Trade Anyone?

Foreign Trade, that is!

email Jimmy at TWTdallas@aol.com

by Jimmy R. Smith

Ask people their thoughts after hearing Foreign Trade, and you won't get a response listing similar sounding DJs, bands, artists, and eras. You get descriptions of cities, feelings, places, and memories. That's because there simply isn't anything out there quite like it. Foreign Trade's electro-funk (eFunk) is 100% fresh-squeezed, organic, technocolor music whirled together by band members, Liz Pitts - vocalist, lyricist, opinion monger and booty shaker Micah Baner - computer guru, jive-ass freak show and comic relief, and Klaus Milbitz - composer, intensity specialist and recovering jazz musician

Their mission is simple, but not easy - infuse the fragmented dance music scene with a fresh, enthusiastic vibe. And, they certainly have chosen to accept it. Foreign Trade calls to mind a very hot, very new love interest from somewhere rather exotic, perhaps Ipanema, or maybe Virgo A in the Virgo Cluster. The songs are typically up-tempo, with a few decidedly chill numbers thrown in for good measure. Most are originals, but here and there you'll find an unlikely classic morsel like "Lazy Afternoon," with sultry lyrics and a sexy bass line John LaTouche and Jerome Moross never saw coming. Nothing is off limits when it comes to crafting originals or resurrecting, rethinking and retooling the greats, whether it's Motown or Mozart.

But in the end, we all know it's about the disco dancing, which is why they're throwing one hell of a party at Club One (3025 Main, Dallas), December 9th, 2006. Foreign Trade opens for the soaring DJ Falcon of DAFT Crew who together with Thomas Bangalter of DAFT PUNK - one of the most successful electronic music acts of all times in both album sales and critical acclaim - produced the hits "So Much Love to Give" and "Together".

So, with Falcon at the helm, and additional navigation by DJ Fabian Bates (12inch-pimps.com), the lovely DJ Kelle Marie (Grin Music), and introducing the beta models of the Foreign Trade Funk-eBots, it should be a party to remember.

A decade and a half is a long time to be at the top of your game; no matter what that game might be. In music, it's a near impossibility. While many set off as next big things, few stay the distance to arrive as genuine international icons. After 15 years, 159 weeks on the UK singles chart, 232 weeks on the albums chart, more than 20 million album sales and five mammoth world tours - playing to 5 million people in 38 countries - it's fair to say that Jay Kay, the quick stepping 37 year-old professionally known as Jamiroquai, has finally made it.

What's more, he's got the 6 multi-platinum albums, 5 MTV awards, the Grammy, the Ivor Novello and enough lurid tabloid headlines to prove it. And now, just in case there was any doubt, he's got 'High Times - The Singles 1992-2006', a singles collection which rams home the point and tracks the decade and a half journey via his irresistible rare groove and unmistakable barbed disco.

It's an album which Kay has openly resisted for the best half of his career; determined that Jamiroquai's greatest hits wasn't going to be a couple of top tens and some well chosen filler. As it is, their 6 consistently on-point albums have proved such a reliable source of danceable hits, that there wasn't enough room to fit them all on the 19 track CD. For sure, the mark of a true pop survivor.

From the vanguard of the early '90s acid jazz revolution to one of the most recognizable musicians of a generation. From a squat in Ealing, West London, to a lush green Buckinghamshire Manor. From a skate board to a garage full of Ferrari's. The first 15 years of the Jamiroquai story has been nothing if not memorable. And, more importantly, from organic, horn-laden funk to computer-ramped glitter ball moments, every move has been soundtracked by Kay's bankable mix of sly grooves and addictive melodies.

Here and now the question is how to follow such a staggering catalogue of hits. Well, new tracks 'Runaway' and 'Radio' certainly live up to Kay's claim to have "plenty more cracking stuff to come."

"There's a hell of a lot of pressure to come up with two new hit singles for your greatest hits, but I think we've cracked it," said Kay of 'Runaway's' glistening disco strings and 'Radio's' salacious rock hook. "We're very pleased with them. We just went straight for the kill. I wanted to do something very instant which they both are. I love 'em." "Radio's great fun, a cheeky little track about when you meet a lovely young lady and find out that she likes girls even more than she likes boys. I think we'll leave it at that." 'Runaway', on the other hand, like all Jay's best disco moments, comes from a slightly more poignant place. "I really like the sentiment. I think it's something everyone can relate to. 'I just want to runaway'. Sometimes you do feel that you just want out. When the pressure's on, you just want to leave all this behind."

But fans and detractors alike can relax. 'High Times - Singles 1992-2006' is very much volume one of the greatest hits, he's not ready to retire just yet.

and that's music...THIS WEEK IN TEXAS.

Aries March 21 April 19

Knowing what makes people tick is why we love you. You know how to get to the bottom of things and help out those in need as often as you possibly can. So keep doing what you do and much success on helping out those less fortunate than you. My hat is off to you Sir or Madam.

Taurus April 20 May 20

Making an emotional commitment for you is hard unless there is evidence that the feeling is mutual. You may have finally found the right one for you. Just try not to be too impatient if they are too laid back or relaxed. Things tend to work themselves out even for you Dear Taurus.

Gemini May 21 June 21

Ever a source of information, and also strong and receptive. Relationships mean alot to you right now. Either you are a couple or your not. Well sit yourself down and you decide what is best for you at the moment. I can't make that decision for you. I know you will come up with what is best suited for you. You always have.

Cancer June 22 July 21

Always wanting to please everyone who crosses your path, but when are you going to please yourself? You can't always be the one to please others. I know you live for that, but sometimes you have to be a little selfish and let others please you. Drop a hint to your family, friends and partner. Leave this on the table for them to see.

Leo July 22 August 23

Ever refined and sociable and lets not forget entertaining. You have the true gift for fitting in no matter where you are. Preferring to surround yourself with the upper class of cultured types, you sometimes come off as a bit eccentric. Just don't overdue it or someone may catch on to you.

Virgo August 24 September 22

I so love your sunny presence. And for that matter, so does anyone around you. They also love the fact that you have the most recent gossip and love to get caught up and updated by you. Just make sure you have all the ducks in a row before you go telling tales.

Libra September 23 October 22

You devil you. Lets not take full advantage of everyone who crosses our path. You can dish it out but when it comes times to take it, you just can't. Lets not be labeled a wolf in sheeps clothing. Consider it a challenge to go out this week and try to introduce a more calm professional you to all around you.

Scorpio October 23 November 21

You are a smart cookie and know it. Also one who is passionate about romance, and why shouldn't you be. You have what it takes to make a relationship work and I applaud you for that. So take advantage of this time and enjoy yourself and your partner to the fullest. Live it up again and again.

Sagittarius November 22 December 21

Happy Birthday to you born today December 1st. Incredibly smart and a magnetic personality, you are always up for great conversation. And truly dedicated to any cause. Don't forget about World Aids Day today then. Go out and show the world and others what you are truly made of. I congratulate you for being you.

Capricorn December 22 January 19

Dynamic and yet strongly opinionated, you are most drawn to those who can challenge you to anything. But becareful doing so this week, for you may meet your match. I know you oh so well, you hate to lose so be on your best behavior and don't go looking for trouble or you may regret it. Chin up and face forward I say.

Aquarius January 20 February 18

Your emotions will truly be tested this coming week ahead. Family and career also will test the limits you have within you. But in the end you will overcome these obstacles and be fine. Sometimes you have to get past this in order to move forward. I have all the faith in you that you will prevail in your week and the weeks to follow.

Pisces February 19 March 20

Good manners and generous is what attracts people to you. Just don't let anyone take advantage of your generosity. You are also a dreamer, there are some things you just can not deliver as you so would like. Big deal. Just stay true to your heart and do your thing. Things always work out in the end for you my Dear Pisces.

DEAR DIVA

Dear Diva,

I travel all over Texas to watch drag pageants. I have been reading your column since you guys started back up and think you of all people could put the label on this category. Between the talent and evening gown competitions I like to grab a bite at the taco trucks that are so conveniently parked off to the side of the clubs. What prompted me to write was that at Inergy in Houston during the US of A at Large pageant I saw you wolfing down a couple tacos from the truck like someone had been starving you. This is the second time I have seen you sampling a taco from a truck, the first being in San Antonio out side the Saint. I personally can think of at least 18 different ones across Texas and hands down the one outside Inergy is the best, second being San Antonio at the Saint, and third being in El Paso outside the Old Plantation. I know you have an opinion on this. 'Cause gurllllll I know you love tacos..... I'm a witness.

Taco Trick

Dear Vicious, Hateful Bitch:

Perhaps if you would put down your coke spoon every once in a while, you'd understand the simple pleasures that accompany the partaking of a particularly tasty culinary experience and wouldn't find it necessary to attack those with a healthy appetite. Yes, I love my tacos. What of it? And, so what if I happen to relish my food? Is that any reason for you to berate me as a torture victim that is deprived of sustenance to wangle a confession? I think not, buddy. Thankfully, the Diva recognizes that your hurtful comments were made - as hurtful comments always are - in an effort to denigrate me so that you can feel better about your miserable existence. Because I recognize this, I will forgive your condescending comments and answer your question. The café on wheels outside Inergy in Houston is, by far, the best fast food purveyor in the history of such conveniences, and I would spend my last peso on my last day on this earth to partake of one of their tempting tacos.

Dear Diva:

I was reading the other day about these parties called POZ parties. They are parties held by young gay HIV negative males between the ages of 18 to 28 years old. They invite older HIV positive men to come and enjoy bare backing themselves for the sole purpose of infection. I almost cried after I read this. All my life as an active gay man I have taken precautions to prevent the spread of this disease and have remained negative of STD's and HIV. These kids just aren't thinking. Maybe your words of wisdom can shed some light on this dark practice.

Wrapping With Rubber

Dear Enlightened One:

First of all, I congratulate you on being sensible and gloving your tool before you dip it in the waters of love. It's been proven to reduce the risk of infection, and is the only known way to prevent its spread - short of abstinence, of course. I'm glad that you're one of the many that have decided that losing your life isn't worth the few moments of pleasure that bare-backing may provide. Now, as to the idiots that participate in these parties - SHAME on the twinks for doing that to themselves, and an even BIGGER SHAME on the ones doing it to them. You know, there's not much any of us can do for the twinks - short of locking them up or sewing up their anal cavities until they grow up enough to behave a little more rationally - primarily because the seem to operate under some really tragic principles: (A) They believe that they're invincible, because that's what we in our youth always believe - that nothing can hurt us; (B) they wrongly think that the drugs being used to treat those infected will simply treat them, too, so why miss-out on a good lay; (C) they figure that they're going to get it anyway, so why not get it over with; and/or, (D) they so completely hate themselves that they think that they're not worthy of living. Bullshit! To all of it! You're not invincible, those drugs may not work on the strain that you're exposed to, you won't get it if you protect yourself and you are worthy of living, 'cause God don't make junk. Get counseling, find a mentor - do something, other than offer up your butt to a man that obviously thinks less of you than he does of the jiz that he's trying to inject you with. As for you self-centered pricks that go to these parties with the express purpose of exposing someone to the virus - may God damn your souls to hell for all eternity. What the hell gives you the right to play God and infect a poor innocent with a fatal disease? Who the fuck do you think you are?? And don't dare tell me that it's your victim's choice - you're the older, more experienced one and you have a choice, too. The choice NOT to infect someone who's thinking may not be rational; the choice NOT to spread this virus to a new generation of gay men; and, the choice to once in your life do the mature and responsible thing and keep your schlong in your pants instead of waving it around like a goddamn may-pole to any unsuspecting bottom that comes your way. You, sirs, are murderers, plain and simple!

One fateful night in Austin, 1996, a young man found himself surrounded by pulsing music, flashing strobe lights, and thousands of people under the spell of that night's DJ. He instantly fell in love. The event was Meltdown, and the kid was Roland Belmares. He instantly knew he had to figure out a way to channel this amazing energy and that was the night Roland Belmares decided to become a DJ. So began Belmares' humble origins as a DJ, spinning pool parties and minor venues across Austin, TX. Building a name for himself as a DJ who takes his art seriously whether there are twenty or two thousand people on the dance floor, it was Belmares' dedicated fine-tuning and attention to style that caught the ear of Ben Parsley. Parsley, founder of Austin's former biggest circuit events, Perfect Day and Meltdown. The incredible impact Belmares made on audiences at both Meltdown and Perfect Day secured him a position on the discerning partygoer's "Hot List" of circuit DJs. Since that time, Belmares has been called on to play several events across the US, from Los Angeles, San Francisco, New York, to Miami, traveled north of the border to play in Vancouver, Montreal, and Toronto, and broke into the international scene with dates in São Paulo, and Rio de Janeiro (Brasil). Then, of course, there are those major circuit events like White Party (Miami), Winter Party (Miami), White Party (Palm Springs), Alegria (New York), Fireball (Chicago), Crobar (New York, Chicago, Miami), Babylon Tour (nation-wide), Coliseum (Ft. Lauderdale), Gay Day's One Mighty Party (Orlando, FL) with Belmares consistently delivering audiences his unique blend of high energy and tribal vocals. With a growing fan base spanning coast to coast, it was only a matter of time before Belmares was called upon to mix CD's for the industry's leading dance labels, including Dance One, 4Play Records, Centaur (Global & Party Groove) and Harlequin Records. The latter two having recently captured his unique tribal vocals on CDs entitled Blue Ball V.5 (Centaur) & Boy (Harlequin).

As for what lies ahead for Belmares, it appears he's dedicated to dance music beyond simply maintaining his status as one of the scene's top rated DJs, and is putting his name in the ring as a remixer/producer.

Roland's talent as a remixer includes work on projects for many of today's dance floor divas including Pepper Mashay, Pat Hodges, Kristine W, Abigail, Debby Holiday, Billie Myers and most recently, Amber.

DJ Roland Belmares continues his rise through the ranks of the world's foremost DJs with recent and upcoming events including... Fly (Toronto), Gus Presents NYE (San Francisco), Carnival (Rio de Janeiro, Brasil), Gay Days Orlando's One Mighty Party, Arabian Knight's After-Hours & Disney MGM Studios (Orlando, FL), Winter Party Miami at Club Space (Miami Beach), Jungle 15 (Houston, TX) and the Crown & Anchor (Provincetown).

25 Years Ago This Week in Texas

One of my absolute favorite covers of all time was all the rage twenty-five years ago, primarily because it featured the devastatingly-dashing, tantalizingly-toned and Speedo-sportin new Mr. Texas, David Prejean, who captured the sixth annual muscle medal from a whopping field of 19 cut contestants. The divine David was sponsored that year by Houston's Fitness Exchange, where I was blessed on many occasions to spot him from steam room to shower displaying the talents that we couldn't show on the cover. Oh, those were truly the days, my friends...

Rounding out the Top Five in the winner's circle that year were First Runner-up Winston Von McAfee of Houston; Dan Miller, also from Houston, as Second Runner-up; Third Runner-up from Houston, Russ Bernal; and Dallas' very own Kenn Darity as Fourth Runner-up. Special entertainment for the dudely dick-fest, which benefited the Texas Human Rights Foundation, included TWT's Abilene Entertainer of the Year, Lindsay Love; DFW EOY, Tasha Kohl; Houston and Odessa EOY, Hot Chocolate; Texas EOY Naomi Sims; the Texas Tornado, Mr. Tiffany Jones; and Mr. Gay Pride 1981, Danny Villa, with the Blue Wave Band. And, as if the contestants didn't provide us enough examples of pleasing pulchritude, the judge's panel included former titleholders, including the first Mr. Texas, CJ Harrington; Mr. Texas 1975, Steve Dugas; Mr. Texas 1977, Robert Jones; Mr. Texas 1978, Rick Price; and, Mr. Texas 1981, Jay Gondik.

Can you say schwing?

Despite the fact that so much of the magazine was devoted to testosterone, those of the femme mimicry set occupied a significant eighteen pages of our magazine, with special events and shows featuring the best of the Lone Star state's practitioners of the art of satire, pantomime and the dance (as Naomi Sims used to say.) From the Second Anniversary celebration at Tex's Colorado Street Bar in Austin, with Riki Rousseaux and Nicole; the holiday Super Show Galveston's Kon-Tiki, which starred Naomi Sims, Adriene Cartell, Chante Cartier, Sabrina and Candi; and, the Landing in Dallas' presentation of a one-man show featuring Miss Gay South, Dana Manchester to the Shady Lady Show at the Etc. Etc. Club in McAllen; the Raina Lea Show, featuring Tasha Kohl and Lindsay Love at the Other Place in Ft. Worth; and, the Thrice as Hot Review, starring the omni-present Naomi Sims, Hot Chocolate, Brandi West and Bertha Butts at Houston's Babylon, drag played an important part in the nightlife of Texassexuals, and was not ignored by our editors simply because some members of our community believed that there was too much of it in our pages.... So, get over it....

SAY, WASN'T THAT...former Boystown Gang lead singer Cynthia Manley, sandwiched between current boys Randy and Dave at Tex's in Austin; Red River Crossing's Rick Sigman, pinching the male nurses in room 918 at Breckenridge Hospital after his bike accident, also in Austin; Electra Stahr, relinquishing her Newcomer of the Year Crown at the Sunset Boulevard in San Antonio; Stacy Roberts, snatching the December Face of the Month title at Lollie's Hotstop, still in San Antonio; Richard Allen, popping the cork for the grand opening celebration of his eponymous bud boutique in Houston; DJ Johnny Stallard, owner Lillie Stevens and manager George Anderson, wowing the West Texas crowds at the Capri Club in Odessa; Black Betty and White AC pouring the potent potables at the Eighth Day birthday soiree in Dallas; good ol' girl Willie Rives, still slinging cocktails a the still No Name bar, yet still in Dallas; and Miss Gay Country Little Bobby, Miss Gay USA Eartha Kitt, Current and Former Reigning Miss Gay Nothing Ron Sioux, Miss Gay Exile Tracy and Miss Gay Metroplex Champagne hanging their balls on the BRB Christmas tree, back in Houston.

Finally, once upon a time our magazine was filled with simply scads and scads of businesses for us to spend our gay holiday bucks on when we weren't enjoying important things like cocktails, including Doubrava Jones, the Manhole men's clothing store in Houston; The Spanish Flower Mexican Restaurant, still in Houston; Oak Lawn Records in Dallas; the Record rack, back in Houston; Dramatika Cards and Gifts, once again in Houston; Sutherlands, a Brasserie, back up the interstate in Dallas; Off the Street Gifts and Cards, yet again in Dallas; Artcards and BloomTown Blooms, a Southwest flight back to Houston; Baja's Restaurant, still in Houston; Sports Locker men's clothing, yet still in Houston; The Little Watch Shop - guess where - still in Houston; EuroTan, also and again and still in Houston; Lobo Book Store, thank God back in Dallas; Sound Climax, still thank all that is gay in Dallas; the Bell Pepper Restaurant, again, still and even yet still in Dallas; and Jim's Gym, once yet and still again in Houston.

Yes, Virginia....there really is a life outside the clubs.

And that's the way it was, 25 Years Ago This Week in Texas

Fort Worth's Rhonda Mae and the Wall of Food

It's a Wednesday night, 9PM in Ft. Worth. What's going on? Not much...and everything. You see, there is a huge labor of love about to take place called the "Wall of Food Show." There are 12 people in the Stampede Nightclub other than the 6 people performing and the 2 bar employees. And yet by 10:30 another 327 dollars will be raised for the Aids Outreach Center's Food Pantry.

"I am always blown away by the generosity of people in this community. Some nights I look out toward the bar area and think 'How are we gonna do it?'" says Rhonda Mae. "But they always come through," she continues. And it's been going on for 16 years.

Who is Rhonda Mae and how did all this happen? Well, she's certainly not your basic pre-op tranny. Growing up in the 50's wasn't so easy. There was no Gay rights movement and certainly no Transgender support groups. So as a young man he did what many young gay men at that time did...joined the Navy, served 4 years, got out, married a woman and became a father of 2. Eventually he figured out that he liked "dressing up" and started performing.

She explains, "I was doing lots of actual paid shows at the time and felt that if I was going to take from the community, I needed to give back to the community. Around the same time the Imperial Court was starting in Ft. Worth, and at the encouragement of Barbie Doll (Founder of the Court in Texas) and Raina Lea, I started doing fundraising. Then about 15-16 years ago I decided to be the person I was meant to be and started the hormones and living as a woman."

During the course of all this, the AOC was in its infancy. Back then it was called the Community Outreach Center as Rhonda says, "You couldn't say AIDS because there was too much hatred at that time towards AIDS and people with it."

One of the programs that became near and dear to Rhonda was the Outreach Center's Food Pantry. Rhonda noticed, even though a round of shows might have provided several thousand dollar donation to the Food Panty, that there was really no increase in the amount of food that was available for the clients.

When she questioned the director of the pantry, it was explained that the budget for the pantry always remained the same and that the money she was donating from her shows was backed out of the Food Pantry budget and used elsewhere.

"I was livid," she went on, "Later that day I was out having lunch at the Western Sizzler on the West Side. When I went to fill my plate up again it dawned on me how to get around it. I would start giving them food instead of money. We would go buy cases of food and stack it like a wall in the bar and when it got to be too big we would load up some trucks and take it to the pantry. But that's now how the "Wall of Food" got started."

And the tradition continues. Today the AOC Food Pantry serves over 500 clients in Fort Worth and surrounding areas. To date, Wall of Food donations have amounted to nearly $400, 000...and this year will top $30, 000 in the next week or two; all this in a little of down-home, country kinda bar on the outskirts of Downtown Ft. Worth.

If we may pontificate a moment...The theme for World Aids day this year is "accountability" and is designed to inspire citizens across the globe to hold their political leaders accountable for the promises they have made on AIDS. Targets such as the All by 2010 pledge made by world leaders last year, and the Millennium Development Goal to halt and reverse the spread of AIDS by 2015, are in serious danger of being sidelined or ignored, and much more needs to be done to ensure that these critical promises are kept.

And if these promises aren't kept? Our bet is on people like Rhonda Mae to see us through.

For information on how to donate to Rhonda Mae's Wall of Food, email: rhondamae1@aol.com.

Dallas The Cathedral of Hope

"Too many words...just let them see what we do."

This quote by Mother Theresa is the guiding light of the Cathedral of Hope's Community Outreach, which ministers to the needs of all those in need, including those challenged by the infections of HIV and AIDS. And for almost 35 years, COH has taken those words and, with the help of thousands of caring and loving volunteers, shown the citizens of Dallas and its surrounding neighborhoods just what they do with a multitude of programs and services designed to show compassion to those who feel unloved and to foster hope to those with none. No matter how, when, where or why these angels serve, the resulting lesson is always the same: humbling themselves in service to others and thereby demonstrating the best that we all carry within us—which is, of course, the unconditional love of God.

COH believes that "caring for those who are hurting or in need is the chief expression of what it means to be a disciple of Jesus Christ. Caring for others is the soul of who we are. It keeps us from being consumed with ourselves. It is the antidote for the toxic effects of the materialism that is consuming our society. In a hurting and hopeless world, Celebration is vital to health.

People need to celebrate to keep hope alive. In an age of AIDS, nothing is more damaging than hopelessness. We believe God's will for us is health, wholeness and holiness. Growing to fulfill that will is our responsibility as disciples, and helping others to grow toward wholeness is an expression of Christian caring. For us, salvation is a Divine expression of redeeming love for every part of our lives."

In addition to its outreach programs, The last Sunday of every month is Loaves and Fishes Sunday, when the Cathedral of Hope collects non-perishable food, grooming supplies and gallon jugs of water for people in need in our community. Loaves and Fishes contributions go to various community organizations including AIDS Food Pantry and AIDS Services of Dallas.

Even more tangible proof of the Cathedral's commitment to AIDS outreach and services is the John Thomas AIDS Memorial Bell Well, a towering structure in the heart of the Oak Lawn community which three bronze bells ring daily in memory of those we have lost and the injustices still endured by people living with HIV/AIDS worldwide. Dedicated to the memory of congregant and AIDS- and GLBT-activist John Thomas, the tower is a fitting tribute to both the man and the community – and to the enduring legacy of self-less service and compassion that has always been a hallmark of Cathedral of Hope and its members.

has dedicated to raising monies for various fundraising organizations such as ERSICSS, TGRA, Legacy Community Services, and Bering Omega, to name a few. During the last few years, Selena has also held many of the community's highest fundraising titles such as Miss BRB, Miss Gay Pride Houston and Miss Camp America. A few years ago she also held the title of Miss Houston International USofA, becoming one of the first "charity girls" to compete in a USofA pageant. Selena would like to thank the many people who have helped her be able to make such accomplishments. The St. John family has a very impressive saying: "If HIV/AIDS affects one of us, it affects us all". You can see Selena at JR's hosting Drag Bingo the second Tuesday of every month as well as hosting some of JR's strip contests.

Austin's Babbist Women
Fundraisers Extrordinaire

Created in 1986, the Austin Babbist Women have become an incredibly entertaining – and highly-respected – charitable force. The all-male, all-volunteer comedy troupe performs throughout the nation and exists for the sole purpose of raising money for AIDS, HIV, & breast cancer organizations

With a core group of four extremely talented performers, these men take on the personas of Southern church ladies and stage elaborately-choreographed, side-splitting routines. In the past years, their antics have been a part of raising more than $5 million for charities throughout the United States.

The Austin Babbist Women stage four signature shows per year in Austin, Texas: GospelFest on Easter Sunday, a Father's Day Blowout, an Anniversary Show in September and the Holiday Spectacular in December. During the remainder of the year, the troupe tours throughout Texas and the nation – as personal schedules and finances allow – to headline at theatres, nightclubs, comedy clubs, state-wide events, and anywhere a charitable event needs the Austin Babbist Women's unique brand of comedy to help raise money.

The members of the troupe pay for their own performance and travel expenses, with assistance from sponsoring businesses and individuals, allowing 100% of the money raised at each event to be donated to the selected charity.

To date, the Babbist Women have helped raise $6,001,430.42 for charity.

TEA by the Sea

Corpus Christi

We can't help ourselves, but we just keep going to Sixx on Saturday nights because - aside from the fact that it's a fabulous club! - we just love ASS. Yes, that's right, poppens, ASS. Now, before you go off the deep end, thinking that we're violating some local ordinance restricting such predilections, the ASS that we're talking about is the Amateur Strip Show - get it? ASS. Now, of course, the fact that such events usually end up providing us with glorious glimpses of gore gluteus maximi is completely irrelevant to our story. Yeah, right.... It doesn't hurt our feelings either that the shagalicious Shady Lady happens to host these shows. Did we mention that we just love ASS????

Q's will be showcasing some of the Sprkling Cities best talent in their upcoming benefit show for The Living Spoonful! With all the new changes at Q's we look forward to seeing the show and and new look!

Galveston

TEA by the Sea is just as pleased as the proverbial punch to welcome Galveston's glorious 3rd Coast Beach Bar to our ever-expanding family of advertisers this week. For the one or two of you that aren't aware, the club is the only one on the island that's so close to the beach that you can actually smell the tanning oil on the beefcake - and see the protruding pouches in their swimwear - right from the divine deck overlooking the waves. We have first-hand knowledge, you see - we can't tell you how many protruding pouches we've admired while sipping on our rum punches. And, as if that wasn't enough to wet your whistle to the point that a drool bucket becomes a necessity, those very same protruding pouches usually end up inside the club for closer inspection...ahem.

Don't forget that tomorrow and Sunday just happen to be the days when Galveston is mobbed by Dickens aficionados craving a return to the kinder and gentler days of Victorian England, when people like Ebenezer Scrooge and Tiny Tim Cratchit appeared on just about everyone's holiday guest list. It's Dickens on the Strand, y'all, and it's the perfect opportunity for everyone to don their gay apparel and blend in with others of the same ilk without drawing stares and gawks. And, isn't that a comfort! God bless us, every one....

Space CITEA

You know how there are certain people that just make you wanna run and slap your momma? Not because they're a problem, but because they're so fine that you just have to do something physical - anything physical - to release all those pent-up emotions. Well, babies, that's the way we felt after we ran into our very dear friend, deejay extraordinaire Tony Moran, at SoBe the other night. Dudes and damas, he is so beautiful - and the tunes he mixed packed the house. We snapped dozens of pix of the gorgeous hunk, but we're holding on to them for a few extra days...for personal reasons. Look for them next week in Texas Tea. In the meantime, please feast your eyes on the Cruise Camera photo of two examples of pleasing pectoral pulchritude that we snapped at the coolest place on earth. Now, they're hot!

Similarly hot were the two gore guys that we found at JR's after the weakness that we experienced at SoBe.

The two divine dudes go by the names of Brice and Jessie, and when we met them we promptly went to our bestest bud, Kofi, for an introduction. Suffice it to say that numbers have been exchanged...

We're pleased to announce the addition of a new club to H-Town's nightlife scene with the opening of Club 69 out in sexy southwest Houston. The club, owned by similarly sexy Giselle and Daniel, is just beautiful y'all, and if the stunning studs that were there for opening night are any indication, 69 is gonna be in for the long haul. Our personal favorite stud is Miguel, pictured in the cruizy CC photo with club manager Sandy...and for the record, we'll sigue el chupe with Miguel anytime...

While we were in the area, we stopped into La Academia and promptly witnessed the protruding penile of one of the club's many papi chulos in the midst of projecting that penile. No, that isn't us attempting to nuzzle up to his rips, although we would have liked it to be. Actually, we're the ones not on camera and just below the buffed beau during his erotic and sensual machinations....and gals and guys, what a view it was....

Speaking of views, we were treated to a dee-lish one when we stopped by Tony's Corner Pocket the other night, as both Tony and two of his studly staffers – Gary and Chuck – were kind enough to peel off their shirts to reveal their pouting pecs. We have a standing date to massage Chuck's pecs and other vital organs...just soze ya know.

While we're on the subject of other vital organs, sexy mixologist Michael over at EJ's has a vital organ that compares to some of the biggest and best on the planet, and he has no problem sharing it with his legion of fans – fans such as luscious Linda and brilliant Bruce, who were kind enough to step aside when we arrived for our sharing session. Oh, and it's his heart – you dirty freaks....

The beautiful boys in the EJ's empire are not limited to that club, as evidenced by our lascivious lens' capturing of two potent potable pourers at sister club, In & Out. We would like to introduce our loyal readers to Brian and Bryan, two men that made the entire process of ogling completely easy on us. We are currently negotiating with Bryan to see if he would be kind enough to come wash glasses at our house – since that action seems to compel him to reveal so many of his obvious assets.

Back out in the great southwest, Inergy hosts a very special evening each week dubbed Crystal...ya know, like the expensive champagne. And, TRUST, it's definitely a high-tone and sophisticated event. You get that feeling right when you walk in the door and are greeted by oh-so-sexy Rafael, who checked our IDs so thoroughly that we were almost embarrassed. We said almost....

We were actually embarrassed the other night at the BRB, because we went up to this really sexy cowboy named David and asked him if he would like for us to spit-shine his rather substantial Lucchese roach-stompers...ya know, for the holidays and all. Well, color us surprised when he shared with us that he let his truly significant other, Matt, handle all of his sartorial needs, thank you very much. Well, there's always a two-fer....

Finally, no tour of the clubs is complete without a stop by Viviana's, where the papis are chulo and the women are too....or, something like that. Our good friend Kara Dion knows a little about that, as evidenced by our photo showing her being glamorous with Jonah and Tito, whose blue eyes absolutely held us in a rather delightful spell. Work that magic on us, baby...

Capital CITEA

The phone lines have been so overwhelmed with calls about the pulchritudinous penile projectionist at Cockpit Club that we featured in last week's column that we've found it necessary to add a second line to our switchboard. We, of course, would never allow our affection for shirt-shredder extraordinaire Ty to ever be diminished by the bulky beau, but there are those in the community that like all that – which is fine with us, since that means that Ty can spend even more time with us! Oh, and just soze ya know...we're still in negotiations to get Ty to rip his shirt – and other clothing items – for a photo layout in the magazine. We just love torn boxer briefs....

Austin's very own divine diva, Hedda Layne, continues to heat up the Sunday crowds at Rain with a mix of classic and Layne originals that put the spin and the twirl on the dance floor and make us all glad that music is, in fact, our life. During our recent sashay through the party palace, we were treated to the debut of a new Layne original that is currently in the works, in addition to the tuneless song-stylings of Capital City favorite, Troy Lee – who mesmerized us with his studly strummings, but left us wondering what the hell was behind those glasses. We also wondered why neither Marcus nor Zack nor Mark and not even Sunshine took us up on our offer of a phone number exchange. We were just trying to be friendly, you see....

Speaking of friendly, that's what we always think of when we think about Charlie's head honcho, David Green. Why, not a day goes by that we don't thank all that is gay that the sexy mover and shaker is permanently and indelibly inked in our very own little black book. He, at least, was willing to take us up on our number exchange. And don't think we don't wear-out the keypads on our BlackBerry, either....God, he's gorgeous....

For the one or two of you that don't know, Sunday afternoons are a great time to man-watch at Oilcan Harry's, what with the stunning staff and the delicious danceurs de dique that populate the posh potent potable place. During our most recent shot-fest, we paid particular attention to penile purveyor, Guy – for oh-so-obvious wet-whistled and palpitating reasons – and to magnificent Michael, OCH's newest bartender. Michael's a bit shy and quiet but he's a really nice guy with a stiff (ahem) mix of drinks. Plus he's got a smile that melts ice and other less condimental items. And don't think we haven't gotten his phone number to use in our obsessive attempts to get him on the very cover of our magazine! What we wouldn't give to see that under our Christmas tree, doncha know.

Finally, and while we're on the subject of things under trees, we have a very, very long list of gifts we would just love to see cum Christmas morning – in addition to Ty, David and Michael, of course – and the one place that we know you'll find everything that we want is at Lobo's. Simply head over to Guadalupe, park your car or mo-ped, go into the store, ask for Enrique and tell him that we sent you to cross some items off our registry. Notice, we said SOME items....doncha be getting just one of 'em now – we want lots and lots of stuff. Videos, lube – you know. We promise we'll share them all on boxing day!

Alamo CITEA

So anyway, we were in the mood to look at gorgeous men – as we usually are – and we happened to be on the 'net, so we decided to pop on over to Heat's My Space site to see which one of their 355 friends was about to become one of our very dear friends. Babies, you gotta go look at the hunks that populate their friends' list. There's gore gods like deejays Randy Bettis and Escape and Tony Moran and Roland Belmares and Peter Morales and Mike Reeze and Joe Gauthreaux; humpy hunks like Mark

Dalton and Eddie Stone and Luke Garrett and Gage Weston; sexy sirens like Gloria Trevi and Deborah Cox and Kristine W; and just plain old sexy studs such as Max and Vincent and Marccelus. With all those members of the glam glitterati, it's no surprise that the club is filled with similarly stunning stars like Marcus, Bunny and their manly mélange and the breathtaking blonde not named Buffy that our Cruise Camera captured during a recent swing through the club. Okay, we're somewhat sated now...

But not so sated that a quick trip to Executive Health Club to work out the kinks that that satiation gave us wasn't in order. We pumped, we flexed, we worked ourselves into a stupor. Fortunately, we have a standing reservation for a deluxe suite, and were able to rest our heads and dream of sugar-plum fairies....well, some kinda fairies.

Meanwhile, back on the Strip, we ran into Dan and James during a recent happy hour with Bubbles and were delighted to find out that the couple has now been together almost as long as Bubbles has been on the planet. We were also delighted to discover that the lady Bubbles has finally found a simply stunning set of jewels to wear in next month's Newcomer of the Year pageant – an event that is so anticipated that the thrilling trio captured by our cruizy CC have already staked their claim to one of the reserved tables in the show bar. That's what we call planning...

Speaking of planning, they say that life is what happens when you're making other plans, so similarly Willie Burgers must be what happens to you when you're planning other meals...or, something like that. And the only place that you can get these culinary treasures is at the Annex, where Willie holds sway over the grill each and every Sunday afternoon. Have y'all had those burgers? Babies, they are fine....not as fine as club head honcho David, of course, but when you have beef like that to compare to everything else pales...doncha know.

We happened to be at the Bonham's site the other day – 'cause that's what we do...we go to the Bonham's site to keep up with all the great things happening there – and we came across a picture of nifty Niecy and the Marvy Miller Girls that we just couldn't help sharing with you, our dear readers. We were gonna share with you a photo of some enormously-endowed Go-Go Boy that we snapped one recent Friday night, but seeing Niecy so obviously happy won out over anything our lascivious lens could ever capture. You go, Niecy!

Ever since we put the photo of Serge and Chris in our column last week, we have been trying to rack our brains to figure out where we know Chris from...other than the club, of course. We weren't sure whether it was his proximity to Serge that made us think he looked familiar – you know, maybe one of those stunning D&G group shot ads in GQ or the cover of one of Michael Lucas' epic videos with yet more group shots (tee hee) or something like that.

Back once again on the Strip, we were sitting at Essence the other night, trying to decide whether all the images we were seeing were from the multiple video monitors in the club or from the proof of our potent potable, when our very dear friend, Sir Eric La Rue, joined us and we realized that there are actually 18,501 reasons – Eric being the latest addition. Hey, you keep track...

Finally, we were over at Zebrax the other day, starting our holiday shopping, and we came across one of the campiest clothing accessories that we've ever seen – Safe Feet Socks. They're black, soze ya can wear them with your best Sunday go-to-meetin' wardrobe, and they have tasteful little red, yellow, green and blue condoms with extended tips on them! So fashionable, so trendy, so provocative – so Zebrax!

Cowtown Tea

Hot tea has been over to Changes and learned that the December 4th Sunday show will in fact be on the 3rd Sunday this month so that Aretha Wells can finish her Christmas shopping. Don informs us that are some great parties coming to changes in the New Year and to be on the lookout.

Thanksgiving Eve found the Stampede Club packed to capacity for a special Wall of Food Show with Rhonda Mae and a stellar lineup. The night was a rousing success, raising over 1700 dollars for the A.O.C. Food Pantry, bringing the yearly total a notch closer to that expected 30,000 dollar mark! The shocker of the night was the special appearance of club owners Jerry Hawkins (sporting his glamorous torpedo tits) and James Allen, who did a fabulous Lady Marmalade number with Club Manager, Terry and Frieda Knight. It was, well, er, um...quite a site to say the least.

Big D "Tea"

We at Tea decided to roll in to Mickey's last week and see about the Wednesday night show Little Deal / Big Deal which is a cross between Lets Make A Deal and Deal Or No Deal and snapped us a clever pic of Wayne Smith holding the goods. We also learned that Ivanna

Tramp is the new co-host for Monday nights internet show that can be viewed at www.mickeysdallas.com. Monday night at 10pm The show features comedy, performances by both Wayne Smith and Ivanna Tramp, plus they read letters from viewers asking for relationship advice and they feature local singers.

We suppose that gambling must be the new gay thing. Roundup has Texas Hold 'em Poker Wednesday s at 8PM. Its loads of fun for all just take a look at the guys and gals we caught out last time. DJ Tony plays all those classic C&W tunes just that way you like it too! And how about the Roundup being named the number one gay bar in the USA by Instinct Magazine. Yeap! Rightthere in "Big D!"

Alexandre's is gearing up for their fabu Holiday Wreath Auction on Dec 11th. This semi-formal event benefits the Resource Center of Dallas. Wreaths will be accepted until the 4th. You can get all the details at www.alexandres.com... or you might pop in and ask cuties Zak or Brian.

LICENSED MASSEURS

STATE CERTIFICATION POLICY

Texas law clearly requires that only bona fide, state-certified masseurs can be listed in this category. Therefore, TWT policy requires that all masseurs must publish their state-certification number within their advertisements and that a photocopy of such license be on file at TWT.

TWT POLICY

Because prostitution is illegal in Texas, State Law prohibits the placement of any such ads. Therefore, TWT policy stipulates that we will not and cannot knowingly accept any advertisements suggesting solicitation. It's the law. Also State Law prohibits nonlicensed massage therapists from using terms such as "massage," "Swedish," "accupressure," "shiatsu," "reflexology," "body rub," "back rub," "body massage," or any term which indicates bodily contact.
