn, aka Victoria West, Takisha Moree and JR Washburn at Tenth Avenue in McAllen; hunkalicious birthday boy and mixologist Tripp at Hard Hat in San Antonio; Michael Wallace overseeing the preparations for the Miss North Central Texas pageant at Britches in Arlington; and the finest-dressed men and women of Texas, sashaying and parading at the 16th Annual Garden Party at Rich's, back in Houston.

Finally, Marc Alexander took us Backstage for news about Theater Gemini's production of Remember My Name , the story of the AIDS Memorial Quilt, in Dallas, as well as the return to the stage of Tommy Tune in a new Houston production of Bye, Bye Birdie. Mr. Tune's baggage included seven – count 'em, seven! – Tony Awards, as well as the reputation of being the only person in theatrical history to win a Tony in four different categories.

Now, isn't THAT special.....

And that's the way it was, 15 years ago This Week in Texas.

TEXAS TEA

Austin "tea" cious

Austin is a hot place to be for a great time, and the hottest place to be in Austin is the Cockpit Club, where the world-renowned Kendall does his level-headed best to make sure that the men are sexy, the drinks are strong and the music is intoxicating. Why, just the other night, the club hosted The Guise, one of the hottest bands to hit Sixth Street in a long time, thanks to their blend of queer rock with a variety show twist. And, from what we understand, the band appears every other Sunday. We would have spent more time with them, but there were so many gorgeous men at the club that we found our attention strangely diverted....

The best place to find a date in Austin is about to become an even better place to meet that special someone, as the Midtowne Spa prepares to open its new steam and shower rooms. We were lucky enough to get a preview of the new facilities and they are AWESOME! The only thing more awesome was watching staffers Jeremy, Richard and D Arthur testing out the new faucets....now, THAT was amazing!

Speaking of amazing, Jamie Perry is always stirring it up over at Charlie's. Each and every time we see her perform, her energy always blows us away. The club's daytime mixologist, Cory, and nighttime staffers, Scott and Michael, have a habit of doing that, too! What babes!

You won't find babes at Chain Drive, however. Just lots and lots of men. Hot, sweaty men....with rippling muscles and big packages....in leather....and Levis...and Wranglers....and, sometimes, a whole lot less! At least, that's the way it is when WE'RE there!

Dallas Tea

Who will the winner be? Tosha Longsworth, Mel Arizpe, Kelly Jarvis, Tammi Rowley Juan

Manuel Rodriguez, Deb Johnson, Ashley Henry, Bradley Justice, Jason Huff, Matt Brewer, Blake Askew or Craig Johnston ? Find out this Sunday as the Rose Room hosts the Voice of Pride Finals at 8PM. This winner gets 3000 dollars in cash...a Tavern Guild event.

Also Sunday night don't forget about the send off party for the Gay World Series at 6PM at Round-up. Proceeds for this event will help out with the travel expenses for the Dallas teams going to Fort Lauderdale...yummy men in ball uniforms! Gottaluvit!

Over at the Eagle Mark and Matt are reminding us that Sundays are always Community Service night. Community night is set aside by the Dallas Eagle for patrons and organizations to raise money for their charity of choice. Any organization can have a charity event. Call, go in, or visit their website for more info.

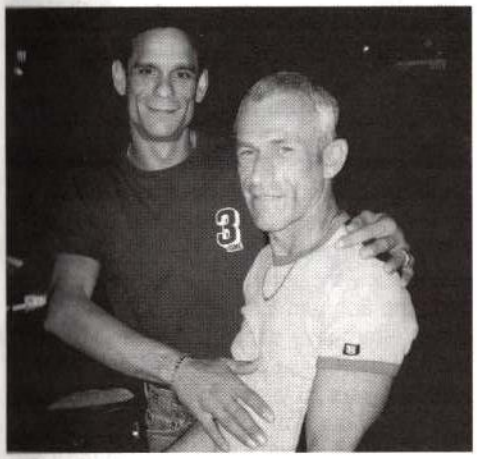

Our gal pals at Buddies II always show us a good time. They know how to serve up a nice drink and you can even catch some rays out by the pool. We caught up with longtime bartender Betty Moore last time we were in. She's always wearing a smile and so will you after spending a happy hour with her!

One of the best times to be had in Dallas is at GAY BINGO. GayBINGO Dallas is one of the most successful programs sponsored by the Resource Center of Dallas and it's supporters. The next date for Gay Bingo is Saturday, Aug 19th. It's always a hoot and holler so mark it down and log onto www.rcdallas.org for more info, to get ticket, and schedules. This month's theme is "Hang 10 GayBINGO" Life's a beach! This is a must-do!

We stopped into Zippers last week where we were able to catch Steve and Jack off duty these two are as much fun off and they are on. Stop in and say hi and let them show you a good time. And those men on the boxes half naked might help out just a little as well.

On Throckmorton make sure you stop in and say hi to Chris, Paul, and Karen at OFF THE STREET. The shop is open on Fridays and Saturdays from 10-6 and full of gifts and goodies. Don't miss out on that clever little clearance sale they are having. We got some smart little picture frames for the condo in there!

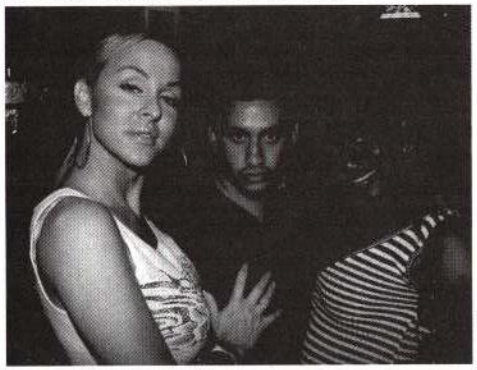

Space Ci"tea"

We just love to be treated like the star that we are, doncha know, and for us there's no place that makes us feel truly lush (as in life, baby!) than South Beach, where everyone and everything is in place to make every night a glam event. We feel especially pampered whenever the delicious foursome of Brent, Michael, Steven and Morgan are on hand. Just being surrounded by all of that gorgeousness makes us feel like superstars! Gotta get us some of that!

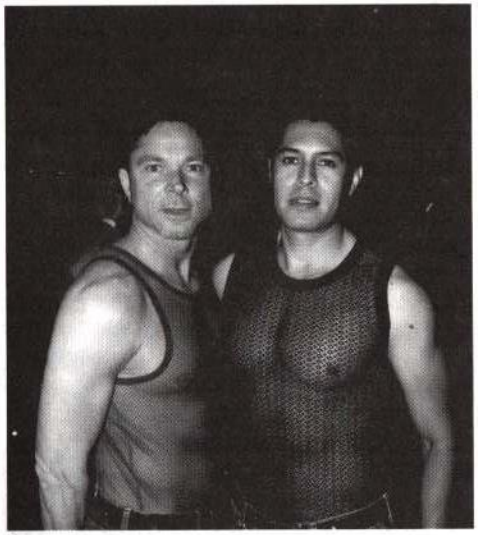

Not to be outdone in the diva category were the three beauties, Sierra Andrews, Rene and Josephine, that we spotted at JR's just next door to SoBe. Could Rene's looks be any more smoldering? And Sierra, those earrings! FAB, gurl! And, no, Josephine, we haven't forgotten about you, goddess. You are too, too fierce!Speaking of fierce, what is with the huge pecs on Roy and Javier?

OMG....we were almost literally blinded by those headlights, honey! The two earth-bound gods were just one of the hundreds of hunky men that we ran into at Rich's, during a recent excursion to the club. And let us tell y'all, honeys, those pecs are real! We just happened to have our trusty hunk-o-meter on hand to test them....

It was like old home week at Houston's newest club, In-n-Out, where we ran into our very dear friend, Jerry Bird, and some members of his flock of friends and admirers. For the one or two of you that don't know, that's Rocky, Ronnie and bee-u-ti-ful BA, standing next to Jerry. It's great to have Jerry around, and even greater to have this fantastic new club to play and party in!

Finally, a different kind of party was held at Club Crystal, as family, friends and a host of admirers gathered at the club to celebrate marvelous Mareiuxes birthday recently. We have no idea how young the celebrant is, but we've already picked out several fabulous gifties from that crowd! And we do mean several....

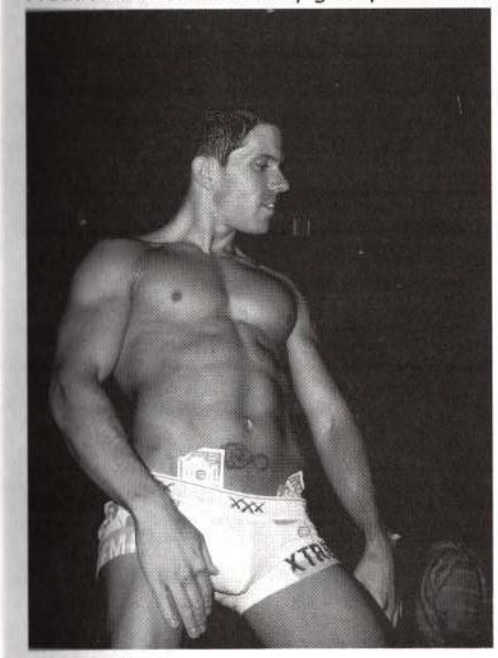

ALAMO CiTEA

Just when we thought it was safe to put away the concealing cream and wrinkle remover, we were reminded that we definitely aren't getting any younger. You might ask why, and we'll definitely tell you...the Bonham Exchange, San Antonio's oldest alternative dance palace just turned 25, and the Cruise Camera was on hand – just as it was 25 years ago for the opening! And talk about your power players – the Heat's owner Randy Cuniff and his partner, Peter, plus Bonham Owner, Kenny, Heat staffer Vikki, and Bonham VIPs Lee Haines and Niecy Lewis all gathered together under one roof! Also in the house was extra special guest, adult video star (and one of our soon-to-be very best friends,) Chad Savage. Damn, he's cute! TWT Production Assistant Rusty got up close and personal with the star of the evening, as these pictures can attest to! Congratulations, to the legendary Bonham Exchange ....and a big thanks for a fantastic 25 years!

We dropped by at the Essence around 2 p.m. on Sunday – oh, yes, the club opens at 2 p.m. for Happy Hour on the weekends – to both recuperate from our night of reverie at the Bonham, as well as to see a good film...hey, if you're recuperating you might as well watch a movie, right? The club's video library includes all the classics, including our personal favorite, Steel Magnolias. They even fed us! A full compliment of pleasing culinary tidbits. As GM Bob Fogg always says, "Merry Christmas!" We almost stayed for the free pool on Monday, but we old girls know when to leave a party....

Speaking of Monday, we just love Monday nights at the Saint. Not only is club staffer Jason Pena on duty that night, but we also get to see our very dear friends, Jenny McCall, Sasha Andrews, Odysea Raven and Tersa Matthews practice the age-old art of satire, pantomime and the dance, as Naomi Sims used to say. That's drag, to the uninitiated. The four of them, plus the liquid ice machine on the dance floor, are the best way to be cool on a hot summer night.

New to TWT Magazine....
We invite you to turn the page and enjoy our latest section in our effort to cover events all over the State of Texas and beyond!
