FROM ALL WALKS OF LIFE

5K Event Raises Funds For AIDS In Austin This Sunday

BY CHRIS GRAY

Over 500 volunteers are putting the finishing touches on the seventh annual 5K Austin AIDS walk, "From All Walks of Life," which takes place this Sunday, October 23 at 3 p.m.

More than 5,000 walkers are expected to take part, and Walk Director Kathy Taylor told THIS WEEK IN TEXAS that organizers hope to bring in even more than the $300,000 that was raised last year. The Walk primarily benefits AIDS Services of Austin, with 25% of the net proceeds going to 15 other AIDS organizations.

Registration for the walk begins at 1 p.m. in Waterloo Park. Opening ceremonies commence at 2:30 p.m. and the walk itself officially kicks off at 3. A celebration will take place in the park at 4 p.m. Austin Mayor Bruce Todd and state Sen. Gonzalo Barrientos are expected to speak. Entertainment will be provided by singer Susannah Sharpe and the Samba Police, the comedy group ComedySportz Austin and the four-woman performing group The Cow Patties.

The individual who turns in the most collected pledge money will be awarded a prize of round-trip tickets on Delta Air Lines to any destination in the world. A team prize will also be presented in the form of commemorative plates provided by Clarksville Pottery and Galleries.

The City of Austin Health Department estimates that there are 5,000 Travis County residents who are HIV-positive, so the need for services is crucial. As of June 1 of this year, 2,000 cases of AIDS have been reported in Travis County.

AIDS Services of Austin [ASA] serves as many as eight counties, depending on the program that is offered and how it is funded. The programs are available to anyone who is HIV-positive or symptomatic with AIDS.

ASA offers preventative education to the community at large, an anonymous information line, deaf community education on AIDS, as well as a number of direct care services that include a food bank serving over 700 clients monthly, a buddy helper program, legal advice, a dental clinic, home health care, case management and a speaker's bureau that reaches some 30,000 people annually.

Taylor explained that the title of From All Walks of Life "is symbolic, [in] that everyone is affected by AIDS, and that everyone can do something to help in the battle against AIDS." She added that it's still not too late to sign up to take part in the walk. Those who wish to participate can call Taylor at (512)452-WALK or may register at Waterloo Park on Sunday.

The other agencies benefiting from the walk are Advocacy Outreach, Inc.; ALLGO/Informe-SIDA; the Austin Center for Attitudinal Healing; the C.A.R.E. Program; the Central East Austin Community Organization; Christopher House; Community Action, Inc; the HIV Study Group; the HIV Wellness Center; Interfaith AIDS Care Teams; Out Youth Austin; the People's Community Clinic; Planned Parenthood of Austin; Project Transitions; and the Waterloo Counseling Center.

EXIT TO EDEN

REVIEWED BY DAVID PARNELL

To some, the story of Exit to Eden will be completely unfamiliar, while to others it will send delightful tingles up and down their spine. This movie is based on one of Anne Rice's most popular non-vampire books (written under the pen name Anne Rampling). When I say "based," I mean very loosely, incredibly loosely. Those who have read Exit to Eden will be exceedingly disappointed, but, sadly, those who have not read it will also be disappointed.

For some odd reason, the makers of this film (I blame director/producer Garry Marshall, of Happy Days and Pretty Woman fame) decided the original story wasn't enough. The main plot in the movie revolves around two Los Angeles cops who travel to a sadomasochistic resort (Club Eden) on a tropical island to catch some elusive diamond smugglers. The subplot concerns a love story between the island's main dominatrix (as played by Dana Delany) and a visiting photojournalist who has a fetish for being punished (Paul Mercurio). It doesn't take a genius to figure out which plot was added to the movie version of Exit to Eden.

Rosie O'Donnell and Dan Aykroyd play Sheila and Fred, the police officers who go undercover to Eden to crack the smuggling case. The usually very funny O'Donnell (last seen as Betty Rubble in The Flintstones) is given a role that has no character, no flavor and no personality. She basically plays herself, cracking one-liners throughout the movie. O'Donnell is a brilliant comedienne, but, unfortunately, one can hear only so many S&M jokes before the humor turns stale. Aykroyd sleepwalks his way through Exit..., playing straight man to O'Donnell's ever-so-understanding-of-the-S&M-world wild woman. With a little more effort, the makers of this movie could have turned the story of Sheila and Fred into the wonderful sexual awakening of two repressed individuals, but they opted instead for PMS and vibrator jokes. There are some funny moments here, but not enough to warrant the price of admission.

The subplot involving Mistress Lisa and the thrill-seeking Elliot is so jumbled and confused that one wonders why the producers even bothered leaving it in. These are characters that needed depth and explanation, yet none of that is to be found here. Mercurio as Elliot is a joke. Although he's got a nice cute butt, he can't act. If you were impressed with him and his dancing in the Australian film Strictly Ballroom, you'll be peeved at his rudimentary performance here. The audience is never offered a reason why Elliot is drawn to the island, even though the movie hints there is one. We also never get into the character deeply enough to understand why Lisa would be so drawn to him. The movie simply asks us to accept on faith that this man is interesting and beguiling.

Dana Delany (of TV's China Beach) is completely wasted and, as the only positive aspect of this movie, way underused. A very talented actress, Delany has a certain intensity as Lisa that makes the few scenes she's in bearable, and plays the iron-hearted dominatrix with such burning eroticism that she steals them all. Again, however, the audience is left to do an incredible amount of guessing and assuming. Although we're told through flashbacks of Lisa's past as a person weak and easily taken advantage of, we switch back to Rosie and Dan making penis jokes. It gets rather frustrating. Delany plays the meek Lisa with the same level of intensity as the dominatrix Lisa. She quite simply oozes sensuality. It's obvious a great performance was left somewhere on the cutting-room floor.

If you go to this movie expecting groundbreaking sadomasochistic follies, you'll be sorely disappointed. Most of the movie's S&M and B&D action is implied, not shown. Moviegoer beware—chances are you'll leave the theater feeling cheated and had by all the hype.

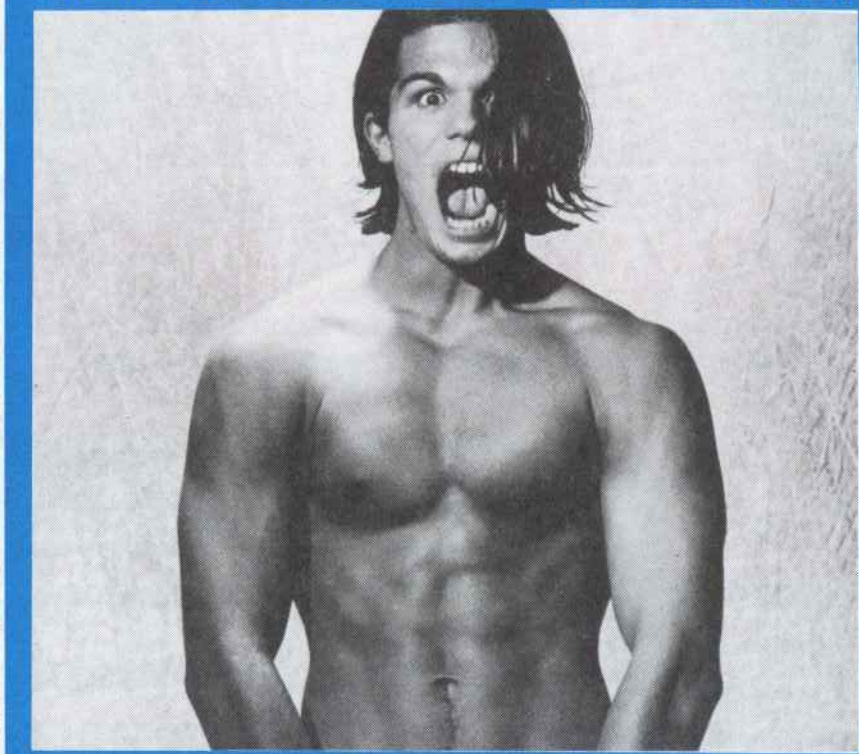

If you read books, read the one this movie is "based" on; if you don't, and feel compelled to go see this lame excuse for a movie, wait till it comes out on video. Maybe the powers that be will reedit this pile of muck into some semblance of entertainment.

BOOK REVIEW

LAURA BENKOV'S Book Explores the "Cultural Earthquake" Lesbian And Gay Parents Are Helping To Create

Reinventing the Family- The Emerging Story of Lesbian and Gay Parents by Laura Benkov, Ph.D.; 289pp.; nonfiction; Crown Publishers; $22.

In her new book Reinventing the Family, Laura Benkov, a lesbian parent, clinical psychologist and instructor in the Department of Psychiatry at Harvard Medical School, has utilized personal stories by children of gay parents and the parents themselves to demonstrate what she terms a "cultural earthquake." In record numbers, lesbians and gay men are choosing to have children and redefining the concept of family. These families, which don't conform to existing legal definitions, are challenging state laws and society itself as they reinvent the concept of what it takes to be a family.

Benkov's book documents the social and legal history of gay parents and their struggle for validity as family. But just what is a family? The ideology of the traditional family remains a significant force despite the fact that so few such families actually exist. Traditionalists tend to focus on the components of the nuclear family as morally superior, rather than face the reality of the relationships within. This continuing emphasis on "family values" actually serves as a smoke screen to divert attention from traditional problems like incest, verbal and physical abuse, gender inequality and poverty.

An estimated four to 10 million children with lesbian and gay parents continue to be harmed by this rampant homophobic rhetoric. Gay parents have a difficult time reinforcing positive self-esteem and positive family identity amongst this bigotry. They also experience great pain and confusion attempting to shield their children from the pain of growing up in a homophobic society. Benkov adds that research indicates that children of homosexuals are no more likely to have emotional problems or confusion concerning gender identity and sex roles, or to grow up gay, than children raised in a heterosexual environment.

According to existing legal definitions, gay parents and their children aren't considered families, and continue to challenge a homophobic society still isn't sure whether gays should raise children in the first place. Same-sex couples must adopt as single parents and not as couples. Hence, lesbians and gay men have expanded the very definition of family by often ignoring the components of the nuclear family, and by focusing instead on caring, love and commitment between unrelated persons.

In the 1970s, many openly gay parents were punished by the legal system with the loss of custody and visitation rights. By the 1980s, some states were enacting laws preventing foster care and adoption by gays. A tremendous upsurge of homophobia among the fanatic Religious Right in the 1990s has further censored information available to children concerning alternative lifestyles, and questioned the constitutional rights of lesbians and gays.

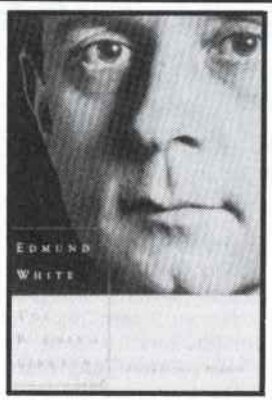

With the reinvention of the family, many important questions are continuing to challenge the legal system: Can children have two parents of the same sex? Does a sperm donor have legal rights as a father? What happens to a child if his or her biological or adoptive parent becomes incapacitated or dies? Who gets custody if parents break up? Do extended blood relationships take precedence over non-biological parents?

Even language affects lesbian and gay families. Since a name describes not only a child's relationship within the family, but establishes the child's identity to the world, whose name should he or she have? Since society doesn't recognize the gay parent-child bond, there exists no universal linguistic way to establish the importance of both parents in relation to their child.

Language problems also develop between parents, children and extended families when biological relationships take precedence over family dynamics. Sometime societal homophobia demands that one parent be referred to as "mommy" or "daddy," often at the expense of the other parent's feelings and position.

Benkov's book is enlightening, disheartening and hopeful. Those who so desperately need to read it probably won't, and will no doubt continue to perpetuate homophobia and discrimination against the parents and children of these new families. But there is hope, as evidenced by the personal stories of these courageous pioneers who continue to battle society and the legal system for what is rightfully theirs—families of their own.

NURTURING WITH NUTRITION

Your Food (and Your Presence) Can Be A Great Help to Those Whose Illness Keeps Them Homebound

Food has always been one of the things that people often use to make them feel better. Think about some of your favorite memories; isn't food involved in at least one of them? The State Fair of Texas would not be the same without those corny dogs. Could you go to New Orleans and not eat beignets or gumbo? Aren't bagels better in New York City? And, for that matter, isn't salsa better in San Antonio?

That's why certain foods such as chicken soup have been considered a vital part of nurturing a person who is sick. Picture this: You're not feeling well and you're hungry. What sounds good? Anything you don't have to fix! That is why soup is often what we choose when we don't feel very good, because it is quick and easy. Nutritious? Yes, but usually not nutritious enough, if you only eat one bowl of soup. Hearty soups such as chowders and stews are a better choice for increasing calorie and protein intake. Adding milk instead of water to a canned soup will also increase calories and protein. Canned soups, handy snacks and frozen dinners are great to keep for times when you don't feel up to making a meal.

Perhaps one of the best requests you can make of someone who calls when you're "under the weather" or ill and asks "What can I do?" is to suggest bringing food. Not only can they bring food, but they can stay with you for a meal. So many people who are ill would like company; it does get a little boring and lonely watching the soaps all day long (unless it's Friday, when all the good stuff happens!).

Getting food is often the biggest part of avoiding malnutrition, whether the problem is physical or financial. Many people we talk to work all day and are too tired to fix a meal, and it's great when a friend brings over one or several frozen meals which can then be microwaved. Also, having to remain at home for medical treatment and therefore unable to get to the grocery store can be a problem. Ask someone to pick up a few things at the store, or if you have a friend who's sick, offer to do so yourself. For those who don't cook, most restaurants will pack up any order to go, and often the portions are large enough to make up two meals. This is also great for those spur-of-the-moment dinners for two or more.

The question of most significance, whether you're the friend bringing the food or the friend asking for it, is what kind? One of the keys is providing a variety of nutrient-rich foods. Main dish foods high in protein include meat, poultry, fish, eggs and dairy products. Roast beef and brisket can be prepared in large quantities, then sliced and frozen in individual portions. Cooked chicken can be frozen in soups or roasted, broiled or baked, then reheated in a microwave or conventional oven.

Your presence and the food you bring may prove to be a lifesaver to someone who is too ill to leave the house.

Frozen fish can be prepared quickly and easily in the oven or microwave, so it isn't as important to prepare and freeze fish as it is with other foods. Ham tends to lose flavor and texture in the freezer, so don't keep it frozen more than a month or two. Fresh or frozen vegetables can be added to make a complete meal. Chicken and other soups can be easily frozen and used as needed. Just freeze these in individual portions.

Make sure the foods to be frozen are prepared in a clean environment and frozen properly—that is, wrapped in freezer paper or plastic freezer bags. Many containers are freezer-to-microwave safe and these are great, too. One thing to remember about reheating frozen food is not to leave it out to thaw on the counter, especially if you're immune-suppressed. Thaw foods in the refrigerator, or slow-cook them in the oven. In the microwave, use the "defrost" setting first and then heat the food thoroughly.

It is easy to nurture with nutrition. Be sure to call your friends who are ill or who must stay at home and ask them what they would like for you to bring them. Your presence and the food you bring may be a lifesaver!

LARGEST INDOOR DISPLAY OF THE AIDS MEMORIAL QUILT IN DALLAS NEXT WEEK

100,000 People Expected to View Panels; Organizers Say Opening and Closing Ceremonies Will Be Emotional

BY CHRIS GRAY

The world's largest indoor display of the NAMES Project's AIDS Memorial Quilt comes to Market Hall in Dallas next weekend, October 28–30 to honor the memory of those who have died of the disease. More than 100,000 people are expected to view this display, which represents people in 29 countries and all 50 U.S. states.

The display, aided by the efforts of over 1,400 volunteers, will include 3,000 panels of the Quilt and take up nearly 130,000 square feet at Market Hall. While this is the largest indoor display of the memorial panels ever, the entire Quilt, housed in San Francisco, consists of more than 27,000 panels, a bleak testimony to the ravages of the disease we have come to call AIDS.

If all 27,000 panels were laid side by side, they would cover an area equivalent to 11 football fields. The Quilt, while immense, represents only 12% of all U.S. AIDS deaths. The World Health Organization estimates 4,000,000 cases of HIV worldwide as of July. While the figures themselves are astounding, the loss of lives—and what those people could have accomplished—is even more profound.

The Quilt has become a nonthreatening approach to AIDS-related issues which has helped some to learn about the disease, others to express their feelings about the epidemic and prompt still others into action.

Many who have already viewed the Quilt tell of its incredible emotional impact, especially when seeing so many panels laid end to end, representing people from all walks of life who have lost the battle to HIV.

In fact, organizers of the event, in anticipation of the emotions the Quilt will evoke, will have trained counselors on hand for those viewing the display who may feel the need to talk to someone.

In testament to how much the Quilt means to those affected by HIV and AIDS, event Co-Chairman Jerry Lynn told THIS WEEK IN TEXAS that a 75-year-old mother from Oklahoma City, upon learning of next week's display in Dallas, will be flying into the Metroplex on Saturday morning to attend the exhibit, which includes panels in tribute to two of her sons who have died from AIDS, and will leave that same day.

Friday, October 28 is student day at the Quilt, and from 9 a.m.–4 p.m. the display will be closed to the general public. Students from area middle and high schools will come to Market Hall to view the Quilt, with one middle school expected to send some 500 pupils.

The opening ceremonies on Friday night will feature 20 teams of unfolders of the panels being displayed, which will be accompanied by the reading of names of local people who have died of AIDS who do not have panels in the Quilt. The Women's Chorus of Dallas and the Children's Gospel Choir will provide entertainment for the evening.

At closing ceremonies on Sunday, the panel dedication will take place, and will feature a performance by the Turtle Creek Chorale. Lynn told TWT he expected the closing ceremony to be incredibly emotional, as those who have made panels for their loved ones will bring them forth and place them in the display. In addition, the names of all 3,000 people remembered on this portion of the Quilt will be read out loud.

The NAMES Project Foundation was started in 1987 by a group of individuals in search of a way to document the lives they feared history would neglect. They each came to the project with the hope of creating something that would serve as a lasting symbol of love and remembrance of those lost to HIV, something that would make the United States, and the rest of the world, understand the devastating impact of the disease.

The goals of the nonprofit organization remain the same today: to increase public awareness of the AIDS epidemic and HIV prevention; to offer a creative form of expression for all whose lives have been affected by HIV and AIDS and to preserve the memory of those who have died as a result of the disease; and to encourage support and the raising of funds for people living with HIV and AIDS and their loved ones.

In 1988, the NAMES Project was nominated for a Nobel peace prize. In 1989, the Quilt again garnered international attention when the film Common Threads: Stories from the Quilt won an Academy Award for Best Feature Documentary. The Quilt's value as an educational tool was solidified during the 1993 Labor Day weekend when it was featured in the ABC television special In A New Light. An estimated four million Americans learned about AIDS during that program.

Admission to the Dallas Quilt display will be free. Program books and other souvenirs such as pins and T-shirts will be available for purchase. Organizers hope the sale of such merchandise, along with the donations of several major sponsors, will help both cover the cost of bringing the Quilt to the Metroplex and also put more than $100,000 into the coffers of six local AIDS service organizations, AIDS Services of Dallas, Bryan's House, Cathedral of Hope MCC-Dallas, Oak Lawn Community Services, the AIDS Resource Center and the AIDS ministry of White Rock Community Church.

Just to fly the 3,000 panels of the Quilt to Dallas will cost an estimated $21,000. That doesn't include the cost of transporting the panels to Market Hall or back to the airport. Rental for Market Hall for the three days the Quilt will be displayed there is another huge expense.

The Dallas Quilt Display Committee includes city and community leaders, among them Mayor Steve Bartlett; Pastor Jerry Cook; Tom Davis, who has donated countless hours to the project; City Council members Paul Fielding, Craig Holcomb, Chris Luna and Craig McDaniel; national TV personality Judith Light; Don Maison of AIDS Services of Dallas; Justice Barbara Rosenberg; Dr. Timothy Seelig; John Thomas; the Rev. Carol West; and Patricia Wetzel, M.D.

The Display Steering Committee, which has worked tirelessly for months, consists of Jerry Lynn and Janna H. Edwards, who serve as Co-Chairs, as well as David Elliott, Tim Halsey, Craig Hess, Marilyn Hollingsworth, John Lambert, Bill Oden, Julia M. Ponder and Jan Togal.

Sponsors who have made significant contributions include Willow Distributing Company, which distributes Coors and Strohs products. The company recently donated $5,000 to the AIDS Quilt display to match funds raised through a project of the Round Up Saloon, in which the club carried a huge Texas flag in the recent Alan Ross Texas Freedom Parade. This year, parade participants tossed $7,211 into the flag, and Willow matched the first $5,000 of that amount.

American Airlines, the American Red Cross, KVIL Radio, Stanley Korshak, the Turtle Creek Chorale, the Visiting Nurse Association and the Women's Chorus of Dallas have all assisted the Display Committee.

Official hours for the AIDS Memorial Quilt display are as follows: Friday, October 28—Opening ceremonies begin at 7 p.m. The display will be open from 7:45–10 p.m. On Saturday, October 29, the display will be open from 9 a.m.–9 p.m. On Sunday, October 30, the display is open from 9 a.m.–4 p.m, with closing ceremonies slated to begin at 4 p.m. Sunday.

After the Dallas display, the Quilt heads back to its headquarters in San Francisco, where it is stored in a climate-controlled building.

For more information about the Quilt, or to volunteer (and volunteers are still needed), contact Co-Chair Jerry Lynn at (214)823-3899.

Dignity/San Antonio will be hosting their Annual Ball, "A Night Out on the Town," on Saturday, November 5 at the St. Anthony's Hotel. Tickets for the dinner and dance are $25, $10 for the dance alone. Dress is semi-formal. There will be door prizes, with the grand prize being a color television set. For more information, or to purchase tickets, call (210)558-3287.

In an effort to become more inclusive, the San Antonio Lesbian/Gay Political Caucus has changed its name to the San Antonio Equal Rights Political Caucus for Lesbian, Gay, Bisexual and Transgendered Rights. Caucus leaders are currently working with the San Antonio Express-News to improve local coverage of gay issues, and with the Police Department concerning the recent sting operation in area parks. The Caucus has been designated one of the beneficiaries of this year's HRCF Black Tie Dinner. For more information on the Caucus and any of its activities, call (210)545-9097.

MCA Choosing Beneficiaries

Dear TWT:

The Miss Camp America Foundation Inc., a 501(c)(3) tax-exempt organization, will be accepting grant requests from Houston-based charities that provide assistance to persons with AIDS.

As a private foundation, our main purpose is to raise funds for other 501(c)(3) tax-exempt groups that serve the AIDS community. For the fourth consecutive year, the foundation will be donating all profits from next year's pageant and yearly fund-raising events.

Within the next month, a special committee will be evaluating the financial and policy statements of organizations that wish to be considered. Interested charities should contact me at (713)729-9662.

Past recipients of grants include The Assistance Fund, Bering Dental Clinic, Pet Patrol, the NAMES Project Houston, PWA Coalition of Houston, the Colt 45's Trouble Fund and Body Positive/Houston.

The 50 members of the Miss Camp America Foundation Inc., with your support, are proud to be assisting our community. Together we can make a difference.

Rethink S.A. Endorsement

Dear TWT:

This letter is written in the hopes that some of you will reconsider the endorsement by the [San Antonio Equal Rights] Political Caucus for the position of [Bexar] County Clerk.

I have known Bob Green personally and professionally for many years. I know him to be sincere in his support for human rights and dignity.

On a professional level, Bob has come to my rescue many times through his position as County Clerk. When parents and/or lovers of deceased clients had problems with probating a will, getting certified copies of death certificates or just fighting the bureaucratic red tape that comes along with such a situation, Bob was a lifesaver. He went above and beyond the call of duty to expedite these tedious proceedings.... He did so without regard to situations, gender or sexual orientation and without ever asking for an endorsement or thanks or acknowledgement, then or to this day. I and many others owe him a debt of gratitude.

Aside from the County Clerk's office, Bob has participated in both displays of the AIDS Memorial Quilt, HeartStrings, Walk for Life, the Procession of Hope and many other agendas for this community.

I sincerely hope that the Caucus will reconsider its endorsement and...will support this long-term, proven, true friend of this community.

'Follies' Benefit Stone Soup

Dear TWT:

The annual Lake Livingston Follies were held on September 17 and the event was a huge success, raising $9,700 for Stone Soup, the AIDS Foundation Houston, Inc. food assistance program.

AIDS Foundation Houston, Inc. wishes to thank the hosts and participants of this event for their support of the HIV community. Their financial backing of this fund-raising effort assists AFH in its mission to serve client needs. Currently, AFH has a caseload of over 1,900 people living with AIDS. The demands on our resources are always growing and community support through events such as the Lake Livingston Follies provides us with invaluable resources.

On behalf of the clients, volunteers and staff, we extend our heartfelt thanks to all who participated in the Follies.

Chairman, Board of Directors

Rivercenter Comedy Club and the San Antonio AIDS Foundation will host a Halloween night comedy and costume party Monday, October 31 at Rivercenter Comedy Club, Rivercenter Mall. Bob Smith, the first out gay comedian to appear on The Tonight Show and to have his own HBO comedy half-hour, will make his San Antonio debut during this one-night, two-show stand, which kicks off SAAF's Walk for Life. A longtime member of the comedy trio Funny Gay Males, Smith bases his humor on his persona as the amiable, boy-next-door type who just happens to be gay. Local comedian Tiny Mac, known as San Antonio's "would-be king of burlesque," will also perform. Costumes are encouraged, and there will be judged costume contests. Showtimes are 7:30 and 10 p.m. Tickets are $12 in advance, $15 at the door, with a limited number of corporate tables seating 12 for $250. A portion of the proceeds benefit SAAF. For reservations, call (210)229-1420.

WEEK OF
October 21 - October 27, 1994

MICHAEL DOUGLAS
BORN OCTOBER 25, 1944

The Sun changes signs this week, moving from balanced and diplomatic Libra to passionate Scorpio. Yikes! There are now four planets in Scorpio, not counting spry Mercury, which just retrograded back into Libra. Are we all just a tad intense now? Read ahead to see how the Scorpion excites your sign.

SCORPIO: (October 24 - November 22) The Sun in your own sign dramatically pushes you into the limelight. Use your considerable talent to manipulate the crowd to your way of thinking. First impressions go well, so use this time to meet influential people who can help you along. It is the true Scorpio who can turn the key that opens doors to opportunity. I believe you are well up to the task.

SAGITTARIUS: (November 23 - December 21) Intuition is on target. What more do you need when the Sun is in Scorpio? Volunteer and serve those in need; it's time to give back to the community, so get that good karma going. A suggestion: you may want to get more involved on the political level. Use your talents to fortify grassroots movements to push our candidates and our agenda.

CAPRICORN: (December 23 - January 20) Friends come to the rescue with the Sun in Scorpio. You are able to rely on others to help you out of a jam. Conversely, you may be called upon to do your duty for a friend in need. Don't worry; the Sun's magnificent energy makes all this effort worth it. You can feel proud of who you are and with whom you surround yourself. Let us be judged by the company we keep.

AQUARIUS: (January 21 - February 19) Career opportunities practically fall into your lap when the Sun enters Scorpio. Look ahead as in a chess game. You are able to use the scorpion energy to carve out that perfect political scheme and ply it to your advantage in professional matters. Grab the gusto while you can; it's not often that you can play the politico in the old shark tank. Grab a fin and go for a joy ride.

PISCES: (February 20 - March 20) If you seem to yearn for the farther horizons and exotic travel, blame it on the Sun in Scorpio for heating up that urge. Now you must attain a global perspective and judge your life philosophy against a larger framework. This should offer you a chance to change the way you deal with stress and frustration. At the very least, you will be more content with your personal lifestyle.

ARIES: (March 21 - April 20) I know I rattle on about sex and more sex for you at this time, but the Sun in Scorpio keeps most of your energies on the hotbed of hot beds. Thank goodness Aries have the energy to keep going and going. There's also the chance you are truly reevaluating your inner motivations and desires. Are you happy with who you are and what you've become? Ask Dr. Lichtenstein!

TAURUS: (April 21 - May 21) The cluster of planets in Scorpio now includes the Sun. Lucky you! Partnerships take on a new, intense focus and you may be able to charge up an otherwise drab relationship. This area influences other needs and desires. and therefore attract new associates. You are always the charmer.

GEMINI: (May 22 - June 21) Work, work, work. Is that all there is to life? Perhaps... now that the Sun has entered Scorpio. With so many planets hovering in Scorpio, you may feel that the job is the be-all and end-all of your existence. On the bright side, this strong and passionate energy will enable you to accomplish a tremendous amount of work in a relatively short amount of time and with as much political impact as possible.

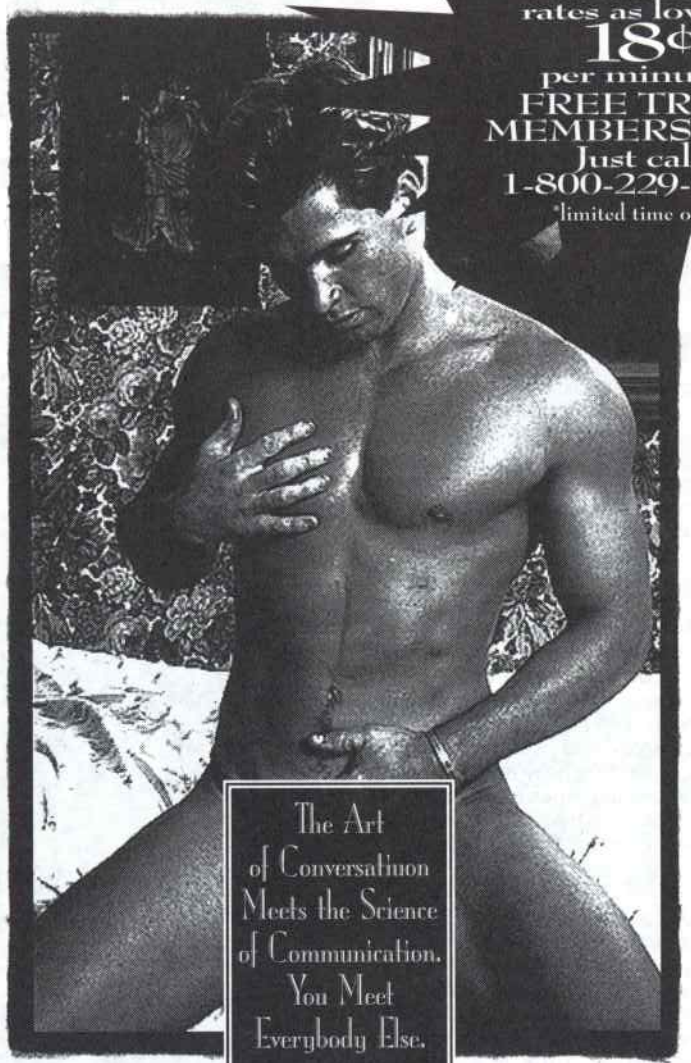

CANCER: (June 22 - July 23) The Sun in Scorpio warms up your more creative side. It may be hard for you to concentrate on the mundane and humdrum, but, since you may be able to whip up a new solution to an old, nasty problem, do apply this energy to the day-to-day. You may have the urge to dance, perform, compose or paint. Try it yourself or watch others do it. All this delightful artistic energy could lead to romance or a quick flirt or two.

LEO: (July 24 - August 23) Your home sparkles with activity now that the Sun has moved into Scorpio. Find an excuse (as if you need one) to gather compadres and other folk to the old homestead for a nice dinner party. You'll find your surroundings especially comforting now and may get a few new decorating ideas in the process. Above all, learn to relax and be exactly who you want to be, family dictates be damned.

VIRGO: (August 24 - September 23) You manage to maintain a certain bite in communications when the Sun enters Scorpio. Observations are spot on as you're able to make your point very clearly and very sharply. The Sun's placement also enables you to read between the lines, delving deep into others' motives. Ferret out the imposters and go in for the kill; during this burning sun, Virgos should take no prisoners!

LIBRA: (September 24 - October 23) Let the Sun in Scorpio shine on your investments. Scorpion energy in your area of money enables you to purposefully and strategically generate the greatest bang for your buck. In order to reap the greatest benefit, ask for advice and do your money management homework. Then do what you must to guarantee yourself a nice soft nest egg.

State Lobby Holds Planning Meeting With Groups from Around Texas

March on Austin Next Spring, Statewide Fund-Raising Event At Top of LGRL Agenda.

AUSTIN — The Lesbian and Gay Rights Lobby of Texas will hold a march on Austin in the spring as part of its campaign to make state legislators aware of the group's political strength and needs.

Nearly 40 members of regional caucuses and alliances from around the state gathered in Austin last Saturday to make plans for the 1995 legislative session. Dianne Hardy-Garcia, Executive Director of the Lobby, said all of Texas' major cities were represented except for Harlingen and Laredo, whose representatives were unable to attend.

"We decided we will march on Austin either at the end of March or in early April," Hardy-Garcia explained. "We'll have a combined lobby day and the march. At that time, we'll also start an annual fund-raiser, a big statewide party to address some of the problems we have with our money leaving the state."

"We need to support our national organizations, and do," she added. "But we also really need to support local organizations. I think it's important to note you're not going to get Texas legislators to vote our way unless you have strong local groups. You're never going to get a legislator to vote your way if they don't realize they have lesbian and gay people living in their districts, who can hold them accountable. We need people to invest locally, to make both money and time commitments."

The October 15 gathering at Metropolitan Community Church of Austin included discussion of what was going on in each area of the state. "It was very productive," Hardy-Garcia said. "I'm proud of the efforts we've made around the state; we've got some pretty good groups. Now we have to step up the effort to make sure local groups get the support they need."

Hate-crimes legislation is high on the agenda for LGRL and its allies. Hardy-Garcia noted, "We've really worked very hard to bring public attention to hate crimes. To a great extent, we believe hate crimes are a product of the hate preached by the Radical Right. They've [crimes] been committed mostly by teenage boys; they weren't born to hate, they were taught to hate. They have to be taught otherwise, that it's wrong, and that there should be great punishments for these kinds of things."

State Log Cabin Chooses Officers

Von Wupperfeld Reelected President Of Gay Republican Group; Ball New Vice President, Smith Selected as State Secretary.

TEXAS — The Log Cabin Republicans of Texas announced the election of new officers last week. Returning as State President is Paul von Wupperfeld, who is one of the original organizers of the gay Republican movement in Texas and a founder of Log Cabin Austin. Von Wupperfeld, who is also active with Planned Parenthood and P-FLAG Austin, is believed to be the first openly gay person to manage the campaign of a Republican candidate in Texas.

Patrick Ball of Houston was elected State Vice President, the first statewide office he has held with Log Cabin. Ball is immediate past president of Log Cabin Houston and currently serves as a precinct chair on the Harris County Republican Party Executive Committee. He is also a former Vice Chairman of Senate District 6 and a member of the GOP State Rules Committee.

Andy Smith of Austin, outgoing State Vice President, was elected State Secretary. Smith, who is currently serving his second term as president of Log Cabin Austin, was State Chairman of the College Republicans and a member of the State Republican Executive Committee in 1989–90.

Local Log Cabin chapters have announced support for statewide and local candidates in the November 8 elections. The Austin group has endorsed Steve Mansfield for Court of Criminal Appeals, Place 1; Burgess Beall for State Rep., District 48; Bill Childers for Travis County Judge; Tom McMillan for Travis County Clerk; and M. Charity Bloss for Justice of the Peace, Precinct 2.

In Houston, the local Log Cabin chapter is supporting Robert Eckels for Harris County Judge, a stance which has drawn fire from some non-Republican gay leaders who claim that Eckels' campaign has been downplaying or even denying such support.

Dallas' Turtle Creek Chorale Opens 15th Season

Group Appears in Concert with Betty Buckley This Weekend; European Tour, New CD Releases Among Future Highlights.

DALLAS — As the Turtle Creek Chorale opens its 15th season in a performance with actress Betty Buckley this weekend, the renowned 200-member all-male chorus is embarking on an ambitious season.

While last year's season was capped with the national airing of the acclaimed PBS documentary about the Chorale, After Goodbye, this year and next, the group, under the leadership of its Artistic Director Dr. Timothy Seelig, is setting its sights even higher—making its mark on the world music stage by performing in several European cities next summer.

The Chorale has also just released its seventh recording, A Roamin' Holiday, made during the four sold-out holiday concerts performed at Dallas' Meyerson Center in 1993. The group's eighth CD is due out in January of next year, with a ninth recording planned that will include the Fort Worth Symphony Orchestra.

Seelig, the driving force behind the Chorale for over seven years, was recently appointed to the adjunct music faculty at the Meadows School of the Arts at SMU, where he will be teaching vocal pedagogy.

The Turtle Creek Chorale's 15th season kicks off tonight with a show entitled "B Is for Broadway Blockbusters," a Broadway revue starring Ms. Buckley, who made the Dallas performance her one and only engagement in the U.S. before she returns to her starring role in the London production of Sunset Boulevard.

Buckley will be accompanied by her band from New York City in addition to the Turtle Creek Chorale, which will be accompanied by the Oak Lawn Band's Dallas Jazzworx. Performances are this evening (Friday, October 21), tomorrow and Sunday at 8 p.m. in McFarlin Auditorium on the campus of Southern Methodist University.

The Chorale's holiday schedule includes "Blast from the Past," a program which will relive 15 years of the group's holiday offerings. That concert will be held at the Morton H. Meyerson Center, the Chorale's home, on December 4, 7, 11 and 12, and will include accompaniment by the Dallas Wind Symphony.

TCC will present a "Bon Voyage" concert as it prepares for its summer European tour. "Bon Voyage" will also be held at the Meyerson, on March 5 and 8, 1995, with the Women's Chorus of Dallas and Ballet Dallas as special guests. On June 11 and 14, the chorus will bring "Brahms and More" to the Meyerson, featuring the major choral works for male chorus and symphony orchestra, with the Fort Worth Symphony Orchestra as its guests.

July will find the Chorale conquering new territory as they head to Europe, where they will perform in Barcelona and Berlin and end up in Prague.

Because the Chorale is an all-volunteer organization and members must pay their own expenses for projects like the European tour, the group has established a "Jobs Line" to raise funds. Members will do odd jobs, such as cleaning, lawn care, housesitting, pet care, moving, painting, wallpaper hanging, office/administrative tasks, sewing/drape-making and general errands. The Jobs Line number is (214) 832-5950.

The Dallas Morning News, WFAA-TV, Eagle Honda and the Southland Center Hotel are this year's season sponsors. Additional support is provided by the City of Dallas Office of Cultural Affairs, the Texas Commission on the Arts, TACA and the 500, Inc.

UT President Closes Discrimination Case

Letter to Gay Employee of School Recognizes Concerns While Finding No Evidence of Bias in Firing.

AUSTIN — Jamie Southerland is content to put his sexual orientation discrimination charges behind him to get on with his new job at the University of Texas. He feels he made his point.

In a letter to Southerland on September 30, UT President Dr. Robert Berdahl said there was no evidence of discrimination in Southerland's June 30 firing as a special assistant to the vice president. Southerland's termination, allegedly for insubordination, was later rescinded, and he was reassigned as a special assistant to the Controller on July 18.

"It was a 14-page letter, and if you read between the lines you'll understand why I'm satisfied that this is over," Southerland said. "He says in the letter, 'In making these findings, I do not dispute that you believe that the claims you made are true, nor do I find that the perceptions you had were unreasonable, when viewed in the context of your personal circumstances and the timing of events.'"

"Just in talking with him," Southerland continued, "Dr. Berdahl seemed to be genuinely concerned about the issues of discrimination. For the president of the university to personally handle this...impressed me."

Southerland used funds from the Texas Aquatics Program to reimburse himself for an $81.25 membership in the American Institute of Certified Public Accountants; that action led to his firing. He told TWT NEWS last weekend that he felt he should be reimbursed, since the subscription was necessary to his job. "Things [others] did were certainly worse than what I did; that was my entire point in fighting being dismissed for the reason they gave," Southerland explained.

Asked if he'd do anything different if faced with the same situation, Southerland thought a moment, then replied, "I might not go to the press as soon. But I didn't trust UT; I knew if I went to the press, they'd investigate [the discrimination charges] seriously. The press kinda sensationalized it, though.

"Despite everything, I'm glad I came out about myself; I'd definitely encourage any gay man, lesbian or bisexual who has not come out to do so. It sounds crazy, but it's easier to not be accepted by the outside world than to not be accepted by oneself. I have to be comfortable with myself, not be lying to myself."

NATION'S LARGEST ALL-WOMEN'S 5K RUN/WALK SATURDAY IN DALLAS

'Race for Cure' Will Benefit Breast Cancer Education, Screening.

DALLAS — Over 10,000 women are expected to participate in the Susan G. Komen Foundation's 1994 Race for the Cure 5K run/walk this Saturday, October 22 at the Galleria Dallas-LBJ Freeway and the Dallas North Tollway.

Several members of the Dallas Women's Chorus will also be participating in the walk. Breast cancer is one of the group's major charities, along with HIV/AIDS organizations.

A portion of the proceeds from the race will go to breast cancer education and screening projects for those in need. The race will also help fund the Komen Foundation's National Grant Program.

Dallas native Francie Larrieu Smith, a five-time Olympic athlete, will serve as National Honorary Chair, while Linda K. Peterson is Dallas Race Chair and Ruth Altshuler is local Honorary Chair.

The major national sponsor for this year's Race for the Cure is Dallas-based JC Penney. Other national sponsors include Jenny Craig, Inc. and Pier 1 Imports. Dallas sponsors include Aetna Health Care Systems, the Dallas Morning News, Kimberly-Clark Corporation, KVIL Radio, Sprint and WFAA TV.

In addition to being a road race for serious runners, Race for the Cure is an event which attracts many first-time and recreational runners. Entry forms are available at all Dallas-area JC Penney stores, Jenny Craig Weight Loss Centers, Pier 1 Import locations, Galleria merchants and area sporting goods stores for those interested in taking part in the race or in sponsoring someone.

Entry fees are $18 through today (October 21) and $20 at the race tomorrow.

Registration and packet pick-up begin at 6:15 a.m., followed by warm-up exercises at 7:30. The 5K (3.1 mile) run/walk begins at 8 a.m., followed by a one-mile fun run/walk.

Meeting in Portland This Weekend Will Address Legal Issues of Importance to Gay Men, Lesbians.

TEXAS — For the first time, Texans will be playing a significant part in the Lavendar Law Conference, sponsored by the National Lesbian and Gay Law Association [NLGLA]. Lavender Law IV, to be held this weekend in Portland, Oregon is expected to draw over 600 lesbian and gay attorneys and legal workers from around the country.

For the first time in the history of the conference, Texas will be sending a large number of speakers to participate on a variety of topics including the fight against anti-gay and lesbian referenda, transgenderal law, family law affecting lesbians and gays, criminal law affecting lesbians and gays, gay and lesbian estate and family planning, lesbian legal theory and many other topics not addressed at other U.S. legal conferences.

The conference, which is being held at the Portland Hilton, will be co-chaired by Houston attorney and NLGLA Region 8 representative Robert M. Rosenberg and University of Houston law professor Mary Ann Bobinski, who assisted in programming the conference. Among the speakers from Texas are Austin attorneys Suzanne Bryant, former co-chair of NLGLA, and Tom Doyle, one of five plaintiffs in recent litigation involving Section 21.06 of the Texas Penal Code.

Additionally, Shimon Kaplan of Beaumont, as well as Texas Southern University professors Kenneth Williams and Gene Harrington, transgender law specialist Phyllis Frye, and Patricia O'Kane and Eric Sunde, all of Houston, will be featured speakers.

AIDS INTERFAITH NETWORK HAS NEW EXECUTIVE DIRECTOR

Dr. Roger Wedell Named To Replace Duane Bidwell At Fort Worth-Area Agency.

FORT WORTH — AIDS Interfaith Network, Inc. has named Dr. Roger Wedell as its new Executive Director. Wedell replaces Duane Bidwell, who had served in the post since 1991 and who has left to pursue graduate work at Brite Divinity School.

Wedell had previously held the position of Coordinator of the Arlington-Mid-Cities office of the AIDS Outreach Center. He has also served as Campus Minister at the University of Texas at Arlington and is an Occasional Professor of Religion at Texas Christian University. He was named Minister of the Year for 1993 by the Arlington Ministerial Alliance and sits on the Board of Directors of the Greater Dallas Community of Churches.

Wedell said he intends to expand the area covered by AIDS Interfaith Network if there is a demand for the group's services. The agency already serves Tarrant, Denton, Parker and Johnson counties.

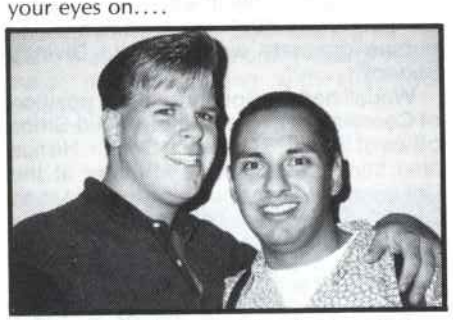

"As the epidemic of AIDS continues to grow," Wedell told TWT NEWS, "the Care Team Project, the primary service of AIDS Interfaith, will need to grow to meet those demands."

AIDS Interfaith Network is a nonprofit social service organization with offices in Tarrant and Denton counties. As its name suggests, the agency's focus is on HIV, and through its Care Team project it provides care and companionship to people living with AIDS and their families. The organization offers an HIV wellness program that includes both physical and mental wellness. Spiritual counseling and crisis intervention is also provided, along with ongoing HIV education programs.

DALLAS TEA — Here's what's happening THIS WEEK IN DALLAS from Big D HOT TEA....

Whitney Paige's Stud Search at JR's on Tuesday nights is really bringing in the crowds, and it's no wonder, what with cute young men like the ones pictured above with her entering the contest. The popular Cedar Springs bar is known for its handsome men and view of the strip. It's also become a place to stop in on Mondays to sample both the club's Martini Madness specials and four delectable go-go dancers to feast your eyes on....

If you're in the mood for dancing, then Village Station is one of the best places to go, especially tonight when Cruising the Crossroads hits the club from 10:30–11 p.m. Todd Weatherford and Jeff Johnson [above, l-r] showed us some of their moves on the dance floor the other night when we cruised through the club. We also spotted some of their hunky dancers in the new addition that we would have liked to put the moves on. HOT TEA was told staffer Brett "The Taz" Fowler is longing for some bearcubs to lumber into the club, while the front door people aren't as choosy, our sources tell us....

Billy Herron told HOT TEA you may not recognize the Brick soon, what with all the remodeling that's going on at the club. We're sure, however, that you'll recognize the Mount-N-Men, who perform Sunday night for the leather lovers on Maple Avenue. Next Sunday, they'll bring you the object of many a fantasy, the hot Marco Rossi, who's been one of our fantasies for a long time. If you can't wait until Sunday, there are go-go boys Wednesday and Thursday nights at 10 p.m. to keep you revved up. We're told The Headquarters next to the Brick will have its grand opening Halloween weekend....

In a preview of the Wet Jockey Shorts contest at the Round Up Saloon on Monday nights, daytime bartender Dwight Mathews strips down to his Calvins in the front bar to tantalize the loyal customers, who don't seem to mind being exposed to this sexy man. We hope customers Jacques Lee, Ken Russell and Jason Smith [above, l-r] will take part in the contest—that'd certainly make some people wet, including us. Speaking of wet, that's exactly how staffer Michael Lee found a pair of false teeth left behind, floating in a commode in the women's restroom recently. Were they really the secret property of Miss Lee?...

Zippers continues to bring you some of the humpiest dancers around, like Sean Colby, who dazzled the Fitzhugh club-goers last weekend. You can always catch dancers at the club every night, starting at 9 p.m. This weekend, they'll have three dancers to help put you in a partying mood. HOT TEA was told Vivian Vance is now queen of the lake since she bought a new boat. Does this mean she's into water sports now? We're also told bartender Glen Harper is getting a lot of exposure lately, but we can't say more....

Last night, it was the Bear of the Month contest at TMC, which is known as a haven for those of the hirsute set. Sunday night, the ever-popular Bear Buns contest will take place, always a revealing experience for both the contestants and the audience, who get to root for which man they want to get "behind." The suds also flow on Sundays in the club's beer bust, as does the music, usually pumped out by one of the fiercest spinners in town, Frankie Malcuit....

Cruising the Crossroads from 9:30–10 p.m. on Friday and Saturday is always a good time to go to Sue Ellen's. So many Cedar Springs clubbers converge on the nitespot to take advantage of its dance floor, its games and the patio, which has a bar and lots of good-looking men and women out having a good time. You can usually catch a volleyball game in progress, especially if the SMU crowd is there. Don't forget Tuesdays' Show with No Shame and Thursdays' Cash Show, which have both become even more reasons to make Sue Ellen's a stop on your night out....

Tonight, it's DarkDance at Millennium, when they dim the lights, pump up the music and feature hot dancers painted in day-glo colors. Be sure to be at the club Thursday, October 27 to help staffer Michael T celebrate his birthday when four centerfold models will try to make his wishes come true, strutting their stuff all night long....

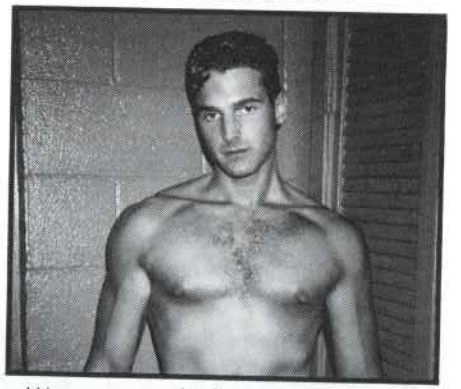

John L's Cabaret has snared two national acts that we're sure you'll want to see. This Friday and Saturday, comedian Mark Davis, who's been featured on VH1 and Comedy Central's "Out There," will take to the stage. Next Friday, for one night only, national recording singers/comedians Romanovsky & Phillips bring their act to the club. Be sure to reserve your seats now, because both of these shows promise to be SRO events....

It may be getting cooler, but Moby Dick has some things to warm you up, like bartender Scott Kirby and customer Terry Jones [above, l-r], who we saw at the club recently. You can also warm up with all the special coffee drinks at the Tiki bar, like their smooth Irish Cream drink. If you're in the mood for something stronger—and nippier—the chilled Jagermeister will hit the spot. Thursdays, bring your gym card to rub elbows—or whatever—with other gymsters, and receive special drink prices....

We ran across the fine specimen of manhood pictured above dancing at Crews Inn recently, and we were duly impressed with Ron Longstaff's dark good looks and sexy eyes. There's dancers like Ron at the club Wednesday through Monday starting at 5 p.m. to help get your evenings off to the right start. Tuesdays, the club is packed with what seems like most of Dallas, taking advantage of special drink prices, and also trying to take advantage of some of the staffers....

The holiday season is coming up, so you better start getting in shape now in preparation for all the goodies you'll be eating. One easy place to do it is Midtowne Spa, where they've got Nautilus machines and fitness instructors waiting for you. Steamrooms, jacuzzis, dry saunas and tanning beds will also help you look and feel your best. Don't forget the club's Flashlight Party coming up on Sunday, October 30 with free flashlights and erotic male dancers.

Age 22

God saw that he was getting tired and a cure was not to be, so He put His arms around him and whispered, "come with me."
With tearful eyes we watched him fade away, although we loved him we could not make him stay.
My Lord speaketh to me;
Wake my soul.
The Holy Spirit nourishes me;
Rise my soul.
My blessings with thee I share;
Feel my soul.
Through my sorrows and woes;
My Lord strengthens me;
Endure my soul.
My life's journey and here after;
My Lord giveth to me;
Praise my soul.
With my Lord God, I am;
Rest my soul.

Kevin, Chuck, Ben, Ty, Rudy
Your extended family and friends

July 15, 1959 - October 4, 1994
Poem written by Bruce at age 15
"What Do I Want?"

I am a teenager
And you ask me what I want.
I want time to be alone,
Alone with myself and my thoughts.
I want to be accepted for what I am
And who I am with no strings attached.
I want to be loved by those
Who brought me into this uncertain life.
I want a home that is rich
In honesty and sharing and caring.
I want to be heard because
I just may have something you need to hear.
I want to know more about myself,
My sexuality, my desires, my drives.
And I want to know God
And to worship Him in my own way.
I want to live life one step at a time,
For only then will I know its fullness.
And as I would have my life for me,
So would I have yours for you.

Survived by Wayne Kelly of Dallas, companion of the last 10 years.

I miss you, baby
Wayne

Arthur Gene Jumper (above)
February 22, 1946 - September 25, 1994

Gene Jumper, 48, of Austin, Texas passed away September 25, 1994 at his parents' home in Houston, Texas. Survivors are his mother and father, both of Houston; and several brothers and sisters throughout Texas. He will be remembered by friends from the Austin area.
Your pain is gone, you are now in God's hands. We will all miss you.

Al, Jerry, Jim, Mike and friends

August 2, 1963 - October 1, 1994

James "Keith" Rasberry, age 31, died on Saturday, October 1, ending a long battle against AIDS. He was a remarkable man who believed that he had been called by God to help others and that his special mission was to let others know that it's okay for a person to be gay or lesbian. He worked tirelessly as a member of the Metropolitan Community Church of the Resurrection to carry this message wherever he went. He was one of the founders in 1988 of MCCR's "Empowerment for Living" HIV support group. A printer by trade, Keith became a proud and devoted member of the staff of the Montrose Clinic, where he helped hundreds of persons affected by and, as he was, infected with HIV.

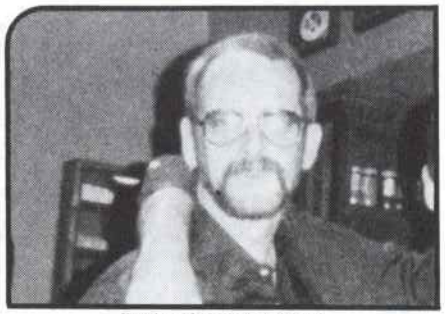

He leaves behind his loving parents Patsy and Carl; his three brothers, Michael, Tommy and Mark; and many, many loving friends. During his last illness, Keith was especially blessed by the care of his loving brother, Michael, and his friend and physician, Patricia Salvato.

A memorial service and celebration of Keith's life and ministry will be held at MCCR on Sunday, October 30 at 1 p.m. In lieu of flowers, donations to the Montrose Clinic are requested to purchase a tree in Keith's memory at their new building on Westheimer.

"Well done, good and faithful servant...Come and share your Savior's happiness." Matthew 25:21.
We miss you, Keith, but you will live on in our hearts and the hearts of all who love you.

Ralph, Chris, Angie and all your other friends and family

A memorial service for the late Bobby Kennedy, past owner of Eagle Leathers of Houston, Austin and Dallas, will be held at Mary's Outback, 1022 Westheimer, on Saturday, October 22 at 12:30 p.m. A balloon release will take place at 1 p.m. to coincide with a similar release at his family home in Oakridge, Tennessee by his immediate family members.

Born October 22, 1939 in Lynch, Kentucky, Bobby was preceded in death by his parents, Lee and Irene Kennedy, and his longtime companion, Rob Johnston. He is survived by brother and sister-in-law Frank and Anne Kennedy; nephews Chuck, Doug and Scott and their families; and brother Charles and his family.

Bobby is also remembered by a worldwide company of friends for his wit, easy grace and giving nature. A consummate storyteller with a wicked sense of humor, he will be sorely missed.

See you later, Ethel
Love, Doug, Don and your
"Houston family"

Randall Lynn Nibert
November 24, 1961 - October 13, 1994

Randy Nibert passed away after a long and valiant battle against HIV disease. Mr. Nibert had been living in Texas for about one year and passed away surrounded by family and friends. He leaves behind his spouse Michael L. Faulkner, his mother, father, two grandmothers and his brothers and sister.

There will be a memorial service at DJ's, 611 Red River, on Saturday, October 22 at 6 p.m. Randy will be missed by all who knew him.

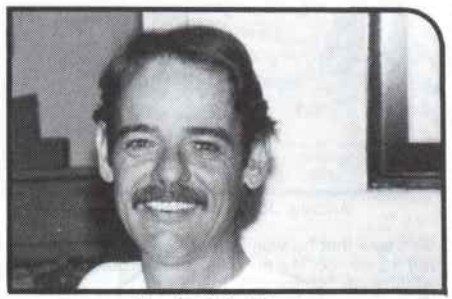

Steven Robert Mehal

Steve slipped from this world while sleeping peacefully during the early morning hours of Friday, September 30, 1994. Steve was an Information Specialist for Baylor Health Sciences Library, and served as Interim Director for several months prior to retirement. Steve's interests were reading, leather, the symphony, amateur wrestling, WRR, commodity trading, PBS Britcoms and uniforms.

Surviving family includes his parents Ed and Pat Mehal and sister Charlotte Mehal. He will be missed by friends Reagan and Kirby, John, Brock, David, Jimmy, Steve and Vince, Scott and Melissa, the staff of Baylor Health Sciences Library and many others.

A memorial service will take place at 10 a.m. on Saturday, October 22 at Cathedral of Hope MCC, followed by a formal communion. In lieu of flowers, please send memorial gifts in his name to the AIDS Resource Center Food Pantry and/or Habitat for Humanity. For more information, please call (214) 788-0976.

Miss you terribly,
Steve Giammarco

In loving memory of Marvin Cain, who on the evening of January 6, 1994 ended a courageous fight against AIDS. He was a loving, caring and understanding man. He leaves behind many friends and family who love him dearly—a loving and understanding mother and stepfather, and family, and a lover who loved him no matter what the circumstances were.

Babe, you are resting now and so is my heart, knowing that you aren't suffering anymore.

Love you forever,
Until we meet again,
Kevin

Don't grieve for me, for now I'm free
I'm following the path God laid for me.
Perhaps my time seemed all too brief.
Don't lengthen it now with undue grief.
Lift up your heart and share with me.
God wanted me now, He set me free.

Tom fought the battle with AIDS for more than seven years; finally, the disease was stronger than he. In the early morning hours of Saturday, September 11, 1994, he passed from this life, at home, in Indianapolis, Indiana. With him were his lover/companion of 16 years, T. Ross Head, and members of both their families.
