MEDICAL UPDATE

BY RODERICK N. FRAZIER, M.D.

HEALTH QUESTIONS & ANSWERS

SKIN LESIONS • PERIPHERAL NEUROPATHY • TANNING

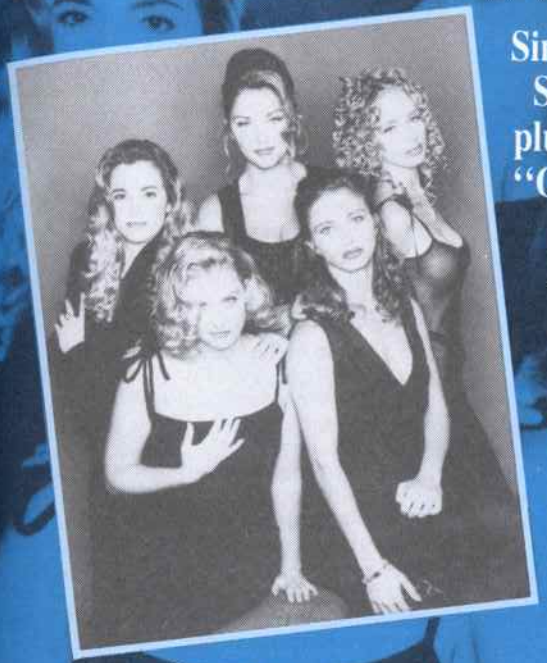

I have developed multiple small bumps on the skin in my genital area. These are very embarrassing. How do I get rid of them?

The two most common forms of growths on the skin in the genital area are venereal warts and molluscum contagiosum. Both are caused by a viral infection of the skin.

Venereal warts, medically known as condylomata acuminata, are sexually transmitted by direct contact with infected skin. These lesions may occur on the penis, vagina, labia, perianal area or in the mouth. The lesions are not always obvious, and a person may not be aware of his or her infection. The virus that causes venereal warts is called the human papilloma virus. Certain strains of this virus may lead to the development of skin malignancy at the site of infection. Because of this potential for malignancy, women with venereal warts should have a complete pelvic exam by a physician familiar with the treatment human papilloma virus infection. For men with warts around the anus, it is important to have a proctoscopy performed as lesions can occur inside the rectum. Your sexual partner should be examined for these lesions as well. Once venereal warts have been initially treated, follow-up examinations are required to check for the development of new lesions.

In past years, molluscum contagiosum lesions were found primarily in children, on the face and trunk. Now these lesions are seen on the genitalia of adults, and they occur as a sexually transmitted infection. Like venereal warts, this infection is transmitted by direct contact with infected skin. Customary safe sex practices may not protect against the transmission of these infections. Usually the lesions of molluscum contagiosum are unsightly, but otherwise they cause no symptoms. In many cases, the lesions will resolve spontaneously after several months. They can be removed by a physician if necessary.

In HIV-positive persons, both of these infections can be much more problematic. When the immune system is impaired, lesions occur in larger numbers and can be much more difficult to treat. Early recognition and treatment can make these infections easier to control. If you have any suspicious skin growths, you need to see your physician for diagnosis and prompt treatment.

Since starting medication for my HIV infection, I have developed pain in my feet. Could this be a side effect of the medication?

The development of pain in the extremities is a common problem for people with HIV infection. It is estimated that over 30 percent of individuals with AIDS suffer from what is known as peripheral neuropathy. This disorder more commonly affects the feet. The symptoms include abnormal sensation, which may feel like shooting pains, numbness, aching or burning. In its worst form, peripheral neuropathy can make walking difficult or even impossible. Often contact with even bed sheets or socks will make the pain worse.

Discuss this problem with your doctor immediately. Certain medications used by HIV-positive persons can actually cause or worsen peripheral neuropathy. In these situations, stopping the medication can arrest the disorder. The symptoms may then resolve over time. There are other causes for neuropathy unrelated to HIV infection, such as vitamin deficiency or thyroid disease. Your doctor can detect these causes through testing.

The development of pain in the extremities is a common problem for people with HIV. It is estimated that over 30% of those with AIDS suffer from peripheral neuropathy.

Unfortunately, peripheral neuropathy also occurs as a complication of HIV infection itself. In this situation, control of symptoms is the best that can be achieved. Medical treatments include the use of analgesics and tricyclic antidepressants. Intense pain may require the use of narcotic pain relievers. Some people have success using a topical analgesic cream, especially one containing the drug capsaicin. Electrical nerve stimulating units have been helpful in some patients. I would be remiss not to mention the use of acupuncture and herbal preparations, which have been touted by some to control the pain of peripheral neuropathy.

Summer is coming. What is the safest way to tan?

If we listen to our dermatologists, there is no safe way to tan. But I suppose that as long as there are summers and vacations with pools and beaches, people will insist on tanning. Given that, there are some basic rules to follow. First and foremost, never allow yourself to burn. You can accomplish this by limiting the duration of your initial exposures to the sun. You can then gradually increase your exposure time as your tan darkens.

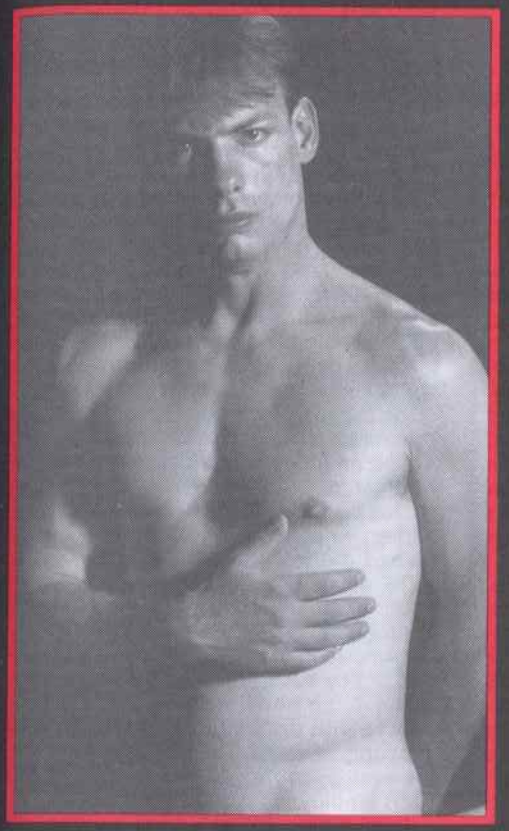

If you feel compelled to stay in the sun longer than your skin is ready to accept, use a sun block with the proper strength. The SPF, or sun protection factor, of a sun block refers to the additional time it allows you to stay in the sun. For example, a block with an SPF of four should allow you to remain four times as long in the sun without additional ultraviolet exposure. Be sure to apply the block liberally and frequently. Those with lighter complexions and more sensitive skin should use a higher SPF.

Contrary to a popular notion, tanning beds are no safer than the sun. However, they do allow you to strictly control the length of your exposure. For some, they may be a better way of gradually deepening your tan without burning. Always use a moisturizing motion after and between tanning sessions to help prevent dry skin.

Remember, you do pay a price for that golden tan. The damage caused by excessive exposure to the ultraviolet rays of the sun is cumulative over your lifetime. It may predispose you to the development of abnormal skin growths or even cancer. It certainly leads to premature aging and wrinkling of the skin.

SPECIAL REPORT

AMERICAN AIRLINES

Responds to Media Reports Of Anti-Gay, Anti-AIDS Bias

BY BOB DINEEN

Over the last few months, THIS WEEK IN TEXAS has printed several news stories focusing on alleged homophobic and AIDS-phobic actions by the nation's largest air carrier and one of the Dallas/Fort Worth Metroplex's major employers, American Airlines.

In the course of reporting on these incidents, TWT NEWS attempted to obtain American's side of the story, but to no avail. Until now.

In more than a dozen documents provided by Tim Kincaid, a Senior Representative in Corporate Communications at the Fort Worth-based carrier's headquarters, American admits isolated mistakes, refutes other allegations and highlights the variety of ways that American says it has actually supported and defended the gay and lesbian community.

According to Kincaid, for example, "Since 1991 we've offered the American Red Cross 'AIDS in the Workplace' [training] to all our employees. Also, we are the official airline of the San Francisco AIDS Foundation, we are the first and only airline to have carried the NAMES Quilt (at our expense, by the way), and we are a pacesetter member of the National Leadership Coalition on AIDS."

"And on gay and lesbian issues, American is an industry leader, too. According to the upcoming book by the National Gay & Lesbian Task Force, Cracking the Corporate Closet, American is the first airline in the country to include—in writing—a prohibition on discrimination on the basis of sexual orientation."

One of the allegations reported by TWT was that American would not allow its employees to wear AIDS awareness ribbons. But according to Kincaid, that simply isn't true. "On World AIDS Day, employees were encouraged to wear AIDS ribbons as part of American's observance. We don't, as a rule, permit employees to wear any kind of ribbon or button outside of those produced by American. This policy does not single out AIDS or any other cause."

Also reported in TWT NEWS were two separate incidents involving gay people or PWAs last year. In one, an American Airlines inflight crew requested that pillows and blankets used on Flight 701, which had carried gay men and lesbians back from last year's March on Washington, be changed; in another incident, a crew had a person with AIDS, Timothy Holless, forceably removed from his flight because the sight of his Kaposi's sarcoma lesions supposedly upset another passenger.

"These two highly publicized events last year created a negative impression of American Airlines," Kincaid says. "We investigated both incidents thoroughly, apologized for mistakes made and took corrective action. For example, we have trained more than 60,000 employees on AIDS awareness, and more mandatory training, including sensitivity training, is in progress.

"American does, in fact, have a corporate policy based on sound science that outlines our nondiscrimination rules for people with disabilities and HIV/AIDS is explicitly covered. The policy will go into the employee handbooks of all 115,000 AMR employees worldwide."

Immediately following the incident on Flight 701, AA Chairman and President Robert Crandall issued a stern memo to all American employees, a copy of which was obtained by THIS WEEK IN TEXAS. In the memo, Crandall stated, "I want everyone to know that the Company views these events as deplorable...American Airlines apologizes to anyone who was offended by the unfortunate actions of the few employees involved in this unhappy incident. Their actions do not reflect American Airlines' policy or practice, and everyone has my pledge that we will do everything possible to ensure that such lapses in judgment do not occur in the future."

Concerning the incident involving Timothy Holless, who was removed from American Airlines Flight 55 at Chicago's O'Hare International Airport, American representatives and the Lambda Legal Defense and Education Fund announced a settlement in the case just 46 days after the incident. As part of the settlement, the full terms of which are confidential, American satisfied Holless' concerns regarding required training of gate agents and flight attendants who work with passengers with disabilities, including AIDS.

"I am gratified that American has taken my concerns seriously," Holless said in a statement he made after the agreement was announced, "and taken steps to enhance training of its personnel to sensitize them to the needs of passengers with disabilities, including AIDS."

The most recently publicized accusation against American involved statements made by ACT-UP Washington charging that the airline had offered free travel to Stonewall 25 committee members in exchange for their assistance in ending the ACT-UP boycott of American. The documents American's Kincaid provided to TWT present a different side of the story.

"In order to create a constructive dialogue, American sent a representative to New York to meet with the Stonewall 25 executive and steering committees. I [Kincaid] was the AA representative who attended, and I spent several hours listening to many people on many issues. We met with members of ACT-UP from several cities who were very willing to talk and who were, in fact, appreciative that we came to listen and learn. ACT-UP Washington was also invited to talk with us, but we don't know why they didn't."

"Separately before the meeting," Kincaid continues, "Stonewall 25 organizers asked American if it would consider offering corporate support to the march this June in the form of a grant to their scholarship program to bring people with HIV/AIDS and those of lesser means to New York for the event. At no time did Stonewall 25 request—nor did we offer—tickets or money for the organizers' use or to squelch the proposed boycott. To imply otherwise is false.

"American has worked vigorously to address the concerns of ACT-UP and others. The evidence in our discussion demonstrates our continuing commitment to this issue."

Kincaid's comments are not the only evidence of what American Airlines considers its commitment to the gay and lesbian community and to people with AIDS. A corporate communication entitled "American Airlines: The Facts—What We've Done. What We're Doing" details two dozen or so individual instances of American's participation in AIDS-related causes, including:

- AA has devoted much attention to AIDS awareness in the "Flagship News" employee paper mailed to more than 115,000 homes worldwide;
- AA is a major sponsor of the American Foundation for AIDS Research [AmFAR] Paul Simon Concert fund-raiser in Dallas on June 10;
- AA provided airline tickets as prizes for the Fourth Annual Celebrity Auction for AIDS, benefiting the AIDS Resource Center of Dallas. They're planning even more participation with the group in 1994 and 1995;
- AA's sister company, SABRE Travel Information Network, is a multi-year co-sponsor of the LifeWalk AIDS fund-raiser in Dallas;
- AA pioneered exceptions to its health plan to provide insurance coverage for certain experimental drugs in life-threatening situations;
- AA Cargo is carrying, free of charge, medications and antibiotics for two AIDS hospices in Honduras for Barry University in Miami;
- AA's employees established an independent AIDS resource network to educate and support fellow employees and their families affected by the disease; and
- AA's 1994 plan calls for even more aggressive voluntary AIDS sensitivity and awareness training for all work groups—that's in addition to mandatory training for flight attendants and ticket agents.

Corporate sponsorship of AIDS-related events, immediate corrective action for real or perceived wrongdoings and participation in gay and lesbian cultural events—such as providing direct funding and services to the Turtle Creek Chorale—are just a few of the ways American believes it actively supports the community. It also provides thousands of jobs for gay men and lesbians throughout the United States.

According to Tim Kincaid, the documents provided by the airline "clearly show American has a strong record of striving to be a good employer and provider of service for people living with AIDS."

SHOW SUPPORT FOR IKEA'S INCLUSIVE AD CAMPAIGN

Every October 11, lesbians and gay men "come out of the closet" on National Coming Out Day, revealing their sexual orientation to friends, family members and co-workers. But what happens when a "straight" company makes this same courageous move? Providing support and encouragement to someone coming out is what National Coming Out Day is all about. However, as difficult as it is for a gay person to make this revelation, it is just as challenging for non-gay people involved in the process. And they need everyone's support, especially the gay community's.

This is exactly what IKEA has done recently with their new advertisements that feature two gay men shopping in one of their stores. IKEA, a home furnishings retailer with locations in eight states (including one in Texas, in Houston), joined the ranks of other mainstream advertisers like American Express that feature gay people in their advertisements. Both these companies recognize the diversity of their customers.

In today's political and social environment, these decisions are not easy ones for companies, especially in view of the fact that the radical right is ready to publicize any gesture a company makes towards the gay market as "un-American" and "immoral." IKEA has joined other companies that show their support of gay consumers, either through their advertising or through their support of issues like AIDS and discrimination against gays. But the rewards are not always as evident to these newcomers.

Let's look at two examples and how the community reacted. Levi Strauss stopped giving money to the United Way in the San Francisco area when the Boy Scouts refused to allow openly gay people to participate or serve as troop leaders. However, Levi officials sadly noted that the move was met with thousands of angry letters from conservative groups, while the gay community's response was negligible. On the other hand, Comedy Central, the all-comedy cable channel, met with much more positive mail than negative when they aired their all-gay comedy show Out There in 1993, a first of its kind on cable television.

Either way, these companies are taking courageous steps. It is only by the successes of these pioneers that other companies will join them and reap the same benefits of the brand-loyal and lucrative gay market. To show IKEA how thankful you are, send a letter of appreciation and show how many gay people are part of their shopping public. Address your letters to: Goran Carstedt; President IKEA North America; Plymouth Commons, Plymouth Meeting, PA 19462. Or call (215)834-0180 and ask for the IKEA Marketing Comment Line. Tell the operator you are calling about the "Lifestages" campaign.

Better yet, if you shop at IKEA, tell the store management and staff how pleased you are about this new campaign. They are on the front lines and need the support the most. By "coming out" and speaking up, you are making every day "National Coming Out Day" and you will let everyone at IKEA know that the "Lifestages" campaign was the right thing to do.

If you think the health care system is working, ask someone whose immune system isn't.

The airwaves and headlines are full of so-called experts debating health care reform—lawyers, economists, insurance executives, hospitals.

Confusing? Sure. That's why you should consult the real experts on health care in America: people living with HIV and AIDS. Few know the current system's failings more intimately. Few have given more thought to how the system must be changed.

And the fact is, a health plan designed to meet the needs of those with the most complex medical problems will meet the needs of everyone. Here are the key features you should look for:

+ Universal Coverage For All.

Excluding people will cost lives.

+ Affordability.

Everyone, regardless of income, should be able to afford to pay their insurance premiums and out-of-pocket costs.

+ Required Employer Participation.

Only if all employers pay their fair share will no one bear an undue burden.

+ Comprehensive Health Benefits.

Everyone, regardless of income or HIV status, is entitled to a full package of benefits.

+ Vital AIDS Relief And Other Programs Safeguarded.

Ryan White AIDS relief, substance abuse and mental health grants, family planning, TB prevention, other public health programs, and "safety net" programs must not be gutted to pay for health care reform.

+ Coverage Of AIDS-Specific Needs.

Prescription drugs, home health care, substance abuse, mental health grants, hospice care and lab costs are crucial to people with HIV and AIDS.

+ Limits On Premium Increases.

Keeping premiums low will keep your plan affordable and check skyrocketing health care costs.

+ Single-Payer Options For Individual States.

No state should be prevented from reforming the health care system more thoroughly than the federal government does.

All of these features are crucial to people living with HIV and AIDS. But they are just as important for everyone else.

Tell your Congressional Representative in Washington that you will settle for nothing less. Write a letter or mail the coupon below.

As you carefully consider the National Health Security Act, keep in mind that a plan that protects people with AIDS protects all Americans; any plan that fails people with AIDS fails every man, woman and child with a serious illness. AIDS is the test for health care reform.

DANCE FOR LIFE

ON OUR COVER

BY BOB DINEEN

To Raise Funds for Dallas' AIDS Resource Center, Other Area Service Groups

During the heady days of disco, it was the gay and lesbian community that, in many instances, set the pace for the trends and the dance music that symbolized the nature of that era. Huge dance bars catering to our community were built in cities across the nation, and everyone—including many straight people—flocked to them, hoping to, if just for a few hours forget the hectic pace of everyday life.

Then came AIDS, and its devastating affect on the population. The dance bars somehow seemed emptier, as more and more of our brothers and sisters succumbed to the disease and heterosexuals, frightened by their ignorance, stayed away.

More is known about the disease today—its transmission factors and better drugs to combat it, and a correlating understanding has developed that AIDS is a health issue, not a moral one. It seems appropriate, therefore, that we come full circle and find not only a return to the dance bars, but also a fund-raising effort that combines the penchant for dance with the compulsion to find a cure for the devastating pandemic.

That's what Dance For Life, the annual fund-raiser benefiting Dallas' AIDS Resource Center and other Metroplex-area AIDS service organizations, is all about. A six-hour pledge dance that includes an outreach to Dallas-area high schools, the second annual event has been designed to fund and educate by capitalizing on the human passion for entertainment and compassion for those in need.

The primary benefaciary of this united effort is the AIDS Resource Center, which opened in 1985 to provide AIDS education and risk reduction information. Soon after, Center Board members realized that education wasn't enough—that people challenged by the disease were desperate for financial aid, emotional support and even basics such as food. With too many people living with AIDS losing their jobs, their medical insurance and the support of their friends and family, the AIDS Resource Center quickly expanded its services to meet those urgent needs.

Today, the AIDS Resource Center offers many forms of assistance to the community through its Nelson-Tebedo Community Clinic, Client Services and Education programs. The Nelson-Tebedo Community Clinic provides dental services, HIV testing, clinical drug studies, a women's health program and a wellness program to extend and enhance the lives of people facing the debilitating and demoralizing effects of the disease.

Through the Client Services program, the AIDS Resource Center provides a variety of personal services to people living with AIDS. Its Food Pantry program provides food, toiletries, paper products and cleaning supplies to over 500 clients with HIV/AIDS weekly. The Luncheon Program offers hot lunches and social opportunities Mondays through Thursdays for PWAs. Financial assistance offers emergency payments for basic needs in housing, utilities and transportation. Retroactive is an AIDS Resource Center-sponsored resale shop providing free clothing and household goods to over 250 clients monthly. And the Visitation Committee and Pet Pals provide direct care and assistance to those with the disease and their pets.

The Education program of the AIDS Resource Center, the cornerstone upon which the organization has developed, runs a 24-hour AIDS hotline, providing live and recorded help 365 days a year for anyone who needs reliable and anonymous information about AIDS; a Speakers Bureau, which provides trained and knowledgable AIDS experts to address school, church, business and civic groups throughout North Texas; AIDS 101 and "The Truth About AIDS: Pass It On," bi-monthly training programs focusing on the latest information about HIV infection, treatments, testing, counseling, risk reduction and legal issues; and AIDS Update, a 7,500 circulation monthly publication which contains the latest information on risk reduction, medical developments, current events, research opportunities and programs at the Resource Center.

All these services, as well as those provided by other participating AIDS-related organizations in the Metroplex, will benefit from the efforts of Dance for Life.

According to Celia Barshop, Dance for Life Chairman, "AIDS is something that affects all of us, so this event is for everyone. We've planned an evening of fun and excitement as a celebration of life through dance—thus 'Dance for Life.' And what a perfect medium for our community, one that has always known how to find the positive in every adversity."

"It's important to remember that an AIDS service organization can benefit with just a very small contribution to Dance for Life," Barshop continues. "In the case of Fort Worth's AIDS Outreach Center, one volunteer walked in last year and listed AOC on their pledge form. He contributed around $100, and it was returned to the Outreach Center in the amount of $1,165. Wow! What a return!"

Last year's Dance for Life raised over $42,000, 75% of which was allocated for the AIDS Resource Center. The remaining 25% was distributed to Oak Lawn Community Services, which received $6,473.59; the Turtle Creek Chorale AIDS Fund, which received $725.55; the Dallas Legal Hospice, which received $862.27; and the $1,165 that went to the AIDS Outreach Center. Each of the organizations received a pro-rata amount based on that group's participation in the event.

"All we ask from the community is that it accept our challenge to just come out and have fun to benefit North Texas AIDS service organizations." Fun will definitely be had by anyone who attends this year's event, to be held at the Dallas Convention Center Arena. Live music will be provided by popular bands Channel 69 and KNo-HoW, with some of the city's finest disc jockeys providing the dance music for participants. Highlight of the evening, however, will be a very special appearance by mega-star Grace Jones.

Prizes will be distributed both to the individual who generates the most money and to the captain of the team that raises the most. This year, the grand prize winner—the one person who raises the most—will receive two round-trip airline tickets to London. The winner in the team category will have his choice of two round-trip tickets to either New York or San Francisco. There will also be a raffle, with the winner of that drawing receiving either the New York or San Francisco tickets.

Pre-registration for "Dance for Life" has been ongoing, but tickets are still available at the door and through any TicketMaster location. Because of the enormous response reported by organizers, however, tickets may only admit you to the seating around the dance floor. But, according to Barshop, "You can get on the dance floor, if you're not already registered, for a $50 donation."

A small price to pay for a cure.

This service is sponsored by AIDS Talk Houston TV, which can be seen on Public Access Cable Channel 17.

The two three-hour sessions will be held May 3 and 4 from 6–9 p.m. at Heights Hospital, 1917 Ashland (at 20th Street) in Classroom B on the Sixth Floor. Professionally led training sessions will educate volunteers in hospice philosophy and medical issues. Upon completion of the session, volunteers will receive a certificate and may elect to work in a variety of settings. For more information, call (713) 663-4915.

Even though I can't be there, a "Buddy" can carry my picture in the Stonewall March on the United Nations

"March With A Buddy" will be the most dramatic event during the Stonewall March on the United Nations. Imagine a thousand photos marching as one, reminding the world that so much more must be done to find a cure for AIDS.

How "March With a Buddy" Works:

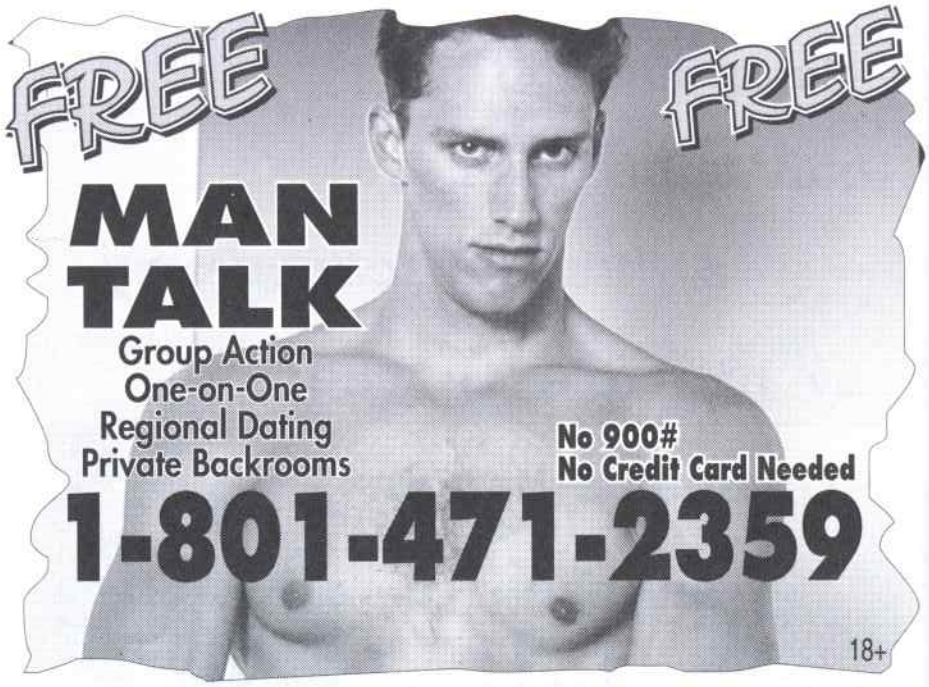

- We are asking for pictures of those with AIDS that will be turned into posters. The same can be done for loved ones who had AIDS you'd like to remember.
- We're also asking for volunteers who plan to be in New York to carry these very special portraits and "March With A Buddy."

It's All Free. Help Make It Happen.
Call 1-800-313-8485 for more information or a registration packet.

This important event is graciously underwritten by Priority Pharmacy.

GAY MEN AND LESBIANS ARE THE SAME AS EVERYONE.

BUT WE DON'T TREAT THEM THAT WAY.

At Charter Hospital of Grapevine, we know that when it comes to emotional and chemical dependency treatment for gay men and lesbians, there are a few things missing. Like freedom. Respect. Understanding. And pride.

That's why we've created a special program just for you. It's called Pride In Recovery — and it could mean the beginning of a new world of self-acceptance, serenity and fulfillment.

Pride In Recovery offers a safe place where you can talk about your lifestyle and where you can address issues such as:

- Addictions
- Depression
- Sexual/Physical/Emotional Abuse Recovery
- Self-Destructive Relationships
- Dealing with Shame and Guilt

If you have an emotional or chemical dependency problem, please call us. And maybe, for the first time in your life you can face the world with a fresh, uninhibited outlook.

Locklin Says Get Involved

Dear TWT:

AIDS is a horrible disease. I know, because I live with the virus. My partner of 15 years, Joe Dan, now entering his final weeks or days, struggles for his very life. My friends and cohorts are dead or dying. Just in my small apartment complex alone, seven have died and many more are ill. My journey through the AIDS community has not been pleasant, turning grief and loss into energy. From the anger I felt at being assaulted by the Houston Police Department during the Republican National Convention, I started communicating and educating on the public access channel on the plight of those of us who live with AIDS daily. What started as a one-man effort to do something has turned into three TV programs (AIDS Talk Houston TV, Montrose Clinic TV and Life... Today! TV) and more than 100 hours of AIDS education and information being presented....

I have served as your representative on the Thomas Street Clinic Citizens Health Council and have gone on to serve on the Harris County Hospital District Council-at-Large....

The one thing that has remained consistent through my journey is the endless stream of unsung heroes who work with us and care for us and help us get what we need, when we need it—pharmacists, doctors, nurses, financial counselors, funeral directors, case managers, nonprofit service providers, for-profit companies that provide excellent service with compassion and feeling. I have also met the greedy who profit off our plight, with their narrow minds and discourteous, bigoted employees; who treat people with AIDS as something less than human; who capitalize on the fear and isolation many of us experience.

Recently, Robert "Polo" Latimer passed on due to AIDS. I remember when he first started the Red Ribbon Foundation (aka the Robert Foundation). I was just starting my TV productions and have watched his group grow and raise funds for the fight, which is what he set out to do. I set out to educate and inform, to make it a little easier for the next human being who had to muddle through this often chaotic system. In this spirit, I am saddened to see the Red Ribbon Referral Line cease operation with Robert's passing. In his memory, I have opened the HIV/AIDS Referral Line through my AIDS Talk Houston TV volunteers. We have compiled an exhaustive list of good, kind people who have been there when it counted; local groups and individuals who have consistently outperformed the rest; and companies and people who support the AIDS community and its members. The Referral Line number is (713)902-2231 and it is a free call.

You will be in contact with others who have HIV/AIDS and who have been through what you're facing. Why guess and beg for services? We can show you who does what and how you get it done....

While I have your attention, please let me remind each of you that you are desperately needed to step forward and continue this fight for life. After nearly two decades, the HIV/AIDS leadership has either passed on already or is very tired. Fewer and fewer people are picking up the torch, despite the soaring rate of infection in the U.S. and abroad. Nothing will ever come about without each of us picking up the pieces and doing what we can for the cause.

I will keep on fighting for our rights and the cure; trying to make things a little easier for the next person who gets this disease. I love you all; the Houston AIDS community is brave and there are a lot of everyday heroes. I appreciate everything each of you has done for me. Your prayers and thoughts for my family in our time of need will always come back to you in your time of need. Get involved! Silence = death!

He's No Richards Supporter

Dear TWT:

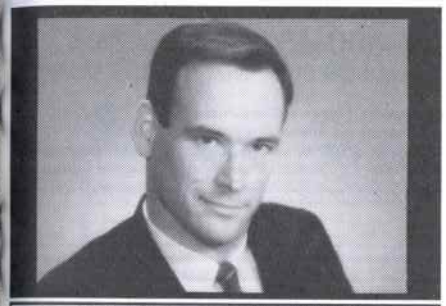

Another election year, already?

Then it is time for me to remind TWT readers that Ann Richards signed the current anti-sodomy statute into law. That's right. Wonderful, progressive, liberal Ann Richards, who caucus hacks all over the state endorsed, put her signature on the law that makes it a crime for gay people to make love in Texas today. This is the same law that is used by police departments and other agencies to justify discrimination against gay people in employment on the grounds that gay people are necessarily criminals.

No one running against her will have the opportunity to do as much harm to gay people as Ann Richards has already done.

Faithful TWT readers will remember that I was called every name in the book by writers to this column when I suggested that Ann Richards did not deserve the support of gay people. Now that she has proved herself to be the enemy of gay people, I wonder what the Democrat caucus hacks will say.

The International Theatrical Arts Society [TITAS] welcomes Alvin Ailey American Dance Theater's 35th Anniversary Tour to Dallas with two exclusive performances on April 28 and 29 at the McFarlin Auditorium on the campus of Southern Methodist University. Ailey, who in 1958 laid the foundation for what has become one of the most respected and world-renowned companies in all of dance, choreographed nine of the works to be presented, including "Cry" and the full-length "Revelations." Three recent works, "Dance at the Gym," "The Winter in Lisbon" and "Hymn," will also be performed. Tickets for the 8 p.m. performances are priced from $5-$40, and can be purchased at the TITAS box office, 2624 Oak Lawn, Suite 110, or by calling (214)528-5576.

Ted Neeley stars in* Jesus Christ Superstar in the Music Hall at Fair Park in Dallas beginning April 26.

Jesus Christ Superstar, the popular 1969 collaboration between Andrew Lloyd Webber and Tim Rice, is one of the most successful Broadway musicals of all time, garnering a then-unheard-of advance ticket sale of $1 million prior to its opening in October of 1971. Dallas audiences will have the opportunity to relive this memorable musical production when the play returns to the city on April 26 for a one-week run in the Music Hall at Fair Park. Ted Neeley and Carl Anderson, who starred in the popular motion picture adaptation of the play 20 years ago, will reprise their roles as Jesus and Judas, respectively. Performances of Jesus Christ Superstar are at 8 p.m. Tuesday through Friday, at 2 and 8 p.m. on Saturday and at 2 and 7 p.m. on Sunday, May 1. Tickets, priced $6-$40, are available through any Rainbow Ticketmaster location.

When Jeffrey was presented by Houston's Stages Repertory Theatre earlier this year, the response was so enthusiastic they decided to bring back Paul Rudnick's bittersweet comedy about love in the age of AIDS. Jeffrey, a young gay New Yorker, grows tired of constantly having to negotiate safer sex. Then he meets the man of his dreams, who just happens to be HIV-positive, and begins learning some hard lessons. Performances are May 4-22. Tickets are $15 (Wednesdays, Thursdays and Sundays) and $18 (Fridays and Saturdays). For reservations, call (713)527-8243. The Friday, May 6 show is a benefit for Team Houston, which is organizing the local contingent to the Gay Games in New York this summer. For more information about the Team Houston benefit, call (713)621-5300.

Holly Hughes gained considerable national attention as one of the "NEA Four," a group of artists who saw their National Endowment for the Arts grants pulled due to controversial subject matter. After a court fight, the grants were restored, and Hughes has gone on to further her reputation for doing openly homosexual theatre. On Saturday and Sunday, April 30 and May 1, she brings her critically acclaimed "Clit Notes" to Austin's Vortex Theatre, 1921 East Ben White. Showtime is 8 p.m., and tickets are $14 ($12 for students and seniors). Advance purchase is recommended. For more information, call (512)448-2299.

Marvin is Jewish, he's neurotic, he's divorced his wife Trina, left his son Jason and run off with Whizzer, a handsome friend who just happens to be another man. To top it all off, he wants everyone to be friends—sort of a loving, tight-knit, extended family. Marvin gets his wish and more in Falsettos, the award-winning musical about love and family in the '90s which opens Saturday, April 30 at Austin's Zachary Scott Theatre Center, 1421 W. Riverside Drive. Shows are Thursdays-Sundays (as well as Wednesdays, May 4 and 11) through June 5. Tickets are $15-$17. For show times, or to reserve tickets, call box office at (512) 476-0541.

Are your investments building dreams?

They can be. Yours and ours.

If you're investing today, no doubt you have a dream. Buying a home. Starting a business. Enjoying retirement.

At the Cathedral of Hope we have a dream as well. By buying adjacent property we can build a new Counseling Center and add meeting space. We need to raise over $1 Million. To do that, we are once again offering an extremely attractive Bond Program, paying up to 8.5% interest. We find most people do not know that their current investments can be easily converted to Church Bonds and put to work in our community.

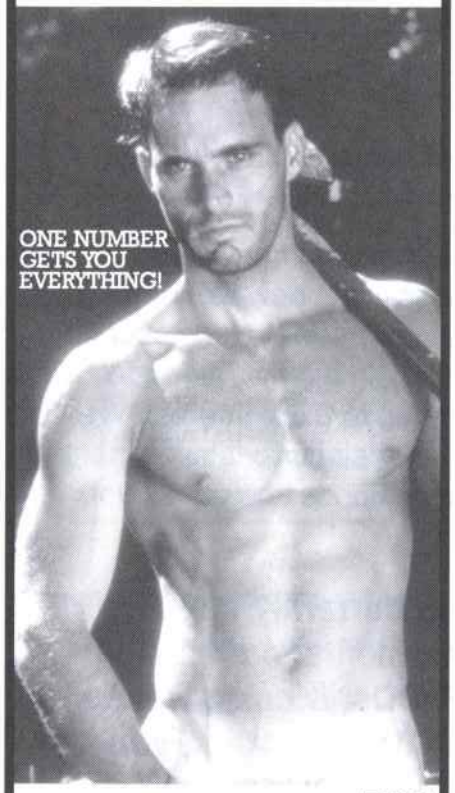

CATHEDRAL OF HOPE

If you currently have investments in an IRA, a SEP, CDs, Stocks, Bonds or a 401K program, you could be earning 8.5% while building more dreams than you thought possible.

Call John Lochner at (214) 351-1901 and ask for the details on Church Bonds.

TRIVIA

1.) Director Otto Preminger once called this famed femme fatale "a vacuum with nipples." Who was she?

2.) In gay '80s slang, what word described a gay man of a certain somewhat standardized appearance consisting of short-cropped hair and trim moustache, a flannel shirt and 501 brand Levis on a relatively well-sculpted body?

3.) Where would you be, in 1984, if you viewed Nova Productions' Brian's Boys at the French Quarter, "pigged out" at the grand-opening celebrations at Pigasus, paid just $150 for a six-month membership at Jim's Gym and enjoyed the superb pantomiming skills of Charlie Linez, Tondelayo and Ramona Sims at the Midnight Sun?

4). Who was Miss Gay San Antonio 1987?

5.) Who was Miss Gay Dallas 1987?

6.) In what 1933 film would you find Greta Garbo kissing Elizabeth Young good morning?

7.) This United States President, born 203 years ago near Mercersburg, Pennsylvania, was the nation's only bachelor to inhabit the White House. Washington gossips called his best friend Sen. William Rufus de Vane King "Miss Nancy," implying that the nation's Chief Executive was himself "Mr. Nancy." Who was he?

8.) We're not sure just how much talent this gayporn star has, but we are certain that he fills out a wet tank top quite well both above and below the waistline. He has starred in such successful films as Billy's Tales and Rags to Riches. Name this brunette hunk.

9.) "Nobody knows it. But when I was down, I was your clown, ooh, ooh, nobody knows it...." Such inane lyrics may turn off the musically sophisticated, but they catapulted a certain Elton John/Kiki Dee collaboration to the number one spot on the Top 40. Name the tune.

10.) When did the first television special on homosexuality—entitled The Rejected, and broadcast by station KQED in San Francisco—air?

1.) Marilyn Monroe; 2.) a clone; 3.) Houston; 4.) Vita Vixen; 5.) Mahogany; 6.) Queen Christina; 7.) James Buchanan; 8.) Trent Reed; 9.) "Don't Go Breaking My Heart"; 10.) 1981.

TEXAN CAROL BURNETT BORN IN SAN ANTONIO APRIL 26, 1933

STARSCOPE

BY C. LICHTENSTEIN

WEEK OF APRIL 22 - APRIL 28, 1994

Mercury squares off with Neptune and Uranus this week, which really screws up communication and the thought process. Neptune is delusional and Uranus is erratic (or surprising, but not erotic). Both of these planetary energies are not terribly compatible with effective communication or lasting endeavors. My advice: keep your crazy thoughts to yourself and bide your time until these aspects ease up in the next couple of weeks. Then dust yourself off and forge ahead.

TAURUS: (April 21 - May 21) Mercury in your own sign currently aspects both Neptune and Uranus. This can mean that your public persona is being viewed as spacy, indecisive and confused; not necessarily the way Taureans like to be viewed. On the bright side, you could also be divinely and peculiarly inspired to take risks. Don't plan any travel now; things won't pan out as expected. Wait until this planetary phase passes before you pack your bags.

GEMINI: (May 22 - June 21) Conversing with the spirits? You could be in for a treat or a jolt, now that Mercury (your ruling planet) squares with Uranus and Neptune. Psychic thoughts could be strangely on target and you could gain considerable insight into your own deep psychological motivations. Sex can be enjoyed on a much more cosmic level now, but this may also be a time when you'll be taken advantage of in a physical relationship. It's okay to be free, but don't come cheap!

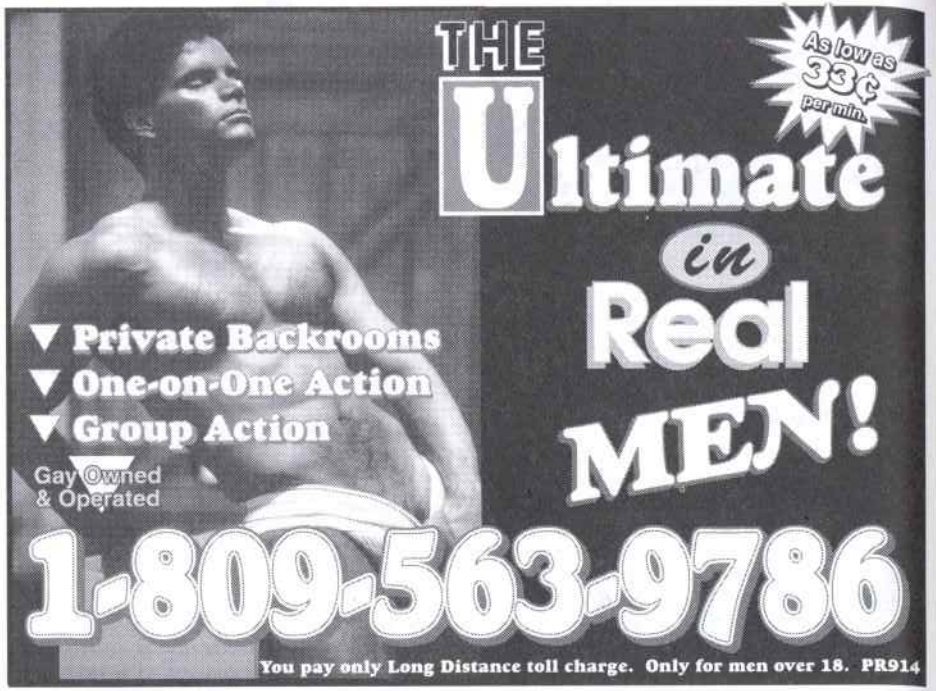

CANCER: (June 22 - July 22) Friends can interfere with the best laid plans of partners. It may be a case of "them or me!" Don't panic; this is merely the influence of mad Mercury aspecting Neptune and Uranus. Try to play the mediator, if you can. Use your charm, use your persuasive powers, use your better judgment to choose who wins... for now. Hopefully, relationships are strong enough to withstand the test of wills.

LEO: (July 23 - August 23) You strain to push ahead in your career, but it always seems as if the planets conspire against you. Mercury squares off with Neptune and Uranus, giving you busy work that manages either to remove you from the political fray when you need to be there or pushes you into the center ring when it's best to be hiding in your office. Alas, what can I say to ease the pain frustration? Is it "Every dog has its day"?

VIRGO: (August 24 - September 23) If you're even remotely considering a vacation, especially one that could involve gambling (such as Las Vegas or Atlantic City), please hold off for a couple of weeks. The combination of Mercury square Neptune and Uranus spells bad timing. Deposits get lost, hotels lose reservations and money risked on games of chance is totally spent. Want to travel? Read a good book on Italy and go out to eat.

LIBRA: (September 24 - October 23) Family and childhood memories, long suppressed, may bubble to the surface. Be warned that the aspects of Mercury, Neptune and Uranus can liberate or unleash the gremlins in the old psychological closet. This is good for the most part, for it enables you to emerge stronger and more in control of your life in the long run. In the short run, however, let's just say that forewarned is forearmed.

SCORPIO: (October 24 - November 22) If you are full of choice words for partners, just chalk it up to Mercury square Uranus and Neptune. Don't imagine issues that are not there, and try to give others the benefit of the doubt before you spray them with your Scorpionic poison. There's too much delusional thinking going on to really be sure what's true and what's fiction. Turn these potentially nasty energies into inspirational writing. Try your hand at poetry, if you dare.

SAGITTARIUS: (November 23 - December 21) Although you have a renewed interest in diet, health and exercise, don't spring for that all-purpose regime until you've had time to examine the fine print. Mercury square Uranus and Neptune tempts you to hand out hard-earned cash for less-than-reputable remedies and preventatives. Use your common sense in any project and don't risk your investments and security until you are absolutely sure of worth.

CAPRICORN: (December 22 - January 20) you may think you have personality plus, but others of repute may not share your enthusiasm. Mercury in aspect to Neptune and Uranus may make even the life of the party a little "too too." Instead of attracting the cream, you may find yourself drawing hangers-on and users of all sorts. Good-time Sally or Charlie is not necessarily your best role anyway, so choose your social circles carefully.

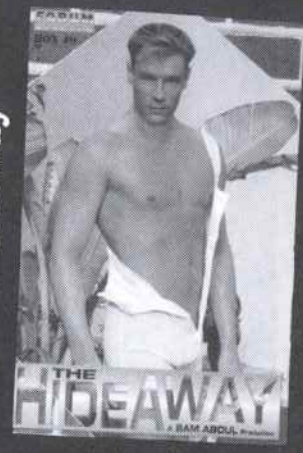

AQUARIUS: (January 21 - February 18) Don't invite strangers home; you never know what rock they've just crawled out from under. Mercury square Neptune and Uranus may make your home a tempting respite for those who may not have your best interests at heart. This is an excellent time, however, to add that special touch to your base of operations. Anything purple (which rules both Aquarius and the movement) will be spiritually fulfilling.

PISCES: (February 19 - March 20) As much as you will be tempted to call it as you see it, please refrain from being "totally honest" with friends. It's not a good time to criticize others' actions, because you really can't see the forest through the trees. In addition, Mercury square Neptune and Uranus makes you equally culpable in this tour de force. As much as you may hurt, refrain from stating your views until this planetary phase abates.

ARIES: (March 21 - April 20) Yes, you may very well deserve that raise or promotion, but this is not the time to ask for it. Mercury square Neptune and Uranus louses up any thoughts about money, investments and career. Don't enter into any investment scheme now no matter how fabulous or tempting; it's not what you expect. Swallow your professional pride and Arian bile and keep all your carefully managed funds away from meddling fingers.

Compromise Reached In Houston over Confidentiality of HIV Patient Files

State Health Department Backs Off Demand that Service Groups Begin Including Client Names In Their Records.

HOUSTON — An agreement reached earlier this week between officials of the Texas Department of Health and representatives of local HIV administrative and service groups has apparently headed off a controversy that began developing when the state agency indicated several weeks ago that it wanted service providers to start adding names to their client files. Under the agreement, which apparently applies only to Houston, a reporting system used by agencies that receive federal Ryan White funds will be extended to cover Houston-area groups that get AIDS money from the state.

TDH officials have claimed that they face increasing difficulty in defending current levels of state AIDS spending and convincing the Legislature of the need for increases, due in part to a lack of accurate data on the numbers of people being assisted by HIV service agencies in Texas. Michael Springer, Executive Director of the Houston Regional HIV/AIDS Resource Group, said he was informed during a meeting he held with TDH officials in Austin on March 21 that his agency would have to begin adding names to the information it gathers from local subcontractors and then provides to the state. TDH officials said their only reason for insisting that names be included in client files was to eliminate duplicate clients from their data, thus providing a better picture of how many people access HIV services in Texas.

"Most of the information we've gotten from AIDS service providers over the last few years [concerning numbers of people receiving assistance] has been estimates," Casey Blass, Director of TDH's HIV Division, told TWT NEWS. "It's real hard to plan for future needs without good, hard data."

While acknowledging the state's need to collect accurate information, service providers, people with AIDS and others in the Houston area condemned the TDH move as posing a serious threat to the confidentiality of client information. At a meeting held last Tuesday morning, they were able to convince TDH officials to withdraw their demand that client names be included in information provided to the state.

Springer, whose group serves as the lead administrative agency for state AIDS funds coming into the Houston area, said he was pleased with the results of Tuesday's meeting.

"I'm thrilled....I've said all along that I didn't want the names, that they would just be one more headache. They should stay with the service agencies."

The Texas Health Department divided the state into 26 "HIV Service Delivery Areas," and Houston is the only such area whose county health department uses the federal case management reporting system—known in bureaucratese as the "Uniform Reporting System"—set up to keep track of how Ryan White CARE Act funds are spent around the country. That system will now be extended to cover all agencies in the Houston area that provide services to people with AIDS.

TDH officials in attendance at the meeting indicated that the agreement reached with Houston-area agencies does not apply elsewhere in the state.

Under the Uniform Reporting System, a client file includes the person's gender, racial/ethnic background and other general information, but does not contain his or her name, address, Social Security number or other identifying data. An 11-digit alphanumeric code is used instead.

Mainstream Austin Coaliton Plans May 1 Festival

Event Will Celebrate Diversity and Support Domestic Partners Policy.

AUSTIN — As part of its effort to keep Austin's recently enacted domestic partnership benefits, the Mainstream Austin Coalition [MAC] is planning a unique fundraising event to coincide with Splash Day weekend. "Celebration Austin," billed as a daylong celebration of the capital city's music, food and people, will take place on Sunday, May 1, from 4-9 p.m. at Fiesta Gardens on Town Lake. Event coordinator Hugh Strange told TWT NEWS that he hopes people will come and be part of "Celebration Austin" after spending the day at Hippie Hollow.

The Mainstream Austin Coalition, a group of community, business and religious leaders, has been campaigning in recent weeks for the defeat of Proposition 22 in the May 7 city election. Proposition 22, placed on the ballot by a petition drive organized by a conservative Christian group, would amend the city charter to define "family" as legally married heterosexuals. Should the proposition pass, the city's domestic partnership policies would be eliminated.

Last September, the Austin City Council voted to grant insurance and leave benefits to the unmarried partners of city employees, including those in gay or lesbian relationships. Several area churches opposed to the policy then organized to force the issue to a public vote.

"Celebration Austin" will feature a diversity of food, beverages, events and entertainment. Actor/juggler/comedian/author Turk Pipkin will host the musical lineup, which includes the Therapy Sisters, Girls in the Nose, Eric Blakely, Urban Roots, the Apaches of Paris, and other Austin performers. Proceeds from the event will help fund MAC's "No on 22" campaign. Fiesta Gardens is located at 2101 Berkman Street on Town Lake.

Persons interested in helping MAC with vote pledges, publicity or fund-raising, can contact the Coalition at (512)469-7965.

Dallas AIDS Agencies to Get Federal Funds

Oak Lawn Community Services, Others to Share in Nearly $7 Million In Ryan White Money.

DALLAS— As the result of looser controls on release of funding, as well as improved grant application efforts by a coalition of service providers in the Dallas area, almost $7 million dollars in funding to AIDS service organizations in and around the city will soon be forthcoming from the Ryan White Comprehensive AIDS Resource Act of 1990.

In Dallas, Parkland Memorial Hospital will receive $1 million for patient care; Oak Lawn Community Services, $682,000; AIDS

Services of Dallas, which provides residential housing for persons challenged by AIDS, $639,000; and the AIDS Resource Center and its Food Pantry will receive approximately $391,000.

The grant to Oak Lawn Community Services, which offers a variety of counseling and care services to those with HIV, will completely fund the group's volunteer program, a fact which Delia Loe, Director of Program Development is delighted about. "We're very, very excited, particularly because it speaks to what we're doing with our volunteer group. We're collaborating with other service organizations and groups in providing the best possible volunteer service to those who need it. We're going to great lengths to do more outreach and to work together for volunteer support."

"All volunteer coordinators (from a wide spectrum of AIDS service organizations) meet once a month, and we work together to ensure that they are trained properly (on issues pertaining to AIDS) and can provide the highest level of service to our clients. Often we even refer volunteers to other agencies where their particular talents can best be utilized. This funding will guarantee that we continue to provide this same quality care package for all of our clients."

The balance of the grant to OLCS will be used to fund the various other counseling and direct-care services offered by the organization.

Likewise, the Food Pantry will put its $100,000 portion of the AIDS Resource Center's $391,000 to very good use. According to Mary Franklin, Food Pantry Director, "this money will ensure that we can provide the same level of service to our clients—or better—that we always have. And with an anticipated client roster of 600 by June 1, we'll need every penny of it to make sure that our shelves are completely and continuously stocked."

Unlike OLCS and the Food Pantry, however, AIDS Services of Dallas will still face challenges in its ability to provide client services, despite the $639,000 it expects to get from Ryan White. According to ASD Executive Director Don Maison, "This money is only a maintenance level of funding."

According to Maison, while ASD's share of the funding is an 11% increase over last year, it still does not completely cover the housing services ASD provides. "It does not adequately address the needs of those living with AIDS. The funding is determined using the number of people who have passed away. In San Francisco and New York, that number is significantly higher than here in Dallas. For those cities (like Dallas) who are in the trenches today, facing the challenges of the disease, they're not receiving the funding to do what really needs to be done. Communities need more money so they can adapt services as the needs of persons with AIDS change."

According to a recent Dallas Morning News article, Ryan White funding paid out $322.6 million for AIDS programs nationally, with amounts ranging from more than $100 million in New York City to $1.2 million in Ponce, Puerto Rico. Dallas placed twelfth in national rankings.

Houston's Agora Receives Nonprofit Status from IRS

New Officers to Be Chosen At Next Monday's Meeting.

HOUSTON — The Agora announced last week that its application for 501(c)(3) nonprofit status had been approved by the Internal Revenue Service. The IRS decision means contributions to the organization, which was founded to promote positive portrayals of the gay and lesbian community in the mainstream media, are now tax-deductible.

Agora president Cicely Wynne said her group would put its new nonprofit status to use raising funds for the first print ad of its "pro-active" ad campaign, which should be placed soon.

The Agora's next meeting, this Monday, April 25, will feature Dwight Douthit, national public service director for the American Advertising Federation. Douthit, who has directed two Advertising Federation public service committee initiatives on AIDS and cultural diversity and was one of the creators of the new "Country Music Cares About AIDS" media campaign, will speak on how advertising can change attitudes. His slide presentation will focus on the kind of educational/PSA campaign the Agora is about to launch.

Also on the agenda for Monday's meeting is the election of new officers. Bart Loeser has running for president while current president Wynne is up for vice president. Only dues-paying members are eligible to vote.

Due to a scheduling conflict, the Monday meeting, which begins at 7 p.m., is being held at a different location, in Suite 3000 (the Acacia Group) of the Coastal Tower, 9 Greenway Plaza. Otherwise, the Agora will continue to meet the fourth Monday of each month at the Metropolitan Multi-Service Center, 1475 West Gray.

AIDS Resource Center in Dallas To Expand

$145,000 Grant Will Help With Conference Center Renovation.

DALLAS — As treatment for HIV becomes more effective and people with the illness live longer, the need for new, expanded programs and services to assist them increases. But those services do not come without a price tag. In the case of Dallas' AIDS Resource Center, that price tag has been a decided shortage of space to accommodate the wide range of services it offers.

That's about to change, however, thanks to a community block grant totalling $145,000 which will be used to convert the former sanctuary at the Center to meeting space for additional educational forums and space for Oak Lawn community groups.

"The Community block grant awarded us the $145,000 for the conference center renovations, and we have to come up with an additional $50,000," said John Thomas, who is Executive Director of the AIDS Resource Center. "When [it's] completed, we will have a flexible space that can have three simultaneous sessions going on, or can be opened up...or a combination of two. The opportunities for much-needed space for AIDS education programs as well as community group's meetings are greatly enhanced."

Among the AIDS Resource Center programs offered for the community are the Hot Lunch program, which serves as many as 50 people per day at the Gay and Lesbian Community Center; Positive Personals, a personal want ad newsletter for people with HIV; Pet Pals; emergency financial assistance; a health insurance premium program; and a variety of wellness and early intervention programs. The Center has also increased its outreach efforts into the community at large by providing low-cost, confidential and anonymous HIV testing and counseling, safer sex seminars and a 24-hour AIDS hotline.

"We have always been the community-based AIDS service organization for People Living with HIV/AIDS," Thomas said. "While we support and acknowledge the need for those helping people die, we are about living and thriving and maintaining a positive, realistic outlook on life."

Much of that positive, realistic outlook is provided by the many services that the AIDS Resource Center and other community-based service and social organizations that share the space with the Resource Center provide. Thomas continues, "Hundreds and hundreds of people come through the community center every week. Groups have been born and incubated here. We are a polling place; we are a neighborhood home; we are a banquet hall; we are a conference center and a summit bringing people together."

Like the services that it provides, the renovations to the AIDS Resource Center are something that will touch the lives of countless people in Dallas in the coming years; yet one more thing that the AIDS Resource Center can be very proud of.

Oak Lawn Band Gives Spring Concert Saturday

Show at Cathedral of Hope To Include Range of Classical, Popular Selections.

DALLAS — Texas' gay community has long been blessed with a wide variety of unique and talented performance artists, from the Turtle Creek Chorale in Dallas and the Gay Men's Chorus of Houston to theatre groups both large and small around the state. With their singular talents, gay men and lesbians have added to the growing list of reasons for the community to be proud and have helped bridge the gap, through entertainment, between gay and straight people.

In Dallas, one of the forerunners in the expression of gay and lesbian art was, and still is, the Oak Lawn Band. Formed in 1980, the group has evolved from a very small marching band to a full-sized (50-plus members) symphonic band providing concert-goers in the Metroplex with a wide array of musical choices during its three-concert seasons.

Members of the band range from amateurs who "just love to play in a band" to highly successful, professional musicians whose talents rival those of the world's great symphonies. Through their music, the group strives to be a positive reflection of the gay and lesbian community.

In its nearly 15-year history, the Oak Lawn Band has become a Dallas favorite. It seems appropriate, therefore, that the group's spring concert will be entitled "Our Favorite Things." Featuring some of the band members' favorite performance pieces, the concert is tomorrow (Saturday, April 23) at 8:15 p.m. at the Cathedral of Hope Metropolitan Community Church, with Artistic Director Cathy Brown conducting. Michael Doughman will serve as emcees.

Highlights of the concert will include Shostakovich's "Festive Overture," Rimsky-Korsakov's "Procession of Nobles," Holst's "First Suite in Eb for Military Band" and Claude Smith's "Emperata Overture." And since each Oak Lawn Band concert takes advantage of the special talents of band members, the trumpet section will be featured during "Our Favorite Things" when they perform Leroy Anderson's "Bugler's Holiday." Other performance pieces include Wagner's "Elsa's Procession to the Cathedral" from Lohengrin, "Star Trek: Through the Generations" and selections from The Sound of Music.

Tickets for "Our Favorite Things" are $7 in advance at Crossroads Market and the Cathedral of Hope Bookstore, and $10 at the door tomorrow evening.

Congratulations from Alamo City HOT TEA. The Bonham will open early today and Saturday because of the Fiesta parades, which will pass right in front of the club. TGRA cascarones will be on sale to help add to the carnival spirit of Fiesta.

AUSTINteaCIOUS — Here's what's going on THIS WEEK IN AUSTIN from Capital City HOT TEA....

The number 8 was a very lucky number for Chain Drive last week as the club's anniversary party was truly festive. Captured by the CRUISE CAMERA were [above, clockwise from l] Ralph Casta, John Edmoundson, David Mader and Paul Heisel [kneeling]. Congratulations to Donald, Ricky, Garold, Paul, Brice, John, Toryn and Mike for a spectacular bash. The patio is always fun on Sunday afternoons, with good food and fun times to be had by all....

The Charlie's gang turned out in all their "Gothic" glory for the Return to Innocence Party last Saturday. Pictured above were [l-r] Darien, Jesse, Arnie, Scott and Dean. The mystic fog was all around, doing strange things to people and their hair. The dancers were hot and sweaty as they moved to the tunes of David Laird, who really knows how to keep them dancing. Next time you're in, ask David for tips on what to do with dirty glasses!...

Crossing bartenders Johnny Davis and Kindell Bagley [above] love to clown around at the club. Wednesdays and Fridays feature a free buffet and hot dancers from 6–10 p.m. We understand that some people have started arriving at the club extra early to get a good seat for some of the new dancers that have been strutting their stuff. Remember: next week is Splash, and the Crossing will be having a Beach Blanket Bimbo Party with all the fun you can handle before you head for the lake on May 1. This is sure to be a Warren original. Just who will be the most professional bimbo on the patio? Beach wear is strongly encouraged. Let's see some skin, boys!...

Oilcan Harry's has fun dance time on weekends with deejay "Dig M" [above], whose hi NRG music keeps the crowd hopping. We're still not sure what the gang at the front door's up to, but they always seem to be having their own little party as you enter the club. After a long work week, Oilcan's is the place to be on Fridays for cool beverages and the happy hour buffet. Anyone heard from Steve yet? We'll have some dirt on him when he returns from Florida. Maybe Keith will remain on station one and let Steve have the patio for a change!...

Auntie Mame's lives on with the Power of Two hitting the strings every other week. Pictured above is group manager Jenna Howell, on her knees, begging for something we really weren't sure we could mention! What do you think? We've learned that James had just too much fun with Sid, Bob, Robert and Bob on the boat and doesn't remember all that much. We won't tell you everything, but we think he got more than even he bargained for. Speaking of boats, ask Michael Thompson when his birthday is and if there's something he would like to replace the tacky milk jug he needs when romping about on the boat!...

Up at 'Bout Time, things are happening with style. Chaze's birthday bash tonight should be real festive. Stop in earlier for Karen and Roy's Pre-Bash Splash happy hour, with food by Jerry and David. They say Miss Mona has a new pair of shoes, or is she walking funny these days for other reasons? You go, girl! Don't forget the volleyball court, which is open seven days a week all day and night. Coming soon: "Midnight Blackout" volleyball games.

DALLAS TEA — Here's what's happening THIS WEEK IN DALLAS from Big D HOT TEA....

Circle May 8 on your calendars. That's not only Mother's Day, but it's also the day that you can see all of your favorite humpy bartenders from the Round-Up Saloon in various stages of cross-dress as the club presents its Turnabout Show. Now we've seen Randall Vickers as Amnesia, but the thought of studly Terry Bucher and Mark Jiminez in hose and heels is almost too much to bear. The entire event will be a salute to community favorite Tom Davis, and it will all benefit the Dallas NAMES Project. So when you're through with Mom, head to the Round-Up....

Groundbreakings are always thrilling experiences, so you can imagine the delight that the members and staff at Cathedral of Hope Metropolitan Community Church felt when they turned the shovel for their new facility next door to the Cathedral. For those of you who don't remember, the new facility will house counseling and outreach

Further down Cedar Springs at the Crossroads, we continue to point out that JR's is one place you're guaranteed to find the best-looking men in Dallas, and we have photographic evidence to prove it. Just look at hunky Bret Hunter [above, l], with his equally stunning sidekick John Cunningham [r]. While we admire Mr. Hunter in a T-shirt, think of how much more luscious he'd be if we'd captured his image on Tanned and Tanked Sundays at the club. That's what every Sunday afternoon has become as all the beauties arrive fresh from sunbathing in their tightest and most revealing tank tops. Congratulations go out to former staffer Eric Hennant, who now holds the record for longest consecutive sunbathing in the back seat of a Jeep with straw in his hair....

TMC head honcho Frank Tanqueray Myers is back from his playcation in Cancun where, we understand, the studly one participated in water sports for the very first time—for over an hour. Speaking of water, the club hosted its first Wet Boxer Contest of the year and, also a first, awarded top honors to the fab femme above. Also a first is word from our sources that David "Miss Ellie" Ellis and "Daddy" Joe Root have a new hobby. Seems that manly duo likes the feel of gassing up together. Just how big is that tank, guys?...

Hungry? Hungry Jack. Well, in this case it's hungry Chip as trumormongers monger over the insatiable appetite of Crews Inn's daytime mixmaster Chip Aldridge for meat every afternoon. That's Chip, pictured [above, r] with equally hungry Lenny Hugley [l]. Those same mongerers are reporting that staffers Keith Woods and Jerry Harris have set up house together, even going so far as to install a tasteful red light over the front door. By the way, April is menopause month at the club, but Viv's symptoms seem to be subsiding now that her April 15 cycle date has passed....

Next door at Zippers, we noticed a particularly handsome danceur de dique undulating on the club's world-renowned posing platforms during a recent spin through the Fitzhugh libation lounge. We didn't catch his name, but we feel confident that Miss Mona knows it. The big one is just one of the manly dancers you'll find at the club seven nights a week....

While we're on the subject of manly, we always have a great time with the men of the Brick, especially since they always do such manly things—like demonstrations by the National Leather Association in the art of all things rawhide. Charles Yeager, Larry Arbo, Mark Frazier, Cobert Coatrieux and Johnny Grey [above, l-r] know a little about that—they're all big movers-and-shakers in that segment of our community. Not pictured with those five manly types is club staffer David Smith, who—despite a second feminine raving in which chiffon literally spilled out of his mouth—is very definitely a man....

We stopped by John L's recently for one of Coco's power-packed performances and were treated to entertainment of a different sort—the sight of sexy staffer Zak Dillon. We must admit that it was quite difficult to keep our eyes on the stage, which is where you'll find Pat Peterson presenting her very high energy one-woman show tonight and tomorrow. There's something for everyone at the ivory palace....

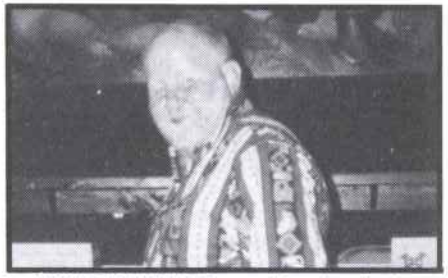

Cowboys and cowgirls love to wander, as evidenced by the CRUISE CAMERA photo above of four members of the roper set who we discovered at Sue Ellen's recently. That's Culley Seymour, Terri Elderidge, Becky Edmondson and handsome Shan Cromeens [above, l-r], who were on hand to wish Linda Ronk a safe visit to Galveston. We called up for dirt, and all we got was sand....

Next door at Village Station, former staffer Tom Chapman dropped by the club to visit his old comrades and, as always, the VS staff rolled out the red carpet for him—just as they do for all of Dallas' party people. While he stayed for awhile, he missed the onstage antics of Nakoma Shaye [above], who's a regular in the club's cast of entertainment luminaries that appear each Wednesday through Sunday in the famous Rose Room. Believe us, their shows are not to be missed....

Damewood'z staffer, oh-so-precious Kyle Hennigan, is doing a little bit of role reversal lately. Seems the cute one is now playing the part of the "older man" in his newly-formed relationship d'amour. Since Kyle himself is just beginning his third decade on the planet, that must make his paramour—a cute little military type—oh, at least 20. According to club manager Peggy Smith, this is the weekend that Kathy Jack will be in the bushes, as Damewood'z vows to kick Sue Ellen's butt in their annual softball match this Sunday.

HOUSTON HOTTea — Here's what's going on THIS WEEK IN HOUSTON from Bayou City HOT TEA....

The roast and toast for Walter Carter [above] at the BRB was a beautiful evening of love and laughter. His acid-tongued friends shared some vivid stories while raising over $2,000 for the Colt 45's and the Montrose Clinic. This Sunday at 7 p.m., the girls of the Garden Party present another one of their musical extravaganzas. "Hairspray" is sure to be an outrageous spectacle. The BRB is a really great place for dancing and dining. Every Thursday is burger night and every Sunday is steak night. Some delicious deals are waiting for you at the Brazos River Bottom....

Tonight and tomorrow as well as next Friday and Saturday, April 29 and 30, Missouri St. Station welcomes one of Houston's most dynamic cabaret duos. The unique song stylings of Jerry Atwood and Ricky Comeaux have made them longtime Houston favorites. Don't miss special appearances by these two talented performers....

Time is running out. The grand prize drawing for a fabulous Soloflex Muscle Machine is next Tuesday, April 26 at JR's. You can still register prior to the midnight drawing. Along with the suspense of who the lucky winner will be, JR's will present hot male dancers, Grab for Cash and the all-new jockey shorts contest. While you're there, say hello to handsome new bartender Tom Kupferer [above]. His gorgeous smile highlights Houston's largest weeknight party....

Heaven gives you what you want—good friends, good times and great entertainment. Tomorrow night, the lovely ladies of Fem 2 Fem hit the stage for a special midnight show. Two hundred of the group's cassingles will be given away at 11 p.m. Lipstick club kids, go-go boys and hot international house music by DJ/VJ Shawn Byrne complete this high energy event. Something out of the ordinary is waiting for you at Heaven's Mondo Bizarro Wednesdays. Next Wednesday, April 27, the club presents a Serial Mom movie promotion. This celebration of cult king John Waters' latest creation will feature movie passes, T-shirts and poster giveaways all night long. See you there....

Across the street at the Montrose Mining Company, the hirsute hunks of Houston will gather for next Wednesday's Bear of the Month contest. On Friday, April 29, the Mine hosts a special Torn Levis Party featuring adult video legend Rick Donovan. The midnight show, autograph party and photo shoot on the patio is sure to be an enormous amount of fun. On a recent Sunday, we captured Mark Ziegler [above, l] enjoying the talents of Hardcore Dancer Javier [r]. Check out the action at the Mine for yourself....

Are you ready for Splash Day? If you're still searching for that perfect swimsuit, get over to Basic Brothers. They have hundreds of styles and colors to choose from. The best selection of fun-and-sun apparel is at Basic Brothers....

Congratulations to TGRA. Their "Wranglin' and Rustlin'" show at Gentry raised $555 for the Houston chapter. Tomorrow, the gay bowlers are sponsoring a car wash in the club's parking lot to benefit the International Gay Bowling Association. The one hosted by the Gentry softball team [above] was a super success. Do you remember the seventies? Relive those memories this Sunday when the Imperial Court presents "Disco Daze," an evening of trash with flash. Always remember that sexy male dancers, including the new Boy Toy of the Year Chris "Rip" Clark, strut their stuff seven nights a week at Gentry....

The sounds of yesteryear are alive and well on Fridays at Rich's. Dance diva Viola Wills [above] put on a terrific show at one of the club's recent Trash Disco celebrations.

On Friday, April 29, you can disco in your drawers at the April Showers Underwear party. This Sunday, get out your brightest whites for White Party '94. Special guests for the evening, America's sexiest twins, Derick and Erick, will bump and grind on the main stage along with Butcher Boy dancers, two shows in the meat locker and live music on the patio. The "Other White Meat" is going to be served hot....

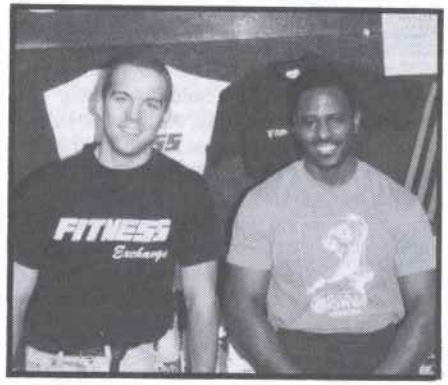

Everyone is invited to join in on the fun at Amie's. The club's exciting entertainment lineup includes a dart tournament on Mondays, a live Latino revue on Thursdays, Laura Lee Love and Pretty Boy dancers on Fridays and Lady D with the Rhythm and Blues Express Band on Saturdays. Just in time for summer, Amie's will soon be unveiling its new patio....

Stop by and check out one of Houston's best kept secrets—the 611. Saturdays feature male dancers from 9 p.m.–1 a.m. while Sundays offer you a free brunch and a pool tournament at 3 p.m. On Saturday, April 29, they'll be hosting a party for all their loyal patrons who celebrate birthdays in April....

With the loving memory of the most thoughtfully fun, loving and talented person I've ever known, I regret to announce that Jay Lazano passed away Wednesday morning, April 13. Jay left behind a large family and many friends who loved him dearly.
Jay, I love you deeply and will miss you forever.
Marty Yaklin

March 29, 1963 - April 11, 1994

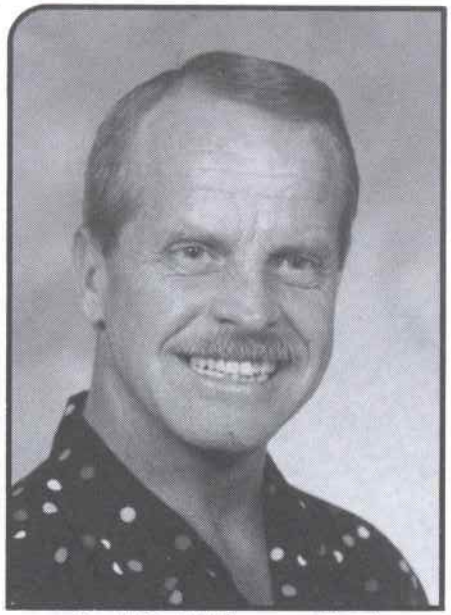

Missing you is something
I feel every moment.
It's like a little piece of sadness.
that I carry around with me.
When I stop what I am doing to take a moment to think of you, there is an emptiness that fills me up inside.
But along with the sadness
there are wonderful memories.
And when I think of all the special times we've had,
I can't help but smile
in spite of the sadness.
It is then that I realize that I would rather feel the pain of missing you than lose a single memory of you and me together.
I love you forever
Shane

In Loving Memory of
September 9, 1959 - March 30, 1994

She was a very loving and caring person. She had many friends here and past.

The world will miss you, but the heavens will love you.

God's Bouquet

You have seen the darkest purple and gazed at crimson red,
The colors of God's rainbow in a spring fed flower bed,

In awe you have viewed the roses with velvet tips that glow, and with patience you have waited for the lily its face to show,

For God has given us this beauty
every bloom he counts each day,
And he sees each fallen petal that in time must fall away,

Then he gathers each precious flower in his storehouse up above,
Where the angels gently gather every petal with tender love,

Today with wings of eagles
a rose has flown away,
To find his place in God's garden
in a land of brighter day,

The thorns of his life are over his joys will never end,
With rewards that are unending for the master his garden will tend,

So let not your heart be troubled neither let it be afraid,
For when a loved one is called away they become a part of God's Bouquet.

All your friends and family will always love you. You were a true Sis and friend. You gave and taught me much.

Deanna.

In Memory of Edward Mark "Kitzy" Kitzmiller
August 23, 1962 - March 31, 1994

Remember your Creator in the days of your youth, before the days of trouble come and the years approach when you will say, "I find no pleasure in them"— before the sun and the light and the moon and the stars grow dark,
and the clouds return after the rain;
when the keepers of the house tremble, and the strong men stoop, when the grinders cease because they are few, and those looking through the windows grow dim; when the doors to the street are closed and the sound of grinding fades;
when men rise up at the sound of birds, but all their songs grow faint;
when men are afraid of heights and of dangers in the streets;
when the almond tree blossoms and the grasshopper drags himself along and desire no longer is stirred.
Then man goes to his eternal home and mourners go about the streets.
Remember him—before the silver cord is severed, or the golden bowl is broken;
before the pitcher is shattered at the spring, or the wheel broken at the well, and the dust returns to the ground it came from,
and the spirit returns to God who gave it.

Thank you for being a friend to many. We will never forget you.
