SPECIAL REPORT

Carolyn Roney and Bruce Russell Co-Chair What Has Become The Premier Fund-raiser for AIDS in Dallas.

BY BOB DINEEN

One look at both Bruce Russell and Carolyn Roney, and you'd likely agree that these two Dallasites are a positive reflection of all those things our society holds near and dear. Attractive, polished and sagacious, they are the embodiment of success in our culture.

One look at their resumes, and you'd find that these two individuals possess the skills and experience necessary to assure them guaranteed achievement in whatever they endeavored to do. Bruce is a graduate of Texas A&M University, was previously a U.S. Army officer and is currently a professional engineer. Carolyn was raised in El Paso and graduated from West Texas State University. Previously a schoolteacher, she is now a Senior Personnel Director in the Human Resources Department of a major Dallas company.

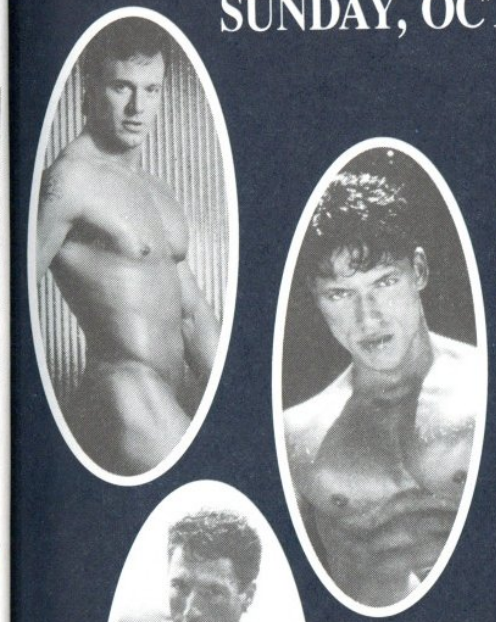

It's a little difficult to see into Bruce and Carolyn's hearts, however. That's the place where you will find those giving and altruistic qualities that prompt them both to spearhead the LifeWalk effort in Dallas. As Bruce puts it, "We both desire to give back to the community our time and involvement, and by doing so, we believe that we can make a difference. We don't want to see people get sick and die. LifeWalk raises money to support AIDS service programs to help educate and prevent the spread of HIV; to help counsel people living with AIDS, their family, friends and significant others; and to help improve the quality of life for those affected."

With professional careers and their volunteer efforts—both Bruce and Carolyn sit on the Board of Directors of Oak Lawn Community Services, the primary beneficiaries of this year's event—it might seem difficult to believe that the pair can find any spare time to orchestrate a fundraising effort as monumental as LifeWalk for two consecutive years. But the work, they believe, is necessary.

"We're involved because we believe that one of the most important ways to fight HIV infection and AIDS, and one with which many people can easily get involved, is through education and personal involvement. LifeWalk offers that opportunity for us, our volunteers and for all participants."

What impresses Russell and Roney most about the volunteers in this year's LifeWalk is the incredible diversity of the group—a fact they attribute to the growing awareness among all segments of the population that AIDS does not discriminate.

"AIDS is not just a gay disease, nor is it a disease of only one group or segment of people. It affects everyone, and that has been very evident this year. Our volunteers have come from different parts of the Dallas area. The energy and enthusiasm generated throughout this past year preparing for the walk has been incredible. It has been exciting to watch the dynamics of this group working together. It has truly been a labor of love."

Diversity is apparent, not just in the volunteer group, but in the roster of participants who've already signed up as walkers. It is these individuals who, through sponsorship by friends, family members, co-workers and sometimes entire neighborhoods, are responsible for the funds raised by the walk itself.

"The response to LifeWalk so far has been as diverse as that we have noticed in our volunteer ranks. We have over 400 teams registered so far—last year we had approximately 200. Teams are coming from corporations, public and private schools, churches, organizations and groups of friends. It has been rewarding to see such a diverse community come together to recognize the continuing challenge and changing face of HIV infection and AIDS."

Despite all of the hard work that both Russell and Roney have devoted to LifeWalk; despite the extra effort the staff of volunteers have expended; and despite the sore muscles that the walkers may experience at the conclusion of this year's walk, both Bruce and Carolyn realize that nothing of this magnitude could be accomplished without the help of the corporate sponsors.

"We are especially grateful for our sponsors who believe in LifeWalk and support our efforts with their contributions and time. Miller Brewing and Miller of Dallas are our presenting sponsors this year. Their support has been instrumental in expanding our reach throughout Dallas. An exciting new program that Miller started is the Rainbow for Relief fund-raiser, which raises awareness at various clubs throughout town. Transportation Displays, Inc. has provided advertising space on the sides and backs of DART buses. And Continuing Care/Curaflex Infusion Services, SABRE Travel Information Services, Caven Enterprises, Inc., The Dallas Morning News, Channel 4, KDGE 94.5 The Edge and The Loews Anatole Hotel are all corporate sponsors of the walk this year.

LifeWalk has, in just three years, become one of the ten largest AIDS walks in America, and is considered to be one of the premier AIDS fund-raisers in Dallas and in Texas. Proceeds from the event, which in the past two years have totaled over $350,000, benefit the AIDS service programs of Oak Lawn Community Services, which has developed a comprehensive program of services designed to address the direct care and emotional and educational needs of its clients with HIV and AIDS.

This year, in addition to Oak Lawn Community Services, several other AIDS organizations and programs in and around Dallas will benefit from LifeWalk. "In addition to supporting the AIDS services programs of Oak Lawn Community Services, we are especially pleased this year to share our proceeds with five other AIDS service providers in the Dallas area. These agencies are the AIDS Resource Center, Bryan's House, the AIDS Interfaith Network, Welcome House and Mathis Hospice. Welcome House and Mathis Hospice are agencies that primarily serve the African-American community."

LifeWalk '93 takes place this Sunday, October 3 when participants will walk from Lee Park in Oak Lawn, through Turtle Creek into downtown Dallas and back to Lee Park. Registration begins at noon on Sunday, and walkers will begin their trek at 1 p.m., rain or shine.

Immediately following the walk, food, refreshments, entertainment and an arts and crafts show will be featured in Lee Park. Awards will be given to individuals and teams, team captains, to the team with the most creative T-shirt and to the team with the largest number of walkers.

Ophthalmic Manifestations of AIDS

MEDICAL UPDATE

BY G. SCOTT SAWYER, M.D.

Ophthalmic complications in patients with HIV disease are becoming a more common occurrence. Opportunistic infections that affect the eye are rarely life-threatening. However, retaining vision is one of the highest priorities in maintaining an adequate quality of life.

There are several disease processes that affect the eyelids and skin surrounding the eye. Herpes simplex and herpes zoster (shingles) can occur on the eyelids and facial skin. Shingles involving the eyelids and nose can be an indicator of a possible severe inflammation inside the eye. Acyclovir (Zovirax) is usually adequate to treat herpes simplex and shingles.

Molluscum contagiosum lesions frequently affect the eyelids. Although the lesions are cosmetically undesirable, they are essentially not vision-threatening. If the lesions are near the eyelashes, a mild conjunctivitis can occur. There are many ways to treat molluscum lesions, and most of the treatments are acceptable on eyelid skin. However, treatments with acidic substances should be avoided, since the chemicals can easily get into the eye itself and cause injury.

Kaposi's sarcoma [KS], the most common skin cancer associated with AIDS, can affect the eyelid skin, the inside of the eyelid and the conjunctiva (the transparent membrane covering the eyeball itself). Again, although KS can be cosmetically undesirable, it is rarely dangerous to the eye. KS lesions on the lids look like the reddish-purple KS lesions elsewhere on the body. They may also appear as swellings on the eyelids, much like a "stye." If they occur on the inside of the eyelid or on the conjunctiva, they may look like small "blood spots" or hemorrhages. Actual blood spots on the conjunctiva usually resolve on their own within two weeks; KS lesions obviously persist.

KS lesions on the eyelid become a threat to vision when they grow so large that they cause the eyelid to turn in. This may cause the eyelashes to rub against the eyeball, resulting in a painful abrasion which increases the risk of a sight-threatening corneal infection. This is considered a sight-threatening emergency, and these lesions are usually treated with X-ray therapy.

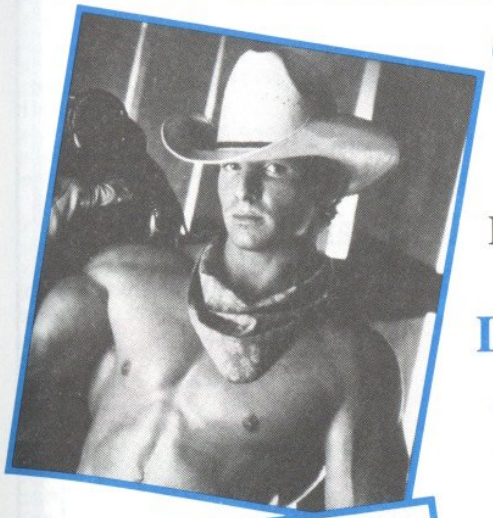

There are several other ways to treat KS of the eyelids. Systemic chemotherapy will treat eyelid KS lesions as well as it does KS in other parts of the body. However, most physicians will not treat KS lesions confined to the eyelid skin with systemic chemotherapy. Radiation therapy is an excellent treatment for KS lesions confined to the eye. Patients may have a little problem with "dry eye" after radiation therapy, but this is usually not symptomatically important. While local injections of chemotherapy are effective on KS lesions on other body parts, this cannot be done on the thin, delicate skin of the eyelid. The strong chemotherapy agents would diffuse through the eyelid skin and damage the eye itself. For small lesions that are unresponsive to other treatments, freezing therapy (cryotherapy) has proven effective.

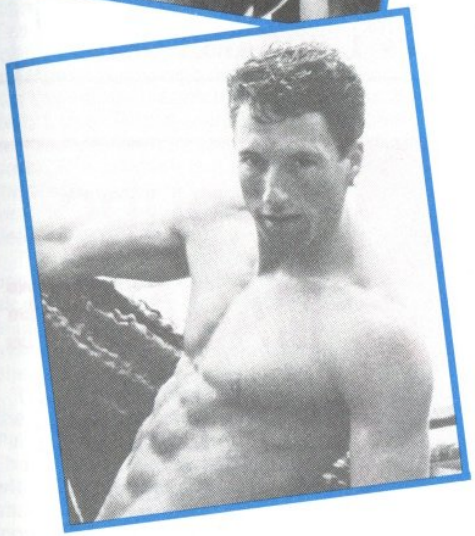

By far, the most common AIDS complication to affect the eye is cytomegalovirus [CMV] disease. Although other opportunistic infections can affect the eye, they are rare compared to CMV disease. CMV accounts for about 90 percent of all opportunistic infections of the eye.

CMV is a "cousin" of the herpes family. CMV disease is unusual in people with a CD4 count of over 150. CMV retinitis is unusual with a CD4 count above 50. CMV can infect the lungs, esophagus, stomach, colon, pancreas, gallbladder and the eyes.

When CMV infects the retinas in your eyes, you may experience several symptoms. First, vision can be blurry, and there may be a dramatic increase in the number of black spots, or "floaters," seen. Almost everyone has a few black spots that float in your vision field. When CMV is active, you see things as if you are "looking through a dust storm" or a "swarm of bees." You may also notice a loss of peripheral vision, i.e., there are areas in the visual field that are gone or are black.

Once CMV retinitis is diagnosed, treatment is initiated. There are now only two medications for CMV disease—Cytovene (gancyclovir, DHPG) and Foscarnet (foscavir). Unfortunately, these drugs are available only as IV therapy, and they don't kill the CMV virus—they only stop its growth. If the medications are stopped, the virus will start to progress again. Therefore, once treatment is initiated for CMV retinitis, it is continued for the life of the patient.

Cytovene and Foscarnet are very effective in the treatment of CMV. Over time, however, the virus may become resistant to one or both medications. Also, each of these medications can have serious systemic side effects. Cytovene can be very toxic to the bone marrow, resulting in a decrease in white blood cells. Foscarnet can be very dangerous to the kidneys; in extreme cases, it can lead to renal failure.

Early detection of CMV leads to better long-term prognosis. CMV detected early causes less loss of visual field and decreases the chances of retinal detachment. The patient can often detect early CMV retinitis when he or she knows the warning signs. I encourage my patients to monitor the vision in each individual eye on a daily basis. This is done by covering one eye and then evaluating the vision in the other. The process is then repeated with the other eye. Warning signs of active CMV include a sudden blurriness in the visual field, or a loss of peripheral visual field.

There is no such thing as an "insignificant complaint" when it comes to your vision. Any change in your vision which persists for more than one day needs prompt evaluation by a professional trained to check for eye disorders caused by HIV.

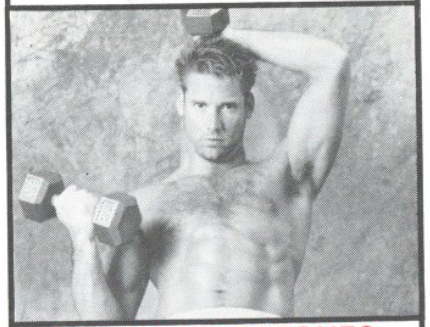

The frequency of routine monitoring of the retinas is determined by CD4 counts. Patients with a CD4 count lower than 200 should have a baseline evaluation. Those with CD4 counts between 100 and 50 should be evaluated at lease every six months. Patients with CD4 counts less than 50 need evaluation at least every three months. In almost all studies that have looked at the incidence of CMV retinitis, the greatest correlating factor was a CD4 count of less than 50. Ophthalmic evaluations should also be more frequent when other opportunistic infections are present.

G. Scott Sawyer, M.D. is a board-certified ophthalmologist. He practices general and HIV-related ophthalmology in Houston.

Houston's Metropolitan Community Church of the Resurrection offers a diverse array of programs and ministries intended to help members and others in the community explore the spiritual and moral aspects of life as well as other issues of importance to gay and lesbian people. The Resurrection Players, a program of the Church's Drama Ministry, seeks to do this while providing quality theatrical entertainment through the efforts of talented local performers and other professionals. The Players' production of Norman, Is That You? last year was a great success. This year they're presenting Jane Chambers' Last Summer at Bluefish Cove, a powerful dramatic comedy that examines the many facets of lesbian relationships while looking at issues of significance to everyone.

Drama major Kim Robbins, who plays the character Annie, explains, "We as lesbians have lost men to AIDS, but the men haven't lost as many women to cancer. I feel this production will bring some awareness to the gay community."

Director Philip Manthei has assembled a tremendous cast, which includes a familiar face in the Houston community, Suzanne Anderson. Anderson, also president of Houston's Lesbians in Business, led L.I.B. in playing a financial role in the production of the play.

"Lesbians in Business felt this was an opportunity to support, entertain and better familiarize our community with our needs both as women and as lesbians," Anderson notes. Proceeds from the Saturday night (October 9) will benefit L.I.B.

Last Summer contains many situations familiar to lesbians: a straight woman falls into their circle; incestuous relationships develop in their tight-knit community; and ex-lovers manage to maintain lifelong relationships. The audience will see characters alternately tease one another, then show compassion and tenderness. Many moments will provoke laughter, while others will bring tears as the viewer becomes a part of the pain and tenderness Last Summer presents.

The cast and crew involved in this production are a very talented and committed group. The lead character, Lil, is played by Annette Kalandros. With her years of experience, Kalandros offers a sensitivity and range that will leave the audience spellbound. Annie, played by Robbins, is pivotal in adding comic relief. Everyone has an Annie in their life; she's the glue that makes life bearable, and she provides the never-ending support that we all need so desperately. Kitty, played by Anderson, is arrogant, self-aggrandizing and egotistical, but you know her heart is in the right place and her loyalty to her friends is undying.

Several members of the cast and crew hold degrees in theatre and currently work or have worked professionally, either on stage or in a technical capacity. Producer and scenic designer John Early has worked with Starlight Theatre in San Diego, and was production manager several years ago at Houston's Main Street Theatre. Director Philip Manthei is extremely talented both as an actor and director, and has brouç a tremendous amount of professionali to the production. The lighting designer Last Summer, Nina Chwast, is producti manager at the Alley Theatre.

The Resurrection Players' production of Last Summer at Bluefish Cove will be presented at the Heinen Theatre, on the downtown campus of Houston Community College, 3517 Austin, on October 7, 8, 9 and 10. Tickets are available at Crossroads Market & Bookstore, Inklings and MCCR. Ticket prices for next Thursday's (October 7) performance benefiting the Montrose Counseling Center are $15. Prices for all other performances are $10 in advance and $12.50 at the door. Performances on Thursday and Saturday begin at 8 p.m., while Sunday shows are at 2 p.m. and 6:30 p.m.

'Dog Daze' Brings in $2,000 For Colt 45's

Dear TWT:

On Sunday, August 29, 1993, hearts and hands reached across Montrose and united at The Red Room for a "pawsitively" wonderful Colt 45's AIDS Trouble Fund benefit. The "Dog Daze of August" show raised $2,000 for ATF.

A thunderous, Houston proud round of applause goes out to Mama Jo Carter, her management and staff at The Red Room and The Outpost, and her clientele, for a job exceedingly well done.

With the resurrection of the 1930s "Golden Girls," a la the Gay 1990s, a truly marvelous slapstick musical comedy review was performed by Miss Mona, The Sambuca Sisters (Crayola Crayon, Stella Carp and Miss Blister Pussy), Maylen Peddlepusher, Miss Twiggy, Tina Louise, Miss Mid-Texas Brittany Paige, surprise guest performer Texas Renegade "Mr. Jerry," Ray, Jimmy Dale and emcee Papa Smurf/Uncle Mikey. Jeffrassic Park was ever so exciting, with these Queens of the Jungle swinging their vines.

Again, the Colt 45's humbly thank all the above and wish to respectfully tip their hats to all those who continue to show compassion through their supporting our cooperative efforts in communicating our heart's desire to provide aid to those who need it most.

Say 'No' with Kindness

Dear TWT:

I am a blond, skinny guy with a chip on my shoulder. At the club last night, for the first time, I approached someone who I thought was very handsome. After brooding over our brief dialogue, I have composed a response to our exchange and an earnest message to readers.

About a month ago, I spotted this Adonis on the dance floor. At the time, my only intention was to give a lingering glance in order to develop a mental photograph for future use. It was only after frequent sightings that I decided to go up to him. That in itself took a good two weeks of emotional preparation. The courage I finally mustered up fueled the long walk over to where he was standing. I got his attention and delivered my well-rehearsed first line: "Would you mind if I said hello to you?"

From his first response—an indifferent "no"—I could tell he wasn't interested. We exchanged names and I made the observation that I had seen him here on a number of occasions. A terribly condescending "Oh, that's nice" forced me to deliver my well-rehearsed emergency exit line: "Are you here alone or are you waiting for someone?" Needless to say, he pounced on the latter with boundless fortitude. As I made my getaway, I suddenly felt absurd in the new outfit and haircut I got just for this occasion. He made me feel like an insignificant bug swatted at for coming too close.

I understand that the merits of being pleasantly disinterested do not hold the same importance as issues like gays in the military or AIDS, but it's one that I'm sure we all can relate to. There are so many friendly ways to convey to someone that you are not interested in their advances. Realize what a profound compliment it is to you that someone is willing to risk humiliation because they find you special, a highlight in the crowd. Know that we all have the same fears and desires to be accepted. And understand that we are all family and should treat each other accordingly.

Saluting Miss Camp America

Dear TWT:

On September 18 in the Cullen Auditorium at the University of Houston, the curtain rose on the Silver Anniversary Edition of Miss Camp America's star-studded revue and spoof. Just as Florenz Ziegfeld glorified the face and form of the American female on Broadway, so the MCA Foundation also glorifies the face and form of the American male in drag.

It is only through blood, sweat, tears, strength and drive that Miss Camp America works tirelessly throughout the year to raise funds for their chosen charities, which peaks for one glorious opening night performance. For the sum of $15,500, which was presented to the Colt 45's TroubleFund, we would like to humbly thank Miss Camp America 1992 Miss Lucy Balls, the MCA cast and backstage crew, and the 1993 Miss Camp America winner, Miss Sedate-Me, for all their generous and noteworthy endeavors.

Each year, MCA continues to earn the Colt 45's admiration and respect for their endless charity work for the betterment of our community and for those with AIDS. The Colt 45's will give their eternal backing to support MCA in their future endeavors for those less fortunate for many years to come. We would also like to tip our hats to the community for its compassion for our clients and our causes. Because of your giving hearts, Miss Camp America and the Colt 45's can continue in our fight against the devastation caused by AIDS.

Lastly, Miss Camp America membership, you have honored us with your sharing, caring hearts. Truly, gentlemen, through your efforts you are the dream makers and dream fulfillers. The Colt 45's give you endless curtain calls and standing ovations for a job that has been done now for 25 wondrous years with integrity, style and grace. We salute you.

Demand Official Response To Hate Crimes

Dear TWT:

We are less than two months from the upcoming [Houston] mayoral and City Council elections, and not one candidate has had the strength of character to speak out on issues important to the queer communities. Instead, they have chosen to ignore us and our issues. They have failed to address our concerns about anti-queer violence and homophobia in the police department. Not one of our elected officials has condemned the recent bashings of Christopher Dunning and Robbie Cavanaugh. This silence is comparable to the city's lack of response to the AIDS epidemic. As thousands of Houstonians die, they do nothing. By their silence, they pander to homophobia and bigotry. Yet they fully expect to receive our votes on November 2.

We can't let them get away with it. We must demand an end to business as usual, because business as usual results in the loss of our lives. We must speak out. I urge you to make your voices heard by speaking at the next Houston City Council meeting. You can speak for one, two or three minutes. Sign up by calling the City Secretary at (713)247-1840. If you cannot attend the meetings, please call or write. The address is 901 Bagby, Houston, TX 77002. The phone number to the City switchboard is (713)247-1000.

Demand that they take a stand on an antidiscrimination ordinance. Demand more funding for AIDS prevention. Demand a response to the hate-motivated violence that plagues our communities. If we don't demand answers, we will be left to die.

Thanks from New Miss Gay Texas

Dear TWT:

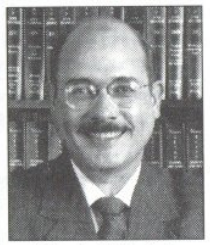

I would like to take the opportunity to thank the owners, promoters, judges and contestants of the Miss Gay Texas pageant. I felt so comfortable and had a wonderful time. Being able to bring the title home to Houston has made me very proud, and I have many friends to thank for the honor, including Eddie, Paivi, Val, Lindsy, Nakoma, Kofi, Vonda, and Betsy and the Ranch.

The next year will be a great one, and I look forward to seeing everyone at all the preliminaries.

Houston playwright Don Maines plays dual roles in Alley Theatre premiere of his newest work, His Only Forgotten Son.

BACKSTAGE

Houston playwright Don Maines plays dual roles in the Alley Theatre premiere of his newest play, His Only Forgotten Son: Lee, a gay lawyer whose lover has recently died of AIDS, and his client, Haven, a blue-collar worker who turns to spirits in the world beyond after his young son is killed in a car accident. Also appearing are Stephanie Delape as a bearded lady and Peggy Butler as a hospice nurse. Tickets to the 7 p.m. performance on Tuesday, October 19 are $25 each, with proceeds going to Texas Accountants and Lawyers for the Arts, an organization providing volunteer legal and accounting services for Texas artists. The premiere of Maines' last play, Wheels of Justice, launched TALA's estate-planning project for artists with AIDS. Reservations may be made by calling (713)526-4876.

What could possibly go wrong when the Singing Fertle Family and everyone else in Dumpster, Texas starts getting ready for Wiener Day? Find out when the citizens of the wacky little hamlet return to Houston's Radio Music Theatre with Wiener Day at the Rollercade. Opens tonight (Friday, October 1), with performances Thursdays and Fridays at 8:30 p.m. and Saturdays at 8:30 and 10:50 p.m. through November 20. Radio Music Theatre is located at 2623 Colquitt. Champagne, beer, wine, soft drinks and snacks are available throughout the show. Admission is $12. Reservations (required) may be made by calling (713) 522-7722.

In 1984, Sally Struthers and Rita Moreno created a sensation on the stage of Dallas' Majestic Theatre when they re-created the roles of Felix Unger and Oscar Madison in the female version of Neil Simon's The Odd Couple to critical acclaim and boffo box office. The sensation is repeated in 1993 as Fort Worth's Casa Manana revives a winning formula with Libby Villari (Olive) and Ouida White (Frances) in the starring roles. For the uninitiated, the story focuses on two mismatched women who decide to share an apartment for reasons of economy after they dissolve their marriages. Florence's compulsive neatness and Olive's obsessive sloppiness create the conflict between the two and result in nonstop hilarity for the audience. The Odd Couple continues at Casa's Theatre on the Square in downtown Fort Worth through December 19 with evening performances Thursday through Saturday at 8 p.m., Sunday evening performances at 7 p.m. and Saturday and Sunday matinees at 4 p.m. and 3 p.m. respectively. Tickets range from $16–$18, and are available by calling (817) 332-2272, or by visiting any TicketMaster outlet.

GLEN E. ELLMAN

Libby Villari [l] and Ouida White star in Neil Simon's The Odd Couple at Casa Manana's Theatre on the Square in Fort Worth.

Chinatown, Robert Towne's nihilistic 1974 masterpiece that pays homage to traditional detective films, returns to the big screen, courtesy of the USA Film Festival's First Monday Classics series and the AMC Glen Lakes Theatres on Monday, October 4 at 7:30 p.m. The film stars Jack Nicholson as a private investigator drawn into the labyrinth of corruption, murder and depravity surrounding water rights in sun-drenched, desert-parched Depression-era Los Angeles. Faye Dunaway portrays the tragically misunderstood Evelyn Mulwray, with John Huston playing her psychopathic father. Tickets are $6 for general admission and $4 for USA Film Festival members. For more information, call the Festival's 24-hour Program Line at (214) 821-NEWS.

GAY MEN AND LESBIANS
ARE THE SAME AS EVERYONE.

BUT WE DON'T TREAT THEM THAT WAY.

At Charter Hospital of Grapevine, we know that when it comes to emotional and chemical dependency treatment for gay men and lesbians, there are a few things missing. Like freedom. Respect. Understanding. And pride.

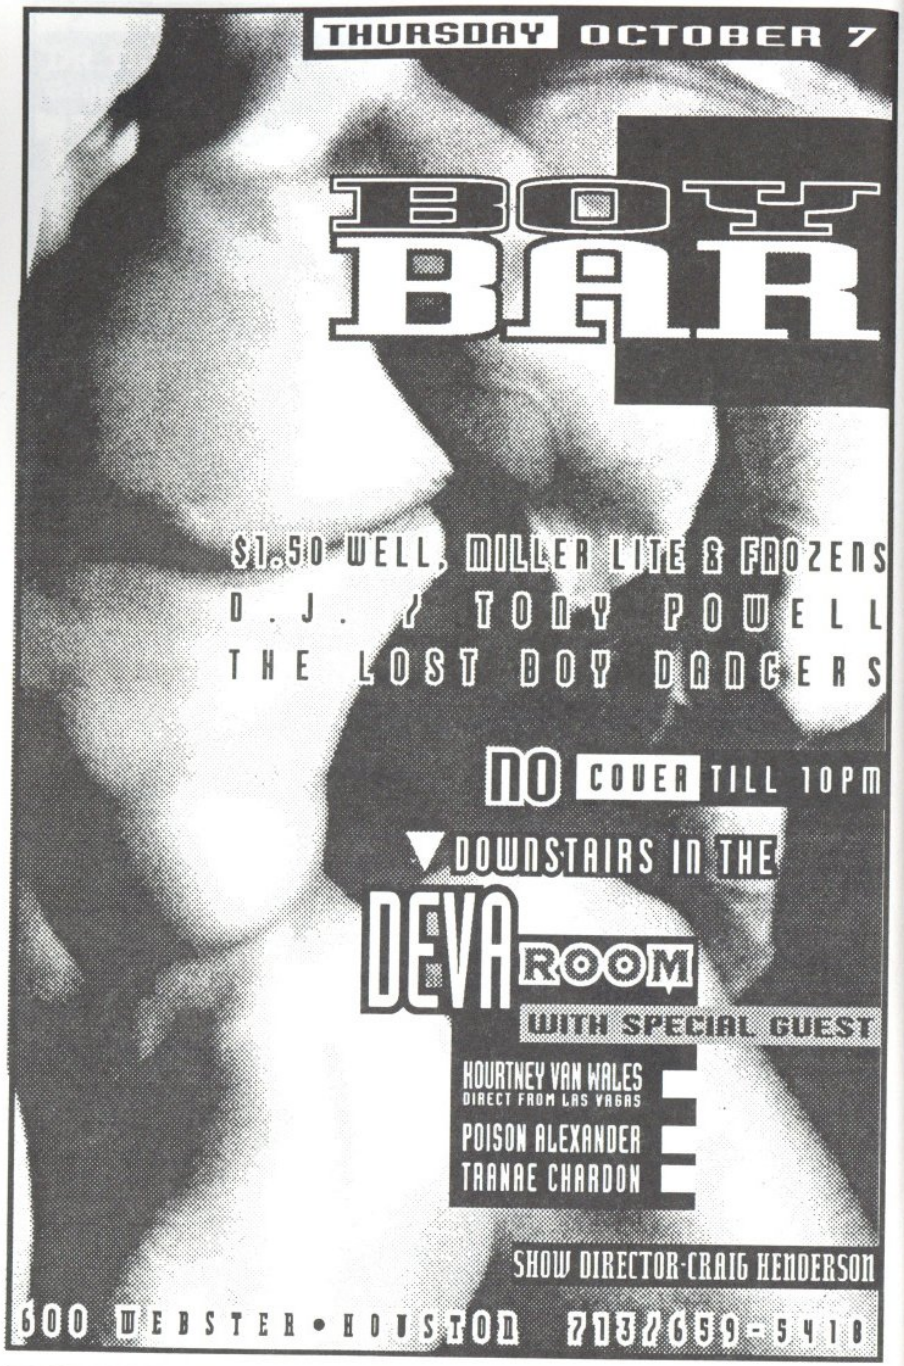

That's why we've created a special program just for you. It's called Pride In Recovery — and it could mean the beginning of a new world of self-acceptance, serenity and fulfillment.

Pride In Recovery offers a safe place where you can talk about your lifestyle and where you can address issues such as:
- Addictions
- Depression
- Sexual/Physical/Emotional Abuse Recovery
- Self-Destructive Relationships
- Dealing with Shame and Guilt

If you have an emotional or chemical dependency problem, please call us. And maybe, for the first time in your life you can face the world with a fresh, uninhibited outlook.

1.) This gentleman, considered by many to be America's foremost essayist, political thinker and wit, celebrates his birthday this week. He is the author of Burr, Lincoln and one of the most widely-read gay-themed novels, The City and the Pillar. Once when asked whether the first person he had ever slept with was a man or a woman, he replied, "I don't know, I was too polite to ask." Name this birthday boy author.

2.) Where would you be, in 1986, if you anxiously awaited the opening of Reflections so that your bar tour could include that club, plus the 651 and Little Bear's?

3.) Who was Miss Gay Dallas in 1975?

4.) "They say that life is a circle, but that ain't the way that I found it. Gonna move in a straight line, keeping my feet firmly on the ground." These infamous words, sung by the phenomenal Kiki Dee, made this early '70s hit an overnight sensation. Name that tune.

5.) What happened on June 8, 1972?

6.) Since this gayporn star has a degree in computer sciences and a serious career in environmental work, he views his video work as a hobby. But with over a dozen films—including Head Struck, Air Male and The Buddy System—and a Best Actor Award from Adult Video News to his credit, it would appear that he takes his hobbies quite seriously. Name this gorgeous video star.

7.) Many consider this 1976 Twentieth Century-Fox film to be the "gayest" ever made by a major studio. Starring Susan Sarandon and Barry Bostwick, the film is a cult rock musical that spoofs gay/horror conventions, and includes the song "In Just Seven Days, I Can Make You a Man." Name the film.

8.) What has one done when one "drops a hairpin"?

9.) Which state, in 1961, was the first to repeal its sodomy law?

10.) Who uttered the words "I don't do fags"?

1.) Gore Vidal; 2.) Arlington; 3.) Shan Covington; 4.) "I Got the Music in Me"; 5.) Camille Mitchell became the first lesbian to win custody of her children in a disputed divorce proceeding 6.) Ryan Yeager; 7.) The Rocky Horror Picture Show; 8.) Given a clue that he is homosexual; 9.) Illinois; 10.) Richard Gere in American Gigolo.

WEEK OF OCTOBER 1 - OCTOBER 7, 1993

BY C. LICHTENSTEIN

Mercury changes signs from Libra to Scorpio on the first of the month. This winged messenger of the gods will add a certain restlessness, creativity and urgency to different areas of our lives. Mercury and energetic Mars will work in tandem this week. We may change our minds about certain projects or people or may discover new information which crystallizes and confirms our actions. Then we forge ahead—damn the torpedoes! Read ahead to see how Mercury and Mars stir up your own sign.

LIBRA: (September 24 - October 23) Examine the finer points of investment and money manipulation now that Mercury has moved from Libra to Scorpio. You can use this time to reevaluate how you handle and value money and possessions to possibly change your course of direction. There seems to be a great interest in how things work, and you will benefit from a keen and complete investigation now.

SCORPIO: (October 24 - November 22) Thoughts turn to...you! Mercury moves from Libra into your own sign and accentuates how you appear to others. You may find yourself the spokesperson for a great cause, but be extra careful about impulsive speech. Mars activates Mercury's propensity to jabber on and on and you may find yourself saying something you will inevitably regret. Think before you shout.

SAGITTARIUS: (November 23 - December 21) Tremendous intuitive gains can be made now with Mercury in Scorpio highlighting your spirituality and psychic abilities. Run, don't walk, to a bookstore and grab a book on psychic development. Mars energizes your desire to reach out and help those in need. Volunteer at a hospice or hospital. You will not only provide a special gift to others, you will also benefit yourself.

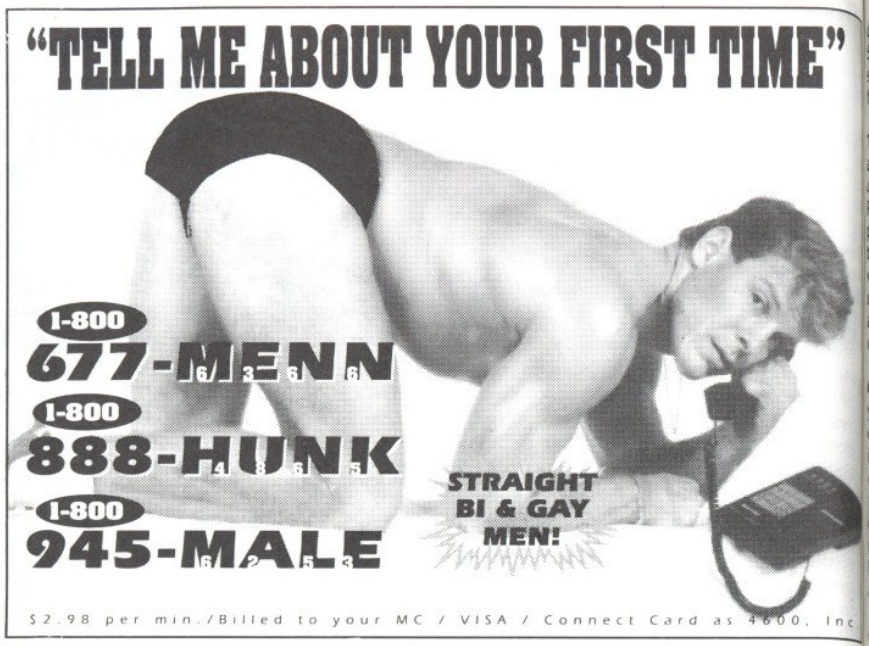

CAPRICORN: (December 22 - January 20) Friends become the focus of your attention now that Mercury has moved from Libra to Scorpio. Seek acquaintances who share a similar interest and revel in group dynamics. A word of caution—Mars tempts you to become totally engrossed in a group cause. Decide if you can afford the time and effort it will require. You may decide to participate on a less intensive level.

AQUARIUS: (January 21 - February 18) You are more than ready to set your sights on career progress and status enhancement. Attention to detail on the career front and careful, deliberate action to gain the higher ground are emphasized now that both Mercury and Mars are in Scorpio. Aquarius can benefit from the power of Scorpion strategy. Make each move as in a chess game—think several steps ahead.

PISCES: (February 19 - March 20) Pisces are not usually consumed by thoughts of faraway travel and adventure, but you simply can't help yourself. Mercury and Mars turn both thoughts and actions to exotic destinations. You are ready to pack your bags and bolt for the door, but I suggest careful planning of details before you leave. Are all obligations fulfilled? Are all pending projects under control?

ARIES: (March 21 - April 20) You find yourself consumed with thoughts of sex and deeply psychological issues once Mercury changes signs from Libra to passionate Scorpio. Interestingly, sexual outlets may provide you with revealing insights into your own motivations and unregistered fears. Some of us prefer to avoid an unflinching spotlight on our souls, but you will benefit from any insights.

TAURUS: (April 21 - May 21) How can you add some sizzle to existing partnerships or dash the whole thing to bits and start anew? Restless Mercury moves from Libra to Scorpio and has you questioning existing relationships. Are others giving you exactly what you need? Remember, Mars is acting up—any action you take now to "correct" a situation could have long-lasting repercussions. Think it over.

GEMINI: (May 22 - June 21) Mercury provides you with the brainpower to tackle especially taxing problems on the job now. It is in your best interest to allow yourself some quiet time amidst the whirlwind in order to think and strategize before you take action on a project. Mercury and Mars are well placed to enable you to fill your plate and handle many ideas at once without losing a beat.

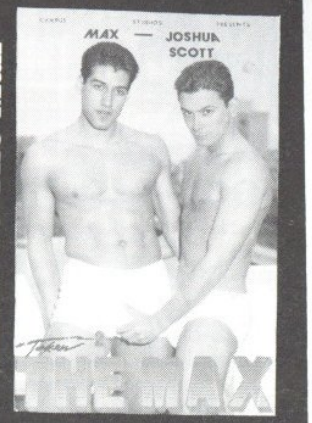

CANCER: (June 22 - July 22) Think beyond your house—get out and have fun! Mercury and Mars in Scorpio encourage you to explore different avenues of entertainment and amusement. Something intellectual, like a good play, game of chess or museum exhibition could really prove to be exhilarating. Romance is also possible—the mind runs wild with the range of possibilities for you.

LEO: (July 23 - August 23) Fiery and active Leo now turns homeward. Mercury encourages you to draw your attention to personal surroundings. You begin to think about a change in residence or changing the look of your living space. You need to feel a sense of permanence and security. Mars suggests this is also the perfect time to contact family members to discuss any issue of importance. Reconciliations are possible if you cool down.

VIRGO: (August 24 - September 23) Mercury and Mars in Scorpio enable you to galvanize your thoughts and express your opinions lucidly and compellingly. You are the sharp thinker of the month and can use this time to creatively strategize your next move. Don't be tempted to give an opinion before you have all the facts. Your witty and unrestrained mind is working faster than your good judgment now.

Texans to Join Nation in Observing Coming Out Day

Celebrations Include Speech by Rob Eichberg at Cathedral of Hope, Rally at University of Houston.

TEXAS — In a recent poll, 46% of those questioned said they don't know anyone who is homosexual. That fact—coupled with what many believe to be the federal government's inadequate response to the AIDS pandemic, continued discrimination in employment and the military and a marked rise in the number of recorded hate crimes targeting gay men and lesbians as well as in the number of anti-gay legislative initiatives being mounted across the U.S.—continues to perpetuate stereotypes and misinformation about the gay and lesbian community.

National Coming Out Day, begun in 1988 to commemorate the anniversary of the first March on Washington for Lesbian and Gay Rights, was designed to eradicate those stereotypes and provide accurate information about gay people. Sponsored by the Human Rights Campaign Fund as a nonprofit educational project, National Coming Out Day is now celebrated in cities across the country in an effort to focus attention on people who are in the process of coming out and to put a personal face on lesbian and gay sexual orientation.

Texans will observe National Coming Out Day with educational seminars and celebrations in communities large and small across the state. On Saturday, October 9 in Dallas, Oak Lawn Community Services will repeat its successful "Living with Pride & Power" workshop from 9 a.m.- 4:30 p.m. The workshop, which offers participants a chance to learn about lesbian and gay culture and to share feelings in a safe place, is designed to help people develop better self-esteem and reduce shame about their sexuality. More information about the workshop can be obtained by calling Oak Lawn Community Services at (214) 520-8108.

Also in Dallas, on Monday, October 11—the actual date set aside to observe the sixth annual National Coming Out Day—the Cathedral of Hope Metropolitan Community Church will host a forum commemorating the event, and featuring NCOD founder Dr. Rob Eichberg as keynote speaker. Eichberg, author of Coming Out: An Act of Love, will be joined by several gay men and lesbians who will share their experiences in coming out, as well by a member of Parents and Friends of Lesbians and Gays [P-FLAG], who will recount his experience of "coming out" as the parent of a gay son.

In Houston, the Gay, Lesbian or Bisexual Alliance [GLOBAL] at the University of Houston has organized a rally and march for Monday, October 11 from noon–2 p.m. Scheduled speakers include Terri Richardson, president of the Houston Gay & Lesbian Political Caucus; Greg Cason, former coordinator for National Coming Out Day; and Tiffany Isbell of ACT-UP/Gulf Coast, who will address the crowd at noon at the University Center-Satellite (near Elgin and Cullen). The drum corps of the Women's Action Coalition will then lead a march across campus to the University Center, at which time the crowd will be addressed by Brian Bradley, activist and candidate for Houston City Council; the Rev. Carolyn Mobley, assistant pastor at Metropolitan Community Church of the Resurrection; and Michael Crawford, co-founder of OUTrage. Organizations from on and off campus will have tables set up to distribute information and pamphlets.

Major Artery Donates Funds to Dallas HIV Groups

$500 Goes to AIDS Resource Center, Nelson-Tebedo Community Clinic.

DALLAS — Patrick McReynolds, president of Major Artery, the Dallas-based showcase of more than 20 of Texas' newest and brightest artists, says he always knew he wanted to participate in the Alan Ross Texas Freedom Parade because he believed in the event's unifying and supportive power in effecting change in the gay and lesbian community, and in the heterosexual population's perception of that community.

Initial plans had McReynolds and his artists riding an enormous float down Cedar Springs, festooned with colorful and exotic representations of the various artworks in the Major Artery collection. Thrown from the float would be Major Artery "Talkin' 'Bout a Revolution" T-shirts. Price tag for the endeavor: hundreds of dollars.

But McReynolds recognized another need in the community. With well over 80 entries scheduled to participate in this year's parade, he knew that, despite the enthusiasm the float would generate, much of the effort he would expend could be devoted to other causes, specifically the AIDS Resource Center. So, rather than spend the money necessary to participate in the Freedom Parade, McReynolds earmarked $500 for the AIDS Resource Center and the Nelson-Tebedo Community Clinic. These funds were in addition to portions of the proceeds derived from the sale of Major Artery's artwork at both JR's and Sue Ellen's, two popular nightclubs in the Crossroads area of Oak Lawn.

According to McReynolds, "The Alan Ross Texas Freedom Parade has, in its ten-year history, proven to be a powerful and unifying force in Dallas' gay and lesbian community and has been a driving force in raising the funds and awareness necessary to combat AIDS. Naturally, Major Artery wanted to be a part of the celebration. But there is still so much to be done in the battle against AIDS that I wanted Major Artery to also have an impact on an organization that is doing so much to make a difference to those men and women challenged by AIDS.

"That's why I decided on the direct contribution to the AIDS Resource Center. With the artwork in place in the clubs on Cedar Springs, and the direct contribution to the AIDS Resource Center, Major Artery was able to participate in the city's celebration of pride, and also helped make a difference in the AIDS community of Dallas."

In commenting on the donation, Trish Houck, fund-raising coordinator for the AIDS Resource Center, echoed McReynolds' sentiments on the importance of the Freedom Parade to her organization's efforts.

"Certainly, the Alan Ross Texas Freedom Parade is invaluable to the community, both in its importance as a celebration of gay and lesbian achievement and as a method of educating our community on the need for safer sex practices. Also important is the type of contribution that Major Artery has made.

"What Patrick has done is really fabulous, and cuts right to the heart of the matter. Patrick has a sense of what's really important, and is willing to back that with hard work, effort and, most of all, his heart. A lot of people talk, but Patrick makes it happen."

'It's in the Bag' Raises over $100,000 For Houston's Assistance Fund

Proceeds from Third Annual Event Will Pay Insurance Premiums For HIV-Positive Clients.

HOUSTON — A diverse crowd of around 600 people turned out for an evening of dancing, fine food and fun last Sunday as The Assistance Fund staged its third annual "It's in the Bag" fund-raiser. The gala affair was held at JAGS restaurant in the Decorative Center of Houston.

Assistance Fund president Trey Yates said the evening had brought in over $100,000 for his organization, which pays medical insurance premiums and emergency prescription drug expenses for people with HIV until they qualify for government assistance. Since virtually the entire cost of staging "It's in the Bag" was underwritten through the contributions of various businesses and individuals, nearly all the money raised will go directly to Assistance Fund clients.

Highlights of the evening were the silent and live auctions. In the silent auction, partiers placed bids on custom-designed bags and other items on display, including a copy of the script for the October 4 episode of Murphy Brown, autographed by the entire cast.

Prior to the live auction, Houston City Council member Eleanor Tinsley presented a proclamation from the mayor's office in honor of the event, and Yates announced the creation of the Laetitia Clever Distinguished Service Award. Clever, a professional photographer, is a longtime supporter of The Assistance Fund. Yates also recognized Charles Freeman, past president of the Assistance Fund and event director for this year's gala, and Jackson Hicks, honorary chairman.

Emceeing the live auction, which included Houston Grand Opera tickets, Caribbean cruises and other trips, was Dayna Steele of Houston KLOL 101 FM.

Major sponsors for "It's in the Bag '93" were Park Plaza Hospital, ONCOL, the Southhampton Medical Group and Twelve Oaks Hospital. Underwriters included Jackson and Company, which provided the food and facility for the event; Marion Graphics, which donated the design and printing of all promotional materials; Park Plaza Hospital; and Neiman Marcus.

Yates said he was pleased with the support shown for "It's in the Bag," and noted that the diversity of the crowd underlined the importance of enlisting the entire community's support in fighting HIV.

Dallas Branch of Screen Actors Guild Makes Donation to Local AIDS Group

Resource Center Spokesman Cites Gift as Example of 'Very Positive Partnership.'

DALLAS — The Dallas/Fort Worth branch of the Screen Actors Guild [SAG], a national union of 88,000 professional performers, has formed an AIDS Task Force and initiated operations in a most effective way—by donating $719 to the AIDS Resource Center of Dallas.

The task force, which is a part of a national effort by the Guild to assist its members around the country who are living with AIDS, was launched in July when SAG's National Board approved funds equivalent to one dollar per member for donations to AIDS organizations in all its branches. A total of $88,000, representing the 88,000 members of the Guild, is being distributed nationally, with each region receiving funds for distribution locally, based on the number of members in each region. The Dallas/Fort Worth branch has 719 members.

The task force, which was appointed by SAG national president Barry Gordon, has targeted three goals upon which it will focus its energies:

- to create and administer a SAG fund that will support local organizations that are helping performers who have HIV and AIDS. Contributions will help provide medical care, social services and financial assistance;
- to actively raise funds at the local level which will augment assistance provided by the SAG National Board and the nonprofit Screen Actors Guild Foundation;
- and to create and distribute informational materials that address performers' unique concerns about HIV and AIDS in the workplace.

The AIDS Resource Center was selected by the DFW branch to receive the donation because, in the words of a spokesperson, "of its extraordinary work in providing a wide range of services to people with AIDS." But according to AIDS Resource Center executive director John Thomas, that work cannot be done without the support of organizations such as the Screen Actors Guild.

"The AIDS Resource Center has had a mutually rewarding relationship with the people of the theatre community since the earliest days of AIDS in Dallas. Whether we are providing services for actors, set designers, costumers or lighting technicians—or the various theatres are having benefit performances for the AIDS Resource Center—this is just one more example of what feels like a very positive partnership."

In making the contribution at the AIDS Resource Center's offices this week, SAG branch president Tricia Avery declared, "The creative community has been especially hard hit by AIDS. Many peformers have responded to this health crisis in extraordinary ways, and we want to support and expand their efforts. We also want to be a part of the larger community which is fighting the tragic effects of this epidemic."

Planning Begins for 'That's What Friends Are For!' '94

Organizers Accepting Applications For Beneficiaries Until October 15.

HOUSTON — The Board of Trustees of the Larry Garrett Foundation, which raises funds for local AIDS service groups through its "That's What Friends Are For!" gala, met on September 15 to begin preliminary planning for the group's next event, to be held next spring.

Sitting on the organization's Board of Trustees are Larry Garrett, president; Wayne Grabein, vice president; Jeff Dodd, secretary; Mike Jakemer, treasurer; and Stan Malbrough, Richard Sink and Daniel Buckley. Grabein was appointed media coordinator, Richard Sink was named volunteer coordinator, Jim Walker is the group's new auction and site coordinator and Stan Malbrough will serve as communications coordinator.

The Board of Trustees voted to accept letters from organizations wishing to be considered as beneficiaries until October 15. All groups requesting assistance must have 501(c)3 charity status and be providing direct services to those infected with and/or affected by HIV. Beneficiaries must actively participate in the production and promotion of next spring's event and agree to use the funds they are awarded only for direct client services.

Requests for consideration can be submitted in writing to P.O. Box 35786, Houston, TX 77234-5786. A copy of the organization's 501(c)3 notification letter must be included, along with a simple financial statement.

The Board of Trustees also appointed several individuals to its advisory board to assist in preparations for next year's "That's What Friends Are For!" Those appointed include Houston attorney Mitchell Katine; Rob Eason of Southwestern Bell Telephone Co.; HIV specialist Dr. Adan Rios of OnCol Center for IV Therapies; community leader and former City Council candidate Annise Parker; Alan Gellman, publisher of THIS WEEK IN TEXAS magazine; and Steve Nally, Houston sales representative of THIS WEEK IN TEXAS.

The next meeting of the advisory board is scheduled for Tuesday, November 2 at 2006 McDuffie. Those interested in attending may call (713)721-0721 from 10 a.m.-10 p.m.

Business Leader Leaves $12,000 to Austin's Waterloo Counseling Center

Funds Will Help Create New Mental Wellness Program.

AUSTIN — Waterloo Counseling Center announced this week that it has received a record $12,000 contribution from the bequest of the late David Miller of Austin. Miller, a local business leader, died of complications of AIDS last February. A Waterloo spokesperson said the contribution will help fund a new mental health wellness program.

"I can't tell you how grateful we are for this contribution," Waterloo board chair Kevin Tuerff said in a statement released Monday. "With the Center's need for expansion, this couldn't have come at a better time."

Tuerff said a portion of the funds will be used to create the David Miller Memorial Wellness Lecture Series. The program will consist of four quarterly lectures designed for the gay, lesbian and bisexual community of the Austin area.

As envisioned, the lectures will feature local and national speakers with expertise in mental health wellness issues like relationships, assertiveness training and dealing with loss. The speeches will be open to the public at little or no cost. Tuerff said a group of board members and staffers would select speakers and topics. The first lecture is tentatively slated for early 1994.

Mary Patierno, Miller's sister, said she was pleased with how the funds left by her brother will be spent. "I know David would be very proud to see his money going directly to help gays and lesbians in Austin." Miller's brother, Louis Patierno, formerly of Austin, said, "David was a stong believer in wellness programs and respected the work done by Waterloo Counseling Center."

Waterloo Counseling Center is a nonprofit mental health agency whose mission is to provide low cost counseling services to gay, lesbian and bisexual people as well as those with HIV.

Sure, Village Station is noted across the Southwest for the fabulous special entertainment events it hosts. From Night Gaymes, amateur male strip shows and femme mimic reviews in the cozy upstairs Rose Room that attract handsome patrons like Heath Chandler and Jeff Neal [above, l-r] to the powerhouse live acts that grace the stage in the Main Room downstairs, there's no end to the crowd-pleasing performances that can be found at the club. While over on Fitzhugh, we stopped into Zippers just the other evening to visit one of the 21 heart-stopping dancers of the masculine persuasion who appear there each week. While there, we ran into Mike Teal, Keith Babb, Mike Richards, the eyes of Junior Gregory and Wayne Wright [above, l-r] enjoying a little libational levity. Join Mike, and all of those stunning half-naked men, at the club that's made clothing parts a household name....

If you're wondering what the shriek that emanated from Crews Inn last week was, we are pleased to report that it did not have to do with Miss Mona's sudden realization that she was no longer a virgin. It did, rather, have to do with the fact that Gene Maywald, he of the Home Shopping Club set, picked five out of the six numbers in the Texas Lottery, making him $2,177 richer, and ensuring that his new spouse would have food for the rest of the month. Contrary to rumors circulating about Our Town, this little windfall was not the result of Gene's bootleg bushes, as Mona tends to believe....

Back on Cedar Springs, we always do our utmost to present you, our dear readers, with the very finest examples of the breathtakingly beautiful men and women who make Big D such a fun place to live. Through the years, our CRUISE CAMERA has captured images of people who literally leave you gasping for air. We now present another example of such beauty—one Eddie Bickes—pictured [above, l] with another devastatingly handsome young man by the name of Brian Nyehuis during a recent swing through the Round-Up Saloon. We used to go to the Round-Up just because it's such a terrific club—now we go hoping to spot Eddie and Brian again....

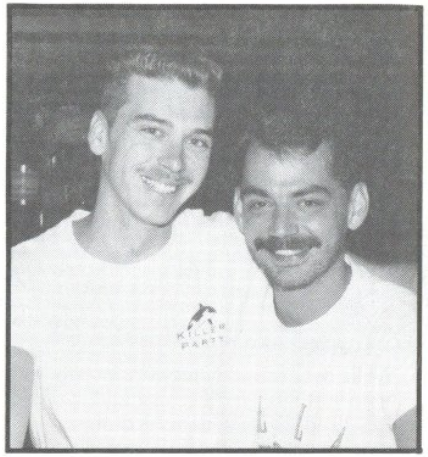

Across the street, the mixing divas at Sue Ellen's have informed us that the one and only Leslie Rage, Miss Gay America 1993, will bring her beauty and talents to the club for one very special performance next Thursday, October 7. It will be her last appearance in Texas before surrendering her crown at the Majestic Theatre on November 21. Don't miss this wonderful opportunity....

7 Days A Week

talking about the club that is a tradition in Dallas and in Texas. While one doesn't necessarily follow the other, we must agree that the new clubspeak does conjure up images of very festive evenings at the Crossing. Just ask two of the bold-faced types who frequent the club, Randy Moore and Christy Torian [above, l-r], whose jumbo smiles are almost as inviting as the club....

Do you recognize the two gorgeous men in the photo above? On the left is an obviously beefier Todd Whitmer, while on the right is an obviously scruffier Frank, uh...Frank...oh, what was his last name? Well, anyway, Frank's the manager at Throckmorton Mining Company, while Todd is one of his divine staffers. Todd, Frank and Throckmorton Mining Company. 'Nuff said....

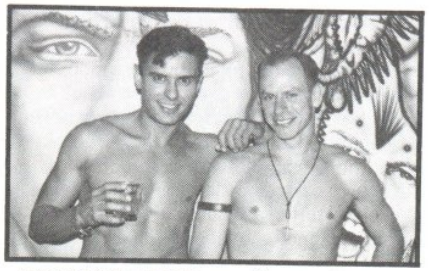

If you fancy yourself the type that prefers the tinkling of ivories to go along with the tinkling in your glass, then please consider John L's, the delightful cabaret located on Wycliff. Under one roof, you'll find a delightful staff, a relaxing environment and some of the best live entertainment found anywhere in Texas. Tonight and tomorrow, the fabulous Wiseguys, the very same handsome men who'll open for Rosemary Clooney at Carnegie Hall (yes, the very Carnegie Hall) later this month, return to the club for two nights of musical melodies. Don't miss this chance to see this phenomenal trio....

The Cove has a new employee, a young man by the name of Michael Phillips, and we are pleased to report that neither Black Betty nor Girty have succeeded in running him off yet. Curtis, on the other hand, has ordered a new pair of Nikes.

TEXAS TELETYPE — Here's what's happening around the state....

Baylor didn't think it could happen; the Baptist Convention never dreamed it possible; and the residents of Waco never thought they'd see it. But just two weeks ago, the gay and lesbian community of Waco celebrated its first-ever Gay Pride Week featuring a picnic at the Syrian Club, a champagne reception at Max's Restaurant, a benefit show at Maxine's, the Mr., Miss and Ms. Central Texas Gay Pride contest, and the Texas Gay and Lesbian Film Festival at the Bosque Theatre in the Waco Convention Center. All of these activities [below] were courtesy of the Gay and Lesbian Alliance of Central Texas, and were captured by the roving lens of various GLACT members. Congratulations on a very successful event from HOT TEA.

HOUSTON HOTTea — Here's what's going on THIS WEEK IN HOUSTON from Bayou City HOT TEA....

Club Hedonism, the ultimate in decadence, has arrived in Houston. We found Rey Garcia [above, l] and Marty Yaklin [r] checking out the fierce music and Club Hedo dancers at this new Thursday night event. These guys are sure to be at tonight's Skirt Party at Rich's. Kilts, towels, tribal wraps and hot pants are the suggested attire for this Houston first. Don't forget about Rich's Classic Tea Dance every Sunday with reduced drink prices, no cover from 7–9 p.m. and classic dance music all night long....

This Sunday, October 3, Pacific Street's Mandance presents National Males. This group of premier male models from Chicago perform one of the hottest shows around. Don't miss it! The hot dance action continues seven nights a week as Caged Heat/Men Behind Bars strip and strut their stuff. There's a time for everyone at Pacific Street. Stop by and check out their diverse weekly schedule....

We snapped Gentry assistant manager Steve Simpson [above, l] congratulating Mr. TGRA '94 candidate Tim Davenport [r] on the success of "Painted Angels and Drugstore Cowboys." The show raised $1,125 for the Bering Community Service Foundation. On the subject of fabulous benefits, the Imperial Court's Celebrity Auction kicks off today and runs through Sunday at 8:30 p.m. Stop by and bid on one of over 100 items donated by such national celebrities as Roseanne Arnold, Garth Brooks, Reba McEntire, RuPaul, Joan Rivers and Elizabeth Taylor. On Sunday at 9 p.m., "Montrose in Revue" features entertainers from many local clubs and organizations. All proceeds from the show and auction benefit the Colt 45's AIDS TroubleFund....

JR's continues to bring you the finest in male entertainment. Tomorrow night, direct from San Francisco, Falcon Studio models Trent Reed and Dean Johnson, along with the Men of Santa Fe, will dance their way into your fantasies. The excitement begins at 11 p.m. The weekend entertainment lineup also includes karaoke sing-along from 7–11 p.m. followed by a sexy strip contest with emcee Kofi every Sunday....

Born July 23, 1944
Died September 16, 1993

Don "Kitty Keye" Walley departed this existence on September 16 following a lengthy and courageous battle with AIDS.

Don was raised in the home of his grandparents in New Orleans and moved to Houston in the mid-1960s shortly after his honorable discharge from the U.S. Air Force. As Kitty Keye, Don quickly became a community institution through the talent and unique wit that were the hallmarks of his performances. He entertained in a variety of Houston establishments.

Don retired from entertainment in the mid-1970s and became an even more familiar face as a bartender throughout Houston. He was engaged at Cousin's most recently, but is perhaps most widely known from his years of employment at The 611 Hyde Park Pub and, earlier, at the Montrose Mining Company.

Don was very active in community organizations, serving as an officer in both the Greater Houston Pocket Billiards League [GHPBL] and the Houston Metropolitan Billiards League [HMBL], of which he is a past president. Although retired from entertaining, he had been a tireless and popular participant in community fund-raising events for the past decade. Don helped coordinate, performed for and contributed to fund-raising activities for countless organizations including the Montrose Clinic, Montrose Counseling Center, Omega House, Colt 45's TroubleFund, HBIT Service Foundation and his special charity, Stone Soup Pantry.

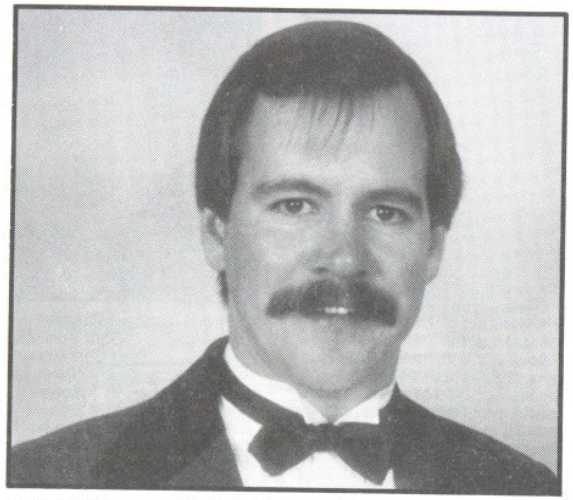

For those wishing, contributions can be made in Don's name to Stone Soup Pantry, c/o AIDS Foundation Houston.

We'll miss you, Don!
Love, Family

Joe Jenner

Joey Jenner, born July 10, 1962, died September 12, 1993. An active member of Dallas charitable endeavors for many years, Joey was a past member of the New York Gay Men's Chorus and the Dallas Turtle Creek Chorale. He was an active board member of the Turtle Creek Chorale, New York Gay Men's Chorus and the Dallas Gay Alliance. An active member of the Greater Dallas Board of Realtors and his firm, Judge Fite Company, which supported him in all ways possible to the end. He is survived by his close friend of over 10 years, Jim Knecht.

A memorial service was held at Lee Park Fountain Wednesday, September 15. All memorials should be made to the Foundation for Human Understanding (a charitable corp. for the AIDS Resource Center).

William Michael McKinney

January 3, 1951 - September 24, 1993

Michael was born at Florence Nightingale Hospital in Dallas and passed away peacefully with his loved ones at his side. His devotion to community service began at the early age of seven when, as an admirer of Jerry Lewis, he began collecting funds for the Muscular Dystrophy Association. His commitment to this organization continued into his teenage years, when as a counselor at the Muscular Dystrophy Camp, he took great pride in his work with physically and mentally challenged children. As an adult, he began working with AIDS organizations in the 1980's and continued to do so until his death, his most recent work being a 1994 calendar for AIDS awareness. Michael attended Thomas Jefferson High School and graduated with a Bachelor of Science Degree from North Texas State University in Elementary Education. He taught school in Carrollton for several years and had been pursuing his Master's Degree. Michael owned the Patio Eatery on Fitzhugh, Cedar's Place on Cedar Springs, was a charter member of O.L.B.A. and a member of the Round Up Saloon Bowling Team. Over the past ten years, Michael was a photo journalist for This Week In Texas, covering everything from the Black Tie Dinner to celebrity interviews, sporting events, concerts and pageants. He'd won numerous awards for his photography and had been published in magazines with worldwide circulations, as well as the pictorial essay entitled First Exposure.

He is survived by his mother, Marie D. McKinney and "Little Sis" Mary Margaret McKinney and her partner Julie Ann Davis, all of Dallas. Other family includes Dr. and Mrs. Sam Wilborn and cousins Paul and Marshall Wilborn. In addition to his immediate family, Michael is survived by his partner of many years Roger Stabel, his devoted friend Mark Jiminez, companion Dean Parker and countless loving friends.

A memorial service will be held at Sparkman Hillcrest Funeral Home, 7405 W. Northwest Hwy. at 4:00 p.m. on Saturday, October 2. Dr. William P. Boyd of Waco will officiate.

In lieu of flowers, donations in Michael's name may be made to the AIDS Resource Center of Dallas.
